STORIES OF THE DAY.

Washington.

One of the saddest places about the filed by the "Crystal Rock Salt Min- whole capitol is that little corner off of statuary hall where women wait the slow motions of their "influence." The condensed heartache and desperation Ahlborn, Sanford Bennett, Meyer that are crowded into that narrow space day after day are enough to soften the most hard hearted. Out there, one day this week, sat a widow. She was old ated in San Bernardino county, and and poor. It was a raw, cold day, but the desolate woman had only a thin shawl about her and one shoe was all broken at the side, so that only her stocking kept her foot from the ground. She had sent in for "her" representative, and when he came out, he was coolly courteous, but finally seemed to warm up a little, and, at her earnest solicitation, promised to see Senator Somebody about getting her a place. He was so emphatic in saying that she must not worry, but leave all to him, that she turned to leave him with her face fairly transfigured with a glow of happiness. When she had disappeared over the last "whispering stone" toward the senate, that heartless member turned to the page and said sternly:

WILLIAM G. ROBINSON, WHO IS DYING IN WASHINGTON.

He Is Known as the "Savior of Babies." Has Devised an Appliance to Cool Fever Patients-Trying to Secure a Patent to Help His Family.

William G. Robinson, called the "Savior of Babies" because of his invention, the incubator, is dying in Washington.

There is being tested in the New York hospital one of his inventions which may be of far greater service to humanity than the incubator. It is a contrivance to lower the temperature and thereby save fever patients. It has been very successful in its operation. If the dving man should by great good fortune recover, his future wealth would be as-

When Robinson went to the New York hospital one day last summer to get one of his incubators introduced at that institution, he noticed a fever patient in one of the wards. They were using the old time method to cool this patient's temperature. There was a step ladder at the head of his cot, and on the top of it was a water pail with a piece of ice in it. A rubber tube over the side of the pail, descending, entered a rubber bag that rested on the patient's breast. Another tube was arranged so as to carry off the water from the bag into a waste pail at the bedside. Robinson was interested.

He asked the doctors about it, and they told him that the contrivance was improvement. If the patient suddenly turned over, he was apt to bring the pail of water down on himself. Then, too, the water in the pail was likely to run out before the nurse could be aware that the bucket was empty, and the condition of the patient would be seriously jeopardized by the sudden stoppage of the cold application. The inventor went back to his little tinsmith shop in East Twenty-sixth mine is connected with Salt Rock Sta- Italy on the floor of the house, and it street and built a contrivance that should furnish a steady flow of cold water. over the rubber bag of the doctors. After the water has circulated through the coils of the "worm" that lies on the patient's body, it passes into the lower cylinder. As soon as that cylinder gets full it is raised to the top and empties itself in turn into the other one, which has been lowered

The Indian's view of the way in which he has been treated by the white man in this country was well given in an anecdote related by Professor Ellicott Evans of Hamilton college. The famous Indian chief Red Jacket once met Mr. Evans' granduncle, Joseph Ellicott, at Tonawanda, Niagara county. Mr. Ellicott at that time was agent of ed most of the land in what was later known as the Eighth Judicial district of New York.

The two men shook hands and sat down on a convenient log, both being near the middle of it. After a short time spent in amicable conversation. Red Jacket said pleasantly, "Move

Mr. Ellicott did as he had been requested, and the chief moved up close to him. In a few minutes came a second request, "Move along, Joe."

A Detroit Newsboy Appointed as a Page in the House. One of the most interesting and Stop Right Now! Don't Light praiseworthy appointments made by Doorkeeper Glenn of the house of representatives, whose personal staff consists of something like 200 employees, is that of Albert La Riviere of Detroit to be a page on the floor of the house. He was appointed on the recommendation of Representative Corliss of Detroit and was selected by the Newsboys' associa tion of that city as their representative in congress.

When the news of Albert's appointment reached the boys, they held a rousing ratification meeting in Detroit, at which a letter was read from Congressman Corliss, holding out to the successful boy the hope that he might become a great statesman some day, as other boys have who began as pages in the senate or house, and resolutions were adopted thanking the congressman for the compliment paid the association, and saying that Albert La Riviere was chosen because the boys thought him to be the most deserving one in the lot.

When leaving Detroit, he was escorted to the station by 149 newsboys, two brass bands and several leading citizens. Speeches were made by the citizens and the newsboys, and Albert, who was advised about how to conduct himself in Washington, was obliged to mount the platform of the car and outline his policy with regard to public questions. All he could say was that he would be as good a representative of the newsboys of Detroit as he knew how to be. The new page was sworn into office the othoften a failure and left great room for er day, and a hearty greeting was given him by the many other nimble footed boys who wait on the congressmen, all of whom think it is somewhat of a novelty for a newsboy to be transformed into a page.

He is a slightly built, bright faced boy, quite intelligent and hopes to succeed in getting into congress some day as a member. William Alden Smith. one of the new members of the Michigan delegation, was formerly a newsboy on the railroad for which he is now the general counsel. Probably because Theodore Turrettini, mayor of Geneva and the most distinguished electrical engineer in Europe, is president of the exposition the electrical exhibit will be the finest ever seen. The river Rhine supplies 12,000 horsepower, to be electrical ly transmitted six miles to the grounds. A DYING SPARK

Another! You're Burning Your Brains.

WRECKS ALONG THE STREETSIDE "None of your sauce," as the boarder said when he refused the Worcestershire.

Oft-times tobacco's victims look at the dying spark in the cigar stump or at the big masticated "chaw" of tobacco just expecterated, and with nerves nicotinized with the compart of the work of tobacco, mentally resolve. "Now, that is my last, I will never use it again, I know that it is injuring me physically and financially and my nerves are becoming so irritated that I can't stand the least annoyance." What is the result? These good resolutions are generally made while the effect of the use of tobacco practically paralyzes the cravings of millions of irritated nerve centers and just as soon as the effects commence to pass away these good resolutions weaken, showing conclusively that the use of tobacco is not a habit but a disease of the nervous system caused by the education of the nerves to crave for the nicotine poisoning. What then is the easy, permanent, natural way to relieve yourself of the use of tobacco? Certainly not by discontinuing it and suffering the nervous reaction and prostrating effects and mental degeneracy sure to tollow the long and continued use of tobacco. Does and mental degeneracy sure to tollow the long and continued use of tobacco. Does thing to do is to take a remedy that is specifically prepared to eradicate the effects of the nicotine in the system and to overcome the nerve craving effects and reovercome the nerve craving effects and restore the tobacco irritated nerves to a normal and healthy condition? To this, we all say, "Yes, where is the remedy?" You will find it in No-To-Bac. This is easily said and we all naturally ask for proof. Certainly. If No-To-Bac fails to cure, The Sterling Remedy Company, of New York, Montreal and Chicago have so much faith in their remedy, that they positively guarantee to refund the money, and the concern being owned and operated by some of the most reputable business men of fhe east and west, it is absolutely reof fhe east and west, it is absolutely re-
