"I crave but One Minute," said the public speaker in a husky voice; and then he took a dose of One Minute Cough Cure, and proceeded with his oratory. One Minute Cough Cure is unequalled for throat and lung troubles. A. T. HILL.

A. R. Cumpston arrived here from Nebraska a few days ago to join his wife who has been here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Moses Hollingsworth, for several weeks. They spent last year in Oregon and returned to Nebraska last fall. They now come back to stay. Their daughter will teach in our public school the coming year.

Quite a number of Newberg people went to Oregon City last Monday to hear Bryan speak on his old theme, bimetallism. Several drove through with teams while others went by boat. The steamer Grey, Eagle made the round trip with all the passengers she could carry and other boats from up river points were well patronized.

Four weeks ago the outlook was quite discouraging to the farmers for it looked then like spring grain would be almost a failure, but the rains came, followed by continued cool, cloudy weather, so that the soil retained all the moisture that fell and grain has forged forward in a way to discount all previous records. The weather remains favorable and the harvesting of a good crop has already begun.

L. M. Baldwin, after taking a look at the big spring on the side of Chehalum mountain which is to supply our water system, remarked that if Whittier, California, his town, could have this spring at its present elevation of more than four hundred feet, they would easily pay $50,000 for it. There are few if any towns in the Willamette valley so favorably situated as Newberg for getting an abundant water supply by the gravity system.

Charley Hodson, who sleeps in the store, peeped out from his perch overhead in the back part of the room last Sunday night for two hours, trying to locate a supposed burglar stealthily creeping about among the boxes, and the marauder turned out to be a Thomas cat that was searching for the traditional "church mouse." Could a flash-light picture have been taken, showing Charley, crouched in his night shirt, peering out from behind the curtain with revolver in hand, the pictures would have gone off like hot cakes.

L. M. Baldwin, of Whittier, California, formerly from Hardin county, Iowa, arrived here the first of the week, and is visiting with his niece, Mrs. Lon Hill. He was one of the early settlers at Whittier and has all along been closely identified with the church and educational interests at that place. For five years he held an important position in the State Reform School located at Whittier, and was only recently let out by the Gov. Budd administration. On his return trip he will stop off at a point in the Siskiyou mountains just over the line in California, where some of his Whittier friends are engaged in lumbering, and if things look favorable he will probably enter into the business with them.

George Wood, of New Providence, Iowa, a son-in-law of Alfred Moore, arrived here the first of the week, coming by way of Southern California. He will remain about a week visiting with relatives and in the meantime will look after some land interests he has near Oregon City. Mr. Wood visited here fourteen years ago and on coming back at this time he says he finds himself lost, owing to the changes made. The Sam Hobson property is all that he has found that looks natural and this has changed to the other side of the road, owing to the points of the compass being lost to him. He remembers very distinctly helping his brother D. J. Wood haul several loads of dressed logs to the river landing while here before, and the Wyandott road to the river was so muddy, that three horses were required to haul a light load, and he rode the third horse. He now finds a first class gravelled street to the river landing that hauls loads are hauled over through the rainy season.

"There is a tide in the affairs of men which taken at the flood leads to fortune." The flood tide of bargains is now at Newberg Clothing House, Hodson Bros. Will you take it while it serves?

On Wednesday of last week, Miss Nellie Comer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Comer of Newberg, was married in the city of Seattle, Washington, to Fred N. Abbe, a prominent young groceryman of that city.

"They don't make much fuss about it." We are speaking of De Witt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills for constipation, biliousness, and all stomach and liver troubles. They never gripe. A. T. HILL.

W. H. Mears has traded his residence property in Newberg to Robert Rich for the latter farm at the head of Chehalum valley. Mr. Rich will remain on the farm until the crop is harvested, after which he will move to town. The deal was made through Lewis Jones, Mr. Rich's son-in-law.

"Last summer one of our grand-children was sick with a severe bowel trouble," says Mrs. E. G. Gregory, of Fredricktown, Mo. "Our doctor's remedy had failed, then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief." For sale by A. T. Hill.

Lewis Jones was awarded the contract for plastering the Jacobson building at McMinnville. He will also lay brick for Mr. Seiders, who got the contract for doing the brick work. This is a good sized job and Mr. Jones is fortunate in securing it. He is a good mechanic and will do a first class job.

There is a time for everything; and the time to attend to a cold is when it starts. Don't wait till you have consumption but prevent it by using One Minute Cough Cure, the great remedy for coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. A. T. HILL.

Miss Maude Wills of Chehalum Center sends the following notice: At the W.C.T.U. picnic next Friday, July 16 the social committee of the Christian Endeavor Society will have a stand where they will sell ice cream and other things. Please remember your pocket-books. The proceeds go to clear the society from debt.

M. A. Baker, W. H. Bennfield and W. H. Thompson, of Weston, Umatilla county passed through town last Friday on their way to Little Neck, where they propose to put in machinery for separating gold from the black sand on the beach. Mr. Baker was formerly publisher of the Weston Leader. They reported excellent crops in that country.

For some time the McConnell brothers, Clarence and Warren, about 18 and 16 years of age respectively, have been in dispute as to which one of them is the better bicycle rider, and finally they very sensibly decided to settle the question by a trial of speed on the track. So one evening last week, accompanied by quite a company of interested persons, they made their way to the fair grounds to contest in a five mile race. From the very first they set a fairly singing-hot pace, showing that they were there for business. They kept this pace for seven laps, and in the eighth Clarence gave it up and quit. Warren, however, continued the race against time. He ran all the other boys down as pacemakers and finished in 13½ minutes, making five miles at 2.42 to the mile. This is certainly excellent riding for a 16 year old boy, and Warren will undoubtedly make a strong rider if he takes proper care of himself.

Base ball enthusiasm seems to have rather taken possession of our boys again. Lively practice has been carried on of evenings on the grounds by the band stand for some time, but with a peck of fun in view the married men and boys decided to have a contest; so on last Saturday afternoon the game came off at the fair grounds. The boys were, Mr. Linville, Murray Hobson, Roy Heater, Arthur Heater, Mike McKern, Ollie Hobson, Arthur Carter, Ray Fox and Will Allen. The stalwarts of matrimonial cares were, Frank Hobson, Sam Parish, Dr. Littlefield, Cal McKern, Ed Holt, Charlie Wilson, Zef Sears, Walter Mills, and Henry Morris, with Henry Clemmens for substitute. Ab. Hill and Os. Allen umpired the game. Although the score ran up pretty high, the game was an interesting and close one from start to finish. At the end the score was 22 to 26 in favor of the men of domestic cares, and the boys set up the ice cream to their victorious antagonists.

It heals everything except a broken heart, may be said of De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve. Piles and rectal diseases, cuts, burns, bruises, tetter, eczema and all skin troubles may be cured by it quickly and permanently. A. T. HILL.

Even our august councilmen are liable to mistakes. The other day one of them, with an evident preoccupied mind, started up the sidewalk on his wheel. The alacrity with which even he crawled off when called down by the boys was very amusing to numerous spectators.

The San Francisco convention has been the cause of very many of our people seeing their eastern friends and relatives who return through our country. Several arrived Wednesday evening, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Joel Wright of Fairmount, Indiana, parents of Mrs. Irvin Scott; Enos Hill of Carthage, Indiana, father of A. T. Hill; Mrs. Marietta Lewis of Georgetown, Illinois, daughter of Henry Mills.

One young man in this vicinity would not doubt offer a word of warning to young men of matrimonial ambitions, that they would consult the record in the family Bible, before leaving for the county seat to obtain the all important document, to see whether they are of age or not, so they will not be compelled to make an extra humiliating trip for their parents permission. The young man in question could speak from a recent experience.

Charley Spaulding will run an excursion on the Grey Eagle down to Oregon City and back to-morrow. The occasion of the excursion is a big ball game to be played Saturday afternoon on the Chautauqua ball ground at Gladstone Park, between the Chawna Indian boys and McMinnville. The McMinnville boys have raked in some extra players from different places and as the Indian boys have a well established reputation, a fine game is expected. The Grey Eagle will carry the McMinnville players.

Mr. C. A. Butler, of New York, who makes a specialty of evaporating fruits called this week to see W. K. Allen and have a talk with him about his new process of evaporating fruits, and he was much pleased with Mr. Allen's ideas with reference to evaporating. He has handled fruit put up by Mr. Cliff and others of Vancouver, Washington. He says the objection to Oregon and Washington fruit is that it is cooked instead of being evaporated. It is dried too fast, thus forcing the juice out and making the fruit sticky. Mr. Allen showed him some of his dried fruit and he said "why if you can produce such prunes as these they will sell in any market. I consider them first class. California can't make such prunes by sun drying."

Good News Received.

No news has been received at Newberg for many a day that has been hailed with more genuine delight than a ten word dispatch that was received last Monday from President Newlin dated at San Francisco, conveying the glad news that he had decided to remain with Pacific College. A few days before he left here for the Endeavor convention he received two letters, one of which was from Lawrence, Kansas, asking him to go there and take the place of pastor of Friends church in that city. The other was from the president of the board of managers of Earlham College at Richmond, Indiana, offering him an enviable position in that institution. When he left here he had not decided just what he would do, but this dispatch settles the matter in our favor and there is general rejoicing among the people.

President Newlin wherever he is known, is recognized as a man among men, and as a college man, with few equals in the long list of college presidents, and when it had become known that such well known colleges as Earlham were wanting him our home people began, if possible, more fully to realize his worth to Pacific College and the community. This decision insures a prosperous year for the college the coming year.

The water committee decided a few days ago that the work which had been done at the spring in the way of building a dam to collect the water would be a failure, for several reasons, and consequently the work which had been done was abandoned and men were set to work to excavate just below the spring, with a view of making a small reservoir of stone and concrete that can be all housed up tight, so that the water may be kept clean of all insects, and falling leaves. This looks like a very sensible conclusion.

The water committee decided a few days ago that the work which had been done at the spring in the way of building a dam to collect the water would be a failure, for several reasons, and consequently the work which had been done was abandoned and men were set to work to excavate just below the spring, with a view of making a small reservoir of stone and concrete that can be all housed up tight, so that the water may be kept clean of all insects, and falling leaves. This looks like a very sensible conclusion.

California Convention Notes.

The reception given Endeavorers by the California unions is most hearty. The first stop after crossing the state line was brilliantly decorated in old gold and purple, and convention flags were floating here and there. At Oakland, a delegation of "white capped" young men and maidens boarded the train and gave a hearty handshake to all who wore the badge. As we came off the ferry to San Francisco, a band of "white caps" were stationed at the gateway to the city, singing, "There is sunshine in my soul today." We were conducted at once to the pavilion, and after some difficulty in finding a place to lay our heads, in the immense throngs seeking such, and after being still more troubled in securing baggage in the midst of carloads of trunks, valises, telescopes, etc., the Newberg delegation at last found itself lodged in the midst of the Hoosiers.

The officials of the convention, and they are many, all wear a white cap with a purple ribbon across the front, stating in letters of gold, their particular office. These officials have all, despite the vast throngs of people, been most courteous and painstaking, always exhibiting the true spirit of a Christian Endeavorer.

At last report the number of delegates to the convention was nearing 20,000, more than half of them being from California. There are two simultaneous meetings; one in Mechanics Pavilion which has a seating capacity for 8,500 and room for perhaps 9,000, and which is always crowded to the very wall, and Woodward's Pavilion which seats perhaps 5,000.

While the programs for each place are equally good, yet Mechanics is crowded, while Woodward's is taken second, some even preferring the overflow from Mechanics, to Woodward's, at first hand. This quiet and orderly way in which this vast throng conducts itself is a source of remark by almost every one.

A most interesting episode of the convention, is the fact that the hammer used by William Carey, "The consecrated cobbler," was used in the formal opening of the convention. A rather amusing phase of it was, that the hammer was about an hour late, being in one of the hundreds of delayed trunks.

At the Friends rally, we were greeted by such men as M. M. Binford from Richmond, Indiana, Elwood O. Ellis of the same state, and also by Harriett Green of England, all of whom had a message of good will and cheer. At this meeting Pres. Newlin presided in his usual manner exemplifying deep spiritual concern. M. M. Binford gave a most forceful exponent of the various themes of the ministry of the church during the past decades. Every Friend of Newberg will have a rare treat in hearing him when he visits our town.

This afternoon, Monday, the junior rally is to be, and already, and an hour before time, we are keeping our seats, to make sure of hearing and seeing what the little folks do. Already they are flitting about in their yellow and white, reminding one of so many butterflies.

The great men of the convention are: Pres. F. E. Clark, more popularly known as "Father Clark," just now returning from an around the world trip in the interest of C. E.; Secretary Esar, whom everyone welcomes as he comes to the front, and who is decidedly the main spring of this vast concourse of people; Prof. Millett of Chicago has given a series of Bible lessons which has proved him one of the superior men of the occasion; George F. Pentecost is here, decidedly anglicized by a twelve years residence in England, but loyal to America. Two representatives from India are present, one of them a native with his swarthy skin.
