

A HINT FROM THE KLONDIKE

Joseph Ladue, the famous trapper and miner and the present owner of Dawson City, and for many years the agent of the Alaska Commercial Company, gives a hint to persons going to Alaska, and pays great compliment to a well-known article. He writes: "I have always used the Royal Baking Powder in Alaska and Northwest Territory, as no other gave equal satisfaction in that harsh climate. I also found my customers always insisted on having that brand."

A Fugitive King's Fete.

"About four miles from Philadelphia there was a magnificent mansion built after the Italian manner in the previous century by Governor John Penn, and known as Lansdowne house in honor of the Marquis of Lansdowne. Here Joseph Bonaparte," records William Ferrine, writing in the April Ladies' Home Journal of "When the King of Spain Lived on the Banks of the Schuylkill," "established himself in rural ease until he had built his 'palace' at Bordentown, N. J. Toward the end of the summer of 1817 Joseph had a little dinner party at Lansdowne. Among the guests was Dr. Benjamin Rush's daughter, Julia, who was pleased with what she thought his fluent conversation, his urbane manner and his good looks, and who, perhaps, was somewhat inclined to sympathize with his complaint that Napoleon had not been at all disposed to let him have much of his own way either as soldier or king.

"On one occasion only he gave a magnificent fete on the lawn of his princely estate, and all the beaux and belles of Philadelphia who had been invited dressed in their most picturesque summer gowns and made haste to attend. It was a brilliant afternoon fete, and Bonaparte was the center of attraction as he stood on his lawn and welcomed his guests. But it is doubtful whether there were at any time more than half a dozen persons in Philadelphia, or for that matter in the whole country, to whom he bore anything like close and confidential relations. He liked little children, and they were sometimes in the habit of speaking of him as 'the good Mr. Bonaparte.'"

A LONG LOOK AHEAD.

The politicians are even now beginning to weigh the possibilities involved in the presidential election. NERVOUS PROSTRATION.

"Will you kindly allow me," writes Miss Mary E. Saird, of Johnson, N. J., to Mrs. Pinkham, "the pleasure of expressing my gratitude for the wonderful relief I have experienced by taking your Compound? I suffered for a long time with nervous prostration and general debility, caused by falling of the womb. It seemed as though my back would never stop aching. I could not sleep. I had dull headaches. I was weary all the time, and life was a burden to me. I sought the seashore for relief, but all in vain. On my return I resolved to give your medicine a trial. I took two bottles and was cured. I can cheerfully state, if more ladies would only give your medicine a fair trial they would bless the day they saw the advertisement, and there would be happier homes. I mean to do all I can for you in the future. I have you alone to thank for my recovery, for which I am very grateful."

Snow-Slide on Chilkoot Trail Carries Death Before It.

MANY PERSONS WERE INJURED

The Accident Occurred Between The Scales and Stonehouse—List of Known Dead.

Port Townsend, April 11.—A letter just received from Skagway, Alaska, dated April 3, says: "About noon today on the Chilkoot trail, between The Scales and Stonehouse, at least 31 men met death and a large number of others were injured more or less seriously in a snowslide. The dead were crushed under an avalanche of snow and ice which came down from the mountain side upon the left side of the trail about midway between The Scales and Stonehouse.

A list of the killed and wounded, as complete as possible at the hour of writing, is as follows: Gus E. Zebarth, Seattle; Frank Sprague, Seattle; Steve Stevenson, Seattle; C. H. Harrison, Seattle; W. L. Riley, Seattle; E. D. Atwood, New York; C. Beck, Sanford, Fla.; L. Weidlein, Kansas City; Mrs. Ryan, Baltimore; John Morgan, Emporia, Kan.; F. M. Grimes, Sacramento; Mrs. Anna Moxon, Jefferson county, Pa.; Has Heggard, Baker City, Or.; Tom Coffey, Seattle; E. F. Miller, Vancouver, Wash.; Tom Collins, Portland, Or.; T. Lamer.

The seriously injured so far recovered are: Walter Chappay, New York; John C. Murphy, Dixon, N. D.; F. M. Holbrook, Portland, Or.; Dahlstrom, residence unknown.

Fully 500 people were overtaken by the slide, and are either buried in the snow or scattered along the borders of the avalanche in a more or less injured condition.

The point at which the accident occurred is some five miles above Sheep Camp. The nearest telephone station is four miles distant. The Scales is some five miles above Sheep Camp. The telephone wires at that point were carried away by the slide. This fact makes it difficult to obtain further particulars at this time.

A blinding snow storm was raging all day upon the summit, and as a consequence many of those in the vicinity were making no attempt to travel. Zebarth, Sprague and Stevenson, of Seattle, were traveling together as partners, and were found side by side in bed.

Thousands of people were encamped in the vicinity at the time, and were soon on the scene rendering such assistance as was possible. Upon receipt of the news, parties below Dyea telephoned to know if assistance was required, and received answer to the effect that 5,000 people were at work on the debris, and were only in each other's way.

All day Saturday and Sunday a southerly storm, with chinook wind, rain and snow, prevailed in this vicinity, and it is believed the softening of the snow on the mountain side by those agencies was the cause of the avalanche.

The quantity of snow and ice that came down in the slide is estimated at thousands of tons. It swept directly across the trail, which, notwithstanding the fact that the weather was unfavorable for travel, was thronged with wayfarers. The last vestige of the trail in the vicinity was wiped out of existence, and where it led is now a mountain of snow and ice.

Later reports bring the information that 31 bodies have been recovered. There was a preliminary slide at 2 o'clock in the morning. People were digging out their goods when the second slide occurred about noon.

List of Injured Increased. A later dispatch via Victoria says: The horror of the Dyea trail is growing in magnitude hourly. As the work of rescue proceeds, it becomes more apparent that many more lives were lost than at first thought possible. It is now believed that between 50 and 100 men and women were killed by the avalanche. Many bodies will not be recovered until the summer sun melts tons of snow and ice that now bury them from sight.

Two or three thousand men are working in relays of as many as can stand side by side shoveling away the snow in search of the dead and dying. Twenty-two dead bodies have been recovered and identified, and 25 persons have been taken out alive.

Seventeen employees of the Chilkoot Railway & Tram Company, who went to the summit on the morning of the slide, are missing, and it is feared they are among the lost. It is estimated that 10,000 tons of outfits are buried under the snow and ice. There were smaller slides before the death-dealing avalanche was started. About 2 A. M. a small slide occurred, which buried several cabins. The alarm was spread, and many people were endeavoring to work back to Sheep Camp when the big disaster occurred.

Dervishes Defeated. Cairo, April 11.—The Anglo-Egyptian forces under General Sir Kitchener attacked and routed Mahmood's Zabiha, the center of his fortifications, without check. The attack was entirely successful, and the dervishes lost very heavily.

Contesse de Sterling Dead. Santa Cruz, Cal., April 11.—The Contesse de Sterling died today. She was a native of England, aged 61, and was the widow of J. A. Shortt, who was British consul at Corica for 13 years. Her first husband was Commander Henry Trefrey Fox, of the British navy.

A naval battle between the Romans and Carthaginians off the coast of Spain in the first Punic War was lost by the latter because the galley slaves could not keep their seats when the ships rolled.

THE HORROR INCREASING.

Sixty-Nine Bodies Recovered and One Hundred and Fifty Still Missing.

Seattle, Wash., April 12.—Later details received here today from Alaska increase the horror of the avalanche on Chilkoot trail, instead of lessening it. Sixty-nine dead bodies have been thus far recovered, and the names of 150 missing persons have been reported as unaccounted for. It is barely possible that some of these succeeded in crossing the pass before the avalanche occurred. A conservative estimate is that between 75 and 100 persons were killed. The following is a list of those whose bodies have been found:

Andrew Anderson, San Francisco; E. D. Atwood, New York; Albert Angland, Tacoma; A. D. Bissell, Seattle; C. Brock, Sanford, Fla.; Walter Chappay, New York; Thomas Clark, Idaho; Thomas Cullen, Portland, Or.; Thomas Cullenden, Kirkland, Or.; William Carroll, San Francisco; W. H. Dohlstrom, Lincoln, Neb.; Durber; A. Doran, Tacoma; George Eggert, Portland, Or.; R. L. Easterbrook, Seattle; William Falke, San Francisco; T. Glenn, Spokane; T. Glinn, Portland, Or.; Weed Garrison, Seattle; Con Gephart, Seattle; W. Grimes, Atkins, Idaho; E. M. Grimes, Tacoma; John Grimes, Sacramento; Preston Grizzley, Buffalo, N. Y.; C. E. Homer, Seattle; E. J. Hudson, Seattle; S. T. Hudson, Portland, Or.; E. P. Haines, Seattle; C. P. Harrison, Seattle; Harry Holt, Tacoma; Rosmus Hodeyard, Baker City, Or.; E. R. Johnson, Spokane; H. Jueger; C. H. Kinney, Prescott, Ariz.; A. F. King, Tacoma; G. Leon; George Lewis, Spokane; G. J. Milton, St. Paul; J. R. Morgan, Emporia, Kan.; Mrs. Annie Moxon, Jefferson county, Pa.; John Merchant, Redding, Cal.; E. F. Miller, Vancouver, Wash.; Frank Miller, Butte, Mont.; C. L. McNeil, Elk River, Minn.; Sanford McNeil, Portland, Or.; J. C. Murphy, Dixon, N. D.; Austin Preston, Redding, Cal.; J. B. Pierce, Tacoma; J. Reese, Wisconsin; George Ritchie, Chicago; Mrs. W. L. Riley, Seattle; C. Rasmus, Colorado; John Reddy, Kansas City; George Riser, Seattle; G. F. Smith, Tacoma; G. W. Smith, Weymouth, Wash.; Jeff Soley, Idaho; O. A. Uler, Wootley, Wash.; L. Weidlein, Kansas City; O. M. Warner, San Francisco; — Wilhelm, Menlo Park, Cal.; Gus Zebarth, Seattle.

A fact that lends horror to the fearful tragedy is that it may never be known with any degree of accuracy just how many lives were sacrificed, who they were or where they came from. Many a poor fellow lies buried where no human aid can reach him, and where his remains must rest until the summer sun melts the tons of snow and ice upon the mountain side.

Upon the crowded trail no record was kept of the living, toiling mass, braving hardships and facing death itself in the mad rush for gold. In the procession that daily passed were people from all parts of the world, unknown to one another.

The work of rescue has continued night and day ever since last Sunday, being gradually systematized and consequently meeting with better results. Thus far the work has been confined to the outskirts of the slide in the hope of rescuing those who are injured, but not yet dead. The main portion of the avalanche, which is estimated to be 50 feet deep and 150 yards long, has not yet been touched. If there are any bodies underneath that cannot be rescued in time to save life.

Four men were taken out alive after they had been buried for 19 hours. In many instances the bodies of the dead are not buried in the least, and appear as natural as in life, indicating that they were suffocated in the soft snow.

As soon as recovered, the bodies are carried to Sheep Camp, where an improvised morgue has been constructed. Some have been removed for interment or for shipment to relatives in the States.

The work of rescue has been orderly and systematic. A public meeting was held and committees were appointed to search for the dead and care for the wounded. All that can possibly be done to relieve the horror of the situation has been done.

The accident was one that could not have been foreseen, and it is one that is likely to happen at any time when like conditions exist, although it is stated that some warning of the impending disaster was given by the Indian packers who are said to have deserted the trail when the heavy snow of Saturday and Sunday night set in. They refused to work for fear of slides.

The work of searching for the dead is to be continued as long as there is any hope of recovering any one, though it is feared that it must be discontinued before the whole truth is known.

Walter Chappay, of New York, and John C. Murphy, of Dixon, N. D., were alive when taken out, but died shortly afterward.

Mrs. Moxon was in one of the small slides which preceded the large one, and was on her way to camp when overtaken by her. Her husband was rescued.

The federal troops at Dyea took an active part in digging out the dead. Many dead that were unclaimed have been buried near the scene of the disaster. Thirteen bodies reached this city today on the steamer City of Seattle and Australia. They were those of R. L. Easterbrook, S. Stevenson, J. R. Morgan, O. A. Uler, S. McNeil, A. F. King, Stanley Grimes, C. P. Harrison, G. F. Smith, L. Weidlein, Harry Holt, Gus Zebarth and E. Sprague.

Advices from Skagway state that there are many wild rumors there about additional slides, attended by loss of life, but none of them can be confirmed, and they are not credited.

Travel has again been resumed over the scene of the catastrophe.

Shot by Footpads. Seattle, April 12.—Police Officer Thomas Roberts was shot and killed early this morning, while on duty, by two footpads. Officer George E. Day, who was with Roberts, received a bullet in his wrist. The policemen accosted the footpads for the purpose of arresting them. They received in reply a shot. A pitched battle ensued. Roberts fired one shot and fell. The footpads then took to their heels and Day emptied his revolver at them. It is not known whether any of his shots took effect.

WEEKLY MARKET LETTER.

Grade Conditions in the Leading Cities of the World.

Letter furnished proof last week of the most convincing kind that his wheat deal is to be carried through to the last day of May. An enormous loan was made—$9,000,000 of the choicest securities being used. The amount borrowed was away beyond any present necessities; but the wheat bull decided it was better financing to pay interest on unused funds than to risk a demoralized money market at the very moment when borrowing might be necessary. Letter now has the funds in bank to pay for any possible wheat deliveries during the next 60 days. As important as the financial arrangement was the completion of plans to hurry the grain controlled by him abroad and into consumption. Every bushel of contract wheat now at Chicago will be on its way to Europe within the next four weeks. Up to the middle of March the railroads were loading Letter wheat out of only one system of elevators—the Armour. The closing of additional shipping contracts with the east-bound roads for 3,000,000 bushels started loading at every elevator system in the city. On one day last week, cars were taking wheat simultaneously at the Armour, the Weare, the Counselman, the National, the Central and the Keith houses. That means the all rail shipment of 2,000,000 bushels per week. Some day this week, unless the opening of navigation is delayed beyond the expectation, the fleet of 30 vessels carrying 1,700,000 bushels of the Letter wheat will start down the lakes toward Buffalo. Weather permitting, 3,000,000 bushels of wheat will start from Chicago this week eastward; will be at the seaboard by April 15, and will be off coast abroad by May 1. This Letter movement of cash grain, now under way for 60 days, is evidently going straight into consumption without at all demoralizing the foreign markets. The spot No. 1 Northern at Liverpool Saturday was 7s 11d, equivalent to $1.14 per bushel there, and which means better than 96c here in Chicago; and the spot No. 2 red there Saturday was 7s 7½d, which at the low rate of freight paid by Letter, is better than 90c at Chicago. Letter has been making sales at figures better than these.

British Postal Reforms. Numerous reductions of charges and extensions were made by the British postoffice during 1897. Postage on domestic letters was made one penny for four ounces, with an additional half-penny for every two ounces. Thus in Great Britain it costs only 3 cents to send a letter weighing six ounces, while in the United States it would cost twice as much. Merchants are allowed to inclose bills with goods sent by parcel post. Most important was the completion of the transfer of the trunk telephone system of the United Kingdom to the postoffice department. During the year the deposits in the postal savings bank increased about $35,000,000.
