The piece of road from the end of the bridge out past J. M. Wright's place, which for years was about the worst piece of road leading out of town, was given a good coating of gravel last summer and now it is as hard and smooth as a floor. If there remains a man in the county who don't believe it pays to gravel the roads he ought to go and see what gravel has done for that piece of road.

In school district No. 35, which is known as the David district, the annual election resulted as follows: For director to serve two years, A. S. Vaughan; for director to serve three years Lee Winters; for clerk to serve one year N. L. Wiley. It seems that the patrons of this district regard Nard's services as clerk as indispensable, as he has held this position for a long term of years without a break.

In a recent editorial the Salem, Oregon, Independent says: "Time and again have we seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy tried and never without the most satisfactory results. Mr. Wilson of Dundee, who spent considerable time last season prospecting in the Cascade mountains, was in town Wednesday afternoon. On being asked about the outlook for paying prospects in that district, he began to unbuckle himself, and the continuous stream of mining terms that flowed from his lips for the next half hour, it would take a good sized book to record. Mr. Wilson is firm in the belief that there are millions in it and he will take to the mountains in the early spring.

The literary entertainment given by Charley Hodson's school at Dundee on last Friday evening was pronounced a success in every particular. The receipts were between eight and nine dollars, an amount sufficient to make a nice start toward a library, in this day of cheap books. A young person will grow up very much in harmony with the company he keeps and the books he reads, and consequently a move toward starting a library of well selected books ought always to receive substantial encouragement.

March came hustling in much like a lion is supposed to come, and the weather has been pretty much on the roar ever since. With the mercury at 20 above zero this is the coldest March weather yet recorded in the Willamette valley. After having the nice spring weather the cold wind finds the rents in the poor man's trousers in a way to make him hunt the warm side of the stove. Some have expressed fears that the fruit might be injured, but the general opinion among orchardists seems to be that no damage has been done. Pretty cool for March it is true, but we will forget all about it with a few days of warm sunshine.

The exposure to all sorts and conditions of weather that a lumberman is called upon to endure in the camps often produces severe colds which, if not promptly checked, result in congestion or pneumonia. Mr. J. O. Davenport, ex-manager of the Fort Bragg Redwood Co., an immense institution at Fort Bragg, Cal., says they sell large quantities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy at the company's store and that he has himself used this remedy for a severe cold and obtained immediate relief. This medicine prevents any tendency of a cold toward pneumonia and insures a prompt recovery. For sale by A. T. Hill, druggist.

COLLEGE ITEMS.

Roy David was an absentee Monday. The sudden cold Monday made some of the recitation rooms quite disagreeable.

Miss Stella McDaniel, a student of the N. P. S. visited college Monday afternoon.

Rev. Wood, pastor of the M. E. church led the Y. M. C. A. meeting Sunday afternoon.

Miss Sadie Bond accompanied our orator, Miss Hanson, to Portland. Her expenses were paid by the local oratorical association here.

Miss Libbie Morris a former student who is working in Portland, was in attendance with our college delegation at the state contest last Friday evening.

Misses Dora Crawford and Ora Terrell attended chapel exercises Wednesday morning. Miss Crawford, an old student is visiting with her friends in Newberg.

Miss Sargeant came up from Portland on the boat Saturday, proceeding to Salem where she visited Sunday. She was back in time to hear the elocution class recite however on Monday.

Old Yamhill against the world. She leads in oratorical as well as in other contests; for she now has two of the four medals which have been given by the state oratorical association.

The Geometry class have been working lately constructing polygons out of pasteboard. They present a very pretty picture when seen together. They are on exhibition in Prof. Jessup's room.

The trip to the metropolis with the attending excitement was too much for Lewis Hanson. He is now sick, being threatened with fever. Perley Mitchell attends to his janitor work at the church.

The delegates from here to the annual business meeting of the state oratorical association report a very pleasant time. They state that they found the university students, hospitable and so capable enough for any one.

The delegates succeeded in electing Oscar L. Cox as president of the state oratorical association with a vote of 42-18. Albany was the only other college which contested for the office. Mr. Cox assumes his position as president today.

When the boys, who attended the contest at Portland, got off of the train here Saturday evening they were not readily recognized by their friends. Upon inspection it was found that the boys merely had on a new (?) style of collar.

ORATORICAL CONTEST.

The fourth meeting of the state oratorical association held at Portland was by far the greatest success of the four. The college spirit showed was in harmony with the occasion and did not break over the bounds of reason. In the business meeting all things seemed to work harmoniously, that spirit of wrangling and opposition which has sometimes pervaded the meetings, being absent.

The delegates from the several colleges arrived at the University Park station about 10:30 a. m., Friday, being received with music by the University band. The delegations then formed ranks and marched to the university building.

The business session was called to order by the president, Mr. Brown, about 11:30. The most important business of this meeting of course was the election of officers for the ensuing year. Two nominees were presented for president, Mr. Sternberg of Albany college was nominated by a member of the Willamette University delegation, and Mr. O. L. Cox of Pacific College by the chairman of the State University delegation. Mr. Cox was elected by a vote of 42 to 18. For secretary nominees were presented as follows: Beale, of the State Normal school at Monmouth, Galloway, of McMinnville college, and Miss Allen, of Albany college. Mr. Beale was elected on the first ballot, the vote standing Beal 34, Galloway 12, Allen 14. The position of treasurer was rather hotly contested. Those nominated were Luce of Pacific University, Forest Grove; Van Winkle of Willamette University, Salem, and Davis of Eugene. On the fourth ballot Davis was elected with a majority of 4. Shortly after the meeting closed, lunch was served in the university dining hall. After all had partaken liberally of the good things which the tables afforded, Miss DeForest, mistress of ceremonies, called on certain ones to respond to toasts. Bauer of Forest Grove spoke on "Student Life in Oregon," Matthews, of Salem on "The Winner," and a member of the Eugene delegation on "The Oratorical Association." The delegates then retired to the steps of the main entrance where one of the Portland students took their pictures.

After a short time spent sociably together, the delegates were shown to places of entertainment. The contest was held in the Centenary church, corner of E. Pine and E. Ninth streets. The contest began about 8:30 o'clock. The orations of the evening were generally very good and well delivered. The excellence in delivery however probably exceeded the depth of thought. The music of the evening was very good and consisted altogether of vocal selections. The judges decided in favor of Chas. V. Galloway, of McMinnville college, his subject, "True Americans." From the prolonged applause with which the decision was received it was evident that the judgment of the audience coincided with that of the judges. On being called to the platform, Pres. Brown made a short presentation speech, and called on Miss DeForest, preceptress of the Portland University, who attached the medal to Mr. Galloway, admonishing him to be the true American which he had so ably pictured in language. Thus closed the fourth oratorical contest of the Association of Oregon.

Council Meeting.

The city council met in regular session last Monday evening. There were present Councilmen Smith, Clark, Lashier, Elwood, Terrell, the mayor, recorder and marshal.

After the minutes had been read, Terrell of the street committee, said that the petitioners for sidewalk on Third, Blaine and College streets had disagreed among themselves as to the route of the walk, and that the committee was not able to report.

The judiciary committee reported as follows:

We, the Judiciary, report: We would recommend the adoption of the following fees for the recorder's and marshal's services:

RECORDER.

Issuing warrants ..... $ 10
 Recording warrants ..... 10
 Citations ..... 10
 Filing all documents ..... 10
 Issuing and recording licenses ..... 25
 Recording minutes, per folio ..... 10
 Issuing ordinance ..... 2.00
 Drafting and posting notice of any improvement ..... 1.25
 Administering oath or affirmation ..... 10
 Issuing certificate of election ..... 10
 Posting notices ..... 25

MARSHAL.

Putting in street crossings ..... $1.25
 Janitor work at council room, each meeting of council ..... 50
 Carriage for street lamps, per evening ..... 25
 All bills to be itemized.
 On behalf of committee.
 Respectfully submitted,
 H. F. LASHIER, Chairman.

The item of $1.25 for putting in street crossings met with considerable opposition. Terrell said that it was too low under the circumstances, that it was all right if a man could go to a crossing and find his lumber all there and everything ready to go to work, but when a man had to hunt up his lumber and other accessories he could not make wages. Elwood affirmed that a man who considered his time worth $1.50 per day would not do it.

The mayor then called councilman Lashier to the chair and said that he wanted to air his views on the marshal question. He said that the marshal was the grand factotum of the town—the wheel that kept things moving. He was in favor of giving the marshal a salary, besides the fees. That he was at every one's call; that no man would give him a position, because of his official duties calling him away at all times; that he was eternally doing little things and going to places for which he received no compensation.

The report was accepted as presented. An ordinance, providing for the improvement of Seventh street, from River to Wynoski street, was presented, but owing to the fact that Seventh street was too short by 40 feet to reach the two streets named, the ordinance was laid on the table.

The street is blocked on the east end by G. F. Heston's property, who offers to sell the right of way to the city for $15.

The Judiciary committee also gave notice that all bills against the city must be handed in at the recorder's office on the Saturday evening previous the regular meeting to be allowed.

BILLS ALLOWED.

W. S. Mills, marshal's work ..... $ 6.25
 W. T. Mills, same ..... 1.25
 Crater Bros., lumber ..... 10.25
 J. G. Hadley, recorder ..... 12.40
