All kinds of candies at all kinds of prices at Wilson's grocery.

Leave orders at Wilson's Grocery for expressing or light hauling.

T. P. Soules, of Woodburn, was in town on business last Friday.

Tool chests, drums, Xmas cards, doll carriages, and toys of all kinds at Hadley's.

Leave your orders at the postoffice for extra copies of the New Year edition of the Oregonian.

Mrs. C. B. Frissell came over from Hillsboro last Tuesday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sawyer.

T. H. Gardner arrived here from Omaha the first of the week and will spend the holidays with his family.

J. K. Wright who moved to Portland some time ago is now arranging to move to La Grande to go into the insurance business.

Head scratching has been in order over at the college during the week. The one word "examinations" is the key to the situation.

Rev. J. Bowersox, pastor of the United Evangelical church, will preach at 3 o'clock next Sunday afternoon in the Presbyterian church.

Farmers! You are losing money by not seeing C. B. Wilson before selling your produce. I am paying highest market price in cash for poultry of all kinds and eggs and veal.

J. Hansen, the tailor who is working with Martin Olson is so well pleased with Newberg that he has rented the Deskins property recently vacated by I. E. Holt and moved his family up from Portland.

Mrs. A. T. Hill and little daughter Alice arrived here last week and will remain for a time visiting relatives and friends. A. T. is expected down after the holiday travel is over to spend a short time visiting.

J. H. Bowerman suffered a slight stroke of paralysis in the right arm and leg last Wednesday. It was not very serious at first but on account of his age it is feared that he will not permanently recover from the effects of it.

The man without a country is in about the same fix as the fellow who has lost most of his teeth. What the latter wants and must have to exist is nice juicy steaks and roasts, just such as are sold at Cooper & Clemmens' market.

Rev. J. W. Waltz, pastor of the M. E. church and Prof. C. E. Lewis, acting president of the college have in contemplation a lecture course to be arranged jointly for the benefit of the M. E. church and the college. If the arrangement is carried out Newberg will have an opportunity of hearing a splendid course of lectures during the winter.

F. E. Gove was in town last Tuesday soliciting aid for one of his neighbors named Hull who was recently burned out of house and home on Chehalis mountain. The fire occurred in the night and Mr. Hull was away from home at the time. When Mrs. Hull discovered the house was on fire she ran up stairs and succeeded in throwing all the furniture and bedding out at the window, but by this time the fire had reached the stairway and cut off her escape. She then ran to a window and jumped out but in the fall she was so badly hurt that she will probably die. Her little daughter eight years old risked her life by entering the burning building and carrying out a little baby only a few months old in safety. The house and the entire contents including their clothing were licked up by the flames and the family is in very destitute circumstances. Beside their present misfortune Mr. Gove says they are honest, hard working people. The people will no doubt see that their needs are fully met.

For shoe making see A. M. Hoskins.

If you want a fat hen for Sunday, see C. B. Wilson.

Address this office for sample of teachers report card.

A. M. Hoskins will now be found in his shop ready to do first class work.

Henry St. Helens, of Salem, has been in town during the week tuning pianos and organs.

Mrs. A. B. Cornell and children are down from Junction City visiting with relatives.

If you want a turkey, chicken or fresh oysters for Xmas leave your order at Wilson's grocery and it will be filled.

The chilly winds find all the cracks about a house these rainy days but how one of those air tight heaters does warm up a room! Alfred Wheeler makes 'em.

A. P. Oliver is having the lower room in the building across the street from the postoffice papered, painted and fitted up for a sample room for traveling salesmen.

A silk ribbon watch guard with gold buckle lost on the street, probably somewhere west of postoffice. Finder will please leave at the postoffice and oblige the owner.

A. M. Hoskins who went to Arizona recently on account of a throat trouble arrived home on last Saturday evening. The alkali water did not agree with him and he came home no better than when he went away. He has a very poor opinion of that country.

Mrs. M. A. Broadwell, of Dundee, who suffered the loss of her home and household effects recently by fire has sent a note to the Graphic saying she desires to thank the people of Newberg and vicinity for their kindness in assisting her in the way of donations.

North Yamhill's new M. E. church was dedicated Sunday Dec. 11, by Dr. Gue of Portland. The church cost $1600, $400 of which had not been paid. The good people, however, quickly raised $405, which paid of the indebtedness and left a neat little balance.—Transcript.

A big game of foot ball has been arranged for Saturday afternoon on the college grounds between the Portland Y. M. C. A. team and a team made up of the best players that can be picked up about Newberg. It will no doubt be the best game ever played in Newberg and a large crowd is expected.

Pains in the chest when a person has a cold indicate a tendency toward pneumonia. A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on to the chest over the seat of pain will promptly relieve the pain and prevent the threatened attack of pneumonia. This same treatment will cure a lame back in a few hours. Sold by C. F. Moore & Co. druggists.

Fred McDonald who went to Kansas last spring where he volunteered and joined a Kansas regiment arrived home a few days ago looking well and hearty. He was stationed for some time at Fort Leavenworth but later on he went with his regiment as far south as Chattanooga, Tennessee. Fred seems to like the service and it will not be surprising to hear that he has joined the regulars later on.

Dr. Withycome, of Hillsboro, the state veterinary surgeon who is a writer for the principal Jersey cattle publication of the east was here last week and went to take a look at the Jersey herds belonging to J. L. Hoskins and J. M. and Sam Atkinson respectively. Dr. Withycome has always had a good word to say for Newberg and it would not be at all surprising to hear that he had concluded to locate in this community. He is an excellent citizen wherever he is.

During the eleven months ending with Nov. 31st last past, the receipts at the county clerk's office, in fees from various sources, was $1,325.07. In the recorder's office the receipts were $1,357.70. Total, $2,682.77. The expenses of running the offices for that period have been about $3,183. So it makes one stop and wonder which is best—the present system, or the old fee system, where those who "danced paid the fiddler."—Transcript.

A little exercise "while we wait" was apparently what J. M. Rittenhouse's team thought last Monday, that is if horses think. They were left in front of the postoffice while the boss went in after his mail and why shouldn't they amuse the crowd on the street without doing any damage. They stuck to the middle of the street like all wool poplinists, making a very pretty run but by the time they reached Main street they had their fun pretty well out and were easily stopped. When Mr. Rittenhouse saw the team start he said in tones that indicated he thought life would scarcely be worth living any more, "there they go," but when he found everything in ship shape after the team was stopped he drove away as chipper as a young man.

The Oregonian's annual number will be published January 16 and will be one of the finest things in the way of an illustrated publication ever put out by a daily paper. It will contain over 200 half-tone engravings which will be the finest productions of the engravers art. The views will embrace points of interest in Oregon, including a series of photographic reproductions of Mount Hood in all its aspects, Columbia river scenery, Portland's matchless harbor, and general scenes throughout the state. The illustrated supplement will cover about twenty pages, the engravings of which will be printed on the finest quality of enameled book paper. The price will be ten cents per copy. As there will be only one edition printed it will pay you to get your order in early. Orders taken at the postoffice for any number of copies.

The Graphic and the Oregonian for $2.00.

Have you seen the Christmas box at Wilson's? It is a fine thing.

Don't forget the B. Y. P. U. weight supper to be held in the A. P. Oliver building opposite the postoffice Dec. 31, 1898. This is your opportunity to ascertain the weight of your friends. Come one, come all, and help the good cause along.

We have a well selected stock of holiday goods now open for inspection. The public are cordially invited to come and examine our goods and get our prices. No trouble to show the goods whether you purchase or not. Come and see our assortment. C. E. SMITH.

Lon Shortridge has been in the city for several days past. He says the roads are in good condition, and as Three Rivers has been bridged, one can now go through to the coast without the difficulty heretofore experienced in fording that rapid mountain stream.—Transcript.

A box social was held on last Friday night at the Pleasant View school house on Chehalis mountain for the benefit of the Sunday school held there. Good instrumental music was furnished by Ross Allumbaugh, his daughter Anna and Mr. Johns. A very pleasant entertainment is reported and the receipts were quite satisfactory.

Beware of professional beggars. Newberg has had several of them around lately. A big, stout, fairly well dressed fellow was in town one day last week begging who ought to have been ducked in the river. Lying is second nature to him and as for cheek, his has gone to seed. It is no act of charity to give to this class of dead beats.

It is always thought best for a fellow to have some profession in life though of course something depends on the kind he has. There was a stranger in town one day last week whose calling was not a very exalted one in the minds of most people to say the least. He was a professional "sniper" as fellows of his ilk are termed. He went about the streets picking up and pocketing cigar stubs wherever he could find them. Most users of the weed would discard these as second hand "bucker" stubs but they would make smoke and this is what the fellow wanted no doubt. The doctrine of total depravity is pretty well exemplified in the professional "sniper" as he goes from town to town plying his vocation.

Richard Baker, while looking through his father's old papers a few days ago found one that is quite an ancient relic. It is a copy of "The New England Weekly Journal" bearing date of April 8, 1728. It is a single sheet 7 1/2 x 13 inches, two columns to the page. It was, "Printed by S. Kneeland and T. Green, at the printing house in Queen Street, Boston where advertisements are taken in." Two of the advertisements are as follows: "A very likely negro woman who can do household work, and is fit either for town or country service, about 22 years of age, to be sold, inquire of the printer hereof." "A very likely negro girl, about 13 or 14 years of age, speaks good English, has been in the country some years, to be sold, inquire of the printer hereof." Mr. Baker prizes the little sheet quite highly and will take good care of it. It is a little yellow with age but quite well preserved.

Married. Miss Minnie Wheeler was married to William C. Lawrence on Wednesday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wheeler, two miles northwest of Newberg, Rev. J. C. Lucas officiating.

T. B. Cummings Declines. I have other duties to perform and I therefore respectfully decline to accept the nomination for councilman in the second ward. T. B. CUMMINGS.

Death of Gideon Heston.

On last Monday evening our citizens were startled on hearing that Gideon Heston had been stricken down with heart failure and was dying. He had been about town during the day and so far as any one knew he was in his usual health. It was soon learned however that he had been suffering for some time, quite severely at intervals, and that he anticipated that death was in all probability near at hand. In the evening while assisting his son-in-law C. A. Keeney about some work he suddenly indicated to him that he needed assistance. He was immediately carried into the house where he breathed his last in two or three minutes.

The funeral which was largely attended was conducted from the residence on Wynook street on Wednesday afternoon, Rev. B. S. Coppock leading in the exercises.

The deceased was born in Jefferson county, Iowa and was 54 years of age. He leaves a wife and five children to mourn his loss, yet he left abundant evidence of a well grounded hope of a bright future in the life beyond the grave.

Miss Altematt's Musical.

An unusually large audience greeted Miss Dora Altematt and her class at the musical in the college chapel on Wednesday evening. Two hours were taken up in rendering the well arranged program but the closest attention was given to each and every piece rendered. The hearty cheers given voiced the sentiment of the audience.

6 Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement, that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use and after taking six bottles, found herself sound and well; now does her own housework, and is as well as she ever was. Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at C. F. Moore & Co.'s drug store. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.

QUALITY RIDGE RUMORS.

There was a "hop skip and jump" Saturday night at the Hon. W. Burlingham's.

Mr. Allen Mears' grandfather who lives with him, and is quite an old man, had the misfortune to break two of his ribs one day last week. He fell in some way.

Mr. Nels Jensen is in business over on Chehalis mountain, and by the way he smiles, we think it is not a disagreeable task he has to perform over there, although it is quite a walk for him and board at home.

The Razor Paste Show company gave a show at No. 68 last Wednesday night. The "one-man-band" was "in it," and if he made any mistakes on the harmonica he drowned it out with the drum. He said he "only wanted to make a noise," and he did, and lots of it.

A merry party was held at the home of D. L. Myers Friday the 16th, it being his birthday. Mr. and Mrs. Myers entertained their guests in a most agreeable way. Cards were the order of the forepart of the evening, during which time the flask and glass were passed, and friends drank his future health, prosperity and longevity. At a late hour a luscious repast was served, and the "birthday-cake" broken by all. Then came the soft tone of violin which filled the room with melodious strains, and dancing closed a most enjoyable occasion to all.

Two Pivotal Questions Answered.

What is the use of making a better article than your competitor if you can not get a better price for it?

Ans.—As there is no difference in the price the public will buy only the better so that while our profits may be smaller on a single sale they will be much greater in the aggregate.

How can you get the public to know your make is the best?

If both articles are brought prominently before the public both are certain to be tried and the public will very quickly pass judgment on them and use only the better one. This explains the large sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The people have been using it for years and have found that it can always be depended upon. They may occasionally take up with exaggerated claims, but are certain to return to the one remedy that they know to be reliable, and for coughs, colds and croup there is nothing equal to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For sale by C. F. Moore & Co. druggists.
