United States postal inspector, Mr. Clement, of Portland, stopped off here last Monday for half a day while on his way to Sheridan. A friend of his recently made a trip to Alaska to straighten out some postal affairs who had quite an experience. He found post offices without stamps and fancy prices were being freely offered for any stamps that were to be found. One party offered $300 for $200 worth of stamps he took up with him. One post mistress had been besieged for the sale of money orders by miners who took this method of sending money home, until she had more than $57,000 piled up in her bed, this being the only place to keep it, and there she was sleeping on the money and growing grey lest the money should be stolen. It took the inspector four hours to count the money but he found the lady's accounts correct, to a cent. He piled the money into a mail pouch and watched it all the way to Seattle and was very much relieved when he received a receipt for it at the Seattle post office.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Noble and daughter who went to California last fall to spend the winter arrived home last Monday. After visiting for some time with a married daughter they bought a horse and wagon and spent the most of the winter driving over the country sight seeing. They went as far south as the Mexican border, then came north the full length of the state and over the Siskiyou mountains and down through the valleys of Oregon, making the whole trip home by wagon. Mr. Noble says he wanted his wife and daughter to take the train for home when the mountains were reached but they wanted to see it all so they all came on together. Jack says that all we have heard about the drought in California is true, and he comes home after seeing that country from north to south, fully convinced that Oregon is a good enough country for any of us.

The Republican County Convention.
The Yamhill county republican convention consisting of one hundred and seventy delegates, which was held at McMinnville on Wednesday was an enthusiastic gathering of the republican hosts of the county. Newberg was honored in the unanimous election of attorney Clarence Butt as chairman. Mr. Butt presided in his usual dignified way and the business of the convention was transacted in the greatest harmony. Delegates to the state convention to be held at Astoria were elected as follows: Fred Crawford, Dayton; Ed. Lamson, William; J. B. David, Newberg; W. Laughlin, Carlton; A. Blackburn, North Yamhill; Dr. Caldwell, Dr. Wright, McMinnville; Dr. Smith, Sheridan; H. Hewitt, Wheatland; J. L. Vickery, La Fayette.
Delegates to the district-convention to be held at Eugene: Jesse Edwards, Newberg; W. T. Vinton, Jas. McCain, J. P. Irvine, McMinnville; H. Stott, North Yamhill; A. Nelson, West Chehalis; Samuel Baxter, Dayton; T. J. Jeffries, Amity; T. N. Graves, Sheridan.
A vote of the delegates was taken to determine the sentiment of the republicans of the county regarding a candidate for governor which resulted in 1 for Lord, 1 for Fulton and the remainder for Hon. T. T. Geer. This is a good indication of the standing of Geer in Yamhill county and also shows that the Graphic has not been alone in its advocacy of Geer's nomination. President McKinley's administration and the gold standard policy received the unanimous endorsement of the convention as did also the following resolution:
Be it resolved by the Republican County Convention of Yamhill County, State of Oregon, that as the Hon. Thos. H. Tongue has taken an active part and special interest in the improvements of the rivers and harbors of our state and especially of the Yamhill river, so earnestly defended the cause of honest money in his able address on the Teller Resolution, that we heartily endorse his earnest efforts in behalf of the people whom he represents, and that we endorse him as a candidate to succeed himself.

Discovered by a Woman.
Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this county. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way of recovery, by purchasing as a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose, that she slept all night; and with two bottles, was absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz. This writes W. C. Hancock & Co. of Shelby N. C. Trial bottles free at C. F. Moore & Co.'s drug store. Regular size 50c and $1. Guaranteed or price refunded.

The Republican Party and the Gold Standard.
It has taken the republican party nearly a quarter of a century to find an agreed and unambiguous position on this extremely important question of the coinage. Today, the unquestionable republican doctrine is that the existing gold standard must be maintained so far as any independent action or policy of the United States is concerned, and this sums up all that has any practical significance. It is true that it still remains a republican tenet that international bimetalism would be desirable, and ought, if possible, to be brought about. The efforts made however, in 1897, have quite convinced all well-informed persons, whether gold-standard men or free-silver men that international bimetalism cannot now nor in the immediate future be brought about any more than European disarmament can be accomplished. International bimetalism may therefore be said to have disappeared wholly from the horizon of things now practicable. Furthermore, it must be frankly confessed that even as an academic proposition the once-alluring theory of bimetalism has suffered a good deal of damage in the light of recent economic tendencies. The steadfast readers of the Review need not be reminded that this remark is not due to any inveterate bias against bimetalism. —From "The Progress of the World," in American Monthly Review of Reviews for March.

What the Pastors said—Announcements for Next Sunday.

BAPTIST CHURCH.
The theme at the Baptist church Sunday morning was the "Ladder to Heaven."
After a short description of Jacob's journey and vision—a ladder let down from Heaven, the pastor "said there are many lessons taught in this vision; a few of which we may notice this morning. Angels are messengers between earth and Heaven. Angels were ascending and descending. I love to think that I am continually surrounded by Heavenly spirits, guardian angels who guide my foot-steps and shield me from danger. Angels were continually about our Savior. They made the plains of Bethlehem re-echo with the glad news of his birth, and cheered his advent in strains sweeter than man had ever heard before. In the wilderness they ministered unto his wants; when he agonized in Gethsemane they wiped the drops of blood from his brow; on Calvary's mount twelve legions hovered about him; angels rolled away the stones from his sepulchre, and angels bore his chariot into Heaven. Angels hover about us from the cradle to the grave and when the Christian has fought the battle of life, and entered the portals of death they bear him on their snowy pinions to a city of eternal rest.
This ladder pointed to the re-opening of interrupted communication between Heaven and earth. By sin man had been separated from God; the ladder shadowed forth a hope of his return. This ladder was a shadow of Christ and his mediatorial work. The ladder was not raised from the earth, but Christ erected by man's skill. Christ was not an earth appointed Savior. The ladder was let down from Heaven, and Christ came down to us from his throne of glory. Man cannot span the dark chasm between earth and Heaven, but Christ bridges the otherwise impossible gulf.
The foot of the ladder rests upon the earth and within reach of all. If any refuse to mount it, they must forever remain outside of Heaven. There was but one ladder in their vision and Jesus is the only way.
It was a ladder and not a cushioned elevator. We cannot "be carried to the sky on flowery beds of ease."
Heaven is not reached by a single bound, but we climb a ladder by which we rise from the lowly earth to the vaulted skies, and we mount its summit round by round." The higher we climb the smaller the world appears. And the nearer Heaven appears. How many my christian friend have you climbed?
