GIVEN IN THE PRESS DISPATCHES

A Complete Review of the News of the Past Seven Days in This and All Foreign Lands.

Owing to the continued strike in the Welsh coal mines, England's coal is running low, and steamers are forced to turn to America for their supplies.

A serious riot attendant upon a strike, in which women took a leading part, occurred at Oshkosh, Wis. Non-union men were shut out of a cash and door factory and the plant was ordered closed down.

A Madrid dispatch from San Juan says: An American cruiser appeared off the harbor and the cruiser Isabella and gunboat Terror sailed out to attack her. The American withdrew immediately. One Spaniard was killed and three wounded.

No revenue stamps will be required on money orders, according to a construction of the new law. Instead, an additional charge of the amount of the stamp provided for will be made for the money order upon its issuance from the postoffice.

Surgeon-General Van Rye, of the navy, has received a number of letters from officers with Admiral Sampson's squadron testifying to the gratefulness and appreciation with which the delicacies sent for the sick and wounded have been received.

A Madrid dispatch says: News of serious fighting near Santiago has been received here. Cervera cables that the situation is critical. The governor of Santiago admits that the Spaniards have been obliged to retire, but a Spanish victory is claimed.

A Cuban scout has brought news to the United States camp at Baiquiri that Cervera's ships are now in battle array. The positions have been changed to make the guns command the harbor entrance. Both Spanish torpedo-boat destroyers have been totally disabled by the incessant firing of the American ships.

Colonel Torrey's regiment of rough riders have left Cheyenne for Jacksonville. This regiment is made up of the pick of the mountain and plain, men skilled in the use of the rifle and revolver, and will unquestionably make a valuable addition to the mounted forces to be sent to Cuba.

Cornell won the university boat race at New London, Conn. Yale crossed the line four lengths behind and Harvard came in third. It was a pretty contest, but was Cornell's race, and before reaching the half-mile line and maintaining it until the finish line was crossed.

A special from Santiago says Cervera will attempt to unbottle his fleet. His ships are coaled and ready to dash for the open sea.

A dispatch from Kingston, Jamaica, says the Spanish steamer Puma, a Conception ran the blockade in safety and has arrived at Trinidad with money and supplies for the Spanish troops.

General Miles has received a cipher message from Captain Allen, chief signal officer in Cuba, saying the landing of troops has actually begun, and was in progress when the dispatch was sent.

The United States cruiser Marblehead has landed supplies in Guantanamo and ousted the Spaniards. The cruiser was fired upon by a Spanish gunboat which attempted to repel the invasion, but was quickly driven out of sight and into shallow water.

A cable between the United States and Hawaii may soon be laid. The prospect of annexation has revived interest in the project. The house committee on commerce will make an effort to secure action on the pending measure in congress at the sessions to be held next winter.

Spanish prisoners captured during the Santiago campaign will be removed from Cuba. The government has determined that all Spaniards falling into American hands shall be well cared for. They will be brought alive in transports. The number has been variously estimated at from 25,000 to 50,000.

The projected expedition to Porto Rico has been abandoned at least for the present. It is stated that there are no troops to spare for the movement. The entire attention of the war department is to be concentrated upon the prosecution to a successful issue of the Santiago campaign, in accordance with Miles' recommendations.

The house committee on military affairs has agreed on and favorably reported a joint resolution reviving the grade of lieutenant general in the army. It authorizes the president to appoint a lieutenant-general whenever he deems it expedient, to be selected from those officers in the military service distinguished for courage, skill and ability, and the limitation in the bill as to the choice from officers "not below the grade of major-general" being stricken out by the committee.

LATER NEWS.

A belief exists that the true objective point of Camara's fleet is not Manila, but Hawaii and finally San Francisco.

A Madrid dispatch this afternoon says the Spanish government is actively preparing to dispatch reinforcements to Porto Rico by the first available transportation.

A special dispatch from Fiume, a seaport town of Anstro-Hungary, says an Austrian vessel is on her way to the Philippines with 500 torpedos, "intended for the Spanish fleet."

The navy department on Monday posted the following bulletin: "Commander Watson sails today on the New York to join Sampson, when he will take under his command an armored squadron with the cruisers and proceed at once off the Spanish coast."

Watson's "Eastern squadron" consists of the Newark, Iowa, Oregon, Yosemite, Yankee, Dixie and three colliers. They leave Santiago immediately.

Four batteries of American artillery and a gaffing gun have been placed on a hill overlooking the basin in which Santiago lies. The American troops were within 200 yards of the Spanish entrenchments last Sunday night.

It is believed that more artillery will be necessary before an assault can be made upon the Spanish works. All the hills about Santiago are covered with block houses. There are 34 lines of intrenchments and behind them are four lines of rifle pits, while the fronts are secured by rows of barbed wire.

A dispatch from Port Antonio says that while the dynamite cruiser Vesuvius was making observations along the inner harbor of Santiago a few nights ago, ample evidence was discovered that the sunken collier Merrimac does not completely blockade the channel. Further information develops that two battle-ships can enter the harbor abreast, one passing on each side of the Merrimac. This will be of great advantage to Sampson when the final attack on Santiago begins.

Lieutenant Hobson and his men are still in command.

The expedition met disaster at the start. Friday evening, while the bar, the hogchairs on both sides of the Staghound parted, the ship was driven back by the tide and slowly towed the disabled steamers into port, reaching the city at 4 o'clock. Never were vessels more completely demolished by the sea. The decks were three feet under water and huge gaps had been rent in the steamers' sides. The upper works had caved in, and were carried away by the sea. The lower decks and broken timbers were scattered over the vessels. They were docked near the western extremity of the city, whither a crowd of 5,000 people flocked to view the expedition met disaster at the start.
