Matrimonial. Mr. Claud B. Cummings and Miss Leona Sims were married at their home over near the College, at 8 o'clock Monday evening, September 3, 1900.

Rev. J. F. Day, pastor of the Baptist Church officiating. The immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present and enjoyed a social evening in the new home. Mr. Cummings is to be commended for his energy and taste in building and furnishing for himself such a pleasant home. We join their many friends in extending congratulations.

J. F. Day. The Graphic also wishes to join in shaking hands with the two energetic young people, and we suggest to their friends who have so often hazarded their reputation on prophesying the event, that the only way to get even now is by an unusually hard grip. Claud is a hustling young carpenter who can nail more shingles to a roof than any man in town, and his helpmeet is one of Newbergs most estimable young ladies. Success to them.

At 11:30 A. M. on Tuesday, September 4, at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Tronp, 468 East Oak street, Portland, Oregon, Mr. W. F. Edwards and Miss Fannie Dargin were united in marriage, Dr. Edgar P. Hill, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiating. The wedding was a very quiet one, twenty three guests being present, comprising only relatives and immediate friends. Though quiet, it was nevertheless a very beautiful one, the rooms being tastefully decorated with carnations, sweet peas, wild clematis and a variety of graceful ferns. The bride, dressed in white chiffon, carried a large bouquet of carnations. The groom wore the regulation sabel. After the ceremony a delightful lunch was served on tables for four.

The groom is a Newberg son by "early" adoption having arrived in old Yamhill just twenty years ago yesterday, September 6. He graduated here in Pacific College in the class of '95, and has since been fitting himself for a business career. He is now the junior member of a general hardware mercantile firm in Portland. W. F. has always been "a lad o' pairts," reliable, industrious and full of energy and push, with good staying qualities. The bride is a highly respected young lady of the metropolis, and though not very intimately known in Newberg, she has made a very good impression here in the course of several short visits. The couple's many friends wish them much happiness and prosperity in their new relationship.
