F. A. Morris has traded his feed store to E. Steigler for property on Fifth street. Frank Elliott will continue to run the business for Mr. Steigler until he can move into town, which will probably be about a month.

The warm rains that we have been having for the past few days have been taking the snow out of the mountains at a rapid rate. The change in the temperature has also been encouraging to the frogs that have been hauled up so long.

No one need be surprised to see Tom Duncan setting the stakes for a new residence in town as soon as good weather comes. Rumor has it that Tom is working himself up to the point of building him a handsome residence for a home. There are a number of fine building lots awaiting his decision.

Will Raleigh, of Sheridan, who has returned from Rossland B. C., advises Yamhill people to remain at home as that mining camp is over run with prospectors. This tidbits with what a business man of Rossland told the writer a short time ago. He said that Rossland was sure to be over run with disappointed people this season.

The old man Nelson, who has been nicknamed "Tuesday" Nelson on account of the regularity with which he comes to town with butter and eggs, arriving at ten o'clock on Tuesday of each week, had a runaway on Tuesday last. The team which was hitched in front of the post office broke loose and made a short spin down the street, resulting in a broken tongue.

The city council closed a contract last week with Hugo & Swift of Portland for pipe for the water works and another with Wolff & Zeigler of Portland for the hydrants. Everything is reported to be first class and the prices paid are said to be very low. Mr. Smyth the engineer in charge, says he feels confident that he can put in the system and have money left. He proposes to begin work at an early day and hopes to have the system complete in about sixty days. It is a relief to the people to know that their money is not to be frittered away in a worthless, wooden pipe system.

At the request of the McMinnville constable Marshall Morris arrested Albert Mitchell on Thursday of last week and held him until the McMinnville officer arrived. It seems that young Mitchell had been connected with some other boys about McMinnville in a chicken stealing scrape and the other boys were already serving time in the jail for the offense. Mitchell was given fifteen days.

J. W. Wheeler, the new road supervisor for the district out northwest of town has the right idea about road making. He says he intends to put in the larger part of the time in his district hauling gravel. This has the right ring. When all the road supervisors throughout the Willamette valley come to the same conclusion and are given the proper encouragement by the different county courts the approach of the millennium in road making may be considered to be at hand. It has been a long hard pull through the mud of many winters but we are getting there. Let everybody talk gravel.

When in conversation with Judge Shattuck, of Portland a short time ago, the writer, in answer to a question as to what the Newberg Pressed Brick factory was doing, mentioned the fact that the company in addition to securing some good lulls for brick in Portland already this season, had a prospect of selling a good bill to the banker, Henry Failing. The Judge remarked that he hoped that Failing would decide to buy something of Oregon make as he had always made a practice of sending to New York for everything, even to his trousers and coats. The Judge indicated that he was in favor of buying of home manufactures as far as possible.

A whole wagon load of German citizens from the neighborhood out south-east of town came in one day last week, considerably worked up over some developments that had been made in their community. For the past year or more, articles "too numerous to mention" had disappeared from the premises of the different neighbors. This has been going on until forbearance has long ago ceased to be a virtue, and consequently the righteous indignation of the populace has been wrought up to a high pitch. A German neighbor has been suspected all along, and it was decided to keep a watch. On the second night the suspected party was halted as he was leaving a neighbors' barn loaded down with hay. He admitted that he had been engaged in stealing for a living and boldly asserted that a man who would work for a living in this community was a fool. He stated further that if they blowed on him he would burn their crops next summer. He is evidently a bad character and should be looked after by the grand jury.

Dangers of the Grip.
The greatest danger from La Grippe is of its resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for La Grippe, we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventive of that dread disease. It effects a permanent cure in less time than any other treatment. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by A. T. Hill, druggist.

They are so small that the most sensitive persons takes them, they are so effective that the most obstinate cases of constipation, headache and torpid liver yield to them. That is why DeWitt's Little Early Risers are known as the famous little pills. A. T. Hill.

A. M. Mauritzen received a letter from a cousin in Norway a few days ago, asking him to go to Mendocino county, California, to look after some business there for him. His cousin left his farm and several hundred head of stock about four months ago and went to Norway on a visit, and now since he has concluded to remain in the old country for some time he wants Mr. Mauritzen to go down and sell off his stock and arrange some business for him. If Mr. Mauritzen goes he will probably be gone two or three weeks.

The President, who expects to remove to California, also resigns, and Mrs. Allen is appointed to fill the vacancy, which position she accepts temporarily.
