Unanimous Choice of Kansas City Convention.

ON A FREE COINAGE PLATFORM

BRYAN IS NOMINATED

Webster Davis Arraigns the Republican Party for Lack of Sympathy for the Boers.

Kansas City, July 6.—William J. Bryan, of Nebraska, was tonight unanimously placed in nomination as the Democratic candidate for president of the United States, on a platform opposing imperialism, militarism and trusts, and specifically declaring for the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16

The nomination came as the culmina tion of a frenzied demonstration in honor of the party leader, lasting 27 minutes, and giving utterance to all the pent-up emotions of the vast multitude. It followed also a fierce struggle throughout the last 36 hours con cerning the platform declaration on silver and on the relative position which the silver question is to main-tain to the other great issues of the day.

It was late this afternoon when the convention was at last face to face with in the day there had been tedious de lays, due to the inabitity of the plat-pture on questions of principle and the way clear for the supreme vent of the day-the nomination of the residential candidate.

The vast auditorium was filled to its atmost capacity when the moment arrived for the nomination to be made Not only were the usual facilities af forded by tickets taxed to the utmost but the doorkeepers were given liberal instructions, under which the aisles and areas and all available spaces were packed to their fullest limit. When the call of states began for the purpose of placing candidates in nomination Alabama yielded its place at the head of the list to Nebraska, and Oldham, of that state, made his way to the platform for the initial speech, placing Mr. Bryan in nomination for the presidency. The orator was strong-voice and entertaining, yet to the waiting delegates and spectators there was but one point to his speech, and that was the stirring peroration which closed with the name of William J. Bryan.

This was the signal for the demon tration of the day, and with a common purpose, the great conourse joined tribute of enthusiastic devotion to the party leader. All of the intensity of former demonstrations and much more was Aided to this final tribute to gold dust, valued at nearly $800,000. When the demonstration had spene itself, the speeches seconding the nomination of Mr. Bryan were in order. Then came the voting. State after state recorded its vote in behalf of the Nebraska candidate, giving him the unanimous vote of all the states and territories. The convention managers had already agreed that this was sufficient work for the day, and the vicepresidential nomination was allowed go over until tomorrow.

Next to the demonstration for the party candidate, the greeting of the uncement that imperialism was to be the paramount issue of this campaign was the most spontaneous and significant of the day.

Another stirring event of the day was the appearance of Webster Davis, ex-assistant secretary of the interior under McKinley's administration, in speech severely arraigning the Republican party for its lack of sympathy for the Boers and formally announcing his allegiance to the Democratic party.

We, the representatives of the Demo cratic party of the United States, assembled in national convention on the anniversary of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence, do reaffirm our faith in that immortal proclamation of the inalienable rights of Americans and our allegiance to the constitution framed in harmony therewith by the fathers of the republic. We hold with the United States supreme court that the Declaration of Independence is the spirit of our government, of which the constitution is the form and letter. We declare again that all governments instituted among men derive their just powers from the consent of the governed; that any goverument not based upon the consent of the governed is tyranny; and that to impose upon any people a government of force is to substitute the methods of imperialism for those of the republic.

Believing in these fundamental principles, we denounce the Puerto Rican law enacted by a Republican congress, against the protest and opposition of the Democratic minority, as a bold and open violation of the nation's organic law and a flagrant breach of the national good faith.

the Cause of the Accident One Passenger Was Saved.

Cleveland, O., July 10 .- The schooner yacht Idler was lost in a terrific storm 16 miles off this port this afternoon, with six persons, all members of the family of James Corrigan, wealthy vessel-owner of this city.

Mrs. John Corrigan was the only passenger aboard who was saved. C. II. Holmes, the captain; Samuel Biggam, the mate; four sailors, two cooks and the ship's carpenter were also saved. The yacht left Port Huron yesterday with the family of Mr Corrigan aboard and started to Cleveland. Mr. Corrigan was ill, and left by the train. At 2 o'clock the storm came up, and inside of five minutes the yacht sank. All the women, except Mrs. John Corrigan and Miss Etta Corrigan, were in the cabin when the gale came up. They became panic stricken, and refused to leave the place. The men implored them to come to the deck, but they refused. Mrs. John Corrigan clung to a cork sofa when the gale came, and was saved. When rescued, Biggam said: "It was about 2:05 when the squall struck us. The yacht laid down on har beam ends, and the water rushed through the deadlights and companionways, and in three minutes she sank. Mrs. James Cerrigan, Miss Ida Corrigan, Miss Jane Corrigan, Mrs. Charles Reilly and the infant daughter of Mrs. Reilly were all in the saloon below when the storm came on us. Captain Holmes gave me orders to take in sail, and I transmitted the order to the men. They obeyed quickly. The captain, myself and the crew made efforts to save the women, but without success. We told them the yacht was sinking, but they could not or would not come on deck. I waded into the saloon when the water was up to my neck, but Mrs. James Corrigan would not come out. She may have been rendered incapable of action by fear and knowledge of the impending doom. An effort was made to take the infant daughter of Mrs. Reilly out, but Mrs. Reilly would not let the child go.

"It was realized that nothing could be done to save those in the cabin, and attention was turned to saving those on deck. The latter, outside of the captain, mate and crew, were Mrs. John Corrigan and her daughter, Miss Etta tried to get Mrs. Corrigan and her daughter up on the cross-trees in the rigging, but the heavy sea washed

"For God's sake, Mrs. Corrigan, you and your daughter keep a tight hold on the rigging," we called to them. 'Even as we yelled the sea swept them and us overboard. Fortunately, Mrs. Corrigan had succeeded in taking hold of a cork lounge. She clung to it and

According to the testimony of several sailors, the topsail, mainsail and jib were all set when the storm came up. This is denied by Biggam, who declares that they were in good condition to gan declared tonight that good seamanship could have averted tragedy. He is almost frenzied with grief. The Idler was a staunch schooner yacht, which Captain Corrigan recently purchased from John Cu Chicago. The survivors of the wreck were picked up by tugs a few minutes after the accident and brought into this port.

Pittsburg, July 10 .- Stewart Burns, of Engine Company No. 4, who was taken out of the wrecked Evans building last night, died at an early hour this morning, making the list of dead number five. Captain Dan Campbell, also of No. 4, who was thought last night to have suffered the least injury of any of those buried, is tonight in a very critical condition, suffering internally. The physicians considered his chances of recovery very slight. The other injured men are getting alo in saying that their rescue was little short of miraculous. None expected to be taken out alive.
