Signs of Thanksgiving.

Ain a gettin' cool an' coolah,
Frost a comin' in de night,
Hicka'nuts an' wa'nuts fallin',
Possum keepin' out ob sight,
Tu'key struttin' in de bo'n ya'd—
Nary step so proud ez his;
Keep on struttin', Mistah Turkey,
Yo' do' know what time it is.

Cidah press commence a squeakin',
Eetta' apples stow'd away;
Chillen swa'min roun' lak hornets
Huntin' 'algs emong de hay.
Mistah Tu'key keep on gobblin'
At de geese a flyin' souf;
Umph! dat bird do' know what's comin',
Ef he did he'd shet his mouf.

Pumpkin gittin' good and yallah—
Make me open up my eyes;
Seems lak it's a lookin' at me
Jes' laying' dere a sayin' "Pies,"
Tu'key gobbler gwine roun' blowin',
Gwine roun' gibbin' his sass an' slack.
Keep on talkin', Mistah Tu'key,
Yo' ain't seed no almanac.

Fa'mer walkin' thoo de ba'n ya'd
Seein' how things is comin' on,
Sees ef all de fowls is fattenin'—
Good times comin' sho's yo' ba'n.
Heahs dat tu'key gobbler hollin',
Den his face break in a smile;
Nebber mind, yo' sassy rascal,
He's gwine to ask yo' after while.

Choppin' sass in de kitchen,
Stonin' raisins in de hall,
Beef a-cookin' fo de mince meat,
Spices grow'd—I smell 'em all.
Look heah, Tu'key, stop dat gobblin',
Yo' ain't learned de sense ob feah;
Yo' ol' fool, your neck's in dangah!
Don' yo' know Thanksgibbin's heah?

—Farm and Fireside.

Aguinaldo is fast becoming "a man without a country."

Talk is cheap, but talk will not bring that Beet Sugar factory to Newberg. There must be some hard shoulder-to-shoulder work done and Newberg "expects every man to do his duty."

The papers state that Tom Reed has just made his debut in a case before the New York bar. The Athlon autocrat is now a common everyday lawyer with the prospect of oblivion before him. Truly man counts but little here below.

The democrats are looking out for a suitable "running mate" for Bryan next year. What's the matter with Aguinaldo? He is developing new speeding qualities every day and will doubtless be in the "pink of condition" by campaign time.

It seems that Goebel rather overestimated the capacity of his voting machine. In sheer desperation he is fairly hanging on to the safety valve, and the result is likely to be an explosion. And that would prove to be no little affair in Kentucky.

"National honor, national duty and national interests all demand that we should hold the Philippines and give the people of those islands, under American control, the largest measure of local self-government which they are capable of receiving." George W. McBride, Oregon's senior U. S. Senator.

Congressman Tongue has made a good active servant for this whole district and has been untiring in his efforts to promote the welfare of the whole state. And yet, in the face of this fact, just when he has become acquainted with the workings of governmental machinery some say he must come down. We believe Yamhill county has no candidate to supplant him.—Transcript.

Wrong motives for action bring ruin in their train; right motives cannot fail to bring success. Right for right's sake" is the only safe guide for our children, as for ourselves. And it is a sufficient one. Contrary to the accepted idea of many grown people, a child can grasp it. I am not sure but that often a child can grasp this truth much more clearly than an adult, because the youthful mind is less befogged by worldly wisdom.—December Ladies' Home Journal.

Strange to say the Northwest Herald is right for once, when it says that "the result of the election in Nebraska speaks volumes for the Hon. Wm. J. Bryan." The final returns of the Nebraska election show that the fusion victory was a very meagre one, and that, also, after a most desperate personal campaign by Bryan. This fact, in the face of heavy republican gains all over the country, as admitted by leading democratic papers, most certainly does speak volumes. It tells him that he will die such a hard death next year that another political resurrection will be out of the question for him.

The shape which affairs are assuming in the Philippines, shows conclusively that the attitude of this country has been the correct one. There is not and never has been a Filipino nation, "whose cry ascends for human liberty and whose blood is on our hands." There have been only a few half-devil blood thirsty, cut throat tribes of Tagals which merely wished to carry out their natural inclinations toward butchery and rapine. They have been mere tools in the hands of an autocrat who now sees his last card played. With this barbarous element of the Philippines under control, Americanization can enter on another crusade against the results of Spanish ignorance and bigotry.

An exchange says: "A practical woman of this town remarked the other day that she read advertisements in a newspaper more closely than anything else. 'And long ago,' she said, 'I quit buying of those who did not advertise. It seems to me that the merchant who advertises invites me to trade with him, while the one who does not advertise impresses me with the idea that he doesn't care enough for my trade to ask for it. Then, too, I know that the merchant who advertises has fresh goods, for the reason that he sells more."

The above is no fairy tale, invented by some ingenious editor. It's the truth, the whole truth and nothing else. Liberal, but careful advertising, is one of the surest of investments.

Bro. Yates of the Sheridan Sun very effectually administers a quietus to the man of the Record who, with his usual cock-sure presumption, had made out that Mr. Yates was a "legislative patient." The Sun says:

And so, Bro. Pierce, of the Record, has been coquetting with old Dame Rumor. Look out, for she is a sly old jade, and sometimes tells queer stories. Was it not the same old lady that told you that Ohio had elected a democratic legislature, and that the fall elections were a rebuke to the McKinley administration? Just so, and the same parties expect to receive a much larger rebuke, of the same kind, next fall. Now I'll tell you all about that legislative business, 'pon honor, straight and square. There is a number-one, good natured, honest farmer, living up in the Willamina precinct, whose name is El Lamson. He was a member of the last legislature and a good one, too. Well, the people in this part of the country propose to send him back next June, and the Sun is in that gang, too. Much obliged for your good opinion, but don't waste any sympathy or lose any sleep worrying—you can't help the result, anyway.

The Cincinnati Enquirer very truthfully says that the imperialistic movement of the present national administration was birthed by the greed of the country, of which Mr. Hanna is the most prominent representative. The speculators in franchises, in monopolies, in subsidies, are at the bottom of the imperialistic movement. It is backed by men who hate liberty, who hate commercial honesty, who hate the people. It is backed by men who love power, who worship mammon, whose chief aim in life is to gratify their insatiate greed, who are corroded by avarice, who are pitiless in the face of suffering humanity.—Albany Democrat.

This is the most natural view for the Enquirer just at present. Its Editor, John R., is simply working off a little extra spleen collected as a result of his recent defeat for gubernatorial honors. When a man is down on his luck it is quite the proper thing to rail at Hanna. He feels better and Mark never knows the difference. But it does border on the ridiculous to find McLean talking about "men who love power, who worship mammon, whose chief aim in life is to gratify their insatiate greed." One would think that the old man was a regular "golden rule" preserver of the people's liberties.

In the December Ladies' Home Journal "Ian Maclaren" writes on "Should the Old Clergyman be Shot," contending that "short of immorality and unbelief, one cannot imagine a greater hindrance to the energy of the Church than a large proportion of aged and infirm ministers in active duty. For this will mean obsolete theology, the neglect of the young, isolation from the spirit of the day, and endless wrangling. Nothing would more certainly re-enforce the energy of the Church than the compulsory retirement upon satisfactory terms of every minister above the age of sixty. For this would mean not only a reserve of good men upon whom the Church could depend in emergencies, but a perpetual tide of fresh thought. At present, congregations have a grievance against old ministers who think they are young, and old ministers have a grievance against congregations who do not respect age, and between the two arise many scandals and breaches of the peace. When the Church is as well managed as a first-rate business concern, then this standing feud will be healed, and no one will be so much respected and loved in the Christian Church as the faithful minister who has served her in the fullness of his strength and now in the days of his well-earned rest enriches her with his counsel."

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Mr. Roberts, of Utah, has begun to explain, and no man in the country can reckon on a steadier job.—Globe-Democrat.

Vice President Hobart had the genius of common sense and was a natural gentleman. The country will remember him as one whose manhood was without a flaw.—Globe-Democrat.

The Tagalog tagrags are on the run now, in both the Philippines and in America. The expansion of the United States soldiers over there and American patriotism over here is too much for them.—Statesman.

The reviving cheerfulness of the editorial tone of the democratic newspapers is merely a renewed proof of the persistent hopefulness of the human heart and of its power to recuperate in the face of discouragement.—Pioneer Press.

In 1896 the democratic prophecy was that prosperity could not come without free coinage at 16 to 1. Last year the cry was "prosperity cannot last." It reminds one of the sign boards after youthful America is through juggling with them on Hallowe'en night.—Oregon City enterprise.

Who is Mr. Heath, any way?—Salem Independent. Capt. Heath is a man who went to fight for his country's honor, while the editor of the Salem Independent remained at home and, like the Filipinos, fought to drag the Stars and Stripes in the mud.—Woodburn Independent. And now they want Heath to join them as flag-furlers. Think he'll do it?—Hillsboro Independent.

Isn't this high collar craze getting to be something awful? It hasn't as yet, struck our burg a very hard blow, but every day or so some whiskerless gosling of a commercial traveler blows into town with his guzzle encased in a cuff and appears to devote more time endeavoring to perfect a plan to prevent being guillotined by his collar than he does to selling goods. The fool killer must be taking a vacation.—Lind. Washington, Herald.

Mr. Bryan may be sincere in his belief that the United States ought not to hold the Philippine islands. By a painful stretch of the imagination it might be thought that he is still sincere in his advocacy of free silver at 16-to-1. But it is more incredible that he should believe that Goebel was honestly elected governor of Kentucky. Yet he would have Goebel reap the reward of a dishonest and disgraceful success.—Telegram.

The old question is again vexing the treasury department at Washington. That is, the question that is regularly asked when there is a republican administration, under a republican tariff law, namely, "what shall we do with the surplus?" The money is coming into the treasury faster than necessary to pay the running expenses of the government. How different from the regular deficits under democratic rule.—Forest Grove Times.

The promoters of the Dewey home are angry without reason. In the first place it is wrong to make a demi-god of a man for simply doing his duty—a number of men in the humbler walks of life are doing that every day in the year. And it was furthermore in bad taste to shower valuable gifts upon a man who had already been rewarded by the government to the limits of its power to bestow honor and position. It was worse taste for Dewey to accept it and lessened him in the esteem of many of his best fellow citizens who are not now surprised that he should so lightly hold the gift of his most devoted admirers.—Roseburg Review.

Bro. B. F. Alley, of the Baker City Republican, is determined that Harvey Scott must go to the United States senate. That night do if Harvey wern't such a confounded free trader. This case of that disease and does not care to have the dose repeated.—Transcript.

2 Bismarck's Iron Nerve

Was the result of his splendid health. Indomitable will and tremendous energy are not found where Stomach, Liver Kidneys and Bowels are out of order. If you want these qualities and the success they bring, use Dr. King's New Life Pills. They develop every power of brain and body. Only 25 cents at C. E. Smith's drugstore.

Shreds and Patches.

From the Indianapolis Journal.

A stout heart may be ruined in fortune, but not in spirit.—Hugo.

When a woman suffers in silence she is indeed suffering.—Feminine Observer.

When there is a fire in the church, the people will gather about the hearth.—Rim's Horn.

He is a rarely magnanimous man who, when he has injured you, doesn't lay it up against you.—Life.

Self-reverence, self-knowledge, self-control. These three alone lead life to sovereign power.—Tennyson.

The trouble about living a thing down is that it generally means living yourself up.—New York Press.

Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work; if thou hast anything left to do, then call it chores.—Detroit Journal.

About the only thing a woman can't open with a hairpin is an account in one of the department stores.—Philadelphia Times.

When a man is getting married in a church he feels about the same as if he was being stuffed and put in a glass case.—The Bachelor.

A man can always get on the right side of a woman who weighs over a hundred and forty by calling her "little girl."—The Bachelor.

"After all, a rabbit's foot is a somewhat lucky thing to have," remarked the Rabbit modestly, as he outfooted his pursuers.—Detroit Journal.

Come, take that task of yours which you have been hesitating before and shirking and walking around, and on this very day lift it up and do it.—Phillips Brooks.

Did you ever notice that the woman who doesn't borrow trouble generally manages to secure the loan of everything else her neighbor possesses?—Feminine Observer.

2 Volcanic Eruptions

The Jolly Girl

Often changes to the jaded woman. "I can't see what's come over Mary; she used to be such a jolly girl," was the remark of a young woman visiting a married schoolmate. Marriage changes a woman. The drains and pains which are so often the sequence of marriage rob her of all vitality. Give her back her former strength and she'll be as "jolly" a wife as she was a maid. Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription gives back the lost strength by re-establishing the health of the delicate womanly organs. It dries the drains and stops the pains. It cures ulceration, inflammation and female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"For two years I had been a sufferer from chronic diseases and female weakness," writes Mrs. Allen A. Bolson, of 1125 Rodman Street, Philadelphia, Pa. "I had two different doctors, and they gave me medicine which only relieved me for a time. My niece advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I concluded that to write you a correspondence with you for your advice would be the safest, so I did, and have been highly benefited. I find that after taking six bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and five of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and following your advice in regard to local treatment, I am now a strong woman. Accept my sincere thanks for the interest manifested in my case and the happy results obtained."

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. Correspondence private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Starr Bros. are now extensively engaged in the business of raising fine stock. They have a lot of registered stock, among which is a fine short horn bull valued at $200; a billy goat, of the celebrated Landrum flock of Texas; also 20 registered Cotswold ewes, the well known Dr. Withycombe band. As advertised, they last week sold their farm implements, tools, etc. at auction and will now give their attention to the raising of stock. We commend the enterprising spirit and foresight of the young men, and believe that they have taken the right tack, since wheat growing, at present prices, and the condition of the valley land, makes it a losing business to raise wheat.—Herald.

You never know what form of blood poison will follow constipation. Keep the liver clean by using DeWitt's Little Early Risers and you will avoid trouble They are famous little pills for constipation and liver and bowel troubles. C. F. Moore & Co.

Capt. H. L. Heath returned home on Wednesday from his visit to his old home in Michigan. During his absence he gained about eighteen pounds in weight, and it has been remarked that he is assuming congressional proportions.—Reporter.

Geo. Noland, Rockland, O., says, "My wife had piles forty years. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured her. It is the best salve in America." It heals everything and cures all skin diseases. C. F. Moore & Co.

Since the city election a party of men propose going fishing up Salt Creek. J. W. Carey has the boat almost ready for the excursion party and Thos. Hall has the fishing tackle all ready. The party expect to lay in a winter's supply of fish.—Herald.

Dr. W. Wixon, Italy Hill, N. Y., says, "I heartily recommend One Minute Cough Cure. It gave my wife immediate relief in suffocating asthma." Pleasant to take. Never fails to quickly cure all coughs, colds, throat and lung troubles. C. F. Moore & Co.

Geo. A. Wilcox has been assigned to the Independence station in the readjustment of agents on the line of the Southern Pacific railroad. W. Merriman, now of Junction City, will be the new agent at this place. The change will probably be made about the first of December.—Telephone-Register.

"I wouldn't be without DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve for any consideration." Writes Thos. B. Rhodes, Centerfield, O. Infallible for piles, cuts, burns and skin diseases. Beware of counterfeits. C. F. Moore & Co.

S. Howorth has at Dayton several hundred pounds of dried prunes ready for shipment to [illegible] Farrow, Lumb, England. The prunes are samples of what Oregon can produce, and are sent with a view of establishing a trade with that country.—Telephone-Register.

6 Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters shesi wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for ernale diseases quickly cures nervousness sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle working medicine is a godsend to weak, sickly, rundown people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents. Sold by C. E. Smith, druggist.

Mrs. Jas. McCann brought to the Reporter office last Saturday a few branches from a raspberry bush, heavily laden with ripe fruit, which was the second growth this year. Mrs. McCann's little daughter gathered them from the garden on November 17th. Their place is five miles northwest of McMinnville.—Reporter.

J. D. Bridges, editor "Democrat," Lancaster, N. H. says, "One Minute Cough Cure is the best remedy for croup I ever used." Immediately relieves and cures coughs, colds, croup, asthma, pneumonia, bronchitis, grippe and all throat and lung troubles. It prevents consumption. C. F. Moore & Co.

Judge O. E. Denny has shipped six of the Mongolian ring-neck pheasants, which he introduced into Oregon some years ago, to Tennessee. They will be liberated and encouraged to propagate. The pheasants were raised by Miss Griffith, of McCleay, Or., who is an experienced breeder of the birds.—Reporter.

LaGrippe, with its after effects, annually destroys thousands of people. It may be quickly cured by One Minute Cough Cure, the only remedy that produces immediate results in coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, pneumonia and throat and lung troubles. It will prevent consumption. C. F. Moore & Co.

A report of hog cholera was circulated from Dayton recently, and Dr. Minty, stock inspector, went over to investigate. He says it is not cholera, but a disease of the lungs due to the hogs nesting in the chaff of the straw pile until they get overheated and then go out in the cold air to feed, and contract a severe cold. The doctor hoots the idea of cholera, and regrets that such a report should be started to the damage of the county.—Reporter.

"I had dyspepsia fifty-seven years and never found permanent relief till I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Now I am well and feel like a new man," writes S. J. Fleming, Murray, Neb. It is the best digestant known. Cures all forms of indigestion. Physicians everywhere prescribe it. C. F. Moore & Co.

Hon. W. G. Steele of Portland was in the city on Saturday, in the interest of the Oregon Native Son. The membership of this organization is rapidly growing. Eighteen cabins of the sons have been instituted within the past year, with a membership of 1300, and six cabins of native daughters with 400 members.—Reporter.

FIFTY-EIGHT YEARS OLD ! !

It's a long life, but devotion to the true interests and prosperity of the American People has won for it new friends as the years rolled by and the original members of its family passed to their reward, and these admirers are loyal and steadfast today, with faith in its teachings, and confidence in the information which it brings to their homes and firesides.

As a natural consequence it enjoys in its old age all the vitality and vigor of youth, strengthened and ripened by the experiences of over half a century.

It is "The New-York Weekly Tribune," acknowledged the country over as the leading National Family Newspaper.

Recognizing its value to those who desire all the news of the State and Nation, the publisher of "The Graphic" (your own favorite home paper) has entered into an alliance with "The New-York Weekly Tribune" which enables him to furnish both papers at the trifling cost of $1.50 per year.

Every farmer and every villager owes to himself, to his family, and to the community in which he lives a cordial support of his local newspaper, as it works constantly and untiringly for his interests in every way, brings to his home all the news and happenings of his neighborhood, the doings of his friends, the condition and prospects for different crops, the prices in home markets, and, in fact, is a weekly visitor which should be found in every wide awake, progressive family.

Just think of it! Both these papers for $1.50 a year.
