C. C. SMITH.

Thomas Turner who moved from the valley to Goldendale, Washington, was down the first of the week looking after some business matters and shaking hands with old friends. He reports a good measure of prosperity up his way, he having harvested four thousand bushels of grain this season.

Mrs. Frank Elliott received a letter from Frank the first of the week in which he stated that he had sold his old cabin at Dawson and had built a new one near his mining claim, with floor and windows, and was fixed up ready for working the claim. He may come out on the snow this winter.

Michael Neuman has moved the floating dock which he bought of Dorrance Bros. down the river to his wood dock. This dock afforded a good shelter and a comfortable waiting room for passengers at the foot of River street and it ought to have been maintained for the accommodation of the river travel, but it was objected to by a few short sighted individuals and it is now a thing of the past so far as Newberg is concerned.

Michael Neuman built a small grist mill at his place three miles southeast of Newberg this fall where he found sufficient water to run with the greater part of the season. Wm. Jones who is a good mechanic as well as a millwright had charge of the work. Mr. Neuman solicits a share of the patronage of the farmers who want custom work done. A few years ago Mr. Neuman went into the woods and by hard work has succeeded in hewing out a farm where he raises grain and feed, and this with cutting and furnishing cordwood to the steamboats on the river has made him quite a profitable business.

The Pacific College foot ball team met and defeated the McMinnville College team again on the latter's grounds on last Saturday afternoon, the score standing five to nothing. Hugh Nelson was pretty badly knocked out in the first pass made in tackling Thompson and was unable to play. Clyde Hobson took his place and played well to the finish. At the close of the first half the ball was in the center of the field. In the second half Heater made a touch down but a failure was made in an attempt to kick goal. McMinnville had been practicing regularly and knowing our boys had seen little practice this season, they were over confident of winning the game and they and their friends were sorely disappointed at the outcome. A number of Newberg people were on the grounds and gave the home team good support. McMinnville as usual furnished a very small crowd. There seems to be some improvement in the past year or two in the support the city of McMinnville gives to the college and yet it is far short of what a county seat town ought to do in the way of supporting a home institution.

The man without a country is in about the same fix as the fellow who has lost most of his teeth. What the latter wants and must have to exist is nice juicy steaks and roasts, just such as are sold at Cooper & Clemmen's market.

Rollin Kirk, who is teaching near Carlton was in town last Saturday. He says he is enjoying pedagogy quite well and hopes in the course of time to lay up enough to meet the expenses of a year at Earlham College. Rollin is a worthy young man and his friends will be glad to see him take an extended course.

David Jones who attended college a couple of years ago is teaching in one of the districts out east of town. Dave says he likes it all very well except when it comes to bringing the obstreperous youth to terms and this part of the profession he would rather let out to the lowest bidder. He don't stop at a little thing like this however, but meets all bravely when occasion demands it.

The Southern Pacific has made a change that will be appreciated by Newberg people and all who arrive on the noon train going south. In the past it has been the custom to stop the train before reaching the depot and do all the switching, which often has required from fifteen minutes to half an hour time, but now the train runs into the depot with the mail and passengers and the switching is done afterwards.

The Transcript says our foot ball team won last Saturday's game against McMinnville as the result of an accident. That McMinnville fumbled the ball &c, and then in the next sentence says that good judges said McMinnville put up the best game. If McMinnville put up the best game why didn't the score show it? But it is said that "accidents" will happen even in well regulated families, so let the Transcript get all the comfort it can out of that unfortunate "accident."

E. B. Collard who has been at North Yamhill for the past two months operating a warehouse for Christenson & Sawyer came home the first of the week. He says his sons write from Manila that their wants have all been supplied so far as soldiers can expect and they have no complaint to make of the treatment they have received. The boys did not anticipate that they were going out for a picnic when they started for Manila, but rather for the purpose of doing service for their country and consequently they do not complain if they are not supplied with swallow tailed coats and old gloves to wear and their tables set with seventy-five cent meals. The tone of the reports coming from the various army posts seems to depend almost entirely on the likes and dislikes of the individual writers, which goes to show that the newspaper reports of ill treatment of our soldiers have been greatly exaggerated and very largely for effect. Mr. Collard has written to the boys asking them to write a descriptive letter for publication which the Graphic hopes to receive in due time.

Other sessions follow on Saturday and Sunday. Several ministers and other church workers are expected from Salem quarterly meeting.

Newberg merchants are confidently expecting a good holiday trade this season and they are making arrangements to meet it with well selected stocks. For three years the holiday trade has not been as good here as formerly, yet last season showed quite an improvement and this season when there is much more money scattered out among the people a good trade may reasonably be expected.

Oregonian Man in Newberg.

Wilbur Fisk Brock, superintendent of agencies of the Daily, Sunday and Weekly Oregonian, has been in Newberg since our last issue. He stopped over only a few hours saying that the Graphic relieved him of the necessity of doing much soliciting.

"No paper in the state makes a better offer to a constituency than does the Graphic," says Mr. Brock—"The Weekly Oregonian and the Graphic at $2.00 makes a bargain, when either of the papers alone ought to charge that much. Newberg has one of the nearest, most energetic local papers that comes to my desk. The large number of Oregonian subscribers who take advantage of the club rates is proof to me that the people appreciate their home town paper as well as that which is published in their metropolis."

Mr. Brock was in Alaska last winter as the special correspondent of the Oregonian. The paper now has a man in Dawson who sends letters out by special messenger, and by all the steamers. The happenings of the ice locked city during the winter will be fully chronicled by the Oregonian, the letters being brought out over the frozen surface of the Yukon. The writer is Charles W. Watts, an Oregon boy.

Nothing that may interest its readers is neglected by Oregon's great newspaper.

Louie Granstrom will overhaul the creamery engine and get the other machinery in shape for the enterprise. Mr. Nowak will make all sorts of leather and furs, and will branch out as business warrants, and make work for other people. The city should hail all enterprises of a character to add to the diversity of industry and the development and support of the people. These are what make prosperous towns and cities.

Sheriff Henderson returned Tuesday evening from his second trip to Spokane in search of Henry Bahrs, the German who induced a number of McMinnville capitalists under false representations to invest in a British Columbia expedition whereby four different parties lost something like $500 each, besides a summer's time and labor. By a lucky chance the sheriff secured his man before a writ of habeas corpus could be gotten out to detain him. Bahrs' preliminary hearing will be held next Tuesday before Justice McPhillips, if his brother's presence can be secured, who is desired as a witness, and who is to be one of the losers. Bahrs awaits his hearing in the county jail.

Wm. Merchant has been traveling about the country somewhat, and is of the opinion that a larger area of fall grain is being sown than ever before. His own complement of 200 acres was just completed last week.

Transcript.

A. V. R. Snyder left on last Saturday morning's down train for his old home in Oregon, Illinois, where he expects to visit a couple of weeks with his mother, Mrs. Sarah Connor and other relatives. This is the first time Mr. Snyder has been home since he first came to McMinnville, in '72—26 years ago, and it will no doubt prove a very pleasant trip to him.

A Narrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D. "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It cured me, and thank God I am saved and now a well and healthy woman." Trial bottles free at C. F. Moore & Co.'s drugstore. Regular size 50c and $1. Guaranteed or price refunded.
