

NEWBERG GRAPHIC.

ISSUED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING.

E. H. WOODWARD, Editor & Publisher.

FRIDAY, JULY 31, 1906.

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Newberg, Oregon.

Tacoma has fixed dates for January 26 to 30, 1897 for the poultry show. Seattle and Portland seem a little slow in arranging dates.

Vanderburg has decided to contest Tongue's election to congress. Tongue has his certificate of election so nothing can be done this side of Washington.

Times never get so hard in Oregon as to prevent people from buying bicycles and taking a few weeks off at the various resorts. This is a very productive country.

Lots of people are afraid of a cyclone, who are not afraid of the devil.—Ex. A lifelong and intimate acquaintance with the latter makes the difference without doubt.

Watson will never be known in history as the saviour of his country, but he says he proposes to save the populist party from extinction by holding on to the tail end of the hybrid ticket, in defiance of the bosses.

It is a foregone conclusion that the gold standard democrats will put up a ticket. It is hinted that J. Sterling Morton of Nebraska, secretary of agriculture in Cleveland's cabinet, will be the man to head the ticket.

The State Teachers Association will be held at Newport this season, beginning August 17 and continuing one week. During recesses the pretty schoolma'ams will play in the sand, wade in the briny surf and search for water agates.

The outcome of the recent convention at St. Louis leaves Bryan in the "middle of the road," with the leaders of the populists playing second fiddle for what they can realize out of promises made to them by Bryan's managers.

The populist national convention which met in St. Louis last week, first nominated Thomas F. Watson of Georgia for vice president and then endorsed Bryan for president. The 16 to 1 men can now pay their money and take their choice of Bryan or Sewall or Bryan and Watson.

The pen is a mighty little thing to rank among the mighty things of the earth as it does. More steel is used every year in the making of steel pens than in the manufacture of guns, swords and needles throughout the world. The majority of the workers in the pen factories are women.

S. B. Riggan, of Portland, the man who met W. L. Tooze in debate in Newberg during the state campaign, and who made the race for the legislature on some three or four tickets and suffered defeat, has been rewarded by Penney, who has placed him on the pay roll as police commissioner.

Our English cousins are considerably at sea with reference to the political outlook in Uncle Sam's domain. McKinley's tariff theories and Bryan's 16 to 1 proposition are both alike distasteful to the Englishman in his home land. Whether he calls for "wet, or dry" it is a hard proposition for him to face.

Colleges that are embarrassed for the want of funds may find it profitable to invest in a football team. The annual report of the Yale football association shows that the total receipts of the team for the season amounted to $20,272.75, and after all expenses were met a balance of $6,302.15 remained in the treasury.

The fiftieth anniversary number of the Scientific American is at hand and as might be expected from this enterprising company this number is strictly up to date and reflects much credit on the publishers. It will be worth while to file it away for future reference as it is a record of history in invention that is well worth preserving.

Hon. H. B. Miller of Grants Pass has been elected to the presidency of the Oregon Agricultural College of Corvallis. Mr. Miller is a bright, active, energetic business man, who has made a success in business, and the editor of the Graphic, who has had a personal acquaintance with him for the past ten years, can have nothing but the kindest feelings toward him, but it remains to be seen whether he will make a successful college president or not. However the Graphic congratulates Mr. Miller on his election to this responsible position.

The aggregate number of electors this year will be 417, of which a majority is 224. These are divided as follows: Alabama, 11; Arkansas, 8; California, 9; Colorado, 4; Connecticut, 6; Delaware, 3; Florida, 4; Georgia, 13; Idaho, 3; Illinois, 24; Indiana, 13; Iowa, 13; Kansas, 10; Kentucky, 13; Louisiana, 8; Maine, 6; Maryland, 8; Massachusetts, 13; Michigan, 14; Minnesota, 9; Mississippi, 9; Missouri, 17; Montana, 3; Nebraska, 8; Nevada, 3; New Hampshire, 4; New Jersey, 10; New York, 36; North Carolina, 11; North Dakota, 3; Ohio, 23; Oregon, 4; Pennsylvania, 22; Rhode Island, 4; South Carolina, 9; South Dakota, 4; Tennessee, 12; Texas, 15; Utah, 3; Vermont, 12; Virginia, 12; Washington, 4; West Virginia, 6; Wisconsin, 12, and Wyoming, 3, and say to file this away for reference.

Many of the miners who flocked to Alaska early in the spring are returning sadder but wiser men. It takes ready cash to carry a miner through in that country.

The total number of non bearing trees in San Bernardino county, California is figured at 1,328,755 while the bearing trees are figured at only 422,965. What will the fruit harvest be when all these trees come into bearing?

The time was when the Capital Journal had many nice things to say of Charlie Moores, but since the Journal has joined hands with the populists it fairly bristles when Charley's name is mentioned. The wigwag appears to be lost.

Ex-president Harrison will take the stump for McKinley and it is stated that his territory will be Missouri, Kentucky, West Virginia, Maryland, and Indiana with special attention given to the latter named state. Harrison has a reputation for saying something when he talks and he will command big audiences wherever he speaks.

A prominent farmer of Columbia county, Washington, named A. J. Titus, committed suicide last Sunday on account of a $1700 mortgage on his farm. If such a mania should become general just now among those who are feeling the weight of mortgages on their homes, the business of the undertakers would take a boom.

The Yosemite park commissioners recently laid down the law that campers should not be allowed to take their own saddle animals on any trail in the Yosemite valley until the horse or mule has been certified to as safe for the purpose. This move is easily understood when it is stated that it is customary to allow ivy-rymen at the park to charge from $2.00 to $5.00 a day for the use of a $2.50 saddle horse.

A CAMPAIGN OF EDUCATION. The party managers are giving notice that we are to have a campaign of education this year. This means that steps are to be taken for the promotion of discussion and the personal investigation of pending questions. In such a sense, we always have a campaign of education. The American people do more political reading and talking when there is a national contest in progress than any other in the world. For several months, they give close attention to the issues and the candidates placed before them, and eagerly devour all the information that can be obtained in that relation.

This necessarily involves more or less study of the general principles of government, the facts of history, and the records of statesmen. A man is obliged to put himself in order to play a creditable part in the prevailing controversy. It will not do for him to go unarmed with arguments for prompt and confident use in the disputes that are certain to be thrust upon him. The fact that he is a citizen and a voter implies that he has opinions and is able to give reasons for them at a moment's notice. Those whom he meets from day to day will not permit him to ignore the subject to which, for the time being, all others are subordinate. He must talk politics whether he wants to or not; and he can not do so intelligently unless he familiarizes himself with the matters to be discussed.

It follows that a Presidential campaign is really a great school in which the people learn valuable and practical lessons and are fitted to appreciate their political advantages and to perform the duties of citizenship. In no other way could they so easily become acquainted with the meaning and purpose of their government, and the methods by which it is made to co-operate so many blessings. They are thus brought into direct contact with its operations, and enabled to see that they are personally reared to it and responsible in a degree for what it does or fails to do. The spirit of individual patriotism is quickened and strengthened by a realization of the fact that the Government is not a piece of mechanism that runs itself, but a medium through which the people enforce their own wishes and protect their own interests. Participation in politics is the best possible way for the average citizen to ascertain his importance as a member of society, and his obligation to use his ballot with serious care and discrimination. He finds out that he is himself a part of the sovereignty of the country, and that his voice helps to make the public opinion which decides everything. The simplicity of the republican system is impressed upon him by experience, and effectiveness is manifest to him in a way that he can readily understand.

There is a good sophistry and extravagance in a political campaign, to be sure. The speakers and writers are not all candid and reasonable; the facts are not always fairly stated; the whole truth is not always told. But as the contest progresses, the falsehoods and misrepresentations are eliminated, and questions and candidates are considered on their merits. The people have a faculty of separating the genuine from spurious in this respect, and making up their minds accordingly. Out of the abundance of discussion they get the salient verities, and are governed by them, in spite of all deceptive influences. It is impossible for fallacy and fiction to survive the fierce light which beats upon them with daily persistence. In the very nature of things, weak arguments are sure to be rejected, and substantial ones accepted. Where there is so much talk and so many sources of instruction, the voters can not be fooled as far as their final conclusions are concerned. They listen to many blustering speeches and read many misleading editorials, but in the end they throw away all rubbish and render a verdict that attests both their intelligence and their integrity. That is what is meant by a campaign of education. If it is a matter of putting error in the way of being detected, and giving common sense a chance to assert itself, which is to say that it serves to invest the will of the people with the right to be obeyed.—Globe-Democrat.

FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

Telephone-Register. City treasurer E. C. Apperson has been making some interesting computations on the cost of water and light plant to the citizens of the city since its installation six and one half years ago. He finds the total cost of the plant to the city up to date is $80,000 consisting of the following: Proceeds sale of bonds, $20,000; proceeds of loan, $600; collections from light and water, $32,440; collections from taxes, $11,300; transferred from general fund, $12,550; other receipts, $100; present indebtedness, $200. The first receipts from the plant were in June, 1890. The average annual receipts since then have been $5000. The cost to the city for street lights and fire hydrants has been $2000 per annum. Deducting the cost of the plant the average annual operating expenses have been $9,250.

The gathering and sale of chittim bark has come to be an extensive industry in Benton and Lincoln counties, and a common sight is a whole or partial carload of the commodity on an O. C. & E. freight train, bound for San Francisco. The bark contains valuable medicinal properties, and is largely used both on the Pacific and Eastern coasts by patent medicine manufacturers, says the Corvallis Times. The prices paid for the bark is one and three-quarters to two cents per pound, which is about the price that the bark is now quoted at in San Francisco. Peeling and handling the bark to the market gives employment to many a man who would otherwise be idle, and the profits realized are very fair, four days work for an Alsea young man recently bringing him ten dollars, or an average of $2.50 per day.

Valley Transcript. We were somewhat surprised Wednesday to see hanging out of the office window of J. W. Hobbs, secretary of the republican central committee, a large sign "Bimetallist Headquarters." Everybody was surprised; but inquiry elicited the fact that in the absence of Mr. Hobbs either Doc Wright or Billy Warren had perpetrated the joke upon him by hanging the sign out of the window.

Yamhill County Reporter. O. P. Coshaw and W. L. Warren have moved their respective offices across the street into Union block, where their desks occupy the same room. Coshaw will practice law and Warren will practice on people who want to buy real estate.

Carl, the 13-year-old son of Mrs. Ina Brown, was ticked to the reform school Wednesday by Judge Magers. Action was taken on representation of the mother, who is a widow, that the boy was incorrigible beyond her control.

Mrs. M. M. Holson started yesterday for the east, to visit friends and relatives in Indiana, Ohio and Iowa. She goes direct to Muncie, Ind. and will be absent about six months.

Howard Miller, a lad 12 years old of this city, met with a painful accident Wednesday morning while playing with a spring gopher-gun. His right hand was badly lacerated, the third finger having to be amputated. Old story, didn't know it was loaded.

The old man Haslett, the perambulating printer, struck town again Wednesday. It is about three years since he was last this way, and he had visited a number of states in the meantime. He knows the history of nearly every newspaper in the northwest and the men who ran them. He remarked to the writer that he was here at the time McPherson started the first paper in McMinnville. The office was in a field, and there wasn't very much town at the time.

BLOOD WIT TEST.

The many different skin diseases such as ring worm, tetter, salt rheum, erysipelas, eczema, itching or an eruption of pimples, postle, blotches, chaps or cracking open of the skin, scrofula, are directly the cause of impure blood. Wilbur's Blood Purifier is acknowledged to be the best medicine known for any of these unsightly complaints. Price $1.00 per bottle. For sale by all Druggists.

Laying on of the hands for complaints, especially in children is now taking the place of Christian Science. A mother in this city cured her boy of the cigarette habit with one dose. She laid her left hand on the boy's neck, her right hand on a substantial slipper, and then laid the slipper where it would do the most good. It affected a cure, and a relapse is not looked for.—Milton Eagle.

EH Hill, Lumber City, Pa., writes, "I have been suffering from piles twenty-five years and thought my case incurable. DeWitt's Tonic and Sarsaparilla was recommended to me as a pile cure, so I bought a box and it performed a permanent cure." This is only one of thousands of similar cases. Eczema, sores and skin diseases yield quickly when it is used. A. T. Hill.

For Sale. A 40 acre farm, six miles from Newberg. Half in cultivation, fine water. Price $600. For particulars inquire at Graphic office. 11-11

A HARDY PIONEER.

Talks of Early Life in the West and His Battle With Disease.

Mr. Sebastian Brutscher, of Newberg, Oregon, was a forty-niner. He has been a resident of Yamhill County ever since, serving many years as County Commissioner, and has always been a reliable public servant. He is now seventy years old. The exposure and hard work incident to pioneer life has most seriously affected Mr. Brutscher's health. Of late years he has suffered with rheumatism, lung trouble, constipation and piles, a general rundown condition of the system and loss of memory. After many physicians had failed to give him assistance he began on Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with the result, as he says they have done him more good than all other remedies combined—his system is built up, rheumatism gone, bowels regular, and he feels bright and younger by several years; his memory is restored, has no trouble to speak names readily, and this of itself is a great satisfaction to him. He says he can recommend them to any one similarly afflicted, believing they will be greatly benefited by their use.

John D. Boatman, a farmer, living one mile from Newberg, is a veteran of the late war. He enlisted for three years and after his discharge at the expiration of that time re-enlisted and served to the end of the war. He was a member of the Fourteenth Regiment Cavalry, Kansas Volunteers, and is now a member of the Kilpatrick Post, G. A. R., at Newberg Oregon.

In an interview Mr. Boatman said he had kidney trouble from the time of coming out of the army. Later he had rheumatism, nervous trouble and general debility; has been treated for a long time by two as good physicians as there are in Yamhill County, all without avail. His money was all spent, his time was gone and he was in worse condition than before.

He had heard of a remarkable cure in this county by the use of Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, so two years ago bought two boxes of the pills and began using them according to directions. He was soon convinced that he had struck the proper remedy. He was soon free from pain, nervousness and felt so well that after he had taken the pills for a time he thought himself cured permanently. But from exposure and hard work he found that he had discontinued their use to soon, so he bought more, took them and now considers himself well and is able to do any farm work required. He does not take any of the pills now but keeps a box of them in the house all the time, however, and says he will never be without them if he has to sell a horse to get the money with which to buy them.

John E. Smith, a respected citizen of Newberg and a prominent member of the Methodist Church, who came to Oregon from the Mississippi Valley some years ago has been afflicted nearly all his life with fever and nervous trouble, neuralgia, etc. He has taken great quantities of medicine with but little effect. Some time ago he bought some of the Pink Pills and now says he has received more real benefit from them than all other medicines he has ever taken.

These testimonials are given voluntarily by conservative and truthful men, each one saying that he would not misrepresent the facts nor would he try to deceive anyone, but they have simply given the result of their own experiment with which they are well satisfied.

J. C. SAWYER, Postmaster, Newberg, Ore.

This is to certify that I am acquainted with the persons making the above testimonials and that they are representative and reliable citizens of this community, and knowing nothing to the contrary believe their statements herein made to be true.

A. M. HADLEY, Reporter, Newberg, Oregon.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effect of a la grippe, palpitation of the heart, pale and sickly complexions, all forms of weakness either in male or female. Pink Pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent post paid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 (they are never sold in bulk or by mail), by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

"Wake up Jacob, day is breaking!" so said DeWitt's Little Early Risers to the man who had taken them to arouse his sluggish liver. A. T. Hill.

Why can't we have a game of ball one of these days between the fats and the leans?

We are anxious to do a little good in this world and can think of no pleasanter or better way to do it than by recommending One Minute Cough Cure as a preventive of pneumonia, consumption and other serious lung troubles that follow neglected colds. A. T. Hill.

Last summer one of our grandchildren was sick with a severe bowel trouble. Our doctor's remedies had failed when we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief. We regard it as the best medicine ever put on the market for bowel complaints.—Mrs. E. G. Gregory, Fredericktown, Mo. This certainly is the best medicine ever put on the market for dysentery, summer complaint, colic and cholera infantum in children. It never fails to give prompt relief when used in reasonable time and the plain printed directions are followed. Many mothers have expressed their sincere gratitude for the cure it has effected. For sale by A. T. Hill, druggist.
