Charley Mitchell writes to his children here that he has returned to Florida where he has taken up land and will begin over again and work "from the ground up." It sounds rather strange to hear of a man taking up government land in one of the oldest states in the Union but it may be that Charley has preempted a Florida swamp and intends engaging in the alligator business.
Miss Maggie McKenzie invited in some of her Chelalem Center friends to spend the evening Wednesday of last week in honor of her friend from Corvallis who spent Christmas with her. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Will C. Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Joe M. Atkinson, Prof. Rollin W. Kirk, and the Messrs Sam W. Atkinson and Ray Carter, the Misses Millie R. The prospects seem bright for the establishment of a beet sugar factory at Newberg, Yamhill county. The McMinnville papers are now afraid that Newberg will be the larger town. We hope that the spirit of jealousy will not prompt the McMinnville people to in any way hinder the establishment of such a prosperity-producing industry as a beet sugar factory would prove to be. McMinnville people should work in harmony with the people of Newberg on this proposition, as it will be of great benefit to both towns.—West Side.
We received the other day a fine holiday edition of the Seattle, Saturday Mail edited by Ed Hampton. It is largely devoted to the interests of Seattle and has some fine cuts and engravings, among others an excellent half-tone photograph of Miss Katharine Glen, as contralto soloist in the First Presbyterian church. The edition is literary as well as advertising, there being an interesting and characteristic story from the pen of Mrs. Ella Higginson one of the most popular writers of the Northwest.
It has been demonstrated repeatedly in every state in the Union and in many foreign countries that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a certain preventive and cure for croup. It has become the universal remedy for that disease. M. V. Fisher of Liberty, W. Va., only repeats what has been said around the Globe when he writes: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family for several years and always with perfect success. We believe that it is not only the best cough remedy, but that it is a sure cure for croup. It has saved the lives of our children a number of times. This remedy is for sale by C. F. Moore & Co.

A COMING LITERARY TREAT.
A Winter Lecture Course by the College Christian Associations.

The people of Newberg and surrounding country will be given in the near future an opportunity of attending a series of lectures given by Pres. Newlin under the auspices of the Christian Associations of the college. The subject of these lectures is "English Lands and Letters." They are six in number and will consist of a description of the country of England, its people, their manners, customs and social conditions of both the past and the present, and more especially of the great literary characters of England. Pres. Newlin traveled extensively throughout England visiting the Lake country and the homes of the Lake poets as well as the old and historic home of Shakespeare, Stratford-on-Avon. He strolled about the old homes and haunts of Southey, Coleridge, Dr. Arnold, Wordsworth and many others studying the old poets and their celebrated works in the light of their home surroundings. One lecture, the last, will be devoted to the growth and rise of Quakerism. He personally visited the old home of George Fox, the founder of the "Society of Friends." It is, perhaps, superfluous to say that the lectures will be interesting.
It is the aim of the Christian Associations in preparing this lecture course, first, to give the people of Newberg an opportunity to learn concerning their old mother country and her great literary men, and second, to raise some money to help carry on their work in the college. All the money received from these lectures be devoted towards the improvement of the college building. Pres. Newlin willingly donates the great amount of time and labor necessary for the preparation and delivery of these lectures. It is the intention of the associations not only to interest those attending but also to instruct, and knowing the ability of Pres. Newlin in this respect success is assured.
The lectures will be somewhat informal in their character and rather in the form of studies. The cause is certainly a worthy one and deserving of the support of the people of Newberg, who in them will be afforded an excellent opportunity of spending in an instructive and entertaining manner an hour each week of these long winter evenings.
The first lecture will be given in the college building on Thursday evening January 18 and one each succeeding week until finished. The price of admission has been placed extremely low and within the reach of all. Tickets for the entire lecture course $1, single ticket 20c. Tickets may be had at the postoffice or Moore's drug store.

lany whose daughter is one of the new students, was present Wednesday morning. Miss Delaney is to be a member of the family at the hall.
Mark Wolf has left the abode of the "nymphs," and taken up his residence at Mr. Edwards'. Little Phil and Joe are also absent this term.
The Jaunta literary society is progressing finely, and already has a larger membership list than the Crescent. By the way, some of the uninitiated wonder just what the name means.
A New Years Wedding.
A quiet and pretty wedding took place on New Years evening at five o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Miles, on Wynooki street, when Miss Florence Cook was married to Will G. Allen, Pres. Thos. Newlin officiating. Only a very few of the nearest relatives were present at the ceremony. After that little arithmetical paradox was performed, a bountiful wedding supper was introduced and visions of bride and angel cakes arose before the eyes of the guests. Visions soon faded before the reality, however, and we can testify to the skill of the fair baker. Although we snatched a glimpse of "we two" we will not risk our reputation on an attempted description of wedding costumes, but suffice it to say, in our humble estimation, everything was lovely.
Mr. and Mrs. Allen have both lived among us from their youth up, and any fitting eulogy pronounced here would be entirely superfluous. Dame gossip pronounces them as an exceptionally attractive and well matched couple and we have no fault to find with her decree, but would rather emphasize it. May their journey together be as prosperous as their wedding day, Jan. 1 1900, was auspicious, saith the Graphic.
The young people left on the boat for Salem Tuesday, where they will make their future home.

Mr. Graham comes highly recommended as a violinist. He is a former student of the Academy of this place under the presidency of Dr. Minthorn. Admission 10c, supper 15c.
