A couple of rather prepossessing young fellows were down from Salem last Sunday calling on young lady friends. Our "home grown" boys should not feel alarmed at this "innovation" but rather call to mind the saying respecting the effect a change of pasture has on calves, and then bristle up and endeavor to hold their own with outsiders.
A party of twenty, including men, women and children, arrived here on Wednesday evening direct from Grove Lake, Minnesota. They had been expected for several days and they were given a warm welcome by their former Minnesota friends who are residing in Newberg. Among the number are two brothers of Mrs. Lottie Decker, named Emerson with their families, and a brother-in-law of the Emmersons named Bigelow with his family. They are here with the intention of making homes in Oregon and we hope that their fondest hopes respecting the change may be realized.

It is a good thing to be reminded of things that we already know for people are prone to forgetfulness and neglect. In another column will be found an article under the head of "A Few Pointers" which was written by a lady who is a close observer and who is able, as will be seen, to make some very good suggestions. The paper has been endorsed by the "Women's Improvement Club" and the Graphic gives it circulation. Let property owners read and reflect.
A few days ago a lady in speaking to the writer of how much the appearance of Newberg might be improved if our citizens would only take a little pains in cleaning up their back yards, called attention to the difference in the appearance of things in the rear of the places of business of two of our business men who are engaged in the same lines. The contrast is indeed quite marked, both places being in plain view from the street. It is really too bad that we can't have a day off occasionally and take a look at ourselves and our surroundings as others see us.

Part of the tags for bicycle taxes were received by Sheriff Henderson Tuesday evening last, a very neat little device, made of aluminum, bearing the words "Tax for 1899, Yamhill County," and the number neatly engraved thereon. Ed Fuller procured No. 1.—Transcript.
It is reported on what seems to be pretty good authority that Solomon Hawthorn and wife, former residents of Newberg who moved from here to Ashland a few years ago have dissolved partnership, Solomon taking the outside of the house. Solomon and Lucy were known as rather eccentric individuals but a separation was hardly to be expected in their old age. Even old couples seem to be given to doing some very queer things in this day and age of the world however and the unexpected is often what takes place.

Dangers of the Grip.
The greatest dangers from la grippe is its resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for la grippe we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventative of that dangerous disease. It will cure la grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by C. F. Moore & Co. druggists.
Five hundred tin tags to be placed on bicycles in Yamhill county as evidence that the tax has been paid, have been received by Sheriff Henderson. How many bicycles are there in Yamhill county? The number has been guessed all the way from 200 to 2000.—Reporter

Their Business Booming.
Probably no one thing has caused such a general reviving of trade at C. E. Smith's drug store as his giving away to his many customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable remedy, from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all throat and lung diseases are quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size 50c. and $1.00. Every bottle warranted.
H. C. Burns last week disposed of his trotting stock, Alta Norte, to a Pendleton party, for $300. Alta Norte had already developed a speed of 2:25 at the age of three years, and gives promise of something a good deal better. Mr. Burns decided he was not a trotting horse man either by nature or acquisition. The gelding, Dr. Wright, a full brother, was also sold at the same time to the same party, who now claims that they have a team record of 2:21.—Reporter

Brave Men Fall.
Victims to stomach, liver and kidney trouble as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache and nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and good appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life. Only 50c. at C. E. Smith's drug store. Every bottle guaranteed."

A subscription paper is being circulated by E. Rowley for the purpose of raising funds in connection with private capital, to build a flouring mill in Dayton, with a capacity of grinding not less than 50 barrels of flour per day. A number of signatures have been attached pledging different sums, the middle of the week.—Dayton Herald.
For La Grippe.
Thomas Whitefield & Co., 210 Wash-av., Jackson st., one of Chicago's oldest and most prominent druggists, recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for la grippe, as it not only gives a prompt and complete relief, but also counteracts any tendency of la grippe to result in pneumonia. Pres. Newlin's Lecture.
The Third Number in the Union Course—A Large Audience Listens to an Interesting Lecture.
On Saturday evening, April 8, the third number of the union lecture course was given to a large audience, by Pres. Thomas Newlin. His subject was "Naples and its Environs." Pres. Newlin spent his last Christmas vacation in Italy and being well qualified to observe and study this historical peninsula with its ruined cities, crowded so full of the best architecture and notes of art the world has ever known, he was enabled to give a lecture of great interest, and instruction. He first briefly outlined his journey from London to Naples; passing through Paris; through Switzerland; crossing the Alps by the St. Gothard route; stopping briefly at Milan, Genoa, Pisa, and Rome. The passage across the Alps was made very impressive as the beauty of the mountain scenery was contrasted with the inconveniences and discomfort of the continental railroad. We were made to appreciate more than ever before our railroad facilities here, even though they are not what they should be. The geography of the Bay of Naples and surrounding islands and peninsulas was pointed out on a map. We were impressed as much as those could be who had never seen the place with the natural beauty of the Bay of Naples, the clear blue waters of the sea and the grandeur of the smoking Vesuvius in the background. Next Naples was described, both as to its importance as a city and manners and customs of the people. It seems strange that a people surrounded with so much of classical and historical interest—so much of the best in architecture, art and sculpture of a past glorious civilization could have such social ideas and customs, and could be so filthy and so dishonest. President Newlin being especially interested in sociological problems was enabled to make many valuable observations upon the manners and customs of the people. The National Museum, library, churches and cathedrals were briefly touched upon, there being enough in each of these subjects for a lecture. He next took us for a trip to the island of Capri, and brought to our notice the beautiful "Blue Grotto." This is a natural cave which is 165 feet long, 100 feet wide, and 40 feet high which has been formed by the action of the waves on the limestone rock of which the island is made. The grotto can only be entered when the sea is calm, by a low water passage. The refraction and reflection of the light gives everything a most beautiful blue color. This island is noted on account of its being the site of the palace of Tiberius Caesar. This castle is built close to a perpendicular precipice which rises 2000 feet out of the waters of the Mediterranean. We were now taken to the ruins of Pompeii. This city was destroyed in the great eruption of Vesuvius in the year 79 A.D. It is about seven miles from the volcano and fifteen miles from Naples. It was covered with volcanic cinders and ashes to a depth of 25 or 30 feet. The number of persons who perished is not known, but seven hundred have been found. Most of these perhaps were slaves, who had been sent into the city after valuables, the inhabitants having fled to places of safety, having been warned of the danger. A number of plaster casts of the bodies of those who perished have been made by filling the hollow cavities left by the disintegration of the bodies with liquid plaster of paris. These together with casts of animals of various kinds, and relics of almost all descriptions have been collected in a room in one of the ancient buildings as a museum. Bread was found in a bake oven with the stamp of the maker upon each loaf. The ancient flour mill with its grinding apparatus has been exhumed in the immediate vicinity of the "bake-shop." Palaces, libraries, homes, and shops of various kinds, with all the accompanying appliances and equipments have been dug out of the ruins after having been buried for eighteen centuries, showing how this ancient people lived. As we heard all of this we were made to wonder why all of these historical relics could be allowed to remain covered up thus for all these ages down to our own century. Leaving this place of so much fascination and romantic interest, the speaker next told of his ascent of Mt. Vesuvius. This is a volcanic peak 30 miles in circumference and 3640 feet high. The incidents, dangers and circumstances of the trip to the seething, boiling, hissing crater of this wonderful mountain were narrated in an impressive way. A portion of the journey was made through slopes covered several inches with loose cinders and ashes which had been ejected from the crater. An explosion from a portion of the crater sent many pieces of molten lava into the atmosphere, and quite a large piece fell just a few feet from the company. President went to it and knocked off a piece with his Alpinestock and imbedded a penny in it. Such lectures as this one are of great value to those of us who do not have the privilege of traveling to foreign countries and places of interest.

Happy is the man or woman who can eat a good hearty meal without suffering afterward. If you can do it, take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat, and cures all forms of Dyspepsia and Indigestion. C. F. Moore & Co.
Dr. Harry Littlefield Promoted.
Dr. Littlefield has received word from his brother Harry that he has resigned from the Second Oregon volunteers and joined the regulars where he gets a better position.
In a letter to his father under date of March 6, he states he had just received his appointment as acting U. S. surgeon, with the rank of first lieutenant and pay of captain, and has been placed in charge of the division hospital at Cavite. He expects to get out on the firing line soon, however, as several regiments have asked for him.
Dr. Herbert Cardwell, who has been made major since his arrival at the Philippines with the Oregon regiment, also asked for him, but he could not get him, as the chief surgeon could not spare him at the division hospital.
Dr. Littlefield writes that the prospects are that the war will continue at least a year yet, and possibly much longer, unless some quick work is done.
In referring to the treachery of the Filipinos he tells of the capture of 200 insurgents who were about to leave Manila as mourners. They were following a hearse out of the city, but upon reaching the outer guards, where their grief seemed to grow more intense, they met with an unexpected interruption. Instead of finding a corpse in the hearse, the guards found it filled with firearms. The 200 mourners are now doing their mourning in the prison dungeon.
Upon the occasion of a recent raid on a church, the alleged worshippers, dressed in white, were found to be insurgents in disguise. Under the irregular habits were found full insurgent uniforms and side arms. The worshippers are also doing some reflecting in prison just now.
Dr. Littlefield at the time of writing, reports but three smallpox cases in the hospital. He vaccinated about 150 soldiers that morning, himself included, having previously tried it on himself eight times without success.

For a quick remedy and one that is perfectly safe for children let us recommend One Minute Cough Cure. It is excellent for croup, hoarseness, tickling in the throat and coughs. C. F. Moore & Co.
On Monday last complaint was made by Roy Martin before R. Snyder, justice of the peace of district No. 7, against John Moore for assault with intent to kill. A warrant was issued by Justice Snyder to Constable D. M. Dorsey, for Moore's arrest. The time set for the preliminary hearing of the case before Justice Snyder, was Tuesday forenoon at 10 o'clock. Deputy district attorney C. W. Talmage representing the state, and Wm. Vinton, of the firm of McCain, Irvine & Vinton, of McMinnville for defendant. The hearing resulted in placing Moore under bonds for $200 bonds to appear before the grand jury at the fall term of circuit court. Bonds were given by J. W. Exon and Mrs. Moore. The trouble occurred on Sunday at Mrs. Moore's place, from former dealings between the two parties; hot words passing between them Moore went into the house and took out a gun, and it is claimed threatened to shoot Martin.—Dayton Herald.

Before the discovery of One Minute Cough Cure, ministers were greatly disturbed by coughing congregations. No excuse for it now.
A sad accident that had a fatal termination took place at the home of Cyrus and Lizzie Blair last Thursday forenoon. Their little boy between two and three years of age was for a moment by himself in the sitting room when by some means probably by the fire-pipe his clothing caught fire. The screams of the child brought the mother to the scene, who with a blanket quickly extinguished the flames, but the little one had inhaled the flames and only lived until the next morning. The mother was all alone and she put the little sufferer into a baby carriage and with a baby in her arms she started for the house of a neighbor a half a mile distant, but met with sneer on the way and returned. Aid was immediately summoned, but it was of no avail. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of all in their distress and affliction. The little one was laid to rest Saturday at 2 p. m.—Sheridan Sun
