G. W. Mitchell rode over on his wheel to Scotts Mills and back Friday on business concerning his Red Rock mining interests. To Scotts Mills and back in a day is a good ride even for a well seasoned youngster with a new wheel.

It may be "just for fun," or it may be to close out stock, or it may be for some other reason, but whatever the reason may be we will make you happy when you want anything. Especially shoes, groceries or dry goods. MORRIS & MILES.

Ollie Hobson and Carl Stanley rode on wheels to Portland Saturday morning and attended the ball game there in the afternoon between the Multnomahs and Chemawas. The Multnomah club won with a score of 23 to 13 but the boys are of the opinion that the Indians did not work hard for the game for the reason that if the other club won there would be a third game to play to settle the championship as they had already won one game from the Multnomahs, and thereby would get more gate receipts. Slashes are civilized in these days, and look out for the almighty dollar with the zest of the white man.

The Wasco harvest fields didn't prove to be such an Eldorado as was expected by some of our boys. Although there was work for most everyone last year, this season so many have gone in, that there are too many hands for the work. S. T. Stanley, Guy Metcalf and Woodard Charles got back Friday and more will probably be back in a few days. Some of the boys came near having to turn from a cash basis to a credit business before they reached home and one of them who had not been from home before says he can write a book compared with which even Henry M. Stanley's would suffer in comparison.

The Newberg ball boys go down to Portland tomorrow to play the Multnomah team, a team even much better than the one that defeated Newberg Wednesday. It is hoped that our boys will wake up and give them a stiff game at least.

Mrs. Emily Hadley, who had been visiting with her brother, Calvin Stanley a few weeks, left for her home at Danville, Indiana Thursday morning. Miss Floy Stanley left also with the expectation of making her home with Mrs. Hadley.

Rev. M. M. Binford, of Richmond, Indiana, arrived here on Wednesday evening and has been busy since his arrival calling on former friends from Indiana. He will occupy the pulpit at Friends church next Sunday morning. A general invitation is extended to the public to attend.

Miss Anna Hinshaw, of Wilmington Ohio, arrived here on Wednesday evening and will remain a few days, visiting with Miss Mollie Douglas, a friend of former years. Miss Hinshaw is a graduate of Wilmington College and a teacher of long experience. She is much pleased with Oregon.

Al Cornell who has been holding down the position of telegraph operator at Whiteson for several weeks got back on Tuesday morning's train. He was only allowed a few hours visit with his family however for in the afternoon of the same day he started for Central Point, Jackson county, Southern Oregon, where he takes charge of the Southern Pacific office there for a few weeks. Al is a live, energetic fellow, and will no doubt work himself into a good job with the S. P. company.

Mel David is home from Idaho where he has been surveying. He with two companions played a huge joke all the way home. They gave it out that they were just from Clonelyke and had brought home $350,000. They were toasted everywhere, given free board, and held attentive audiences spellbound with the narration of the hardships of the Clonelyke regions. In Walla Walla a prominent citizen drove them around in his carriage and showed them every honor. They received free board at the best hotel and people flocked around to hear something of the new Eldorado. This is a good sample of the wild credulity of the public under gold excitement.

All lovers of a good ball game were sadly disappointed last Wednesday afternoon in the game between Newberg and the Portland Athletic Club. From the very first inning the game was a poor one. Both teams played badly out of luck, and the winning scores were made from the fact that Portland had a pitcher and Newberg didn't have. In the first inning Portland's catcher gave up on account of a bad hand and Thurston a Newberg lad took his place much to the loss of the home boys. For over half the game Newberg led in scores, but Portland began to bat the Salem substitute pitcher all over the field as fast as the men could come to bat. Twelve runs were made in one inning. The final score was, Portland 25, Newberg 17.

The Clonelyke gold fever, which has been raging throughout the length and breadth of the United States for the past two weeks has touched up the blood of a number of our citizens to such an extent that the temptation to risk some money, with the hope of striking it rich, has been too great to resist. Lou Hill, Frank Elliott and A. Bowman have been staked by different individuals to the amount of $700 each, and they will leave for the Clonelyke country on the steamer Geo. W. Elder from Portland this Friday evening. All three of them are well seasoned men and as they go well equipped with supplies, their friends believe they stand a good show as anybody to rake in a big stake and come home loaded down with the precious metal. They go with the intention of being gone from home a year and a half.

Do not forget the contest tonight.

Miss Clara Holson of Indiana, who has been making a tour of the Pacific coast with the Endavor host is expected here this evening. She will visit with the families of A. E. Moore, and E. H. Woodward.

Dr. Frank Rees and wife and Miss Lora Rees of Walla Walla, Washington, and Dr. P. A. Rees of Portland, all relatives of Wm. Hendershott's, came up from Portland Monday and have been visiting during the past week.

Clard Cummings is now home from Rossland B. C. where he has been working at the carpenter trade for a few months. Claude came in with a regulation growth of whiskers that would do credit to a man twice his age.

"They don't make much fuss about it." We are speaking of De Witt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills for constipation, biliousness, and all stomach and liver troubles. They never gripe. A. T. HILL.

Van Leavitt is again back to the scene of his old haunts, now that the bass hole is here. For several months he has been down in Arizona, working in the mines there, and has lately slowly wended his way up through California.

Prof. J. H. Douglas Jr. and family who for a few weeks have been rusticated at Scotts Mills, their old home, returned to Newberg last Friday, being brought over by Shepard Ong. Their mother, Mrs. J. H. Douglas accompanied them and visited over Sunday. She, with Edgar Cox who came with her, returned Monday.

Dr. G. W. McConnell has about decided to move to Oregon City. The doctor has enjoyed a good practice since coming to Newberg and has made many substantial improvements which he will miss when he leaves. Both he and Mrs. McConnell have also made many friends here who will be sorry to see them leave.

Pres. Newlin left here Saturday for Hantsville, Eastern Washington, to work in the interest of Pacific College. He went at the invitation of Leon Kenworthy, who for two years has attended college here. President says that the crops up there are very good, and that Kenworthy's alone have four thousand bushels of wheat.

Harry Hendershott, with a friend of his named Watt Murphy from across the river near Aurora, took a ride into the Coast mountains, a distance of about forty five miles last Friday, and returned Monday. They went after a load of shingles and combined pleasure with business, taking a two days vacation and outing while there.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mears while on the road home from Salem last Monday, heard the report of a gun that killed a man named Harford, who it seems had become tired of life and committed suicide. He with his family lived in Polk county on the Salem and Dayton road. He leaves a wife and eight children to battle with the stern realities of the world.

Six hundred feet of fire hose was received on Wednesday morning and a test of the water works was given. Everything worked to perfection and it was fully demonstrated that the force is entirely sufficient for all purposes. With an inch nozzle on the hose a stream was thrown to the top of the flag pole opposite Morris & Miles' store, a height of more than a hundred feet.

The L.O.O.F. installed the following officers on Thursday evening of last week: W. C. Kruger, N. G. W. L. Robertson, V. G. F. A. Elliott, J. B. Mount, A. T. Hill, W. L. M. Parker, C. J. L. Hoskins, I. G. M. J. Jones, R. S. N. G., S. M. Calkins, L. S. N. G., F. H. Story, R. S. V. G., and M. McDonald, L. S. V. G. Thomas Coughlin of McMinnville was installing officer.

Vim, vigor and victory; these are the characteristics of De Witt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills for constipation, biliousness and all stomach and liver troubles. A. T. HILL.

Woodard Charles and S. T. Stanley after their pilgrimage to eastern Oregon have concluded that they are willing to cut cord wood and are now working in the timber out near the cross roads, east of town.

Stuart B. Hanna, of Eugene, has been in town the past week canvassing for stereoscopic photographs. Mr. Hanna is a prominent student of the State University and graduates next year. He visited with Oscar Cox while here.

Edmund Robinson will leave here today for Fort Jones, California, where he has been working on a mining claim. He has decided to move back here with his family. They will probably reach here overland in about three weeks.

Mr. R. P. Ungerman and family of McMinnville drove down Sunday and visited with W. W. Nelson's at their country home west of town. Miss Nanine Ungerman who had been visiting for some time with Miss Bird Nelson returned home on Monday.

F. A. Morris left for Inliana last Wednesday where he will visit old friends and relatives and look after some business interests. He will be away from his business four or five weeks. I. E. Holt will stay in the store in Mr. Morris' absence.

Mrs. E. A. Traublood of Portland, in company with her niece Miss Anna Jennings of Davenport, Nebraska came up on the boat Saturday and visited friends over Sunday and Monday. Miss Jennings is a school teacher of much ability having long had a good position in the schools of her Nebraska town and is now taking a trip to the Pacific Coast having come up through California. She will next visit in Seattle.

Miss Harriet Green of London, England, arrived here Friday evening accompanied by Mrs. Elizabeth Shelley of San Jose, California, who was also formerly of England but who for the past eleven years has been living in America. Miss Green is a minister in Friends church and has been in America about a year, visiting the various Friends meetings. On last Sunday she occupied the pulpit of Friends church in both morning and evening services. The ladies are staying with B. C. Miles' and will probably remain in Oregon for four or five weeks yet.

Evidently the single and married men were not satisfied with one game of base ball, so on Saturday last they played another with the resulting score of 15 to 17 in favor of the boys. Of course this left the question of championship as unsettled as before as they then had a game apiece. To play off the tie they came together Tuesday afternoon at the fair grounds. This time the boys were recruited with Van Leavitt, Hugh Nelson, Lee Stanley and Bud Mills, but all in vain. The game was very close and interesting, the score being kept down very well which in the end was 8 to 6 in favor of the domestic men.

Fruit Growers Meeting.
 All members of the Yamhill County Fruit Growers Exchange, and all growers who intend to become members will meet Monday, August 2 at 2 o'clock P. M. in Bank of Newberg building. Business relative to marketing green and dried fruit will be considered and all interested should attend. Estimates for boxes, labels and marketing will be based solely on membership and those growers who are not members but wish to grow some such will be expected to make it known at this meeting.
 A. C. CHURCHILL, Secy.

Hop Pickers Wanted.
 I want 370 hop pickers. A family may count three boxes a hand. Thus you, self and wife and three children may pick 9 boxes of hops per day and you will count three hands. You will receive 20 cents per box for picking and should the price be more at picking time we will pay you the customary price. Please give me your address on a postal card or in a letter and I will do the rest. Our motto is kind and courteous treatment to our patrons.
 Hops bought at the highest market price.

Elocutionary Contest.
 As previously announced, on last Friday evening an elocutionary contest was held in the Methodist church. The exercises of the evening which began a little after eight o'clock were very well attended and were certainly a success. The young people all showed that they had put good work on their selections and that they were there to do their best. Rev. R. A. Atkins in a few introductory remarks explained the circumstances of the contest. The contestants were all members of one of the classes of the M. E. Sunday school and were contesting for a handsome silver medal. All of the speakers had faithfully practiced and had received equal attention from Rev. Atkins who had trained them.

The exercises were opened by the singing of "America" by the audience. The speakers of the evening in their order were as follows: "The Dressmaker," Miss Emma Dorrance; "The Child and Heaven," Miss Mary Heston; "The Bridge-keeper's Story," Elmer Cummings; "The Switchman and Duty," Miss Fannie Cobb; "Curfew must not ring tonight," Miss Sylvia Metcalf; "Papa's Letter," Miss Hattie Thomas;

"Asleep at the Switch," Miss Grace Craven, Mr. John Parrott of Dundee sang a solo, and accompanied with the violin. The judges of the evening were Mr. C. E. Newhouse, and Miss Kincaid of Springbrook and William Hendershott. Rev. Atkins announced their decision as being in favor of Miss Craven. The hearty applause with which this announcement was received showed the audience to have already given the same decision. The selection which Miss Craven rendered was of a tragic nature but the naturalness with which it was rendered showed her to have natural ability in this direction. Attorney C. A. Butt, the teacher of this class then presented the trophy of victory to the successful contestant, Miss Sylvia Metcalf and Elmer Cummings received the same average and came in together for second place.

After the exercises were concluded the audience withdrew to the parsonage where the ladies served ice cream and cake, and where a very pleasant, social time was enjoyed.
