ISSUED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1900.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Newberg, Oregon.

Not finding anything sufficiently scandalous in the present order of things to howl about, the democratic organs are now making a forced loan on the future, by predicting a panic. Strange to say, they are correct too. The "panic" will strike them when the votes are counted after next year's election.

Dewey gives new evidence every day that he is no spring chicken, when up against the problems of this cold world. He has just transferred the Washington property, presented to him by the American people, to his new wife's name. In short, Dewey has cut another cable.

Victories of military prowess are not the only ones which have been accorded the American volunteer army. The dignified and orderly bearing which our troops have maintained in foreign cities, Yokohama, noticeably, has been a general eye opener to the world, and has displayed a new phase of American civilization.

Summing up the entire results of Tuesday's elections, the republicans have lost an aggregate of 538,000 from the majorities received by McKinley.—Roanoke Review.

The Review should have been candid enough to state that the above "summing up" is based upon the theory and practice of democratic arithmetic, a la Goebel—and we all know what that means.

There is supposed to be some standard of morals even among newspapers, especially in regard to the practice of "embellishment" of editorials without due credit being given. Some of us don't very often say anything worth repeating but when we do, we enjoy being credited with the same. This is just a gentle reminder in the direction of the Coquille City Bulletin, in regard to that Graphic editorial lifted out bodily into its last issue.

The Record as a last resort indulges in a "kind" of sportive and jocular mood, the quality of which is decidedly becoming—to the Record. Even a very commonplace, half-witty, semi-jocose gush of attempted witicism may be satisfactory to some people, but it's a mighty poor dodge in the face of cold, hard facts. But the Record is probably excusable, for the fact that it is doubtless going into training on the "dodging process" in anticipation of next year's political campaign.

A democrat in a letter to the Globe-Democrat, commenting on the "overblowing" of his party in the recent elections tartly remarks that "McKinley either knows the people better than Bryan knows them, or he has much better advisers," and that "Bryan has been so much on the rear end of trains, that he has fallen into the habit of not seeing a thing until after it has gone by." We are glad to know of one democrat candid enough not to attempt to figure out a democratic victory out of heavy republican gains.

Old Willamette ought to be proud of its football team, that has come to the point where it can give some of the best of them "cold feet."—Salem Statesman.

If the Statesman were onto itself it would never have published a squib like the above. If it really means half its gushy patriotism for "Old Willamette," it would never mention her football team, or rather the team which she has "grafted." It is a notable fact that for years no team in the state, not even a club team to say nothing of college, has had the reputation which the above named one has had, for professionalism and dirty athletics in general. For just such acaly work, the Salem team has recently been thrown out of the intercollegiate league, and no decent college team will have anything to do with it. The Statesman seems in danger of being even too good a friend to Old Willamette.

Home rule for Cuba! That hasn't much the sound of militarism, nor of imperialism either, but that's just what President McKinley is preparing to give Cuba. The standing army there is to be gradually discharged, and a civil instead of a military government is to be established as soon as possible. In order to make the institution of his new policy distinct, the president intends that the new officers be civilians and not military men, and that they shall be men who have been in close touch and sympathy with Cuban affairs. This policy, which the administration has had in view as an end, all the time is certainly the ideal one. Our colonial government will then become representative, and anything else but imperialism. The only objection that can be raised against the institution of the new policy at this time, is that it will seriously weaken the democratic war cry of imperialism next year. But that's not very serious, most any old thing will do for the democrats, in the way of campaign issues.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Col. Bryan is still the Tagalogical candidate for the Democratic nomination in 1900.—Globe-Democrat.

No predictions concerning election returns in Kentucky should be considered reliable unless the voter's signature be blown in the bottle.—Oregonian.

In the present display of shooting stars the United States can point with pride to Lawton and MacArthur.—Globe-Democrat.

There was a time when passing of the lie in Kentucky was accompanied by a shooting match. But Kentucky has degenerated considerably in recent years.—Grass Valley Journal.

If we had taken a stand in China eighteen months ago Europe would have laughed. To-day Europe stops and ponders. A great deal can happen in a short time.—Ashland Tidings.

It turns out that the fusionist victory in Nebraska except as to Holcomb, the head of the ticket, was not such a great victory, after all, the majorities for other candidates being small, and one of them being beaten. Holcomb was an exceptionally strong man, and his opponent, Reese, was very vulnerable. So Nebraska may be classed as a doubtful state next year.—Telegram.

Oregon being the first state to hold an election next year, it will attract national attention. Two congressmen and a supreme judge are to be elected, besides the various county officers, but the Oregon election will be the "first gun" in the national campaign of 1900. The time is not remote, either, for the first skirmish in the state and county campaign.—Reporter.

Our demo-pop friends who are so much afraid that our expansion policy is leading the country toward monarchy can rest easy. The tendency of modern politics and civilization is away from rather than toward monarchical government; but the advocates of expansion believe that a democracy like ours may become a world power and a power for good in the world without jeopardizing its cherished institutions.—Forest Grove Times.

Forty thousand thieves, robbers, drunkards and libertines is what some of the anti-expansionists denominate our army in the Philippines. A dispatch from Yokohama, Japan tells a very different story. It reads: "The last regiment of returning volunteers, Tennesseans, passed through here last week and the most extraordinary record made by any army is now complete and unbroken. Twelve thousand troops have occupied the city for an average of two days and nights without the slightest disturbance of any kind."—Hillsboro Independent.

Dana's Tribute to the Bible. One of the standard works on journalism is that of Charles A. Dana on "Art of Newspaper Making." In answering the question, "What books ought you to read?" Mr. Dana paid this tribute to the Bible:

"There are some books that are absolutely indispensable to the kind of education that we are contemplating and to the profession that we are considering; and of these the most indispensable, the most useful, the one whose knowledge is most effective is the Bible. There is no book from which more valuable lessons can be learned. "I am considering it now not as a religious book, but as a manual of utility, of professional preparation and professional preparation for a journalist. There is perhaps no book whose style is more suggestive and more instructive, from which you learn more directly that sublime simplicity which never exaggerates with solemnity, of course, but without sentimentality or affectation; none which you open with such confidence and lay down with such reverence. There is no book like the Bible. "When you get into a controversy and want exactly the right answer, when you are looking for an expression, when there is that close dispute like a verse from the Bible? What is it that sets you the right principle for you, which pleads for a policy, for a cause, so much as the right passage of Holy Scripture?"

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

Dr. Blackburn of Portland portrays the Life and Work of "Father Abraham."

The first lecture of the course which the Village Improvement Club has arranged for the winter, was given as announced, Tuesday evening in the Baptist church, by the Rev. Dr. Blackburn of Portland. A lecture given upon the subject of the nation's hero and idol, would be an interesting one in any event, but it was particularly so, when delivered by a man who has been in touch with his subject, who has been a close observer of the scenes he portrays, and who has so loved the man of whom he tells. There was nothing sensational nor bombastic in Dr. Blackburn's style of delivery, but his direct expression and intense interest held his audience in the closest attention.

The speaker began his lecture with a significant comparison. He told of "the old man of the mountain," the figure of a man chiseled by nature upon a mountain peak of New York; how that the figure cannot be detected, only at a distant point of view. Lincoln stands thus as a peak in a mountain range, viewed in his true light, only from a distant point of view. "No man has been able to catch the true and subtle expression of this man's face. One of the old masters alone would have been capable. Hence a lecture must be a crude attempt, but some additional light may be thrown upon the life of this great character."

The speaker took up in a comprehensive manner, the story of Lincoln's boy-hood, and his struggle to be somebody. The following extracts are given: "Lincoln was known as 'the boy who could write' and was made a sort of amanuensis by his more illiterate friends. His earnestness for books was intense, no distance being too great to walk to secure a volume to read. His playthings consisted of an ax and maul. In all his life he only attended school six weeks. When he made a river trip by flatboat to New Orleans, the love of liberty was born in his heart at the sight of the horrors of negro slavery. While yet a small boy, when a thrifty matron chided him for spending so much time reading and asked what would become of him, he replied, 'Well, I suppose I'll be president, one of these days.'"

Dr. Blackburn was especially successful in showing the serious side of Lincoln's nature, that deep spirit which lay beneath his vein of humor, which the heavy responsibility of his position as president brought to light; how when he left his home for the first inauguration, he stopped the huzzas of admiring friends and made the earnest appeal "Pray for me," how in his secret chamber, on his knees with open Bible before him, he poured out his heart for the salvation of the nation. The speaker very touchingly described the way in which the news of the president's death was received. The feeling of bereavement was universal and at the same time individual. The nation had lost its protector and every citizen, a friend.

Over in Polk county a couple of farmers have engaged in the manufacture of sorghum with flattering results. In this way manufacturing enterprises are built up, and diversity in agriculture is made possible. Besides, their customers will enjoy a wholesome lubricant for their hot-cakes.—Reporter.

The Best Christmas Gift of All.

In choosing a Christmas gift for a friend what can afford more present or lasting pleasure than a subscription to The Youth's Companion? The delight with which it is welcomed on Christmas morning is renewed every week in the year. The charm of it is disclosed little by little as the months run their course. There is no household in which it will not prove an inspiration.

Those who wish to present a year's subscription to a friend may also have the beautiful new Companion Calendar for 1900 sent with it. This Calendar is a reproduction in twelve color printings of three exquisite designs by a celebrated American artist, a member of the American Water-Color Society. In addition to this all the weeks of 1899 are sent free from the time subscription is received for the new volume. Illustrated announcement number containing a full prospectus of the volume for 1900 sent free to any address.

Robbed the Grave. A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters,' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents, guaranteed, C. E. Smith's drug store.

THERE'S SAFETY FOR THE SHIPWRECKED IN HEALTH

Who trust to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures ninety-eight per cent. of all who use it. Old forms of disease, obstinate cough, weak lungs, spitting of blood, weakness and emaciation are perfectly and permanently cured by this powerful remedy.

"My wife had hemorrhage of the lungs," writes W. A. Sanders, Esq., of Horn, Mass. Co., W. Va. "She had ten hemorrhages, and the people all around here said she would never be well again. But she began to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and she soon began to gain strength and flesh. After taking ten bottles she was entirely well. If any one doubts this, they may enclose self-addressed envelope with stamp, and I will answer."

Sick persons are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free of charge. All correspondence strictly private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Sheridan has an amateur theatrical company, which will soon present the drama "Clouds." It will be under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Scroggins. The participants will be Misses Lou and Ivy Ralston, Florence Tyler Smith, Mildred Daugherty, Miss Morris, Mr. P. Wilhelm, Jesse Morris, Henry Price, T. J. Scroggins and M. Mendenhall. The company is made up of bright, energetic people, and is sure to meet with success.—Reporter.

Dr. J. F. Calbreath has retired from active practice in order to have more time to familiarize himself with the duties that will crowd upon him when he assumes the position of superintendent of the state hospital for the insane the first of the year. For twenty-four years Dr. Calbreath has healed the sick and administered pills to the ailing in Yamhill county, and while he does not fear to leave his former patients in the care of Dr. Goucher, he naturally feels sad in bidding them adieu.—Reporter.

"I wouldn't be without DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve for any consideration." Writes Thos. B. Rhodes, Centerville, O. Infallible for piles, cuts, burns and skin diseases. Beware of counterfeits. C. F. Moore & Co.

The McMinnville Fence works has the reputation of having enclosed more land than the state of Oregon contains, and judging from the energy of Mr. Reed, the manager, he will not show signs of weakness in the fencing proposition until he has stretched a network of wires around the earth. His latest enterprise in the matter of ornamental fencing is in evidence around the Masonic cemetery west of McMinnville.—Reporter.

Dr. H. H. Haden, Summit, Ala., says, "I think Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is a splendid medicine. I prescribe it, and my confidence in it grows with continued use." It digests what you eat and quickly cures dyspepsia and indigestion. C. F. Moore & Co.

The flag pole that was planted at Odd Fellows' corner years ago by Ed Fellows, is there no more. Saturday morning during a gentle gale an extra gust of wind broke it off close to the ground and it fell diagonally across the street in a north-easterly direction, fortunately doing no injury further than breaking an electric wire or two. Many had thought the pole solid, but it was nothing but rotten punk.—Transcript.

That Throbbing Headache. Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for Sick and Nervous Headaches. They make pure blood and strong nerves and build up your health. Easy to take. Try them. Only 25 cents. Money back if not cured. Sold by C. E. Smith, druggist.

A number of acts of hoodlumism have been observed lately as being done by the boys of this place. The Indian women of Grand Ronde who come here to trade and patronize our home merchants, are treated by these low vagabonds with insulting epithets and rocks and mud are thrown at them. Boys you had better go slow.—Sheridan Sun.

A Thousand Tongues

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer, of 1125 Howard St., Philadelphia, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this Royal Cure, "I soon removed the pain in my chest and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praises throughout the Universe." So will every one who tries Dr. King's New Discovery for any trouble of the Throat, Chest or Lungs. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. E. Smith's drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

J. D. Bridges, editor "Democrat," Lancaster, N. H. says, "One Minute Cough Cure is the best remedy for croup I ever used." Immediately relieves and cures coughs, colds, croup, asthma, pneumonia, bronchitis, grippe and all throat and lung troubles. It prevents consumption. C. F. Moore & Co.

The average number of scholars in attendance at the Dayton public school, we are informed by Prof. Duncan is 175. There are but few instances of tardiness. The number of scholars enrolled is 190.—Herald.

"I had dyspepsia fifty-seven years and never found permanent relief till I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Now I am well and feel like a new man," writes S. J. Fleming, Murray, Neb. It is the best digester known. Cures all forms of indigestion. Physicians everywhere prescribe it. C. F. Moore & Co.

There is a new teacher at the Bridwell school, Mr. Johnson from Newberg. The former teacher resigned to accept a better position in Eastern Oregon.—Valley Times.

You never know what form of blood poison will follow constipation. Keep the liver clean by using DeWitt's Little Early Risers and you will avoid trouble. They are famous little pills for constipation and liver and bowel troubles. C. F. Moore & Co.

J. C. Cooper is the possessor of a unique watch guard, which his son Paul brought from the Philippines. It is made of silver coins, no one of which is less than one hundred years old, and some of them are more than one hundred and fifty.—Telephone-Register.

Geo. Noland, Rockland, O., says, "My wife had piles forty years. DeWitt's White Hazel Salve cured her. It is the best salve in America." It heals everything and cures all skin diseases. C. F. Moore & Co.

Upon hearing of the nomination of E. A. Nichols for marshal of the city of Dayton, Geo. H. Westerfield, the horse shaver, made a fine policeman's billet and presented it to Mr. Nichols. Evil deeds want to look a little out when E. A. is elected marshal. He will take "no fool."—Herald.

LaGrippe, with its after effects, annually destroys thousands of people. It may be quickly cured by One Minute Cough Cure, the only remedy that produces immediate results in coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, pneumonia and throat and lung troubles. It will prevent consumption. C. F. Moore & Co.

Lieut. J. G. Ballinger has been placed in command of one of the two steam launches, which have recently been built for the revenue service on Puget Sound. He has chosen Friday Harbor for his headquarters, and his principal business is to look out for smugglers. Saturday he sent his father a beautiful walking stick, which the old gentleman prizes very highly.—Telephone-Register.

Dr. W. Wixon, Italy Hill, N. Y., says, "I heartily recommend One Minute Cough Cure. It gave my wife immediate relief in suffocating asthma." Pleasant to take. Never fails to quickly cure all coughs, colds, throat and lung troubles. C. F. Moore & Co.

NEARLY

FIFTY-EIGHT YEARS OLD ! !

It's a long life, but devotion to the true interests and prosperity of the American People has won for it new friends as the years rolled by and the original members of its family passed to their reward, and these admirers are loyal and steadfast today, with faith in its teachings, and confidence in the information which it brings to their homes and firesides. As a natural consequence it enjoys in its old age all the vitality and vigor of youth, strengthened and ripened by the experiences of over half a century.

It is "The New-York Weekly Tribune," acknowledged the country over as the leading National Family Newspaper. Recognizing its value to those who desire all the news of the State and Nation, the publisher of "The Graphic" (your own favorite home paper) has entered into an alliance with "The New-York Weekly Tribune" which enables him to furnish both papers at the trifling cost of $1.50 per year.

Every farmer and every villager owes to himself, to his family, and to the community in which he lives a cordial support of his local newspaper, as it works constantly and untiringly for his interests in every way, brings to his home all the news and happenings of his neighborhood, the doings of his friends, the condition and prospects for different crops, the prices in home markets, and, in fact, is a weekly visitor which should be found in every wide awake, progressive family.

Just think of it! Both these papers for $1.50 a year.
