ISSUED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING.

E. H. WOODWARD, EDITOR & PUBLISHER.

W. C. WOODWARD, ASSOCIATE EDITOR.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 19, 1900.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Newberg, Oregon.

The Graphic don't wear glasses at all brother Telephone-Register. Better pull yours off so you can see things as they are.

Yamhill county being the smallest county in the state, with only one or two exceptions, is excelled by only five counties in the amount of her gross taxable property. And Yamhill has no large cities either. This is a silent witness as to our general prosperity and the wealth of our natural resources.

We propose to give the names of all persons whom we hear mentioned as probable candidates for county officers on the republican ticket, so that the voters of the county will have an opportunity to discuss the matter fully before the primaries and express their preference when they elect their delegates.—Plaindealer.

If Douglas county is as richly blessed as we are up this way with loyal citizens willing to serve the people, the Plaindealer won't have any copy to rustle for, the next few months.

The Eugene Guard, in referring to our relations in the Philippines, charges us with a black, national disgrace, in an editorial headed "Our fight against liberty." In the next issue it heads its editorial column with an account of the good government of Guam, one of the Philippine isles, now under our control. It speaks of the abolishment of polygamy, and the prohibition of liquor selling. Yet the Guard makes it out that we are fighting against liberty. It is left to the kind of liberty some people believe in.

One of the most radical anti-expansion papers of Southern Oregon publishes over a column of stuff under the head "The lesson of Lawton's death." The editor needn't have gone to so much trouble for nothing—unless he was very hard up for copy. Lawton himself, said a few words on this point and they burn deeper in the hearts of his countrymen than all the nonsense ever printed by all the anti-expansion organs combined. They were: "If I am shot by a Filipino bullet it might as well come from one of my own men, because I know from observations confirmed by captured prisoners that the continuance of fighting is chiefly due to reports that are sent out from America."

The Roseburg Review gets in some pretty hard hits at a class of business men, which by the way is not confined to Roseburg, which sometimes complains of the burden of "supporting" local newspapers, and gives some hard, cold figures to show that directly and indirectly that for every dollar the business man turns in to the newspaper he gets more than value received. In fact the much vaunted "support" generally goes in the other direction. For while there are those who won't even take the home paper or advertise, they will take a foreign daily or weekly and patronize all kinds of fake advertising schemes. But there's a dreadful howl from the same quarter if some resident makes a purchase of up-to-date goods from the city. At all events, let's be as consistent as the depravity of human nature will allow.

A popular sermon was recently preached in McMinnville by Rev. Lindsay, pastor of the Christian church, on the significant subject, "Those awful newspapers." In commenting upon it, the Reporter gives such a truthful common sense view of the editor's position that we reproduce it in part.

"We kindly take issue with Elder Lindsay on another point. Preachers and editors he said, should never say anything against anybody. Imagine the Oregonian or any other paper of influence following out such a course. How long would it have influence or standing? A Christian or moral life is a warfare against evil and temptation and error, and truth and light must daily combat error and darkness. No properly conducted newspaper is actuated by malice in saying anything against anybody, but it has the noble mission besides giving the news, of making the world better by promulgating the truth and combating false doctrines and practices. We believe we are safe in saying that there never was a popular editor. There are plenty of worthy men who run newspapers, but lack of popularity is part of the business. Editors very seldom run for office; when they do, they are defeated. Horace Greeley was one of the greatest men this country has produced, yet when he ran for the presidency, he was so badly humiliated that he died soon afterward. An editor is not necessarily a mean man because he is unpopular. Every man who runs a newspaper must expect to be unpopular and to be dealt with unjustly by many people. Every newspaper that succeeds, tries to be as fair as possible, but oftentimes the mere narration of news will offend people, and many people will never let you know it, either. This constitutes one of the disagreeable features of the business, and no man is justified in attempting to run a newspaper with the expectation that he will never say anything against anybody. Rather, he should enter the business expecting to be hated, but with a desire to give the least possible just cause for it."

We are glad to be able to congratulate the Editor on the remarks he made on an article entitled (Advice to young people) which came out in this Paper some two weeks ago. Although he had no apology to make for giving space, we are sure from the Bottom of his heart, he is glad to Print so worthy an article. Yet He would prefer that the world would think otherwise. We have shown the article to a number of People of all ages, and without exception if they spoke sincerely they said it was all right and true. Although Amos has been watching the fatal Not, and now from matured years of observation speaks as one having authority, he thinks that he has aright, after seeing so many People of all ages ruined by the fatal Not. Not all Marriages are rung, but we believe only a few are in Gods order because the Preacher tise the Not doent make it any better. Although as we have often herd it said the Marriage Licence covers a multitude of sins. The People are getting to good to look after one of the greatest sins of the world, we believe the time is not far off, when we will look more favorably on these subjects, if the world goes on Deceiving and being Deceived where will it end. We see our Insane asylums and state Prisons filling up, some are drove to insanity by liveing with ungodly companions while others inherit the germ that leads to these or similar affects. So ho will be held responsible for the sins of the world? The young People will unless they have been overpeaded by their Parents or friends. So let us take warning by the article afore mentioned. With these few remarks we will stop for this time. AMOS GRAVES.

E. C. Crewse met with a painful accident early Friday morning. He was going up street before daylight to perform his usual janitor work at one of the banks. A narrow iron front of F. W. Spencer's implement store had fallen or had been placed flat upon the sidewalk, and over this Mr. Crewse fell in the darkness. One tooth of the narrow penetrated his thigh, piercing a large hole to the bone, and producing a wound which has required the best of care to prevent blood poisoning. An ointment made a less serious cut upon his arm. The accident has placed Mr. Crewse off duty for the present, and he is thankful that under the circumstances it did not prove more serious.—Reporter.

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

"I have been thinking of writing to you for some time," writes Mrs. W. D. Benson, of Maxton, Robeson Co., N. C., "to let you know what a wonderful thing Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery did for my little boy. He was taken with indigestion when he was a year and a half old, and he was under the doctor's treatment for five long years. We spent all we made for doctor's bills, and it did no good. He could not eat anything but a little milk and cracker, and sometimes even this would make him sick, and he got very weak; could not sit up all day, and I gave up all hope of his ever getting any better. Looking over one of your books I noticed Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery recommended for indigestion. We bought some and gave to our boy. Two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cured him. He is well as can be, and can eat anything that he wants and it does not hurt him. He has not been sick a day since, and it has been three years since he took your medicine. I pray that God will always bless you and your medicine."

FOR DISEASES OF THE STOMACH, BLOOD, NERVES AND LUNGS

made for constipation. We use no others." Quickly cure all liver and bowel troubles. C. F. Moore & Co.

The new electric lines are being stretched about town, which necessitates clearing out a good many trees. The famous weeping willow in front of the Cooper residence was up for consideration—to cut or not to cut. Mr. Cooper and the boys had voted to cut it down, but after consulting some of the neighbors, they reversed the edict. This fine tree is about the only one of its kind in town. It was planted in 1834 as a small twig, by Mrs. Susan Gaunt, grandmother of Gus, Sam and Henry Gaunt, who formerly lived there. Some of the limbs were lopped off and the wires were run through the top of it.—Reporter.

Rolling Mill Consumption

Seven out of every ten men who work in rolling mills, iron foundries and glass factories die of consumption. You know how early in life these men pass away. The initial symptom is a nagging, persistent cough—sometimes short and hacking, sometimes hard and dry. The patient grows weaker and thinner day by day. Death eventually comes. The trouble comes from intense heat and the constant inhaling of the fine particles of dust and iron that fill the air. These particles, under a microscope, show jagged, sharp edges, which tear and mutilate the delicate lining of the throat and lungs. Perpetual sores are thus formed, and here it is that the germ of consumption finds a place to feed and multiply. Acker's English Remedy was discovered in England, and is the only cure in the world for Rolling Mill Consumption. It breaks up the sores, strengthens the mucous membranes of the breathing organs, permanently cures the cough, builds up the constitution and imparts vigor to the whole system. It must either cure it or cost you nothing. One bottle does wonders. Try it. What it has done for so many others it will also do for you and your loved ones.

Sold at 25c, 50c, and $1 a bottle throughout the United States and Canada; and in England at 1s, 2s, 3s, 4s, if you are not satisfied after buying, return the bottle to your druggist, and get your money back. For Sale by C. E. Smith, Newberg, Ore.

NEARLY FIFTY-EIGHT YEARS OLD ! !

It's a long life, but devotion to the true interests and prosperity of the American People has won for it new friends as the years rolled by and the original members of its family passed to their reward, and these admirers are loyal and steadfast today, with faith in its teachings, and confidence in the information which it brings to their homes and firesides.

As a natural consequence it enjoys in its old age all the vitality and vigor of youth, strengthened and ripened by the experiences of over half a century. It is "The New-York Weekly Tribune," acknowledged the country over as the leading National Family Newspaper. Recognizing its value to those who desire all the news of the State and Nation, the publisher of "The Graphic" (your own favorite home paper) has entered into an alliance with "The New-York Weekly Tribune" which enables him to furnish both papers at the trifling cost of $1.50 per year.

Every farmer and every villager owes to himself, to his family, and to the community in which he lives a cordial support of his local newspaper, as it works constantly and untiringly for his interests in every way, brings to his home all the news and happenings of his neighborhood, the doings of his friends, the condition and prospects for different crops, the prices in home markets, and, in fact, is a weekly visitor which should be found in every wide awake, progressive family. Just think of it! Both these papers for $1.50 a year. Send all subscriptions to The Graphic, Newberg, Oregon.
