Field Marshal Yamagata's army continues its victorious march. The division under General Tasuhima pressed forward and captured Fung Wang Ching as already cabled. The enemy was scattered and fled in the direction of Takushan, Kaijoa and Hotenfu. No fighting is mentioned as having occurred at Fung Wang Ching, but it is alleged 300 Chinese were killed at Taikai. had access to some of the more important documents relating to the plans for mobilizing the French army. Suspicion against Captain Dreyfus was aroused by his intimacy with an Italian officer. General Mercier, Minister of War, caused a detective to be sent to Monaco and Italy with the result that Captain Dreyfus is now under a strict guard in a military prison. Dreyfus is said to have supplied the Italian government with all the plans so carefully laid out during years past for the defense of the Alps, years past for the defense of the Alps, which have been looked upon as form-ing a complete bulwark against a possi-ble invasion of France from Italy, and he is also said to have sold all these plans to Germany and to have divulged to Austria and Germany the names of French officers recently sent abroad on secret missions. Captain Dreyfus was married to the daughter of a rich diamond merchant of this city.

Captain Dreyfus is said to have supplied the Italian officer, who is believed to have been an agent of the Italian government, with the plans for the mobilization of the Fifteenth Army Corps covering the Department of the Maritime Alps, Ardech, Pouches-du-Rhone, Cor-Alps, Ardech, Pouches-du-Rhone, Corsica, Gard, Var, Vancluse and Marseilles, as well as with the plans for mobilizing the French forces around Briancon, the Alpine Gibraltar. He is also suspected of having furnished the Italian agent with a plan for the numerous fortified positions around Briancon, which are tards fattening when animals are tied applications. It is not be understood that good ventilation—plenty of fresh air—never retards fattening when animals are tied applications, for such air is needed to supthe town mentioned. Briancon is a place of the utmost importance, especially in view of the possible advance of an Italian army into France. Briancon commands the route across Mount Genevre between France and Italy, and in addition to being most strongly defended addition to being most strongly defended on account of its natural position (it is a lated vet free from drafts, and depend the town mentioned. Figure to Carry Live Stock

After harvest it is well to turn one's ly popular, for surely we can better af-ford to feed it at home than send the bulk of it abroad to be bought greedily at high prices by the men that feed steers against our cheap meat. In this country of the golden grain—maize or Indian corn—along with such ample supplies of prairie hay and corn fodder there is surely a rich supply of carbo-naceous foods, and our stock needs such naceous foods, and our stock needs such supplies for the long fight against cold; but we do not feed a sufficient amount of nitrogenous food to finely finish prime beef, pork or mutton. Our foreign neighbors use our corn in large quantities, but the American food they prize most is the oil cake that comes from the lineed oil and cotton-seed oil mills, and they pay prices that are really astonish.

linseed oil and cotton-seed oil mills, and they pay prices that are really astonishing. The Farmers' Review would strongly advise its readers to substitute a portion of oil meal or ground cake in the usual ration for animals that are being finished for the Christmas markets, and such food need not cost no more than the old ration, if the cost of the ration be properly figured, as but one part of the oil meal will be needed to seven parts of carbonaceous food, such as corn. When laying in a supply of such foods it is also well to take precautions against waste of good feeding material due to poor shelter for the stock; for one of the most serious leaks in farm economy is lated yet free from drafts, and depend upon it that they will be warm enough Murronwhen full of cattle, and that too much warmth is decidedly detrimental. Sr. Petersburg, November 2 .- The angel of death, in the shadow of whose pinions the autocrat of all the Russias has been lying for many days, yesterday disembarked troops, guns, horses and munitions in safety. Kin Chow, which is a walled town, and which was believed beckoned and the soul of the man who had in his hands the lives and destinies is a walled town, and which was believed to be held by a large garrison, was im-mediately attacked. The cuter defenses were carried by the Japanese after a few hours' fighting. The Chinese made lit-tle further resistance, and the Japanese were soon masters of the place. In the meantime the Japanese fleet, which had conveyed the transports, opened a heavy fire on Talien Wan and Kulien Chao. The firing scarcely ceased for many of millions upon millions was borne away. Calmly and peacefully as a sleeping babe, he who by his slightest word could have plunged Europe into a war, the horrors of which defy description, fell into the dreamless sleep which he feared not. He expressed a desire to receive the sacrament, which was administered to him by the court chaplain, Yanisheff, and Father Ivan in the presence of the whole family. The Czar then conversed long and earnestly with Father Ivan, concluding by asking his family to again gather around him. He spoke to each member separately and in greatest length with the Czarina. He blessed all the children present. The scene was one of deep pathos, all being in tears. This time his Majesty was sitting up in an arm chair. After taking leave of his family he grew weaker grad-ting up in an arm chair. After taking leave of his family he grew weaker gradually, and his voice became so indistinct that it was scarcely audible. About noon a convulsive fit of coughing was followed by a slight rally. Then until the end the Czar remained quiet, seemingly free from pain. At 2:15 o'clock he heaved a deep sigh and breathed his last in the arms of the Empress, who broke down with the weight of her grief. The doctors fear the results of the exaction on her already exhausted system.

The body is being embalmed. It will probably be laid for a couple of days in he palace chapel. The arrangements that will be made for the funeral are still unknown. It is believed the remains will be embarked on the imperial yacht.

At 2:15 p. m. yesterday the summons came, and a few hours later the thunderous booming of cannon at Liva-dia and St. Petersburg announced that the Czar was dead and that he who had been the Grand Duke Nicholas reigned in his stead. On lightning wings the news of Russia's loss spread throughout the world, and it is safe to say everywhere the intelligence created sym-pathy for the family of him who by his policy had maintained the friendship of the Great Republic of the West, and from America came words of sympathy, for the dead ruler had always been a friend of the Great Republic of the West and Americans had not forgotten how well his father's friendship sustained the North in the war of the rebellion.

the North in the war of the rebellion.

Among the peasants of Russia he will be mourned with a deep and abiding sorrow, for was he not the "peasant Czar?" None of the grandiloquent titles borne by him was prized as much by him as the one bestowed upon him by his lowly subjects, whose virtues were magnified in him, and whose vices in him were entirely lacking. He who denies the popularity of the Czar among the lowly classes of Russia is blinded by prejudice. His kind acts to them in their seasons of plague and famine will never be forgotten, and to-night in thousands and thousands of homes from Vladivostock on the Pacific to the fortresses of the Caucasus millions of people, as A Young Spokanite Ended His Life With SPOKANE, November 6 .- Thomas R. He was to them as great in soul as he was in stature.

There will be sincere mourning, too, in the royal and imperial families of Europe. Not the conventional mourning prescribed by rule, but the mourning of little children; for who has not heard of the annual visits of the Czar to Copenhagen, the home of his beloved Cza-rina, when, with the children of Emperors, Kings and Princes around him, he was the biggest child of them all, joining in their sports and romping with them like a big boy?

His death will be a most bitter loss to the wife he loved so well that it was a proverb in St. Petersburg that he was the only Russian who was true to his wife." His home was an ideal one, and view to-day regarding the effect of the all his pleasure was found with his own Czar's death upon European politics the physicians had worked six hours family. Endeavor will be made to have the prisoner deported under the law by which criminals may be sent back to their native land. These were necessarily brief, the doctors having had recourse to sedatives to produce sleep and allay pain. Wednesday the Czar was still able to be taken to a window of the palace, whence he gazed out upon the country he loved. The night passed with all the aggravating symptoms and dry cough. Dr. Sarcharfin remained in attendance upon him throughout the night, only snatching brief intervals for sleep in the ante-

An imperial decree announcing the accession to the throne of the Grand Duke Nicholas, the Czarowitz, is ex-

The theaters and restaurants were closed last evening, but the streets were as busy as usual. Crowds stood about the places where bulletins from Livadia had been posted, reading the official an-nouncement of his Majesty's death. It was reported here last night that the populace of Moscow, indignant at what they believe the malpractice of Dr. Sar-charjin in the case of Czar, were wreck-ing the doctor's house in that city. The telegraph offices are crowded with newspaper correspondents seeking to send their reports, and merchants are awaiting the latest news from Livadia. The garrisons at Cronstadt and St. Petersurg have taken the oath of allegiance to the new Czar.

SWEARING ALLEGIANCE TO NICHOLAS. LIVADIA, November 2.-Soon after 4 o'clock yesterday the members of the palace guard were marshaled in the square in front of the place chapel for the ceremony of swearing allegiance to the new Czar. They were the first to take the oath. The Grand Dukes were the next to swear allegiance, and they were followed in the order of precedence by the high court functionaries, court officials, miltary officials and civil offi-

Mar Tan has for a long time been recognized as a Chinese "capper" for a number of Police Court practitioners. Among Tan's effects were two pieces of cloth, on which are Chinese characters. These think. They knew that this great friend subject in Russia, and that was the Czar's policy. I know of no strong opposition to the peace doctrine in his ministry, and do not think that his death will affect threatening affairs, now existing between France and Russia, or Russia and Germany. Nor will the sad occurrence result in any change in the triple alliance in my opinion. In regard to his succession the devolution of power will, I think, be carried out strictly in accordance with his policies."
