Sam has an interest in several good claims there, with a partner who has been at Dawson for the past nine years, and expects to return soon, to remain an indefinite time.—Transcript.
Mr. and Mrs. George Barnhart and Miss Nena Nicklin arrived last evening from Redlands, California. Their return to McMinnville was made necessary by a rapid decline in the health of Mr. Barnhart. George has many friends of former years here who will learn with regret that California has not proved as beneficial to him as he had hoped.—Reporter.
The Graphic acknowledges the receipt of a very handsome calendar from the "Southern Bridge Company" of Birmingham, Alabama, of which Prof. W. R. Starbuck, one of the first teachers in our academy in 1885, is secretary and treasurer. Soon after leaving Newberg Prof. Starbuck secured a position with this company where he has been ever since, and it seems that he has worked up to a very important position with the company. The professor is an excellent student and a very fine gentleman and the Graphic is glad to chronicle his success in his chosen profession of civil engineer.

State Horticultural Meeting.
Among the passengers boarding the steamer Ruth at Newberg on Tuesday last week were C. K. Schmeltzer, Zim Mills and J. H. Rees bound for the Fruitgrowers Convention at Corvallis, and B. C. Miles for his logging interests up the river, who also appeared at the last session in Corvallis in time to get the one-fifth rate on his pass down home. At Salem we were joined by a large party of representative fruit men, including our Levi Gilbert with whom renewed acquaintance is most pleasant. Independence and Albany also added to the delegation until we had a veritable convention aboard, in which adjournment was not convenient until a late hour, it being near 2 o'clock a. m. when the whistle announced our destination, and we fled out in search of a hotel. The folks were apparently not expecting company and those who first registered were able to find beds, the rest satisfying themselves with soft spots on the parlor floor.
Wednesday forenoon, through the courtesy of Professor E. R. Lake we were furnished an attendant to show us through the buildings and grounds of the Oregon Agricultural College and Experiment station, where a large number of intelligent students are prosecuting their studies under very favorable auspices.
At 2:30 p. m. the Fruitgrowers Convention was called to order in the College chapel. George Rees was chosen chairman and E. R. Lake secretary. In the absence of M. Malehorn the topic of Stocks for Prune Trees was discussed by D. O. Quick, A. Brownell and others, bringing out the thought that for all our deep well drained soils the peach stock is to be preferred while the myrobalan is a better stock for heavy colder soils, but it is questionable whether an attempt at prune growing on soils where the peach stock will not thrive is at all advisable. R. D. Allen and L. S. Reynolds discussed pruning in a practical way, and we note the absence of much of the fine spun theory we used to hear on this topic. By limiting the number of branches allow the tree to form a good head and as it grows older thin out the twigs and branches to limit the number of fruit buds—thin the fruit.
The evening session was opened by O. A. C. Glee Club followed by a sensible yet spicy address of welcome by Mayor Burnett, response by Dr. Sharples of Eugene was heartily applauded. A cornet solo was followed by "The Race of the Oregon" in an excellent recitation by Dollie Brown. Prof. Shaw gave a very scholarly discourse on Soils for Prune Culture, followed by Dr. Sharples and John Minto in discussion of the subject. These speakers did not tell us that all the land in Oregon should be planted to prunes. "Let Us Forget" who the subject of a beautiful recitation by Ethel Hillman, and the Ignomus Quartet closed the evening program.
Thursday 9 a. m.—The O. A. C. band announced time by a few selections at the east front. Dr. Sharples spoke on the necessity of a horticultural journal for this north-west country and on motion of Pres. Miller, was directed to bring the subject before the convention more fully at a later time. Hon. John Minto gave a few remarks on Orchard Soils. J. H. Moneth read a well written paper on Evaporators and Evaporation. This was followed in discussion by Mr. Fletcher of Vancouver who gave a minute account of his long experience in prune culture, from a few trees planted in the '70s, a dry house 8 x 12 ft. and a hot time operating it, through successive improvements until he now enjoys a reputation as a producer of Italian prunes not excelled by any man in the Northwest, and he don't know how to avoid the use of ly ether, the previous reader to the contrary notwithstanding.
R. D. Allen: We must strive to produce large size prunes, they dry heavier, cost less to handle in every way and sell for much higher prices than small fruit. He too has to dip, and don't place much value on the "Dried without the use of ly ether or other drugs" label, conspicuous on some fruit from his country. Dr. Withycombe read a valuable paper on Leguminous Crops in the Orchard. Thoroughly underlain the land—certain plants conserve nitro and potash, the two most important factors in fertility and aid greatly in producing a physical condition that will produce moisture. There is enough potash in our good soils to last five hundred years if made available, then why buy a commercial article; and the supply of nitrogen is inexhaustible. Drill tares in the orchard at last cultivation. Sow 50 lbs. land plaster early in the spring to stimulate a vigorous growth and conserve potash. Plow the crop under before the ground becomes dry and there will be no trouble friable, rich and productive. C. K. Schmeltzer has found rape an excellent orchard crop.
The following resolutions were adopted. By Dr. Sharples endorsing the Rural Northwest as our horticultural journal, and pledging it our support. Pres. H. B. Miller—That we insist on the appointment of a practical fruit grower on the Board of Requests of the O. A. C. That the railroad authorities be waited on in the interest of lower freights on fertilizers. That a bulletin on fertilizers be published for distribution by the experiment station. That the legislature be asked to make appropriation for publishing the proceedings of this convention.
At 1 p. m. the business of the state horticultural society was transacted. Election of officers follows:—For President, Hon. H. B. Miller; 1st. Vice Pres., L. S. Reynolds, Salem; 2nd. Vice Pres., Emile Schauno, The Dalles; Sec., E. R. Lake; Finance H. M. Williamson. 2:30 the prune tree and its enemies was Prof. Cordley's theme, he considers gummosis rather an indication of disease than disease proper. Thorough drainage is the most important factor in the production of healthy trees. Commissioner Doseh says thorough spraying as soon as leaves have fallen and again in the spring with Bordeaux will eradicate the brown rot. For twig borer and bud moth add to dilute Bordeaux, paris green or arsenite of copper. Mariate of potash sown on the land after the fruit set produced excellent results in size of fruit.

L. B. Clough of Vancouver gave an interesting talk on marketing fruit. He sent forward over eighty cars of prunes last fall paying not less than 4c. for 40-lbs with the usual drop on grades, sent several straight cars 30-40s and has not had one word of complaint. T. S. Townsend and others advocated organization to control the markets. Pres. H. B. Miller treated at some length the Oregon apple and its outlook, the trend of this paper was not very encouraging to general apple planting while it favored localities it might be made profitable. The evening session program was carried out in full:
Music—O. A. C. Glee Club.
"Hobson at Santiago,"—Recitation.
Omaha Exposition—Hon. H. E. Doseh Cornet solo.
Deacon Brown's courtship.
Fairs and expositions—B. S. Pague, George Rees.
Music.
All the day sessions were well attended by fruit growers and farmers, from all parts of western Oregon and in the evening it thoroughly reminded one of a Newberg turnout when times are good.
Among evaporator proprietors may be noted J. M. Jorcy, J. H. Montelith, Mitcham & Wade, G. A. Stevens, E. F. Schneider, E. N. Thomas, Mr. McGillchrist, all representing the only perfect drier extant, so there is no longer any occasion for doubt as to the kind of an evaporator to build. And we are happy to say that not one word was spoken in open convention in praise of any particular patent.
On the whole the convention was one of the most pleasant, interesting, profitable and well attended ever held in our state. We were all there.

An Honest Remedy for La Grippe.
George W. Walt of South Gardiner, Me., says: "I have had the worst cough, cold, chills and grip and have taken lots of trash of no account but profit to the vendor. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the only thing that has done any good whatever. I have used one 50-cent bottle and the chills, cold and grip have all left me. I congratulate the manufacturers of an honest medicine." For sale by C. F. Moore & Co.
SPAULDING'S CAMP.
Our foreman Wm. McLaughlin was visiting at home over Sunday.
John Dyer and "Little John" returned from a visit home Sunday.
John Bristow is home on a visit and tending to some business matters.
Al Mills has been under the weather for the past few days. Cause—"I want to go home."
Sam Linton was visiting around Newberg over Sunday. Sam's trips down the river are pretty regular this winter.
We enjoyed quite a refreshing shower one day last week. We suppose the waters will be on the rampage again soon.
Ask some of our "lumber jacks" which way is north here, and you will easily hear all points of the compass mentioned. We guess they are all right.
Two of our officers have an electric search light that they will sell cheap. Call at the sec Sunday afternoon after services for particulars and prices.
Our donkey hook-tender is willing to bet that he can get more mud on his clothes than all the rest of the gang put together. I tell you he spreads it on thick. He gets the logs out just the same.
Messrs. Spaulding, Miles and Lon Hill have gone back on this gang, we guess, as they haven't been around here lately. That's all right we haven't forgot where the "office" is located. But then we can hardly blame them for not calling, as just now we are located very unhandy for visitors.
Mr. Aldrich, our chaplain returned Monday night. From what we could learn from outside sources this gentleman had better resign his chair to some more worthy person. We understand he used some very profane and ungentlemanly language when he thought no one was around. The little birds in the trees have ears, uncle.
If we knew as much as some persons of our acquaintance and was as capable of teaching other people how to do their work we wouldn't stop around this ark long enough to "answer a bell." Take heed my esteemed friend and if you are not to old too learn; remember that others may be just as smart and know just as much as you and still be able to mind their own business.

Dangers of the Grip.
The greatest dangers from la grippe is of its resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for la grippe we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventative of that dangerous disease. It will cure la grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by C. F. Moore & Co. druggists.
