

NEWBERG GRAPHIC.

ISSUED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING.

E. H. WOODWARD, EDITOR & PUBLISHER.

FRIDAY, MAY 15, 1896.

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Newberg, Oregon.

It is to be hoped that Coxe, the chief of populists, will come to Newberg during the campaign. Our mayor would no doubt give him the freedom of the city.

In the matter of rapid increase in population Oregon has supposed to lead, but a Kentucky woman recently broke all previous records by giving birth to five healthy boy babies.

The so-called bi-metallic party of Yamhill county appears to be compelled to depend on populist orators for campaign thunder, but when you think of it there is nothing strange about this.

If the bi-metallic party should win in the coming election in Yamhill county it would seem to be conceded to be a populist victory, the populist would claim it and the "bi-metallic party" would be heard of no more.

Hon. S. L. Morehead, editor of the Junction City Times, who was a member of the last legislature, has been re-nominated for the same office again. Mr. Morehead made a good record at the last session and his friends of the quill hope to see him roll up a good majority, as he no doubt will.

In commenting on the statement made by Charles Francis Adams that a young man should be able to read and write the English language correctly before entering college, the Globe Democrat adds that the rule would be a good one also for a man leaving college, but it would seriously cut down the list of graduates.

They say that Joe Simon is now completely retired from politics—Blue Mountain Eagle.

The Graphic has never felt called on to champion Joe's cause but it may not be amiss to drop a hint to the fellows who are boasting that they have downed this sly politician that they will do well to be sure of their game before talking too loud about it. As a stayer Joe has something of a record.

A genuine case of leprosy was discovered at Seattle last week in the person of Albert Jensen, a Russian Finnlander who came in from one of the logging camps and entered the hospital. The local physicians believe that he came to this country with the disease, though he says he never had any signs of it until two months ago. He will probably be shipped to the leper settlement in British Columbia.

Guid in the last issue of the Sun, closes a sneering editorial in reference to the editor of the Graphic in these words: "This is an era of retrenchment and reform, and great care should be taken to not add additional expense to our already over-burdened tax-payers."

Granted; but what do the records at the capitol at Salem show? Why, simply this, that Guid who is now ranting about "retrenchment and reform," and who was a member of the last legislature, was recorded "absent and not voting" on nine out of fifteen of the heavy appropriation bills of that session, and he was recorded as voting on all but one of the balance. This is a great record for a candidate to face who is making a fight for "retrenchment" isn't it?

PRESIDENT NEWLIN AND PACIFIC COLLEGE.

The attention of the public is called to an article in this issue of the Graphic under the title of "A Statement to the Public," which is self explanatory. The editor of the Graphic had hoped that this matter would not reach that stage which would compel the friends and supporters of President Newlin and Pacific College to make a statement in the papers, but such a crisis having been reached the matter has been taken up and it is given to the public this week.

It is with humility that we are compelled to admit that such a course is necessary, when we look back over the period of five years of unceasing and untiring toil of President Newlin and his able corps of assistants to build up the moral, intellectual and spiritual manhood and womanhood of this community. If it is accepted as true that "by their fruits ye shall know them," the people of this community will know that there have been no grounds for the charges that have been brought, for who will stand up and say ought against the influence of the work of Pacific College and its professors on the lives of the young people who have been under their influence and teaching.

President Newlin is the peer of any college man on the Pacific coast and he is so regarded throughout the state. His reputation as a spiritual minded, cultured, christian gentleman is such that he is held in the highest esteem by the members of all the churches in Newberg as well as by those who belong to no church, and when it was known on Tuesday that a meeting was to be held that evening to hear charges brought against him and his work it would have been an easy matter to have aroused such a feeling among the people that an indignation meeting of no small size would have been held to condemn the actions of those who had circulated reports derogatory to him and his work.

The matter seems to be amicably settled except with possibly a very few persons and it is to be hoped that we will hear no more of it. In the meantime let those who care to know what is being taught in a biblical way at the college be on hand any Tuesday morning at the college chapel and they will be made welcome by the president.

STANLEY IS ALL RIGHT.

It has long been the custom in Yamhill county to elect men to the legislature, let them serve one term and then in two years pick up a new set of men for the same places, no difference how consistent the official acts of the others have been, but this year a change has been made and Hon. Calvin Stanley who served the people faithfully and well at the last session has been re-nominated for the legislature. Mr. Stanley is willing to stand by the record he made in the last session and it is gratifying to his hosts of friends at home to know that from all over the county comes the word that he is proving to be a strong candidate with the people. In addition to this read the following endorsement by O. C. Emery, who is a candidate for the same position that Mr. Stanley is running for:

We are all interested in a fair and economical administration of public affairs, and we differ with one another in regard to methods sometimes. However, this difference of opinion should not blind us to the point of dishonesty in acknowledging merit in those with whom we may differ, and the Independent, wishing to be fair with all men, firmly believes that the best man that can be sent to the legislature in Calvin Stanley's place is Calvin Stanley himself. He made a good record in the legislature in many ways. We do not agree with him politically but as there is little show of any man but a republican being elected, we would like to see the place filled by an honest man who has opinions of his own and the backbone to stand by them. We believe Calvin Stanley to be that kind of a man.

LETTER FROM HON. THOS. H. TONGUE.

In answer to an inquiry made by Stewart Vaughan, Hon. Thos. H. Tongue, candidate for congress in the first district on the Republican ticket, submits the following under date of April 30, 1896:

You have asked me to express my views regarding silver legislation. I very briefly express such as I advocated two years ago in the campaign throughout the state, and as I am now advocating.

I do not believe that it would be safe for the people of the United States to undertake free coinage of silver with our national currency should do likewise; neither do I believe that we ought to contract our currency of silver to gold monometallism. I believe that we should coin every dollar of silver from the product of our own mines, not the mines of other people, that we can keep in circulation at par with gold. I would retire from circulation $174,000,000 of one and two dollar paper money and issue larger denominations, in not less than $10, in place of that. Then I would materially decrease the $5 paper money, and in that way make room for a larger and more extended use of silver.

The East is not accustomed to use silver, but uses small paper money. By retiring that, or converting it into larger denominations, we can accustom them to the use of silver, and I think we can practically provide for the output of our own mines for years to come. But I would not go to the extent, under any circumstances, that would endanger our present financial system or would take us to the silver basis.

If we should take free coinage, and if it should result as our most enthusiastic advocates claim that it will, that by increasing the value of silver from its bullion to its coinage value, the silver producing states would be benefited to the extent of about $25,000,000 to $25,000,000 a year—this would not help us. We have no silver mines, no silver bullion. It would take just as much of our products to acquire silver as it does now, and with our present free trade policy the silver would leave the country about as fast as coined. On the other hand, under the free trade policy of the Wilson bill, we are losing about $300,000,000 to $350,000,000 per year. We are buying of foreign nations immense quantities of goods that we could produce at home.

The first year this bill was in operation we bought live stock, agricultural products, fruits, dairy products, hay, vegetables, potatoes, onions, lumber, etc., amounting to over $20,000,000 more than we did last year of the McKinley bill. This is a loss to the farmers largely. A loss to the farmers of Oregon of their share of this much money that ought to be going to them. The most important thing to stop the leak, save that money at home, give that market to our own farmers. We are more interested in building up Oregon than we are Montana. I think our first duty is to restore the doctrine of protection to our industries.

If elected, I shall labor strenuously first, for accomplishing that end. Then will labor for a further and enlarged use of silver, but confining the product to our own mines first.

Truly and sincerely yours,

THOS. H. TONGUE.

THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

In the discussion of the political situation persons of different political parties have inquired at this office for the republican platform. Here it is:

The representatives of the republicans of the state of Oregon, in convention assembled, declare attention to the condition of industry and business throughout the country, as a proof of the necessity of turning to the policy of the republican party, under which there was general prosperity during 30 years.

We reaffirm the principles of the republican national platform of 1862, and assert that the results have followed the change decreed by the election of that year have justified our protest against the national policy adopted by the democratic party.

Protection.—We believe that the government should have ample revenue, with a sufficient surplus over ordinary expenditures to provide for coast defense, for the steady building up of the navy, and for the conservation of the public debt. We believe that the present tariff, with its lowered rates and its destructive and dishonest system of undervaluations, and discrimination as to localities, should be replaced by one framed on protective principles, similar to that of the McKinley bill and arranged to give ample protection to American wages and American industry, and to restore the reciprocity of James G. Blaine.

We have always given protection to our ship builders. In late years we have neglected to protect our ship owners. We believe the time has come to return to the policy of Washington and Hamilton, which by discriminating duties in favor of American bottoms, secured 50 per cent of our carrying trade to American ships, and which, if now restored would again revive our shipping and marine industries and pay to be paid to Americans.

Finance.—The American people, from tradition and interest, favor bimetalism, and the republican party demands the use of both gold and silver as standard money, with such restriction and under such provisions, as will secure the maintenance of the parity of values of the two metals, so that the purchasing and debt-paying power of the dollar, whether of silver, gold or paper, shall at all times be equal.

The interest of the producers of the country—its farm and working men—demand that every dollar, paper or coin, issued by the government shall be as good as any other dollar. Election of Senators.—Resolved, that we earnestly endorse the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States providing for the election of United States senators by popular vote, recently reported from the committee on privilege and elections by Senator Mitchell and now pending legislation in the United States senate. Caseloads.—Resolved, That the application of the Oregon delegation in congress to the president of the United States and now pending before him, praying a modification of his proclamation creating the Cascade Forest Reserve, is hereby earnestly approved, and we appeal to the president to grant the prayer of our delegation in congress.

Fishing.—We realize the importance and magnitude of the fishing industry on the Columbia river, and would recommend that some provision be made for a state fishery for artificial propagation, and that the laws regulating the close season be rigidly enforced.

Rebate to settlers.—That we endorse the efforts of our representatives in congress to secure repayment to settlers of Oregon of the excess of $1.25 per acre wrongfully collected by the government on lands located in the limits of the unceded Northern Pacific land grant now forfeited.

Canal.—The construction of the Nicaragua canal is of the highest importance to the American people, both as a measure of national defense and to build up and maintain American commerce. It is moreover of special importance to our Pacific states, and we demand its completion as speedily as possible by the government of the United States.

Pensions.—We hereby endorse the action of our senators and representatives in congress in their endeavor to secure grants of pensions to Indian war veterans.

Retrenchment.—We pledge the republican party to rigid economy in the expenditure of public money, the reduction of excessive salaries, and the abolition of the fee system wherever possible, and believe that no appropriation should be made to any charitable institution or to any other purpose, which would increase the control of the State; and oppose the incorporation into the general appropriation bill of items for the expenditure of public money not authorized by law.

Immigration.—We demand enactment of rigid restrictions on foreign immigration both for protection of our country against illiterates and vicious classes from foreign lands, and for protection of our labor and preservation to our own people of the remainder of our national domain.

Internal Improvements.—We commend the policy of the republican party in relation to internal improvements, and, in particular, in opening our waterways to commerce, and we denounce the illiberality of the democratic party in these matters.

Weekly Crop Bulletin.

WESTERN OREGON.

More or less rain has fallen every day during the past week, though it has not been as heavy as the past week preceding. Today makes the 29th consecutive day that rain has fallen at Portland. From this it is not to be construed that it has been continuous rain. There has been sunshine, but not as much as usual. The rainfall at Portland is 1.61 inches above the average for the first 11 days of May. January, February and March were comparatively dry and April had more than the average rainfall, making a deficiency in the rainfall from January 1 to date of nearly 6 inches. Since September 1 last there is a deficiency of slightly over 15 inches. This deficiency was caused principally by the dry period of October last. Because of this deficiency it is not to be supposed that it will rain enough to make up the deficiency. For the past 12 years the average rainfall has not occurred except in 1877. The duration of the rain has never been greater than it has for the past six weeks, though in former years a greater amount has fallen in the same time. The current weather is not so marked on account of its rainfall as upon its deficiency of sunshine and excess of clouds. The rainfall for the past week amounted to about one inch in the Willamette valley, somewhat more along the coast and less in Douglas, Josephine and Jackson counties. The temperature for the week averaged about 2 deg. higher during the past week than the previous week. The day temperature averaged from 32 to 54 deg. and the night averaged 48 deg. The highest during the week was 65 deg. and the lowest 25 deg. Snow fell on the mountains on Saturday morning, and few frosts occurred in the southern counties in the more exposed localities. The mean temperature has averaged from 5 to 10 deg. below the average since the first of the month. The sunshine has been markedly deficient. The continued cold, cloudy and wet weather has been detrimental to farm work and to the growth of vegetation—lowlands are soaked with water. The high land is too wet to plow or seed, the result is all farming has been practically suspended for the past two weeks, except in portions of Douglas, Josephine and Jackson counties, where the rainfall has been less and the sunshine more abundant. The rain must necessarily have somewhat injured grain on lowlands; hence some spring farm work has been done in these counties, but even in these farm work has been delayed. The season is now so far advanced that it is almost too late for spring seeding, unless it be oats. The unfavorable weather has not been harmful, and yet it has not been favorable to the growth of any vegetation. All grain is at a standstill. Some grain on very low lands has been injured by water remaining on it, while many fields show very markedly the need of sunshine. The rain must necessarily have somewhat injured grain on lowlands, but as yet no damage has been done to grain on other land. The grass has had but little growth for the past 10 days, the result is that range feed is not as good as is desired. Many gardens have not yet been planted, and those that have been show little growth; all garden truck requires sunshine. The beaver dam lands, where the great onion beds are, have too much water on them, which has delayed seeding and planting; that which was planted before the rain began has made fair growth. All kinds of berries have made excellent growth, and, with sunshine soon a large crop of berries is assured.

There has been no improvement in the fruit condition. The weather for the past week has been a detriment to the fruit. Late apples are coming into season. While the correspondents all have somewhat of a "blue" feeling yet the conditions are not anything of a failure in any crop. The weather has been unfavorable, some injury has been done, but it will require fully two weeks yet before damage, if any, can be determined. A failure of crops in Oregon, and it is a most rare occurrence that the weather is injurious to crops of any kind, so that while this unprecedented cloudy and rainy weather produces a depression in feelings and retards development and growth of vegetation, it should not be considered that crops have been ruined or even damaged to a material extent. The peach crop is an exception—it has been materially injured—prunes and other fruit have been injured, but to what extent time alone will tell.

FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

Yamhill County Reporter. Sheriff Henderson has collected closer and given more time for payment of taxes than any other sheriff the county has ever had. Why not vote him?

People say we have had no such late spring before. The spring of 1891 was very similar, the roads remaining muddy up till the last of May. It was a glorious year for crops.

W. H. Logan, the barber, has a razor in his shop which is 120 years old. It is made of A 1 material and antiquarians tell him it is worth $100. He has been offered $20 for it.

The little town of Carlton was almost up in arms last Monday, due to indignation over the punishment of a Chinaman. Besides the section boss at this place, Ferguson by name, the Southern Pacific railroad employed one Chinaman. The company is pursuing the policy of supplanting the Chinese section men with Japanese, and this time the Chinaman was told that he would have to go. He boarded the down train for Portland without money and without a pass, and was told that he could not go that way. He then went to the hotel, got his bag and occupy the cabin he had vacated. This privilege the section boss refused him, and set upon him and beat him severely. Seeing the indignation of the citizens, Ferguson left on foot for North Yamhill, the irate citizens following on foot. Here he pleaded guilty before Justice Kunnels, who fined him $20. Ferguson at first refused to pay or go to jail, but the justice remaining firm, Ferguson "pounded" the fine. From the manner in which the Chinaman has since communicated with his brethren in Portland, by telephone the citizens think the end may not be yet.

There is some talk of celebrating the fourth of July, but it has not been settled into action yet. A McMinville citizen who is tired of the late spring, is inclined to the opinion that we celebrated the fourth last Christmas. Every body seems favorable to a celebration, and it is believed it will be held.

Judge Galloway's family intend to move to Oregon City the present week, if the roads will permit wagon transportation of goods. The G. A. R. and relief corps members held a farewell surprise party Saturday night at the citizens' residence, by telephone the citizens think the end may not be yet.

Gold, Silver, Greenbacks, Bank notes, or M. & M. due bills taken at par in exchange for goods.

To the Editor of the Graphic: Will you kindly announce that I did not assert that I will get as good support for the position of county superintendent in Newberg as will Prof. Hodson. In fact I have made no assertion whatever. I do hope, however, to receive as many votes as the bi-metallic ticket receives. Respectfully, G. A. PRENTISS.

The statement made in the Graphic respecting what Mr. Prentiss had said about his prospects, was made on good authority, however the above card is cheerfully inserted.—Ed.

How to Treat a Wife.

(From Pacific Health Journal.) First, get a wife; second, be patient. You may have great trials and perplexities in your business, but do not therefore, carry to your home a cloudy or contracted brow. Your wife may have trials, which, though of less magnitude, may be hard for her to bear. A kind word, a tender look, will do wonders in chasing from her brow all clouds of gloom.—To this we would add always keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. It is the best and is sure to be needed sooner or later. Your wife will then know that you really care for her and wish to protect her health. For sale by A. T. Hill.

Notice.

Our price for washing Carpets is three cents per yard instead of four cents. After April 18, 1896, our price for Laundry Ladies Shirt Waists will be 15c. instead of 10c.

If the relations of man and wife were such as they ought to be, divorce would be unknown. To prevent separation and divorce true love must be given a new and practical formula when the novelty subsides. Instead of ice cream and caramels, let it take the form of bread, butter and meat.—Rev. W. W. Morton.

Mrs. R. DeYoung, Middleburg, Iowa, writes. I have used One Minute Cough Cure for six years, both for myself and children, and I consider it the quickest acting and most satisfactory Cough Cure I have ever used. A. T. Hill.

A man in a neighboring town, who could not spare a dollar for his home paper, sent fifty two cent stamps to a down east Yankee to learn how to stop a horse from slobbering. He got the recipe and will probably never forget it. Here it is: "To stop a horse from slobbering teach him to spit."

Young mothers dread the Summer months on account of the great mortality among children caused by bowel troubles. Perfect safety may be assured by those who keep on hand DeWitt's Colic & Cholera cure, and administer it promptly. For cramps, bilious colic, dysentery and diarrhea. It affords instant relief. A. T.
