The locks at the falls of the Willamette were again opened for traffic on last Sunday, and during the week the familiar toot of the various steamboat whistles has again been heard.

The old way of delivering messages by post-boys compared with the modern telephone, illustrates the old tedious methods of "breaking" colds compared with the almost instantaneous cure by One Minute Cough Cure. A. T. HILL.

A little work is needed on the wagon road on the hill at the river, in order to hold the gravel from sliding down the hillside away from the grade. A few hours work done by one man, will save the necessity of two or three days work later on.

Sheriff Henry was in town last Monday, collecting the election booths for the purpose of storing them away for safe keeping for the next two years. The sentiment seems to prevail that before many years, voting machines will be in use throughout the country.

In some way that seems difficult to account for, a couple of pillows in an upper story bedroom of W. I. Decker's dwelling house caught fire on last Monday, but the discovery of smoke coming through the windows called some of the neighbors in hot haste, and the fire was extinguished before further damage, than the loss of the pillows, was done.

An inquiry among the farmers in the vicinity of Newberg, reveals the fact that there are a good many acres of potatoes still in the ground. Late planted spots were not ready to dig until after the rains began to fall and the way the rains have been coming it looks a little like it might be February or later before the ground would be in good shape for digging.

Judge J. W. Cows, of McMinnville, died at an early hour on last Tuesday morning from blood poisoning, which came from a scratch he received on one hand last Saturday by a wire. The deceased was one of the oldest residents of the county, he having long been identified with the interests of McMinnville, and at the time of his death holding the position of president of the McMinnville National Bank. He was in his seventy-third year.

The O. R. & N. Co. has decided not to run the steamer Gipsy to Eugene this season, as was done last season, giving as a reason that the receipts did not justify the expense of making the run on the upper river. This is quite a disappointment to the citizens of Eugene and they may yet take the matter in hand and put a boat on the river. The citizens of McMinnville are also discussing the feasibility of putting a steamer on the line to plough the waters of the upper Yamhill. All this reminds the citizens of Newberg that they are most happily situated with respect to water navigation.

Don't forget for a minute that Parker is the Hatter.

Mrs. Emma Hill is having her residence and barber shop on First street put in better shape for winter by putting on rustic. Noah Heater and Allen Smith are doing the work.

Rob. Cooper was the victim of a series of kicks from one of the ponies belonging to the firm, on Wednesday, and as a consequence he is about as stiff as the traditional stage horse.

Farmers who have fat stock to sell will find Stanley & Cooper in the market ready to buy, and families who like juicy steaks and tempting roasts will always find the best the market affords at their meat market.

Absolutely pure, perfectly harmless, and invariably reliable are the qualities of One Minute Cough Cure. It never fails in colds, croup and lung troubles. Children like it because it is pleasant to take and it helps them. A. T. HILL.

The Misses Dell Hampton and Pearl Cummings, who have been at Astoria for the past three months, engaged in labeling cans in one of the large salmon canneries of that city, arrived home on last Monday. Pearl rides a new wheel since her arrival.

Joseph Wilson has decided to discontinue the sale of cigars and tobacco. Here is a chance now for the class of enthusiasts who have been saying they would patronize a groceryman who don't keep tobacco in his stock, to show whether they mean what they say or not.

From the Carthage, Indiana Record it is learned that Rev. Elwood Scott, former pastor of the Friends church in Newberg, has left his family at Fairmont, Indiana for the present and has gone to New York state, where he will engage in evangelistic work during the winter.

The government snag boat Mathloma is on the upper Willamette, at work pulling snags from the river channel. A land lubber is not supposed to know much about the ways of the river craft, so the writer will not doubt be pardoned for asking why it is that the snag boat is never put to work, until the high water comes and puts the larger number of snags out of sight.

C. E. Ward, stands a good deal higher in the estimation of his neighbors, than does the Sultan of Turkey in the hearts of the people of the world at large, and yet Mr. Ward is doing something of a turkey business himself. During the past two weeks he has secured Yamhill and Polk counties pretty well over, and collected eight hundred Thanksgiving turkeys. Six hundred of the number he shipped to San Francisco and the rest went to Portland. He used twenty hands while the birds were being dressed for market.

The lecture by Pres. Thomas Newlin in the college chapel, on last Saturday evening was well attended in spite of the heavy downpour of rain which kept up a steady patter all the afternoon and evening. The subject, "Pauperism and Crime," was handled by the speaker in a well prepared paper, which showed a familiarity with the subject, such as comes, only to those who spend much time in research for desired information. The close attention given the speaker indicated that the audience was deeply interested in the subject. Whether the president intends to deliver this lecture outside of Newberg or not, the writer does not know, but the lecture will, without doubt, interest any intelligent audience.

Many political speakers, clergymen, singers and others who use the voice excessively, rely upon One Minute Cough Cure to prevent business and laryngitis. Its value as a preventive is only equaled by its power to afford instantaneous relief. A. T. HILL.

It looks a good deal like some who are holding their potatoes for higher prices might get left. A large cargo of potatoes was shipped to Portland recently from California and sold, which certainly indicates that our neighbors to the south of us will need none of Oregon's crop.

J. B. Mount is of the opinion that he has a nest of educated mice about his store. A few nights ago he caught a mouse in a trap and when he went to take the little fellow out he found that he had a good bed, made of excelsior.

J. B. thinks other members of that particular family of mice carried the material to the prisoner in order to protect him from the chilly night air. Was this done from instinct, or did the helping mouse reason from cause to effect?

A Poultry Show.
The Chehalis Valley Poultry Association has decided to hold a poultry show in Newberg on Dec. 23-24. Full particulars will be given next week.

M. for the purpose of getting the sentiment of the people, respecting the feasibility of trying to interest capital, with a view of getting a beet sugar plant put up in this valley. Everybody invited.

Mr. Sims at Armory Hall.
The Sims exhibition given at Armory hall on last Friday night was well attended, the program being doubly interesting on account of Mr. Sims being a home man. His long list of views, which are taken from real life in Oregon, Washington, and Idaho, comprise mountain, valley and river scenery, including our snow capped peaks, which are the pride of the Northwest, deep mountain gorges with beautiful water falls, farm and orchard views, river scenery that excites the admiration of the world, fish wheels, wood flumes, and many others of interest to every lover of nature—these cannot fail to interest any audience. Mr. Sims will have large audiences without doubt while traveling over the middle states, and wherever he may give an exhibition and talk on the great Northwest, there is little doubt that he will throw the people into a fever, such as nothing but a trip to this country will satisfy.

How To Prevent Croup.
Some reading that will prove interesting to young mothers. How to guard against the disease.
Croup is a terror to young mothers and to post them concerning the cause, first symptoms and treatment is the object of this item. The origin of croup is a common cold. Children who are subject to it take cold very easily and croup is almost sure to follow. The first symptom is hoarseness; this is soon followed by a peculiar rough cough, which is easily recognized and will never be forgotten by one who has heard it. The time to act is when the child first becomes hoarse. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given all tendency to croup will soon disappear. Even after the croupy cough has developed it will prevent the attack. There is no danger in giving this remedy for it contains nothing injurious. For sale by A. T. Hill Druggist.

Cure For Scandal.
Here is a cure for a terrible disorder of the mouth commonly called "scandal." "Take of 'good nature' one ounce; of an herb called by the Indians 'mind your own business,' one ounce; mix these with a little 'charity for others,' and two or three sprigs of 'keep your tongue between your teeth.' Application: The symptoms are violent itching of the tongue and root of the mouth which invariably take place while you are in company with a species of animals called gossips; when you feel an attack of it coming on take a mouthful of the mixture, hold it in your mouth, which you will keep close shut till you get home, and you will find a complete cure. Should you apprehend a relapse, keep a small bottleful about you, and on the slightest symptoms repeat the dose.

The little island of Malta has a language of its own, derived from the Carthaginian and Arabian tongues. The nobility of the island speaks Italian.
Queen Victoria now rules 367,000,000 people, a greater number than ever before acknowledged the sovereignty of either a king, queen or emperor.

The city election will take place on the first Monday in December.
Grandma Carey has had the pioneer poplars in front of her residence cut down.

P. A. Bates shipped 85 tons of wheat and flour on the steamer Gipsy, last Sunday.

Prof. La Follette is teaching a day school and a writing class at night, in the Carpenter building.

Charley Mitchell has got home, after a six months stay in Illinois. He says there is no place like Oregon.

The steamer Eugene went up the river on last Tuesday to McMinnville. We are informed that J. P. Geer has bought her to run in place of the Toledo.

The street corner orators are as quiet as a grave yard since the election, and the Pops are all in the hospital. It is no wonder they are sick, for at the June election they had a majority of 34 in LaFayette, while on Nov. 3, McKinley's majority was 6. Charley Talmage and that Bryan rally in LaFayette that Bert Heath told about, (in which there was 10 voters) made 40 votes for McKinley. It is pretty bitter, boys, but the directions say take it.

To Teachers.

Two amateur hunters in the northern woods, not long ago, saw a deer, and both fired at once.
"That is my deer," said A. "I shot it." "No, you didn't, hotly replied B. "It is my deer, because I killed it."
A third party was approaching from the opposite direction with fury in his eye and a club in his hand.
"Which of you rascals shot my calf?" roared the farmer.
"That fellow just told me he did it," said A.
And B, now thoroughly alarmed for his personal safety answered:
"He lies. He shot it himself. I saw him do it, and I'll swear to it."—Interior.
