E. A. Alderman of Dayton, republican nominee for sheriff, accompanied by T. B. Caughlin of LaFayette, was in town Monday. Mr. Alderman bears an excellent reputation as a straight, sound business man, and will give the county a good administration as sheriff.

Mark Wolf wheeled up to Perrydale Friday evening and spent Saturday and Sunday at home. He started back Sunday evening just as it began raining, thinking it would be but a light shower, but had reason to change his forecast some time before he got in, leading his wheel and wading Oregon spring mud.

Jesse Hobson arrived home from Sumpter last Saturday and remained a few days on account of the illness of his daughter Hazel. He seems to be highly pleased with their business at Sumpter and thinks there is a great future before that mining district. He says J. W. Vaughan has been at Sumpter for some time and beside being busily engaged at work in town he has located a mining claim.

We knew we were getting to the front alright lately, but we hadn't quite seen ourselves as others evidently have. A lady on the down train Monday morning disembarked at the station here with all her baggage and when informed by conductor Tommy that this was not her destination, incredulously asked "Isn't this Portland?" There will be more mistakes like that and room for them when we get that beet sugar factory.

Dave Jones has the frame up for a store building on First street west of the Dr. McConnell property. Dave may put in a stock of groceries and run a store on his own account and then again he may conclude to rent the building to some one else and use his money to pay for a marriage license and in fitting up a home in town. You can't always figure to a certainty on just what these young fellows will do.

Kev. Frank Moore who has been attending a Methodist theological school in New Jersey for the past two years or more, was in town the first of the week visiting with his relatives. For the present he will take charge of the M. E. church work at Forest Grove. He said he had enjoyed the work in school but the New Jersey climate proved to be so treacherous that he and his wife were glad to be back in Oregon again.

The city council is making preparations for having a great deal of gravel put on the streets this summer, each property owner to pay for the same part his property. The streets to be gravelled will be as follows, as suggested at present by the street committee: First street, from the east to the west limits; River street, from First, to south limits; Wynoski street, from River to meet gravel already placed; Meridian street, from First to north limits; Dayton road, from First to conjunction with Main; Main street, from south limits to Pettyjohn's, thence west to town limits.

It was quite a surprising item of news that came from the county seat yesterday, that N. E. Kegg, the groceryman, had been adjudged insane and sent to the asylum. And yet it should surprise no one familiar with his career for some time past. A man of good intellectual endowments—above the average, probably—yet he was so unbalanced as to periodically give himself over to the demon of intoxication. The law is slow to interfere with the personal rights of an individual, even in a benevolent way, but it would be better if it took cognizance more frequently and more promptly of cases similar to this one. It is an erroneous public sentiment that treats drunkenness as a vice under all circumstances.—Sheridan Sun.

All the obstacles in the way of changing the road at Chehalis creek west of town have been removed by making settlement with the parties claiming damages, and the coast is now clear for putting in the new bridge. It is expected that a large amount of wood will be brought into town over this road during the fall months.

I consider it not only a pleasure but a duty I owe to my neighbors to tell about the wonderful cure effected in my case by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I was taken very badly with flux and procured a bottle of this remedy. A few doses of it effected a permanent cure. I take pleasure in recommending it to others suffering from that dreadful disease.—J. W. Lynch, Dorr, Va. This remedy is sold by C. F. Moore & Co., druggists.

Chas. E. Comstock who has been working life insurance in the Rogne river valley for several months was in town Wednesday. He came out from Indiana last season after having served in the Cuban war, and stopped for some time with his father at Dundee. He was then pretty well used up with rheumatism contracted at Havana, but our Oregon climate has brought him out and he looks so hale and hearty that his Yamhill friends hardly knew him on his return from the South.

O. K. Edwards, secretary of the Newberg pressed brick company, was in the city Monday on business. The company ships forty or fifty carloads of clay at this point annually for use at their factory, but the shipments will likely exceed that amount this season. About one car a day will be the output when the work gets fairly under way. The quarry is just above Willamina, and in the opinion of Mr. Edwards it is the most valuable clay bank in Oregon, being of a variety known as potter's clay, and is used for mixing with other kinds.—Sheridan Sun.

The census enumerators for the different districts of Yamhill county have all been appointed, and the complete list is as follows: City of McMinnville Wyatt Harris; North McMinnville and Baker Creek, J. For some time, Dr. H. J. Littlefield has been wanting to take an extended vacation, and now the way has opened for one which will certainly "pay" him from all points of view. He has received the appointment of acting assistant surgeon on the U. S. revenue cutter Peery, which will probably start about June 1 on a six months cruise in the northern waters of the Behring Sea fisheries. In addition to the enjoyment of the trip and the recuperation which he will doubtless experience, a salary of one hundred and fifty dollars a month is an interesting item. Doc has been up in Seattle the past week, where the Peery is in harbor, moving his medicines, and making arrangements for the trip.

Beet sugar mass meetings, under the auspices of the Newberg Development Company, are being held across the river the latter part of this week. Grisen of McMinnville is the principal speaker at these meetings.

The Lower Willamette College Teachers Association, comprising Pacific University, Pacific College, Portland Academy and St. Helens Hall, held its annual meeting at the college here last Friday evening. Sixteen delegates from away were present and were entertained by the college faculty here. An interesting educational session was held at which some excellent papers were read. Following this a banquet was given in honor of the visitors.

The ancients believed that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man. Any one who has had an attack of sciatic or inflammatory rheumatism will agree that the infliction is demonic enough to warrant the belief. It has never been claimed that Chamberlain's Pain Balm would cast demons, but it will cure rheumatism, and hundreds bear testimony to the truth of this statement. One application relieves the pain, and this quick relief which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by C. F. Moore & Co., druggists.

LAGRANDE HEARD FROM. The solicitors, in canvassing for sugar beet acreage, have been met from time to time with the statement that the industry has proved a failure at LaGrande. In order to effectually refute this erroneous idea, the Newberg Development Company sent Clarence Butt up there last week to make a personal investigation and report the actual conditions. Mr. Butt fulfilled his mission carefully and conscientiously and finds that while there was some dissatisfaction the first year, the planters made good money last year, some thirty dollars to the acre, and are now enthusiastic over prospects and see a bright future before them. The following personal letters speak for themselves:

LaGrande, Ore., May 4 1900. Newberg Development Co., Newberg, Ore. Gentlemen: I am requested by Hon. Clarence Butt to state my experience in growing sugar beets. During the season of 1898 I planted 100 acres but on account of the impossibility to get sufficient help to cultivate the growing crop, I, in common with most of our farmers, experienced a loss. Last year (1899) I planted 60 acres 8 miles from the factory. I live in town and had to hire everything done by others and could not be present to personally oversee the work. Everything from the plowing of the ground to the delivery at the factory was done by hired help and my net profit was somewhat over $300 on the crop. From this I conclude that the business is surely profitable to the man who can do much of the work with his own family. It is a new industry that furnishes employment to the younger members of the family who would probably not be earning anything except for this industry. Our farmers generally did not have their ground in proper condition the first year. This is a mistake usually made when a factory is started. Our farmers were generally satisfied with their results the second year, and the outlook is very encouraging for this year. The first year there were about 3500 acres planted but much of it was not harvested. The main trouble being on account of a lack of labor to thin and weed the crop, resulting in partial failure. There were but little over 3000 tons delivered at factory that year. Last year the best average about seven tons to the acre, though some pieces of ground raised twenty and some even thirty tons to the acre, but the last figures are phenomenal and can not be expected. In Lehi, Utah, which commenced the business in 1891 their first year was as bad as ours, their second year not so good as ours, and now they average about 15 tons to the acre. I think we will do fully as well as they after a few years experience.

Yours Truly, CLARENCE BUTT, LaGrande, Ore., May 4 1900. Newberg Development Co., Newberg, Ore. Gentlemen: I have made a success of raising sugar beets, and am very well satisfied with the results. Last year I cultivated and raised 240 acres of sugar beets. It cost me $25 per acre to produce and deliver the beets. I raised 8 1/2 tons per acre and received $42 per ton. It was the first year beets had been grown on the land. The per cent of sugar in beets run from 12 to 18 per cent. The greatest number of men employed at any one time was 104. I commenced to plant on the 17th of April and finished yesterday. Last year I commenced on the 19th of April and finished on the 10th of May, and commenced harvesting on the 22nd of Sept. Last year I sowed 14 pounds to the acre and this year I planted 10 pounds I paid from 60c to $1 per day and board for my help.
