It was amusing to the spectators as well as embarrassing to the lady cyclist the other day when she led her husband's wheel instead of her own out into the middle of the street, not noticeing the mistake until she attempted to mount.

Rev. M. M. Binford and Rev. E. O. Ellis of Indiana occupied the pulpit of Friends church Sunday, the former in the morning and the latter in the evening service. Rev. Binford also gave a forcible, enthusiastic talk in the Christian Endeavor meeting. Both sermons were earnest and invigorating.

Miss Clara Hodson, of Mooresville, Indiana, one of the Christian Endeavor excursionists who stopped over here to visit with A. E. Moore's and the Woodward household, sold her ticket and has arranged to remain and attend college. She has a sister who came out from Kansas who will teach school the coming year in Linn county.

O. K. Edwards met with an accident Wednesday forenoon which resulted in the loss of the end of the third finger on the right hand. A car load of brick which was being hauled out to the railroad was too heavy for the mules on the up grade and the car started back. O. K. tried to set the brakes but they failed to work, when he jumped down and placed a brick behind the car wheel hoping to stop the car. He was a little too slow in removing his hand and the wheel shoved the brick from the rail catching his finger with the results named above.

Wm. Grant, of San Francisco, a son-in-law of Aunt Amy Edwards, is in town visiting with the Edwards household and renewing acquaintance with former Indiana friends. Mr. Grant has been a resident of San Francisco for several years and has built up a good business in that city. He will remain here for several days.

The Newberg boys met with a rather disastrous defeat Saturday at the hands of the Multnomah's with a score of 18 to 2. For the first two innings the game promised to be a good one, as in both innings Portland was shut out. But as Newberg's team had never been together before it lacked everything in team work, and could not put up a steady game, and went to pieces. Bud Mills made both the scores which were placed to Newberg's credit.

The fourth quarterly conference of the Methodist church held from Saturday to Monday was a very successful gathering. Dr. Gue was present and preached Saturday evening and Sunday morning and evening. Rev. Atkins administered the sacrament of baptism to eight candidates, and received eight persons into membership in the church. The official meeting showed all finances provided for to date, and the church to be in a very prosperous condition.

It is always gratifying to receive testimonials for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, and when the endorsement is from a physician it is especially so. "There is no more satisfactory or effective remedy than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy," writes Dr. R. E Robey physician and pharmacist, of Olney, Mo.; and as he has used the Remedy in his own family and sold it in his drug store for six years, he should certainly know. For sale by A. T. Hill.

A jovial picnic party took posession of the hills north of town last Monday. The occasion was the visit of old Indiana friends and relatives to this part of the valley and the desire on the part of some of our citizens to show them from a perspective view as good a country as eyes ever beheld. The party started early in the morning in various vehicles. After arriving on the mountain they drank in the delightful scenery until noon, when they spread a bounteous repast in a cool, shady nook, to the full satisfaction of all, after which a pleasant time was spent over the remains, in a social way, in spicy conversation. In the afternoon the party drove back down through West Chehalem. The Indiana friends of the party were, Rev. M. M. Binford, Rev. and Mrs. E. O. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cowgill, and Miss Clara Hodson. Those of Newberg were Ervin Scott's, Mr. and Mrs. David Martin, Mrs. A. E. Moore, N. D. Elliott, Miss Julia S. White, Mrs. E. H. Woodward and children.

"They don't make much fuss about it." We are speaking of De Witt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills for constipation, biliousness, and all stomach and liver troubles. They never gripe. A. T. Hill.

Our citizens were awakened from slumber, at 11:30 o'clock Wednesday night by the ringing of the M. E. church bell and the cry of fire. Nearly everybody turned out in haste, as all good citizens do when the cry of fire is heard, but only to find that some goods boxes had been piled up and fired with a view of trying the new hose and cart. The opinion prevails that those who engaged in this fake made a mistake, for the cry of "wolf" is liable to be made at any time when help will be wanted badly, and when people are fooled in this way a time or two they may fail to respond.

The Christian Endeavorers passed a very pleasant evening at the home of Pres. and Mrs. Thomas Newlin, last Monday evening. A social was given in honor of Rev. M. M. Binford of Richmond, Indiana, president of Friends National association of Christian Endeavor, and a trustee of the national C. E. association. The time was most pleasantly spent in social conversation, Mr. Binford being introduced to all the Endeavorers. In the latter part of the evening Rev. A. T. Ware as pastor of the Friends church offered the guest of the evening a few earnest words of welcome, speaking of the pleasure the Endeavorers had in meeting him. Mr. Binford responded to the words of welcome, giving in outline the work of the C. E. organization, and of the trustees of the national association in particular.

W. E. Seney, of Astoria, was in town Wednesday representing the excursion committee of the Woodmen of Astoria. Excursions are being arranged to run by boat from Portland to Astoria August 22 during regatta week. The fare for the round trip will be $2. Regatta week in Astoria is always a big occasion and the Woodmen expect to carry at least 3000 passengers on their excursions.

The new city hose cart came up on the boat Wednesday, and it is a dandy say those competent to judge. It was given a little trial about dusk Wednesday evening much to the delight of every small boy who was fortunate enough to get a hold of the rope attached to the cart. With the six hundred feet of hose attached to it, it can reach almost every house in town from some one of the hydrants.

C. K. Spaulding was at McMinnville with witnesses last Monday, defending the steamer Grey Eagle against a suit brought by Dock Wright of McMinnville for $249 damages claimed on account of the steamer leaving Wright's base ball team at Oregon City, when an excursion party was carried to that city during the Chautauqua Assembly meeting. The decision of the justice had not been rendered at the time of going to press.

A Remarkable Cure Of Chronic Diarrhoea.

In 1861, when I served my country as a private in Company A, 167 Pennsylvania Volunteers, I contracted chronic diarrhoea. It has given me a great deal of troble ever since. I have tried a dozen different medicines and several prominent doctors without any permanent relief. Not long ago a friend sent me a sample bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, and after that I bought and took a 50 cent bottle; and now I can say that I am entirely cured. I cannot be thankful enough to you for this great Remedy, and recommend it to all suffering veterans. If in doubt write me. Yours gratefully Henry Steinberger, Al'entown, Pa. Sold by A. T. Hill.

Resolutions.

The quarterly conference of the Methodist church in its recent session unanimously passed the resolutions given below.

Be it remembered, that at a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the First M. E. church of the city of Newberg, Oregon, held in the parsonage on Tuesday evening July 6, 1897, the following resolutions were adopted: Because of the efficient work of Rev. Atkins, during the last year, in increasing the attendance and interest in our services, by his scholarly and excellent discourses, thereby enabling us to raise our amounts in full for the different benevolent enterprises of the church, and the interest he and his estimable wife have taken in the young people, for by their efforts the young people have become interested in educational lines, and the cause of Christ, and whereas he is now acquainted with the people and surroundings, and is able to do more for the church here than it might be possible for another to do, a motion was made and duly seconded and unanimously carried that we as trustees of the first M. E. church of this city recommend the members of the fourth quarterly meeting to request that Rev. Atkins be returned to us for another year. Dated at Newberg, Oregon, July 6, 1897.

S. E. Cummins, J. Parrott, Clarence Butt, C. H. Graves, A. S. Fogg.

While we have nothing whatever to do with the decision of the conference in this matter, we sincerely hope that it will act favorably on the above resolutions and recommendation. Rev. Atkins has been among us long enough for our citizens to realize and appreciate his sterling worth and all would indeed greatly regret to lose him from the present both pleasant and profitable relationships.

Letter From Rev. James P. Price.

Editor Graphic.

Dear Sir.—I have been thinking for some time of writing a letter to you that your readers might know what I have been doing and what I have found out since I left Oregon one year ago. I have been traveling eastward, my first stop off being in Iowa.

I visited a number of meetings in different parts of the state, keeping my eyes and ears open and I found the people generally very much dissatisfied, and well they might be for they were getting little or nothing for their grain and stock. Then I went over to the great state of Illinois and traversed it from the west to the east and from the north to the south, and found the same state of affairs; renters not getting enough for their grain to pay their rent, and I never saw such crops grow, corn making from fifty to one hundred bushels per acre.

I spent the winter in the natural gas belt of Indiana, where I had been assured I would see prosperity, but only again to be dissappointed. People were discouraged, factories closed down, men without work, children crying for something to eat. Of course when I saw their condition I would tell them of the Willamette valley, the pleasant winters and the balmy summers, of our fine prunes and big red apples, fine Royal Anne cherries and our luscious strawberries and then their eyes would sparkle and their mouths fly open. One man declared he could almost taste them. And then they would have me tell them over again.

If people could get rid of their stuff for money there would be a large immigration to the Pacific Coast. But I must hasten. I, like Martin Luther, when he thought if he could get to Rome he would see perfection, I thought now if the Master has some work for me on the Atlantic coast I then should see a happy and contented people, so one night after I had finished my work in Walnut Ridge quarterly meeting, not knowing but that I was ready to start westward, but the Master said "no not so, go east." So the morning mail brought several letters from different sections and among them one from James Wood of New York, saying it was the unanimous decision of their board that it would be right for them to call me to them for service, and like Paul I conferred not with flesh and blood but obeyed at once.

I have visited a number of meetings in New York state and have been to Portland Maine. But no where have I found such abject poverty and yet such enormous wealth.

Here where I am located now as pastor is a fruit section. The grower gets but very little for his fruit; currants one to two cents per lb., berries about the same. It is also a great summer resort for the city people so I come in contact with the fruit picker and the millionaire. The lady with her diamonds flashing and the lady dressed in her rags, for I have found ladies among both classes.

Close to this place is the famous Lake Mohonk, owned by a Friend, Albert R. Smiley. It is indeed a beautiful place and all right if you have plenty of money. Board is from seven to twenty dollars per week. I will close by giving this admonition to the people of Oregon. If you know when you are well off stay where you are, for things are not like they were a few years ago here in the east. The more I see of this country the more I am convinced of the fact that there is a grand future for the Willamette valley, for it is becoming the talk all over the east not only of laboring men but capitalists also.

Regards to all the readers of the Graphic. More to follow.

Yours in fellowship,
