NEWBERG GRAPHIC.

ISSUED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING.

E. H. WOODWARD, EDITOR & PUBLISHER.

FRIDAY, MARCH 31, 1899.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Newberg, Oregon.

Li Hung Chang, the grand old man of China is hard to keep down. The latest is that he is about to be restored to power.

Salem boasts of having soap works. Well they use a good deal of soft soap about the capital every two years, at least.

There are now 336 people at Salem dressed in prison garb and there should be several more orders given for striped suits.

Governor Geer is not disappointing the people in making his appointments. He seems to have a faculty for selecting good men for office.

In all the big newspaper offices a specially prepared editorial on the life of Jonn Sherman has been put aside for future use. Sherman is still with us.

Bob Burdette, the humorist and Mrs. Clara Baker were married at Pasadena, California. March 25. They will make their home in Pasadena where Mr. Burdette will fill the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church.

The citizens of Yamhill county have got to behaving themselves so well that the terms of the circuit court are of very short duration. This is quite satisfactory to the taxpayers but it is very distressing to the attorneys of the county.

The Statesman says: Columbia county is the first to pay its state taxes in full. Columbia is a dairying county. Of course it has the ready cash. Will our farmers and business men take notice? The dairying there is done with the aid of creameries.

An article on the city of Portland which appeared in the Amboy, Illinois Journal, says "Portland, Oregon, is a fine city with a population estimated at from 80,000 to 120,000. It covers somewhere about 100 square miles." The writer is evidently something of an expansionist.

A man may drink with "the boys" on the sly for some time and deceive his family and his friends but he don't deceive himself. He knows all the while he is making a fool of himself and in his sober moments he feels that he has been acting the part of a coward in not giving his socalled friends a firm "no" for an answer when they have offered him the vile stuff to drink.

The saloon element won by a vote of 117 to 104 in an election held at Woodburn last Tuesday. The element that has been inclined to look on Woodburn as a good town to bring up a family in on account of the absence of saloons is now invited to look toward Newberg. We will gladly welcome all of this class to our midst, while we will very willingly let Woodburn take all the saloon bums.

The new woman is one who is inclined to do things in a little different way from what has been the custom of her sex. An Illinois town boasts of having a woman who is inclined that way. She has made one hat do her for forty years. She has worn it every day during that time and has never had it retrimmed. A short time ago she took it to a milliner shop and asked if the ribbon and feathers could not be used on a new hat.

In the eyes of the general public the late Jay Gould had rather an unsavory reputation, but the many generous acts of his millionaire daughter Helen has a tendency to cause the public to forget the shortcomings of her father. The other day when the Windsor hotel opposite her home burned, she willingly turned her home into a hospital for the unfortunate victims of the fire. Miss Gould never loses an opportunity to administer to the wants of suffering humanity.

TWO YEARS OF M'KINLEY.

The administration of President McKinley is just entering its third year. It is therefore, a fitting season to inquire if, in a general way, the good results claimed by those who advocated his election have been realized by the country. When he was nominated for the office of president, the treasury was fighting to retain its gold reserve, but without success. His predecessor had made two issues of bonds ostensibly for that purpose, but the proceeds were largely used to make good the deficits of the Wilson-Gorman tariff. More than 90 per cent of the revenues were being paid in silver funds. The "endless chain" was being used to get the gold out of the treasury, which timid people were hoarding away, or it was being exported to pay for American securities in Europe which the owners were anxious to get rid of. The party which nominated the President promised to maintain the gold standard.

His election put an end to all doubts about the possibility of the country passing to a silver basis. Confidence came. The endless chain ceased to run. Gold flowed into the country and the mines increased their output, but it was the confidence which came with the election of Major McKinley that turned the tide. Industries began to pick up slowly and business brightened. Scant crops abroad called for the large exportations of breadstuffs, which gave a large balance of the trade in our favor. Then came the prompt passage of the Dingley bill, which returned business lost by the Wilson-Gorman tariff. To re-equip railroads, which came into an unprecedented business late in 1897, a great demand for steel came up, starting the iron industry into an activity before unknown. This activity quickly extended to other industries, because many prices on the farms and in many factories quickened the consumption of all the products of the country, reaching at last the depressed cotton manufacturing industry of New England. One will look in vain for a period when so many advances in wages in so many industries have been announced. Now nearly 90 per cent of the revenues of the country are paid in gold, while the certainty of the gold basis causes the present volume of silver dollars and certificates to be accepted as gold. Conditions have been favorable, but they have only tended to help the work which the republicans promised in 1896 to do, and which the administration has helped along. Favorable conditions could not have turned, back the disaster which a triumph of Bryanism in 1897 would have brought to the country.

The war with Spain and the immense responsibilities, involving new conditions, were not dreamed of. So far as the President has been called upon to assume these responsibilities it is admitted by all, except those whose political hopes make them critics, that he has displayed that wisdom and patriotism which belong to exalted statesmanship.—Indianapolis Journal.

THOMAS H. PARROTT DEAD.

Pioneer of 1857 Succumbs to Heart Disease.

Thomas H. Parrott, a pioneer of 1857, died at his home on the corner of East Fifteenth and and East Couch streets at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, after an illness of about three months. Since Saturday afternoon he had lain in a stupor, and his death had been expected at any time by his physician and family. His family are all here, except his sons, Thomas and A. G. The latter started for Alaska several weeks ago, and the former is in California. Arrangements for the funeral will be made later.

Mr. Parrott has been sick for the past three months with heart disease, complicated with other troubles. Over a week ago he was driven out to Mount Tabor to visit Henry W. Prettyman, an old friend. He came back chilled, and grew worse, his suffering at times being very severe.

Thomas H. Parrott came to Oregon in April, 1857, and first settled in Yamhill county. His parents, Samuel and Maria (Everest) Parrott, both natives of England, had already arrived in Oregon in the year 1854, with several children, but the subject of this sketch remained in England to learn his trade of shoemaker. After arriving here he worked at his trade. In 1862 he came to East Portland, when there were but three houses in the place. On the corner of Union avenue and East Ash street he purchased the lot for $40, where he erected a dwelling and music store, and lived for 30 years, when he built his present home on the corner of East Fifteenth and Couch streets.

Mr. Parrott was naturally a musician, having inherited a talent for music on his mother's side, in whose family were many eminent musicians. His services along this line were early recognized, and he finally gave his entire time to it, playing in all of the early theaters, including the Oro Fino and New Market. There are few instruments that he could not handle with a master hand, but he made a specialty of the violin and piano.

In 1861 he was united in marriage to Miss Eliza A. Rhodes, a daughter of the late A Rhodes, a widely known pioneer of 1845. To them were born eight children, one of whom was born in Yamhill county, but all the others were born in East Portland. These are Samuel H., Armond G., Thos. W., Walter Edward, George, Clarence, Jennie L., Archie R., and Richard Parrott, Walter (Jiggs) died about a year ago. Mr. Parrott educated all his children as musicians. He composed much excellent music. Since his residence on the East Side he acquired considerable property, besides which he owns two farms in Yamhill. He is reputed to be worth between $40,000 and $50,000, accumulated by thrift, frugality and industry. While he had been a democrat he always maintained an independent position, voting for the best men on either ticket. He was a great sportsman, and it was highly interesting to hear him recount his exploits and hairbreadth escapes. Among all classes he had his friends, who entertained for him a high respect. The old-timers liked him and trusted him and his business judgments, and asked his advice.—Oregonian.

Law on Tobacco.

Section 1. It shall be unlawful to sell, barter, trade, give or in any manner furnish to any minor under age of 18 years any tobacco, cigrar, or cigarette in any form, or any compound in which tobacco forms a component part, without the consent or written order of such minor's parent or guardian, and when such minor has no parent or guardian, then in that case consent may be given by the county court, sitting for the transaction of county business, upon proper application in the county in which said minor may have his residence.

Section 2. Any person violating the provisions of this act shall, upon conviction, be fined in any sum not less than $2 nor more than $50.

Section 3. It shall be unlawful for any minor under the age of 18 years, to smoke, or in any way use any cigar, cigarette or tobacco in any form whatsoever in any public highstreet, place, square or resort.

Section 4. Any minor violating the provisions of this act shall upon conviction, be fined in any sum not less than $1 nor more than $10, or by imprisonment at the option of the court, two days for each offense.

Section 5. Justices of the peace shall have concurrent jurisdiction with the circuit court for all offenses arising under this act.

Section 6. This act entitled, "An act to prohibit the sale of tobacco, cigars or cigarettes to minors under the age of 18 years approved Feb. 18, 1889, and all other acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed. Inasmuch as the present law upon the subject is incomplete, and an emergency exists, this act shall be in force from and after its approval by the governor.

The Crucible.

Of a thousand acorns falling at the same time from the same tree, but one, even for a few months, spreads its leaves to the sun and rain.

When attempting to climb the ladder of fame, be sure that its top rests on something solid. Don't try to climb up into air.

Is the moon any less beautiful or useful because it shines by reflected light.

The great wind which breaks down the sturdy trees whose growth has been for centuries or more, leaves the pliant saplings unharmed.

Were many unsuccessful men to live longer they would make successes; were many successful men to live longer they would make failures.

The loud-crowing rooster makes a dung-hill a very well-known place.

The far-seeing man usually sees so much that he is too timid to take anything.

When a man gets so busy that he doesn't find time to think, he usually does something.

No horse would stand abuse if he knew his strength, but were he to show that strength once he would be killed.

A man often escapes from danger by not realizing that the danger exists.

A weak-willed man misses many opportunities to do wrong.

The mind is like steel: friction sharpens, heat tempers, idleness rusts. If you want a good blade, keen of edge and strong, it must be pounded into shape by a skilled hand at a hot forge. Great minds are thus shaped and tempered at the glowing forge of life.

There is the difference of electricity and steam between men. Some do their work quietly and effectively, while others make a deal of puffing and grunting and smoke.

If the wealthy and the poor, the cultured and the unlearned, would come together in charity, each class would be surprised to discover how much they can learn from the other.

A very small piece of lead from a very cheap pistol in the hands of a fool may kill a very wise man.

It is easy to conceive a place in which man should always be happy, but it is very difficult to conceive a man who would be always happy in one place.

All of us are great when we are not in competition.

If one were to follow the different rules for keeping in health given by physiologists, and also the rules given to young men for getting rich by the successful ones in later life, he would be reminded of the old cooks rule for testing eggs: Drop the egg in either hot or cold water, if it either sinks or swims it is either good or bad.

But few women could get into heaven on the the testimony of their dressmakers.—Chicago News.

A woman asks a woman questions to discover something. She asks a man questions to discover the man.—Life.

"Knowledge is power." There is one kind of knowledge that is power and prestige in the hands of a woman. It is the knowledge of her own nature, her own physical make-up and the home-treatment of diseases peculiar to her sex. There is a great home medical book that teaches all this. It is Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. Over 1,200,000 American homes contain copies of this work. It used to cost $1.50; now it is free. For a paper covered copy send 21 one-cent stamps, to cover mailing only, to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.; French cloth binding, 31 stamps.

This great book tells all about a medicine that is an unfailing cure for all weakness and disease of the delicate organs distinctly feminine. That medicine is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. During the past thirty years many thousands of women have used it with marvelous results. It imparts health, vigor, virility, strength and elasticity to the organs that bear the burdens of maternity. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. Taken during the period of gestation, it makes the coming of baby easy and almost painless. It completely banishes the pain and misery that are the result of a woman's neglecting her womanly health. An honest medicine dealer will give you what you ask for, and not try to persuade you to take some inferior substitute for the little added profit he may make thereon.

Mrs. Jas. Schaffner, of Freemansburg, Northampton Co., Pa., writes: "It is with pleasure that I write to let you know the great good I have received from your medicines and the local self-treatment at home. I was troubled with female weakness, had pains in my back all the time, sometimes so severe that I could not lie in bed at night. I tried different doctors but they could not help me. Then my husband got Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, and induced me to try Dr. Pierce's medicines. After taking six bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' I feel like a new woman."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good."

A Frightful Blunder.

Will often cause a horrible Burn, Scald, Cut or Bruise. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, will kill the pain and promptly heal it. Cures Old Sores, Fever Sores, Ulcers, Boils. Felons, Corns all Skin Eruptions. Best Pile cure on earth. Only 25 cts. a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by C. E. Smith, druggist.

Smokeless powder has long been used by women.—Feminine Observer.

As the season of the year when pneumonia, la grippe, sore throat, coughs, colds. catarrahs, bronchitis and lung troubles are to be guarded against, nothing "is a fine substitute," will "answer the purpose" or is "just as good" as One Minute Cough Cure. That is the one infallible remedy for all lung, throat or bronchial troubles. Insist vigorously upon having it if "something else" is offered you. C. F. Moore & Co.

It is no more human to err than it is to lie about it.—Chicago News.

An Enterprising Firm.

There are few men more wide awake and enterprising than C. E. Smith who spares no pains to secure the best of everything in his line for his many customers. He now has the Agency for Dr. King's New Discovery, which surely cures Consumption, Coughs and Colds. This is the wonderful remedy that is now producing so much excitement all over the country, by its many startling cures. It absolutely cures Asthma, Bronchitis, Nausea, and all affections of the Throat, Chest and Lungs. You can test it before buying, by calling at the above Drug Store and get a trial Bottle Free, or regular size for 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed to cure, or price refunded.

A woman always has an idea that she can tell one lie and then quit.—Atchison Globe.

For frost bites, burns, indolent sores, eczema, skin disease, and especially piles DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve stands first and best. Look out for dishonest people who try to imitate and counterfeit it. It's their endorsement of a good article. Worthless goods are not imitated. Get DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. C. F. Moore & Co.

Don't Kill the Birds.

At this season of the year when the boys begin to feel like spring colts turned loose after having been shut up all winter it is well enough to warn them against killing birds. The law says:

"Every person who shall, within the state of Oregon after the passage of this act, for any purpose injure, take, kill or destroy, or have in his possession, except for breeding purposes, sell or offer for sale any nightingale, skylark, black thrush, gay singing thrush, linnet, gold finch, chaffinch, bullfinch, red breasted European robin, black starling, grossbeak, Oregon robin or meadow lark or mocking bird, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

"Every person who shall within the state of Oregon at any time after the passage of this act, destroy or remove from the nest of any nightinga'e, skylark, black thrush, gay singing thrush, linnet, goldfinch greenfinch chaffinch, bullfinch, red breasted European robin, black starling, grossbeak or mocking bird, any egg or eggs of such bird, or have in possession, sell or offer for sale any such egg or eggs, or wilfully destroy the nests of any such birds, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars and not more than two hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail of the county not less than three months, or both said fine and imprisonment. That one half of the fine imposed and collected in money, shall be paid to the informer and the rest to the treasurer of the county."

The Housewife's Daily Burden.

It is a common remark with hundreds of men that they "wonder what women find to do all day." Sometimes curiosity gets the better of a man and he asks his wife what she has done all day. "Oh a hundred and one little things," she says. Then he thinks of some momentous scheme over which he has been working all day, and makes a mental comparison, in which his wife's work takes second place. He overlooks the fact however, that a woman's life in the home is made up of "little things," and these same "little things" are not only necessary, but that they are absolutely vital to the even adjustment of the domestic machinery of his home. They are "little" only in a woman's eye: they would instantly assume proportions of magnitude if the man's hands were to try to do them.—Edward Bok in the April Ladies' Home Journal.

NEARLY

FIFTY-EIGHT YEARS OLD ! !

It's a long life, but devotion to the true interests and prosperity of the American People has won for it new friends as the years rolled by and the original members of its family passed to their reward, and these admirers are loyal and steadfast today, with faith in its teachings, and confidence in the information which it brings to their homes and firesides.

As a natural consequence it enjoys in its old age all the vitality and vigor of youth, strengthened and ripened by the experiences of over half a century.

It is "The New-York Weekly Tribune," acknowledged the country over as the leading National Family Newspaper.

Recognizing its value to those who desire all the news of the State and Nation, the publisher of "The Graphic" (your own favorite home paper) has entered into an alliance with "The New-York Weekly Tribune" which enables him to furnish both papers at the trifling cost of $1.50 per year.

Every farmer and every villager owes to himself, to his family, and to the community in which he lives a cordial support of his local newspaper, as it works constantly and untiringly for his interests in every way, brings to his home all the news and happenings of his neighborhood, the doings of his friends, the condition and prospects for different crops, the prices in home markets, and, in fact, is a weekly visitor which should be found in every wide awake, progressive family.

Just think of it! Both these papers for $1.50 a year.
