

St. Jacobs Oil cures Rheumatism. The Indians have begun bringing into Antelope, Or., wool and pelts, of which they sell tons every spring. They gather them from sheep that die on the ranges during the winter. It is not an uncommon sight to see 20 or 30 horses packed with wool and pelts in charge of two or three old squaws upon the streets in Alirington in spring time.

Labour Buys the Sweetest Sleep
But for insomnia or sleeplessness, and that unnatural weakness of mind, body, nerve and muscle, a reliable tonic is needed, like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which gives sweet, refreshing sleep and overcomes that tired feeling. It has the endorsement of millions as the best medicine money can buy. Take only Hood's.

A woman would never think of singing in a street car, but men apparently have no hesitation in giving vent to their feelings in merry whistling in such a public place.

So stout has Senator Lindsay, of Kentucky, grown (he must weigh considerably over 800 pounds) that his step has become slow and awkward. Apparently his tailor has given up all idea of fitting the ponderous Kentuckian, who looks as though he had been harnessed country fashion, not dressed.

CATARH CAN NOT BE CURED
With local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease, catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hood's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hood's Catarrh Cure is not a quick medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surface. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Send for testimonials, free.

MRS. LUCY GOODWIN
Suffered four years with female troubles. She now writes to Mrs. Pinkham of her complete recovery. Read her letter:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I wish you to publish what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Sanative Wash and Liver Pills have done for me. I suffered for four years with womb trouble. My doctor said I had falling of the womb. I also suffered with nervous prostration, faint, all gone feelings, palpitation of the heart, bearing-down sensation and painful menstruation. I could not stand but a few minutes at a time. When I commenced taking your medicine I could not sit up half a day, but before I had used half a bottle I was up and helped about my work.

I have taken three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used one package of Sanative Wash and am cured of all my troubles. I feel like a new woman. I can do all kinds of housework and feel stronger than I ever did in my life. I now weigh 131½ pounds. Before using your medicine I weighed only 108 pounds.

Surely it is the greatest medicine for weak woman that ever was, and my advice to all who are suffering from any female trouble is to try it at once and be well. Your medicine has proven a blessing to me, and I can't praise it enough.—Mrs. Lucy Goodwin, Holly, W. Va.

Wild Justice.
First and last the words "Revenge is a kind of wild justice" have been quoted hundreds of times probably in extenuation of the lynching habit. The context is never quoted. What Lord Bacon wrote was "Revenge is a kind of wild justice which the more a man's nature runs to the more ought law to weed it out."

Story Told on List.
There is a story told of Liest to the effect that he was one day very hard on a pupil whose playing he condemned rather severely. The pupil said she had studied the piece under Mme. Schumann. To which Liest replied: "Mme Schumann, Mme. Schumann! Yes, you have learned from her how one plays the piano when one has six children—poor woman, six children!"

In such bourgeois life any great interpretation is impossible. You must play this piece differently when I am your master. Thank God, I have not six children."

A Right of Burial.
Despite the growing difficulty of finding space for the interment of public men within the walls of Westminster, at least one noble family still enjoys a prescriptive right of burial there. These are the Dukes of Northumberland, who have the exclusive use of a spacious vault in the Chapel of St. Nicholas. This vault, which was the last resting place of the Seymours, was opened as recently as 1883 to receive the remains of Lady Percy, the elder sister of the present duke.

Fashoda's Big Game.
Big game is said to be extraordinarily plentiful in the region of Fashoda. The river swarms with crocodiles and hippopotami, while great herds of antelope of various kinds and giraffes are frequently met with. The latter fact is particularly interesting, as most of the zoological gardens in the world are in want of a specimen of the North African giraffe, which they have been unable to obtain, owing to the closing of the Central Sudan for so many years.

Chinese Commercial Methods.
It is often said no European can understand Chinese commercial methods. Here is a curious instance of the celestial's inversion. A Chinese hotel-keeper had contracted to board and lodge a visitor for a dollar a day. As time went on he found it impossible to get his weekly account settled. So he offered to maintain the guest for half a dollar a week. He said he would lose less.—London Chronicle.

WHAT ALABASTINE IS.
Alabastine is the original and only durable wall coating on the market. It is entirely different from all other wall coatings. Alabastine is made ready for use in white or twelve beautiful tints by the addition of cold water. It is put up in dry powdered form, in five-pound packages, with full directions on every package. It takes the place of scaling and peeling of old wall coatings. Alabastine can be used on plaster, brick, wood, canvas, and a child can brush it on.

WHAT "KALOMINES" ARE.
Kalomines are cheap and temporary preparations, manufactured from whiting, chalks, clays, etc. They are stuck on the walls with decaying animal glue. Alabastine is not a calomine. It is a rock-like cement, which sets, and it hardens with use. It can be washed and re-decorated without having to wash and scrape off its old coats. Beware of large tins of calomine, and write for free copy of our new Alabastine Era, to Alabastine Co., Grand Rapids, Mich.

Locomotor Ataxia and Paralysis Can be Cured.

These extreme nervous disorders were treated with wonderful success by the discoverer of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, previous to his discovery being offered to the public generally. This remedy is the only known specific in many diseases that, until recent years, were pronounced incurable. Here is the proof:

James Crockett, a sturdy old Scotchman living in Detroit, Mich., at 28 Montcalm Street, cured Locomotor Ataxia by these pills. For many years he has been a chief engineer of one of the big passenger palaces. This is a position of great responsibility and the anxiety causes a great nervous strain. Mr. Crockett says: "For fifteen years I watched the big engines and boilers without a single accident, and one night I was suddenly without warning I was taken sick, and was prostrated. I had the best of physicians called, and they gradually worsened. At a council of doctors, they said I had nervous prostration, and had destroyed my whole nervous system and would never recover. For three years I was unable to move from my bed. The doctor said I had locomotor ataxia, and would never be able to walk again. The pains and suffering I experienced during those years are almost indescribable. The friends that came to see me bid me good-bye when they left me and I was given up. The doctors said nothing more could be done. My wife kept reading to me, articles about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. We finally decided to try them. The first box gave me strength enough to walk. I am nearly seventy-five years old and there is not a man in this city that can kick higher or walk further than I can and I feel as good as present good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People for they saved my life."—Detroit Evening News.

Where Rubber Comes From.
The principal rubber-producing region is the valley of the Amazon, the greater portion of the rubber of commerce coming from Brazil, Venezuela and the United States of Colombia. Much, however, is contributed by Central America and Mexico. The product of Africa is steadily increasing, and the planting of many thousands of rubber trees in India under government supervision will soon place that country prominently in the list of rubber-growing lands.

A Simple Remedy.
