Local Events.

The republicans of Newberg have been fortunate enough to secure the Hon. John Barrett, ex-minister to Siam, to give a political address here in Crater's hall, on Monday evening just before election. Mr. Barrett's practical knowledge, by personal observation, of conditions in the Philippines has given him a national reputation as an authority on far Eastern affairs, and a town of the size of Newberg rarely has the opportunity of listening to a man of such prominence.

The oratorical work at Pacific College is on the boom. Four regular classes in elocution and oratory meet each week and Prof Kelsey reports that the students are working faithfully and progressing beyond expectations. The orations are already being handed in and class contests will soon be the order of the day.

One of the most dignified political addresses ever given in Yamhill county was delivered here for the republicans on Thursday night of last week by Judge Stephen A. Lowell of Pendleton. The address was more from the standpoint of a patriot than from a politician, and was singularly free from that rabid partisanship which generally characterizes such speeches. He spoke of principles rather than parties, and stooped to beseech no one, not even Bryan. He spoke briefly of all the issues of the campaign, but dealt largely with our problems of expansion. He said the Cuban war called forth a new crusade—the young men of a grand republic marching to the aid of another nation. The issue is still before us in the Philippines, and is national progress against national decay. Judge Lowell traced the history of the Philippine question and proved conclusively that the republicans are right in their policy of giving the Filipino the largest measure of liberty, under American sovereignty, of which he is capable.

As far as observed, the Halloween sprites were quite conservative in their depredations Wednesday night, the young and festive "tick tacker" being most in evidence. Some of the boys who turned out for a good time were marched to the city jail by the marshal, where the atmosphere seemed to exert such a quiescent effect that all Halloween enthusiasm was quickly changed to a unanimous desire to get home as soon as possible, after having willingly repaired all damage done. On the whole the most satisfactory celebration of the evening.

The prohibitionists held a political meeting in Crater's hall Tuesday evening which was addressed by Rev. Huber Ferguson of Portland. Oscar Cox the prohibition nominee for representative from Multnomah county, was present and opened the meeting with a short address, setting forth prohibition as the paramount issue from an economic standpoint. The theme of Rev. Ferguson's address was "The truest patriotism," and in our estimation he delivered one of the best addresses ever given in Newberg from this political standpoint. He is a very pleasant appearing, earnest young man who speaks with force and persuasiveness. He emphasized the difference between the practical reformer and the idealist reformer, holding up the latter as the criterion of the prohibition party in its efforts toward suppressing the saloon.

D. H. Turner gladdened the hearts of his family Monday evening by returning home from the Nome gold fields, after an absence of several months. He has a prosperous appearance, says he had a good time and seems to have fared well on his northern trip. He did very little mining himself, though he exhibits some interesting specimens of the yellow metal which he panned out on the beach. Mr. Turner has been employed as clerk in the Nome postoffice, and relates some interesting facts in regard to the work of the postal department there. As mail was not received very regularly, it came sometimes in an avalanche. On one steamer 95 sacks of mail were received and before they could get it all distributed, two more steamers came, each bringing a like amount, and it was a week before they got it all taken care of. On one day the money order business transacted amounted to $13,902, which speaks well even for a mining camp. Mr. Turner, contrary to some returned miners, still thinks Nome a success, and intends now to return when transportation opens up in the Spring.

E. H. WOODWARD, P. M.

We have all heard and read of Hon. John Barrett continuously for the past two years, and now we will have a chance to hear him on the eve of election, and learn first hand of conditions in the Philippines.

Hon. Clarence Butt and Prof J. C. Hodson went to Dundee Wednesday evening and addressed a political meeting—From a republican standpoint, needless to say. They report a good audience and much interest.

In a football scrimmage on the college grounds last Wednesday evening, Carl Rinehart was thrown in such a way that his left arm was fractured just above the wrist. Dr. Hutchinson reduced the fracture, and though the wound was quite painful, it is not considered a very serious one.

We have a "candidate" card at hand bearing an excellent likeness of an old Newberg boy, opposite which reads "E. L. Hampton, democratic candidate for representative, 42nd district." This is one of the Seattle, Washington, legislative districts, and we understand that Ed has a fair show of election.

A very pleasant and appropriate Halloween party was given Wednesday evening by the Misses Gertrude and May Lamb at their home on Meridian street. The latter had invited a bevy of lady friends to spend the evening with her, and the former, without the knowledge of the rest, invited a like number of the sterner sex, whose sudden appearance on the scene caused something of a sensation. Lively games, "Jack lanterns" and pumpkin pie caused the evening to pass quickly and pleasantly.

In Memory of Abram Morris.

By HIS GRANDDAUGHTER, LILLIAN HEACOCK.

God summoned and he went,
His tolling here is o'er,
Awards him on that shore,
His stay on earth was filled
With deeds of love and truth:
Giving courage to the aged,
And inspiration to the youth.

He walked the narrow path
His Saviour dearest had trod
In showing men the way
To the heavenly courts of God.
True fellowship with saints
Was e'er a chief delight,
He both received and gave
Great gleams of heavenly light.

He had a great desire
That strife and war might cease;
That in the hearts of men
Should reign eternal peace.
God's precepts, kind and just,
Were hidden in his heart,
From the teachings of the Word,
He never wished to part.

But e'er with purpose firm,
He pressed to ward the goal
Which marks the landing place
In the country of the soul.
Now he has won the prize,
And with the Blessed above
Continues in the great
Of God's most perfect love.

THE AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS

THE "NECESSARY" MAGAZINE

The best-informed men and women in the world use the AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS to keep well informed, and call it the "necessary" and "indispensable" magazine. In the busy rush of to-day ambitious men and women must know about the important questions of the month, and not only this, they want to know about them at the right time. When the whole country is puzzled over the gigantic combination of trusts, a well-informed article is printed in the AMERICAN MONTHLY, giving the facts, and its editor discusses the theory; when the Dreyfus affair is in everyone's mouth, the best story of Dreyfus and the great case comes out in this magazine.

Every month, in "The Progress of the World," Dr. Albert Shaw gives a comprehensive picture of the world's history during the previous thirty days. In the departments, the valuable articles and books that have been published during the past month are reviewed and quoted from, so that the readers of the AMERICAN MONTHLY can get the gist of them. In every issue nearly a hundred pictures are printed, including the portraits of the men and women who are making the history of the month.

To be thoroughly well informed helps any man or woman in his or her work. A subscription to the AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS represents an investment for the best kind of profit, as well as entertainment. One subscriber has just written: "Count me a life subscriber, and when you send me a number beyond the limit of my subscription and secure no renewal from me, consider it a notice of my death."

Price 25 cents per number, $3.50 a year.
A sample copy will be sent on receipt of ten cents in stamps.
