Elwood Weesner, of Douglas, Alaska, evidently has the impression that the fish story of his which was published in the Graphic last winter was not given due credit by his Newberg friends, for he has sent to this office a photograph of the "catch" as the fish lay on the beach. There is no question about the fish being there as he indicated in his letter as the picture clearly shows. It may be seen in the showcase at the postoffice.

I. R. Craven west of town has received an invitation to meet and mingle with the surviving members of the old Seventieth Indiana Regiment of Volunteers on July 19-20 at Bethany Park, Morgan county, Indiana, this being the twenty-fifth annual reunion of the regiment. C. C. Sarna, Photographer.

J. H. Miller reports that his house was broken into Wednesday night and cash to the amount of $240 stolen. He had $1000 hid about the house that was not discovered by the thief. Very few people are willing to risk any large amount of money outside a bank vault or safe deposit these days.
