Word received from Mrs. M. Hollingsworth, or grandmas, as she is affectionately known in Newberg by her many friends, says that she is now visiting her youngest son at Wymore, Nebraska, is enjoying the best of health and is having a good visit. In a short time she intended to leave there to make a visit with a daughter in Kansas.

Jeremiah T. Osborne recently received the appointment of industrial teacher and superintendent of farm work for the Lapwai Indian school, Idaho. The Nez Percé Indians are considered the brightest and most intelligent of all the tribes on the coast and Mr. Osborne's work at this place will no doubt be pleasant and profitable. To get the appointment he passed the usual civil service examination. On last Tuesday he left here for Lapwai and will immediately enter on his work.

A messenger came from Sheridan last Friday morning after the coroner to go up and hold an inquest over the remains of a man who died suddenly Thursday, near that city. The man, his wife and two children were going to the coast, and while passing a thrashing crew that was short of hands, was asked to stop and help them. He did so and went to sewing sacks. After working a short time he took a drink of water and in a few moments was dead. His name was Charles Brady and he was from Pendleton.—Transcript.

The evening service will begin at 7:30 p. m., instead of 8 as formerly. A cordial invitation is extended to all. "Come let us reason together, saith the Lord."

J. F. DAV.

The worthy nimrods, H. A. Miller, J. L. Myers, and E. P. Dixon returned from their hunt in the Coast Range Saturday morning, but with empty hands. J. H. Miller, the most experienced hunter of the party showed more perseverance at any rate and didn't come in till the first of the week. When interviewed he rather peached on the other boys by saying that "Those other fellows were too easily discouraged, to be good hunters. Just because they didn't find something the first two or three which they wanted to pull out from which it is inferred that he considered the hunting ability of his brother hunters below par. While at Newport he was rewarded by his stay in finding the most perfect water agate we have ever seen."

Maurice Townsend, who returned from here a few weeks ago for his old home near Richmond, Indiana, was married last Wednesday, a Hoosier lady being the girl of his choice. His many Newberg friends wish him all the happiness there is going, from his new relationships.

Kodol Dyspepsia cure is a scientific compound having the endorsement of eminent physicians and the medical press. It "digests what you eat" and positively cures dyspepsia. M. A. Ketron, Bloomingdale, Tenn., says it cured him of indigestion of ten years standing. C. F. Moore & Co.

For first class tailoring Martin Olsen's work recommends itself, but in order to satisfy a class of customers who want cheaper clothing he has arranged to furnish goods from a San Francisco house, from $10 up for a suit. He will take your measure and guarantee a perfect fit. Call and see his samples.

Amos Nelson is an expansionist, not only in theory but in practice. Not being content with a farm of two hundred and fifty acres for himself and his boys, he recently purchased another three hundred acre farm up the valley which Wm. Wiks has been living on. There is a good deal of well developed muscle in the family and this will give them a better opportunity to exercise it.

On account of the continued ill health of Isaac N. Miles, he and Mrs. Miles have resigned from the management of the college boarding hall and he will retire and endeavor to recuperate. The college board regrets that such loyal friends of the institution have been compelled to give up the work, but they feel that they have been exceedingly fortunate in being able to secure Mr. and Mrs. Levi Gilbert, of Roseville, to take charge of the hall. They have had several year's experience in similar work and they drop into place without a jar.

Clarence and Aunt Amy Edwards left here for the East Tuesday morning. Aunt Amy will go back to her old home in Mooreville, Indiana, where she will stay at least through the winter and probably longer. Clarence goes to enter the University of Ohio at Columbus, in the interest of the Pressed Brick Co. He will take a course under the division of engineering in the department of Serenice, and will make a specialty of the study of all styles and designs of pressed brick. He will be gone, till next June. This is a progressive move on the part of the company and will doubtless be a paying investment.

A country editor is supposed to have plenty of nerve, but we weekly haul down our colors, for our stock in that line was discounted the other day by several per cent. We yield the palm to a citizen of Newberg, in good circumstances, but who squeezes his dimes so hard that they have to be sent back for identification. He doesn't subscribe for the home paper, not by any means, but he came into the office the other day and asked for the last Graphic. We handed him the paper expecting the forthcoming nickel. Our expectations were somewhat previous. He took the paper out with him, sat down and read it through carefully, and when finished brought it back "good as new" with the complacent remark that he wanted to "borrow" it. Our only source of comfort is that it takes all sorts of people to make up this world, but—it takes more of some sorts than others.
