

NEWBERG GRAPHIC.

ISSUED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING.

H. H. WOODWARD, EDITOR & PUBLISHER.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1908.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Newberg, Oregon.

As the campaign grows hotter we are provisionally favored with cooler weather.

"The only" says he never wore a Mitchell button. Mitchell will no doubt be pleased to get this bit of information.

Rather strange, isn't it, that "the only" will ask his subscribers to take "that low down, villifying sheet, the Oregonian?"

Newberg will furnish one or two divorce cases at the next term of court and thus assist in keeping up the record of the county.

Senator Hill says there is altogether too much populism in the Chicago platform but he thinks he will be compelled to support the ticket.

Oregonians were slow to accept it but they have finally learned that with the liberal use of gravel, the road question in the Willamette valley is virtually settled. Gravel the roads.

Gladstone refers to the Sultan of Turkey as "an assassin on a throne," a phrase so appropriate that it must be admitted that the perception of the "grand old man" is still quite clear.

The gold standard democrats of Oregon have named the following electors: C. J. Trenchard, Astoria; F. A. Senfert, Wasco county; Alexander M. Holmes, Polk county; and Lewis B. Cox, of Portland.

An exchange remarks that "the law can't be too severe on the man who advertises a medicine to improve the appetite. It is hard enough these hard times for a man to satisfy the appetite he has, much less a greater one."

A Kansas man has begun divorce proceedings against his wife on the grounds of desertion, alleging in his complaint that he wanted to go to Oregon in 1890, and the unruly spouse refused to go with him. Well, there are some women who don't appear to know a good thing when they hear of it.

With all the soldiers, detectives and special police that hover round the czar and czarina, who are doing England just now, it looks like it was just about as satisfactory to be a common everyday citizen under the stars and stripes, as to wear a czar's crown and be in constant dread of a dynamite bomb.

China and Japan seem to be about the best fields on the globe for the work of the devouring elements. The latest dispatches state that the city of Kobe, Japan was wiped out by a disastrous conflagration on August 26, and floods, storms and earthquakes caused the loss of 2500 lives and the destruction of millions of dollars worth of property in Northern Japan.

A couple of young Berkley, California, sapsheads propose to make fools of themselves by attempting to crawl on their hands and knees from San Francisco to New York, and are said to be training for the trip. Some farmer's cur will doubtless persuade the young men that they can move faster when erect, ere they have proceeded far on their fools errand.

Hoek, George W. Riddle of Douglas county is being mentioned as a probable candidate for the position of speaker of the house in the legislature next winter. Mr. Riddle, beside being a cool, level headed man, has been in the legislature two or three times in other years and during one session he occupied the speaker's chair, and consequently he is quite well qualified for the position.

A few years ago the man who dared to suggest that the way to improve streets and roads was to coat them with gravel was laughed at, but Newberg set the example and demonstrated the fact that gravel was the thing to make roads, and now other towns throughout the valley are falling in line in the good work. The Graphic claims the distinction of being the first paper in the valley to talk gravel.

Professors of the new kite photography claim that they can send up eight cameras, in the form of an octagon, to the height of 800 feet at once, and get a negative showing the smoke of an enemy's vessel forty miles away. In land service the invention has more difficulties to contend with, yet between balloons and kites the picket service of future armies will be much simplified.—Globe-Democrat.

A new bridge which has recently been put across the canyon on the San Woodward place, is a reminder of the fact that bridges put up without being covered are very short lived, and consequently they are a source of great expense to the county. The Graphic predicts that in the not very distant future, the county court will conclude that it will be in the interest of economy to bridge the canyons by means of filling in, wherever it is at all practicable, by pulling down hills and coating the grade with gravel. This kind of work may cost a trifle more than a wooden bridge, but when it is once done it will be permanent. The wooden bridges on the public roads are a constant bill of expense for reform along this line is certainly near at hand.

FIXING THE PRICE OF SILVER.

One of Mr. Bryan's favorite statements is to the effect that any purchaser who stands ready to take the entire supply of any article at a certain price can prevent that article from falling below that price; and so the Government can fix a price for gold and silver by creating a demand greater than the supply. This sounds well, but it is irrelevant and misleading. Of course, if the United States should offer to buy all the silver in the world at a fixed price, with the assurance of ability to do so, nobody would sell silver at any lower price. But this has nothing to do with the question of free and unlimited coinage. That theory does not involve the idea of the buying of silver bullion by the Government. It means that the owner of the bullion shall be allowed to take it to the mint and have it coined and returned to him in the form of silver dollars—only that and nothing more. Under such a policy there would not be a single ounce of silver purchased. The bullion would not change ownership by reason of passing through the mint and coming out as coin; and the only function of the Government in the case would be that of certifying to the amount of silver contained in the coin.

Mr. Bryan's way of stating the matter conveys the idea that the Government would purchase and coin the bullion on its own account, and that all of its power would be exerted to keep such currency at par. This is a gross deception, whether intentional or not. Mr. Bryan knows very well that free and unlimited coinage is a proposition to dispense with the protection that the Government now gives to silver, and simply require it to coin for the owners all the bullion that may be presented. As for the fixing of a price, that would depend entirely upon conditions outside of the act of coinage. The relation of the Government to the transaction would be merely that of an agent, without any responsibility except that of accuracy in weighing and stamping the metal. In other words, the prop that now sustains the silver dollar—the pledge to maintain the parity of the two metals—would be withdrawn, and the new dollars would have to stand on their own merits, which is to say that they would be worth only the value of the silver contained in them. This point is one that can not be too often repeated. It is of more importance than any other in the pending controversy, because it shows the fallacy of the free coinage scheme so far as the continuance of the present advantage of the silver currency is concerned. That advantage would at once disappear, and the inevitable result would be a shrinkage of value to the extent of the difference between the actual and the nominal value of such money.—Globe-Democrat.

In his annual address General I. N. Walker, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic said: "The total membership of the Grand Army of the Republic is 385,406, of which 340,610 are in good standing and 44,796 are in the suspended list for non-payment of dues. The decrease in this list during the past year is 7,089, with a gain in the muster during the year of 13,497. The total loss during the year was 11,406, of which number 7,923 was by death, a decrease of 75 from last year. When we take into account the great business depression of the year, the lack of employment and the fact that so many veterans are possessed of such a small portion of this world's goods, our membership has held its own remarkably well. The report of the quartermaster-general shows our finances to be in good condition and there has been a reduction of our expenses."

Financial Definitions.

In response to many inquiries as to the meaning of expressions commonly used in the discussion of issues involved in this campaign, the N. Y. Press has prepared the following brief table of terms and equivalents:

Free Coinage.
The melting and stamping into money, without charge for the service, of all silver bullion brought to the mints.

Sixteen to One.
The ratio sought to be maintained by law, according to which sixteen ounces of silver shall equal in value one ounce of gold.

Commercial Ratio.
The ratio of actual value, the rate at which gold and silver can be exchanged. It is now thirty-one ounces of silver to one of gold.

Sound Money.
A currency of which every dollar is exchangeable at par with the standard dollar of the country—in this country a gold dollar.

The Gold Standard.
The measure of value adopted by the leading nations of the world as a basis for their currency—the coin (gold) in which all obligations are finally redeemable.

A Fifty-cent Dollar.
One which, owing to the depreciation of silver, is intrinsically worth only this amount, and maintains its face value only by reason of the Government's pledge to keep it at a parity with gold.

Character of Hair.
Men with fine light hair are smart, concocted, and if they do not marry until late in life are apt to grow cross and selfish. If a girl wishes to select a husband she should examine his hair very closely before accepting him, because it is a fine indication of what his disposition is. Men with fine brown hair, light or dark, make the best husbands. They are quick, thoughtful and less apt to be selfish than their very light or very dark haired brothers. Those whose hair turns gray prema-turally are nearly always good fellows. They are a little nervous, but are brainy, sympathetic and very honorable. The hair turns white from being over-scrupulous in money matters and friendships often than it does for grieving over one's shortcomings. Nearly all red-headed people are smart whether the hair is coarse or fine, but when you do run across one that isn't he is the stupidest person under the sun. The women with pale blond hair, or the colorless, ashy kind, are impulsive, loving, fickle. They are not to be depended upon, but are usually good company while they like you. On the contrary, those with dark brown hair are very loyal. They are full of sentiment and easily affected. They enjoy keenly and suffer in proportion. Women with fine black hair are high strung, and those with coarse black hair, if they are smart, are nearly always mean. All women with dark hair are more tempestuous than those with light hair. The dark eyes and complexions that go with the different shades of dark brown and black hair denote strong feeling. They are also more faithful than light-haired women. Men who are bald are not desirable as husbands unless they have money.—Ex.

Sizing Him Up.

"This fellow Li is a sheriff, ain't he?" asked the senator from Billville.

"This who?"

"This fellow, Li."

"I don't understand you."

"Why, you fool, don't you see the newspapers say 'Li Hung Chang'?"

Oil of Gladness.

Is a pleasant, palatable preparation, entirely free from all oily taste, and may be administered internally or applied externally. It will remove all pain that "human flesh is heir to," if properly applied, and might be rightly termed "a panacea for all ills." Price 50 cents. For sale by all druggists.

The Vastness of Siberia.

A graphic idea of the immense size of Siberia may be gleaned from the following comparison: All of the states, kingdoms, principalities, empires, etc., of Europe (except Russia), and all of the United States, including Alaska could be placed side by side in Siberia and yet but little more than cover that immense country.

Elk Hill, Lumber City, Pa., writes, "I have been suffering from piles twenty-five years and thought my case incurable. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve was recommended to me as a pile cure, so I bought a box and it performed a permanent cure." This is only one of thousands of similar cases. Eczema, sores and skin diseases yield quickly when it is used. A. T. Hill.

Onions are almost the best nerve tonic known. No medicine is so useful in cases of nervous prostration, and there is nothing else that will so quickly relieve and tone up a worn out system. Onions are useful in all cases, of coughs, colds, and influenza, in consumption, insomnia, hydrophobia, scurvy, gravel and kindred liver complaints. Eaten every other day, they soon have a clearing and whitening effect on the complexion.

A wicked Eastern exchange says: "August is a great month for church picnics, and the wood tick will gnaw the alabaster limb of the Sunday school teacher, and a green worm will lay down on the back of the organist, and the tired minister will sit down on a rotten stump and ask for a 'sweet pickle and another leg of chicken please,' while the fiendish yellow jacket will back up to him and puncture his tire; and the old maid who sings in the choir will see a snake and faint in the arms of Simple Simon, who is there for the ostensible purpose to giggle. The busy ant will play around the jelly, and one of the infant class will fall out of the swing and break its collar bone, and they will have a jolly time."

Modest Comparison.

"Tommy, how are you getting along in your spelling?"

"Oh, 'bout as good as George Washington."

FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

Dayton Herald.

Lafayette is now following the example of other towns in Yamhill county, and is now having gravel hauled from the Willamette river and placed on the streets. We are informed that Main street of that town has been turned over to the county, and is now a county road.

A. P. Macy and family have moved into the James Baxter property, near the school house.

While here last week Elder Frank Powell, who stopped at J. Hibbert's, was loading a breech-loading gun in the house preparatory to going hunting. After placing the load in the gun, he was letting the hammer down with his thumb, his thumb slipped letting the hammer down and discharging the gun. Charge passed through wall of house into woodshed; fortunately without doing any damage.

A Chance to Make Money.

I have berries, grapes and peaches, a year old, fresh as when picked. I use the California Cold Process, do not heat or seal the fruit, just put it up cold, keeps perfectly fresh, and costs almost nothing; can put up a bushel in ten minutes. Last week I sold directions to over 120 families; anyone will pay a dollar for directions, when they see the beautiful samples of fruit. As there are many people poor like myself, I consider it my duty to give my experience to such, and feel confident any one can make one or two hundred dollars round home in a few days. I will mail sample of fruit and complete directions, to any of your readers, for eighteen two-cent stamps, which is only the actual cost of the samples, postage, etc., to me.

Since 1851, it is estimated, 48,219 men have been killed by mining accidents in Great Britain.

If you have ever seen a little child in the agony of summer complaint, you can realize the danger of the trouble and appreciate the value of instantaneous relief always afforded by DeWitt's Colic & Cholera Cure. For dysentery and diarrhoea it is a reliable remedy. We could not afford to recommend this as a cure unless it were a cure. A. T. Hill.

Sir John Lubbock says that the house fly, which produces the sound F, vibrates 20 100 times a minute, or 335 a second, and the bee, which makes the sound of A, as many as 26,000, or over 430 a second. On the contrary, a tired bee hums on E, and vibrates its wings only 300 times a second.

Don't trifle away time when you have cholera morbus or diarrhoea. Fight them in the beginning with DeWitt's Colic & Cholera Cure. You don't have to wait for results, they are instantaneous, and it leaves the bowels in healthy condition. A. T. Hill.

It is reported from Paris, where pneumatic tires have been introduced on some of the cabs, that in consequence of the lessened shock to the vehicles the cost of repair has been reduced fifty per cent, to say nothing of the saving to the nerves of passengers and the muscles of horses.

For the Kidneys.

"I am 65 years old; have had kidney disease and constipation for 25 years. Am now well—used your S. B. Headache and Liver Cure one year. Used 6 bottles at 50 cents each. J. H. Knight, Rutledge, Or." For sale by all druggists.

No Cows.

"I wish I knew of a summer boarding place where there are no cows; would engage board there tomorrow." "Try our millman; he's going to take boarders."—Detroit Free Press.

From all accounts Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a Godsend to the afflicted. There is no advertisement about this; we feel just like saying it.—The Democrat, Carrollton, Ky. For sale by A. T. Hill, druggist.

Though butterflies are often blown out to sea, and have been thought by inexperienced observers to belong to a different species to the ordinary land butterfly, there are none which can be said to live on the sea.

Cures Croup.

"My three children are all subject to croup; I telegraphed to San Francisco, got a half dozen bottles of S. B. Cough Cure. It is a perfect remedy. God bless you for it. Yours, etc., J. H. Crozier, Grants Pass, Or. 50 cents per bottle. For sale by all druggists."

A Lie Salted.

Consumption and bronchitis are not by any means the same, although it is hard to distinguish one from the other. Bronchitis is an inflammation of the lining of the wind tubes or air vessels of the lungs, causing soreness of the same, cough, sore throat, hoarseness, difficulty of breathing, spitting of matter and sometimes blood. Thousands die annually with this dread disease. Wilbur's Cough Cure will cure. Price 30 cents. For sale by all druggists.

Elihu Burritt, the learned blacksmith, is said to have understood from forty to fifty languages.

Many a day's work is lost by sick headache, caused by indigestion and stomach troubles. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the most effective pills for overcoming such difficulties. A. T. Hill.

Celery is invaluable as a food for those suffering from any form of rheumatism; for disease of the nerves and nervous dyspepsia.

The whole system is drained and undermined by indolent ulcers and open sores. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve speedily heals them. It is the best pile cure known. A. T. Hill.

Children born of mothers under 20 years old do not have as good chance of healthy life as those born of mothers that are over 30.

It doesn't matter much whether sick headache, biliousness, indigestion and constipation are caused by neglect or by unavoidable circumstances; DeWitt's Little Early Risers will cure them all. A. T. Hill.

Raw beef proves of great benefit to persons suffering from consumption. It is chopped fine and seasoned with salt, and heated by placing it in a dish of hot water. It assimilates rapidly and affords the best of nourishment.

Tomatoes are an all powerful aperient for the liver, a sovereign remedy for dyspepsia and for indigestion. Tomatoes are invaluable in all conditions of the system in which the use of calomel is indicated.

Theories of cure may be discussed at length by physicians, but the sufferers want quick relief; and One Minute Cough Cure will give it to them. A sure cure for children. It is the only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. A. T. Hill.

The tongue of the cat family is covered with recurring spines. In the common domestic cat these are small, but sufficiently well developed to give the tongue a feeling of roughness. In the lion and tiger the spines are strong enough to enable the animal to tear the skin of a man's hand by licking it.

For the Lungs.

Elder Alson W. Steers writes from Portland, Or.: "There is no medicine for the throat and lungs that I can recommend to ministers, public speakers and singers, with the confidence that I can the S. B. Cough Cure." 50 cents per bottle. For sale by all druggists.

Eggs contain a large amount of nourishment in a compact, quickly available form. Eggs, especially the yolk of eggs, are useful in jaundice. Beaten up raw with sugar are used to clear and strengthen the voice. With sugar and lemon juice, the beaten white of egg is used to relieve hoarseness.

To Rent.

My residence property on corner of Third and Center streets in Newberg. Two-story house of 9 rooms, good barn and well.

The New Hook Spoon Free to All.

I read in the Christian Standard that Miss A. M. Fritz, Station A, St. Louis, Mo., would give an elegant plated hook spoon to anyone sending her ten recent stamps. I sent for one and found it so useful that I showed it to my friends, and made $13.00 in two hours, taking orders for the spoon. The hook spoon is a household necessity. It cannot slip into the dish or cooking vessel, being held in the place by a hook on the back. The spoon is something that housekeepers have needed ever since spoons were first invented. Anyone can get a sample spoon by sending ten recent stamps to Miss Fritz. This is a splendid way to make money around house.

Very truly,
