 Don't nauseate your stomach with tea and bitter herbs, but regulate your liver and sick headache by using those famous little pills known as De Witt's Little Early Risers. A. T. HILL.
 Mrs. George Hailstone and daughter left here on Thursday morning for Villa Walla where George has been located for some time. Sorry to lose them from Newberg for they are good citizens.
 Nate Stanley and party who went over on the Little Nesucca last week deer hunting found game rather shy in that particular locality. Nate, however killed one deer and another gentleman in their party got one.
 Elwood Weesner and son Everett leave on the next steamer for Douglas Island, Alaska, where Elwood has secured a job in a store with a man he was well acquainted with when he was located on the island a few years ago.
 Rev. Joseph Hall with his family arrived here from Marshall, Minnesota last week. They came to Oregon to escape the vigorous winters of Minnesota, he having been here four years ago to spy out the land. He is a son of Horatio Hall and for the present will rent his father's property on River street. He is a minister of the M. E. church and will probably take work in this territory in the course of time.
 Cliff Terrell with his sister Anna will leave here in a few days for Mount Pleasant, Ohio. Anna goes to live with an aunt, while Cliff has secured a job with his uncle who has a patent arrangement for extracting the lactical fluid from cows. Imagine Cliff as he tackles an unsophisticated farmer and undertakes to demonstrate to him how, by the use of this patent "pump," he can save a great deal of valuable time and unnecessary worry every morning and evening when he goes out to milk "old Pide."
 "I can't see how any family lives without Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says J. R. Adams, a well known druggist, of Geneva Ala., in a letter inquiring the price of a dozen bottles, that he might not only have it for use in his own family, but supply it to his neighbors. The reason some people get along without it, is because they do not know its value, and what a vast amount of suffering it will save. Whenever it becomes known and used it is recognized as a necessity, for it is the only remedy that can always be depended upon for bowel complaints, both for children and adults. For sale by C. F. Moore & Co.
 To the readers of the Graphic who live in Newberg it is hardly necessary to mention the fact that the public school opened last Monday, for beside the familiar sound of the school bell the rushing of the boisterous school boys as they go pell mell down the streets and into places of business with a slam bang like a band of bunch grass colts turned loose, furnish all the reminders that are necessary. Prof. J. C. Hodson again stands at the head of the school as principal with the following named assistants. Miss Burrows, seventh and eighth grades; Miss Comer, fifth and sixth; Miss Cumpston, third and fourth; Miss Johnson, second; Miss Inglis, first. The school opens with about two hundred and fifteen in attendance. The outlook for a good year's work was never more promising.

Umbrellas at Hodson Bros.
 Free back to the steamer Grey Eagle. See Gord Worden.
 Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Craven, of Middleton, were in town last Saturday.
 Read the advertisement of the manufacturers of "Dustine" in this issue.
 Flour, whole wheat flour, graham, wheatlets, buckwheat, corn meal at Steigleder's.
 Mr. and Mrs. William Clemmens of Dayton visited in town last Friday with their son Henry, the liveryman.
 Joseph Wilson and Jesse Edwards drove up to Salem on Wednesday to take in the sights of the state fair.
 Dr. Barr, the optician who will be in town next week has been here before and those who have seen his work speak in high terms of him as an optician.
 Another Klondike letter will be found in the Graphic this week. This time it is from Will Comer, son of Silas Comer, who arrived at Dawson City the middle of August.
 Married—On Sunday morning October 3, 1897, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Williams, the parents of the bride, Miss Hattie Williams to F. M. Haskins, Rev. E. S. Craven officiating.
 Burning, itching skin diseases instantly relieved by De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve, unequalled for cuts, bruises, burns. It heals without leaving a scar. A. T. HILL.
 A Christian Endeavor social will be held in the basement of the Friends church, Saturday evening, Oct. 9, 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock. An invitation is extended to all young people.
 Rev. Geo. H. Bennett will preach on the theme, "The world's estimate of Christ," at 11 o'clock a. m., and on "Half-heartedness," at 7:30 p. m., at the M. E. Church next Sunday. Every one invited.
 Farmers who have fat stock to sell will find Stanley & Cooper in the market ready to buy, and families who like juicy steaks and tempting roasts will always find the best the market affords at their meat market.
 Mrs. Julia Maris and Mrs. A. M. Woodward with Bernice and Herman went to Salem on Monday's boat to visit with N. C. Maris and sons, who are down from Heppner with a herd of Short Horn cattle.
 Hon. Calvin Stanley who has been connected with the firm of Morris & Miles for several years, first as partner and later on as salesman has resigned his position with the firm and for the present he is a man of leisure.
 Will Allen came up from Mount Tabor the first of the week where he has been working in a fruit evaporator. After spending a day or two at home he returned and will continue work in the evaporator while the apple drying season lasts.
 H. F. Allen has secured a good paying job with Spencer, Clark & Co. of Portland and he is now out on the road buying prunes for the firm. For forty and fifty cents they are paying four and a quarter cents, with the usual drop for the smaller sizes.
 Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Evans have rented the property over beyond the depot, recently purchased by James Madison, and are moving down from Dayton. Their many friends in Newberg are glad to welcome them back again after an absence of two years or more.
 City water has been piped into the college buildings, much to the delight of everybody connected with the institution. The well water on the grounds has never been first class and now that mountain spring water has been supplied the change is appreciated.
 The quiet village of Springbrook is somewhat torn up over a road matter. According to the action of the county court at a recent meeting the road is to be opened through Mr. Hoskins' orchard above the Newhouse store, according to the original survey and where the road was open until the building of the railroad.
 A reception in honor of Rev. Geo. H. Bennett and family was given on Tuesday evening at the Methodist church. The evening was spent very pleasantly with addresses of welcome, song, and conversation; and at its close many evidences of good will and devotion to the Master's cause were found in the parsonage.
 Few men in this country are better or more favorably known to the drug and medicine trade than Mr. E. J. Schall, buyer in the proprietary medicine department of the Meyers Bros' Drug Co., St. Louis. He says: "My boy came home from school with his hand badly lacerated and bleeding, and suffering great pain. I dressed the wound and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm, freely; all pain ceased, and in a remarkably short time, it healed without leaving a scar. For wounds, sprains, swellings and rheumatism, I know of no medicine or prescription equal to it. I consider it a household necessity." Sold by C. F. Moore & Co.
 The poultry sent to the state fair from Newberg seems to have fared well at the hands of the judges. Rev. A. T. Ware, on Light Brahmas, received second on pen, second on cock, first on cockerel. On Buff Pekin Bantams, second on cock, first on hen. Luther G. Newlin, on White Plymouth Rocks, first on pen, first on cockerel, first on pullet. C. E. Newhouse on White Plymouth Rocks, second on pen, first and second on cock, first and second on hen, first and second on cockerel. C. F. Moore, on White Wyandottes, second on cock, second on cockerel. J. L. Hoskins on Black Minorcas, second on pen, first on cock, second on hen, first and second on pullet.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wood, of Wheatland, visited in town last Sunday with Will Vestal's.
 Mrs. J. W. Shafford of Portland visited in town a day or two last week with Mrs. A. M. Hoskins.
 Colored photograph and transparent pictures on glass at Smith's Photo Gallery. Call and see samples.
 O. J. Hobson and Drew P. Price went down to Portland on the steamer Grey Eagle Tuesday morning where they have a prospect of work.
 A very large crowd was in attendance at the Rev. A. T. Ware public sale of personal property on last Saturday afternoon. Bids were lively and property sold at good figures. A fair indication that people are very hopeful of the future.
 J. M. and Sam Atkinson and some others drove up to Salem Tuesday to attend the fair. It is safe to say that Jo and Sam spent the greater portion of their time about the Jersey cattle pens for they are great admirers of fine milk stock.
 Dr. A. A. Barr scientific optician of Portland will be in Newberg from Monday Oct. 11 to Oct. 16. If you are troubled in any manner with your eyes or suffering from headaches, or are in need of perfect glasses, don't fail to see him while here. Consultation free. All work guaranteed.
 When three young men call on one young lady at the same hour on Sunday it looks like there was a lack of method somewhere. If proper care was extended the young lady might be furnished with entertainment throughout the day and thus avoid unnecessary embarrassment. No charge for the suggestion.
 "Many have said their children would have died of croup, if Chamberlain's Cough Remedy had not been given," write Kellman & Ourren, druggists, Seaview Va. "People come from far and near to get it and speak of it in the highest terms." This is equally true of this remedy in every community where it is known. Buy a bottle at C. F. Moore & Co.'s, drug store and test it for yourself.
 A gentleman who recently visited Denver, Colorado, says that while in that city he called at an office where a sign read, "General Andrew Jackson, Medium and Fortune Teller," and there he found A. J. Smith a former resident of Newberg who is following the vocation indicated by the sign. The "General" is the father of Lee and Riley Smith and is well known in this community.
 A. T. Hill has traded a half block on River street recently purchased of C. F. Moore and some Chehalis Valley Bank stock for the Milton Heacock ten acre tract on the foot hills, north of Springbrook. A. T. was brought up on a farm where a good share of a boy's education was to learn to cut corn stalks and dig 'taters with a dull hoe and never say naughty words, and this no doubt has something to do with his being a light weight, but he has got just the same and he may take to shoveling hay and drying prunes on his new ranch yet.
 William Yergen passed from this life last Thursday morning at his home near Champeog, in the seventy-second year of his age. The funeral services, conducted by Rev. Geo. H. Bennett, were held at the old home Friday afternoon, when a large number of relatives and friends assembled to do him honor and follow his remains to their last resting place. He has long resided in Marion county and has ever commanded the love and respect of a wide circle of friends. A wife, seven sons and a daughter remain to mourn his death.
 Civil engineer Hanson of the Southey Pacific, who was in town Tuesday gave the information that a train crew would commence work along the line of the road between Newberg and Tualatin in a few days and during the next four or five months a number of the trestles between these two points will be filled in with earth. The first work of this kind will be on the long trestle beyond Middleton and in about a month they will begin on the trestle at Charley Mitchell's place. For this fill considerable earth will be taken from the cut just east of the depot.
 Dr. Will S. Clark, of Ontario, California, who is making his annual tour of the Northwest in the interests of "Horricks Malted Milk" visited with the editor of this paper last Sunday. The doctor was married last April to Miss Jennie M. Woods of San Jose. Rev. P. H. Dodkin, editor of the Independent, published at Los Angeles, and a special friend of Dr. Clark's, performed the ceremony and in making a note of the wedding in his paper penned the following lines:
 Out of the North the glad news came,
 That our friend, the Doctor, had treed his game.
 He had been a hunter for many a year,
 Hunting and hunting a "beautiful dear."
 He searched the mountains and searched the plains,
 The deserts dry and the land of rains;
 He got up early and staid up late,
 But bachelorhood seemed to be his fate.
 The years passed on but he yielded not
 To what seemed to be his unhappy lot.
 He felt that, could he but persevere,
 He'd surely capture that "beautiful dear."
 So on he went, both by boat and rail,
 Like another search for the "Holy Grail."
 He chased a number so lithe of limb,
 That they boldly turned to chasing him.
 When that occurred he made up his mind
 That he wanted a "dear" of another kind
 And now as our reader begins to guess,
 His search was crowned with supreme success;
 The "Dear" he was after, through fire and floods,
 Was found at last in a "beautiful Woods"

Buy your timothy and clover seed of Steigleder.
 Ladies Cape and Overcoat cloths at below cost. Barrie & Barrie. Patterns cut from 10c.
 Charley Spaulding's parents have moved down from Dayton and are occupying the property adjoining F. A. Morris'.
 Mrs. S. Hobson and son Murray intend to move with their household effects to Woodburn next Saturday where Sam is located in a photography.
 Frank Kimball, of Portland is in town with a stock of the celebrated Kimball organs and pianos. His instruments may be seen at the telephone office.
 Mr. and Mrs. Charley Maris were down from Sheridan the first of the week visiting with relatives. Charley is farming and reports a good measure of prosperity among farmers in the upper part of the county.
 C. Ward & Co. have been taking in a good many dried prunes at their commission house during the week. They are paying three cents per pound for ungraded prunes and a number of growers are selling at that figure.
 "They don't make much fuss about it." We are speaking of De Witt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills for constipation, biliousness, and all stomach and liver troubles. They never gripe. A. T. HILL.
 In the road matter where a road was petitioned for between the Andrew Pickett and E. S. Craven farms Mr. Pickett was allowed damages to the amount of $26 while Mr. Craven was not allowed anything. The latter talks of appealing the case.
 Jim Duncan and his sister, Mrs. Vanoose returned from a trip down on the lower Columbia the first of the week. Jim did a little fishing while there, as his custom is, and brought home about fifty pounds of fish, of which the Graphic family received a liberal share. Thanks, Jim.
 J. L. Hoskins is in attendance at the state fair at Salem this week looking after the interests of his Black Minorca chickens on exhibition there. His birds have always attracted a great deal of interest at the poultry shows and he proposes that their reputation shall be maintained.
 Jehu Stanbrough is arranging to move to Aurora next week where his son, A. C. Stanbrough is teaching. They will remain there during the winter, and in the spring Mr. Stanbrough anticipates trying the climate in the eastern part of the state if his health is not improved before that time.
 President Newlin has been in an excellent humor all the past week. Mrs. Newlin arrived home from her visit of four weeks to Victoria and Vancouver, B. C., last Saturday, and this is taken to be the reason why the president carries an unusually pleasant smile.
 J. K. Blair played a practical joke on Mrs. Blair this week. After fixing her off for her visit to Iowa and Indiana, and sending her to Portland on the morning train with Rev. A. T. Ware and party, he quietly waited until noon, when he also took the train for Portland where he joined the party and went east with Mrs. Blair. It is safe to say that Mrs. B. said "well I just do know!" when J. K. appeared on the scene at Portland.
 Mr. and Mrs. Jack Noble who live up the valley are arranging to go to Southern California to spend the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Noble are pioneers of Chehalis valley and live on a farm six miles above town. They are well able financially to take the trip and while Mr. Noble will not be inclined to put on any city airs while in Los Angeles, where they are going, they will no doubt have a pleasant visit.
 Since the season for prune evaporators has closed W. K. Allen reports that he had an exceedingly satisfactory sale of his evaporator, and that where other evaporators broke down and made a complete failure, his stood the test and turned out first class work. Mr. Allen says he thinks the very unsatisfactory results of the shipments of green prunes east this season will have a tendency to increase the number of evaporators very materially next season and he is very hopeful of good sales coming his way.
 Rev. J. H. Douglas, the Scotts Mills postmaster spent last Saturday and Sunday in town with his children. Three months ago he tendered his resignation to the department but he has found it about as difficult to get relieved from office as some men do to get appointed to office. His successor was appointed some time ago but his first bonds were returned by the department on account of some cranes having been made, then after considerable delay he sent his second papers which were refused because his name was found to be on a mail carriers bonds. On account of these annoying delays Rev. Douglas has finally appointed a deputy who is an ex-postmaster and he is now out of the office although he is not yet relieved of the responsibility of it. He and Mrs. Douglas are arranging to come to Newberg to spend the winter with their children.
