

You Have it—THE BENEFIT OF Our annual CLEARANCE SALE

From the 28th inst. until the 28th of January everything in our stock of DRY GOODS and SHOE Department goes at 10 per cent discount, (except oilcloth, rubber goods, unbleached muslin carpet-warp and thread). We would not profit by selling you what you do not want. Our stock is much too large in some lines for invoice, and it is on account of this we offer you 10 per cent. on our already low prices. This discount in our SHOE and CLOTHING means from 20 to 25 per cent cheaper than any other place in this county.

Many articles in NOTIONS, HOSIERY, UNDERWEAR and LADIES WRAPS will be sold regardless of price.

Cash only will buy goods sold at discount

During this Sale we will take your produce as usual at the highest market price. Free delivery to all parts of the city.

Yours for lowest prices,

SUTTON CALKINS & CO.

As to our Grocery Department we have the freshest and purest goods that money can buy. This stock is also too large to invoice and must be reduced this month. Notice some of our prices below:

Mrs. Norris Tibado, who has been living for some time with her brother in Pendleton, came down several days ago and has been visiting in town.

Farmers I want your eggs. I will give cash for them. Egg packers furnished free to those wishing them. C. B. Wilson.

Chas. Rees has traded his small place out northeast of town for a farm of one hundred and fifteen acres near Ballston. He traded with John Conley, father of Benne Conley, and the exchange of places will be made soon we understand.

Sam Atkinson went down to Portland Tuesday morning and took in the big poultry show. He captured first prize on some turkeys he exhibited and of course J. L. Hoskins came out decidedly ahead with his black Minorcas. C. E. Newhouse of Springbrook also exhibited some prize winning poultry.

Last August J. G. Hadley took the civil service examination in Portland, and out of over sixty competitors ranked well up toward the lead, placing him high upon the eligible list. He had heard nothing of it since, until within the last few days, he received an appointment as mail carrier on one of the Portland routes. He does not know when he will be called upon for service, but will hold himself ready to respond at any time, and in the meantime will inspect some of the Portland routes with a view of becoming somewhat acquainted with his new field. Jo is fully competent and will give the government efficient service.

Mr. K. C. Eldridge, our creameryman, understands his business and is pushing it all he can. Of course this is a bad time of year to add to creamery business, but he tells the West Side that he is gradually getting more milk and cream and is in a position to handle all that comes. He expects that when spring opens and new cows come in he will be able to handle plenty to do; but being used to work and lots of it, he is willing to exert himself to the utmost. Mr. Eldridge is now in correspondence with George Vanderbilt, the rich owner of a Baltimore farm in North Carolina, in regard to securing some of Mr. Vanderbilt's choice calves. Farmers and dairymen desiring to improve their herds, would do well to see Mr. Eldridge in this matter. He is posted.—West Side.

The republican caucus held in Crater's hall Tuesday evening for the nomination of city officers was well attended. J. C. Hodson called the meeting to order when M. J. Jones was elected chairman and Frank Storey secretary. The ballot for nomination of mayor resulted in a sharp contest between G. C. Carl and Clarence Edwards, the former winning by a vote of 33-32. Mr. Carl's politics being called in question, the chairman asked him to declare himself, and the nominee responded that he belonged to no party, but always stood for what was right and honorable. This caused a slight demur, but it was held by Dr. H. J. Littlefield, and was warmly supported that the gentleman could not more strongly have declared himself a republican than by his own statement, and the nomination was allowed to stand. For recorder, a little contest was precipitated between Ore Price and Joseph Wilson, the latter being re-nominated by a vote of 49-29. The nominations for councilmen were made as follows: Wm. Stratton, First ward; C. K. Spaulding, Second ward; W. W. Hollingsworth, for two year, and Seth Mills for one year term in Third ward.

The city council appropriated $100 for the hook and ladder company Monday night for the purchase of necessary equipment in the way of a cart, ladders, buckets etc.

There have been two or three cases of scarlet fever up the valley in the family of Chas. Jensen. Dr. Harry Littlefield has had them in hand and announces the patients on the road to recovery.

S. M. Calkins, city treasurer informs us that the financial condition of Newberg is better now than it has been for years. For a while after the city water system was put in, the receipts did not pay the interest on the indebtedness, while now the interest is being paid with something left to apply on the principal. This is the kind of recommendation for a town which cannot be called in question.

It will probably be an item of interest to our readers to know the increase to the city in the receipts from water rents since our water system was put in. In 1898 the receipts amounted to $841.83, in 1899 to $1161.70, and in eleven months of 1900 to $1416.05. When this month's receipts are in, they will show an increase of nearly 100 per cent. in two years.

Sore and swollen joints, sharp, shooting pains, torturing muscles, no rest, no sleep. That means rheumatism. It is a stubborn disease to fight but Chamberlain's Pain Balm has conquered it thousands of times. It will do so whenever the opportunity is offered. Try it. One application relieves the pain. For sale by C. F. Moore & Co. druggists.

At the regular meeting of the city council Monday evening, the fire and water committee reported in favor of the construction of the new reservoir, the dimensions to be, length 50 feet, width 39 feet, and height 11 feet, giving the reservoir a capacity of 125,000 gallons. The committee was ordered to draw up plans and specifications and present them at the next meeting.

Mrs. H. R. Morris was taken sick about a week ago, and it was thought for a while that it was only a severe affection of the throat, to which she is subject, but by the first of the week a good case of diphtheria was developed, and the Morris dwelling quarantined. While quite sick, Mrs. Morris' condition is not considered critical by the doctor, and it is hoped that she will soon recover. The disease was probably contracted at Baker City where the patient had been visiting for some time.

The city fathers feel that too much is asked of them when they are expected to give their care and attention to managing the business of the city without any remuneration. They have therefore voted that the sum of one dollar be allowed to each councilman for attendance at every regular meeting, which occurs once a month. They have also voted that one dollar be allowed each clerk and judge for service on the election board, the charter now providing that at each election the hold-over councilmen shall serve as judges without any remuneration. These changes will necessitate a change in the city charter, and the matter has been turned over to Clarence Butt to bring up before the legislature. If the laborer is worthy of his hire, the councilmen are certainly worthy of the modest sum which they have voted in their favor.

Patronize Newberg's harness shop, the best in the county; all hand work and best of leather used.

The best offer ever made in real estate in this vicinity, is 157 acres at $6 per acre, 5 miles northwest of Newberg. See A. P. Oliver.

Rev. Geo. E. Varney of Portland, new state Baptist missionary, will preach here in the Baptist church Sunday morning and will begin a week of special religious services.

The Price boys received word Wednesday from LaGrande that Ab Hill was down with what the doctors pronounced a clear case of appendicitis. It had not been decided whether or not an operation would be necessary.

A. M. Mauritzon, formerly of Newberg, who has been running a fish and poultry market at Dallas for some months was in town the first of the week. He has just lately sold out his business in Polk's county seat and is now looking for a new location.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of Newberg held on last Monday the same board of directors was re-elected for the coming year. The statement of the cashier showing the business of the bank at the close of business on December 29 will appear in the Graphic next week. This statement is highly satisfactory to the stockholders and the attention of the public is called to it.

President McGrew left for his eastern trip yesterday morning to seek aid toward lifting the $12,000 debt from the college. His program of procedure was not definitely made, but it is probable that after a short stop in Iowa he will proceed to Richmond, Indiana, there to consult with Allen Jay and if possible to secure his company for a week's work in Philadelphia, after which he will work back west. He goes bravely in a noble cause, and the best wishes and earnest prayers for success follow him from here. His work in school has been divided among the other teachers, Prof. Morrison serving as president in his absence.

It is seldom that a public meeting is held to consider the interests of Newberg and vicinity, when the desirability of a cannery establishment is not emphasized. It seems to be very generally admitted that we need a cannery, but it appears that as far as there is any prospect of getting soon. What is needed is a conclusion as to what kind of a cannery we want, by whom to be owned and how operated. E. S. Craven speaks in this issue for what he would like to see relative to a cannery establishment at Newberg. Can we not hear from others? The columns of the Graphic are always open to the discussion of such questions.

From the College.

The work of the winter term is well organized. A permanent program has been placed on the board, and the classes are now reciting very much in their old order.

Pres. McGrew started east on Thursday morning. He goes in the interest of Pacific College. It has seemed to the best interest of the institution, that he leave us for a time, and while all will miss him very much, still, we can show our appreciation to him in no better way, than by the carrying out in his absence the work which he has so well begun.

Harry Gardner and Elmer Hollingsworth are among the new students.

There is a seeming lull in the oratorical work, but this is not permanent; the orators are only taking a rest and will come out with redoubled energy in the local contest.

During the absence of Pres. McGrew Mrs. F. K. Jones takes charge of a few of the classes. It is very pleasant to see her smiling face again, and she rules with great dignity the third hour in the morning.

nity except some of the seniors who climbed up on the side of the building at a public school.

Vanity of vanities! The faculty mysteriously sunk from view at a certain hour on Wednesday, and every last member was secretly traced to the photographer's gallery. Now let's have some chapel talks based on Ecclesiastes, Chap. 1.

The literary societies have reorganized and are actively at work again. The new Crescent officers are Mark Wolfe, president; Dwight Coulson, vice president; Lucy Gause, secretary; C. E. Kirk, critic; Carl Rinehart, marshal, Gertrude Minthorn, librarian. The Junta society, made up of the academy students, elected the following officers: John Weed, president; Bernice Woodward, secretary; Worth Coulson, treasurer; Clement Niewonger, marshal, Mrs. Douglas was elected advisory member from the faculty.

Prof. Rollin Kirk, principal of the public school, senior member of the class of '98, president of the college alumni, etc. etc., favored the students with one of his characteristic talks a few mornings since. The latch string is always out to him.

The Mother's Favorite.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the mother's favorite. It is pleasant and safe for children to take and always cures. It is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough, and is the best medicine made for these diseases. There is not the least danger in giving it to children for it contains no opium or other injurious drug and may be given as confidently to a babe as to an adult. For sale by C. F. Moore & Co. druggists.

Oratory at the College.

It has been very apparent of late to those who have given the matter any thought, or attention, that the spirit and enthusiasm now manifested in the oratorical work at the college greatly surpasses that of any other year in the history of the institution. This may be due to several causes, but principally to the systematic elocution work introduced this year by Prof. Kelsey, and to his faithfulness in training and drilling the young oratorical aspirants. Such work is sure to tell for Pacific College in the state contests, in another year or so if not in this. One new feature which has tended largely toward awakening new interest from the standpoint of the public, has been in making the class contests public. Heretofore there has been but the one public contest, the primary, while this year there have been senior, sophomore, and freshmen contests, each in itself as good as an ordinary primary. All this has awakened unusual interest from the outside, and the college contest which comes off the first part of next month is looked forward to with great expectation.

The Sophomore contest was held Thursday evening, January 3, and was productive of a good deal of surprise at some of the ability displayed. The judges both on papers and delivery were H. S. Britt, C. J. Edwards, and J. C. Hodson. The orators and their subjects were, Agnes Hammer, The Captive Sculptor; Ella Mills, Success; Lucy Gause, Gustavus Adolphus; Dwight Coulson, The Potential Patriot. The decision was announced in favor of Mr. Coulson, with Lucy Gause a very close second. Some discrepancies in the footings were discovered next morning however, which placed Miss Gause at least even with Coulson. As the best way out of the difficulty the oratorical association met and decided that both should go on the primary, which decision will make a lively contest next time between these two alone for the honor of sophomore orator. The music for the evening was furnished by Professors Kantner and Kelsey in an instrumental duet, by a vocal solo by Edna Hobson, and by a vocal solo by Prof. Kantner.

The Freshman contest, held Saturday night, made the best showing of all in point of members at least, and was close and interesting from start to finish. An array of talent was displayed, which speaks for some strong college orators in the near future. The contestants with their subjects were as follows: Bertia Nicholson, Mirabeau; Lizzie Kirk, Joan de Arc; Viola Patton, Gladstone; Carl Nelson, Peter the Great; Elwood Minchlen, The Great Agitator—Phillips; Gussie Crawford, Demosthenes; John Weed, The Freeman; Lillian Hancock, Doing and Being; Carrie Turner, Patrick Henry. As in the Sophomore contest, the judges, C. J. and O. K. Edwards, O. L. Price, J. C. Hodson and W. C. Woodward were under the disadvantage of having to judge all at once on thought and composition as well as on delivery. Their decision gave Elwood Minchlen first, and Bertia Nicholson second place. The music of the evening consisted of vocal solos by the Misses Edna Hobson, Nerva Wright and Lucy Gause.

As the Juniors had already elected their orators, the decision on the Freshman contest completed the list of the contestants for the college contest. They will be Seniors, Clara Newby and Mark Wolfe; Juniors, Emmer Newby and Rose Metcalf; Sophomores, Dwight Coulson and Lucy Gause; Freshmen, Elwood Minchlen.

Beat out of an Increase of His Pension.

A Mexican war veteran and prominent editor writes: "Seeing the advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, I am reminded that as a soldier in Mexico in '47 and '48, I contracted Mexican diarrhoea and this remedy has kept me from getting an increase in my pension for an every renewal a dose of it restores me." It is unequalled as a quick cure for diarrhoea and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by C. F. Moore & Co. druggists.

Public School Notes.

Vacation is over and we are ready for work, but it does seem a little hard to settle down to study again.

The library record shows that 204 books were taken out before the holidays.

Ernest Bales is with us after spending several weeks on the delivery wagon.

The new century brought in three new pupils at least, Theodore Acheson, Jessie Gardner and Ray McCaskey.

Mrs. Martin's room has become over crowded and several from her upper grade have taken seats in the principal's room.

Work is now being started for our entertainment, which will be given some time in February. The teachers have asked Mrs. Grace Barrie to assist them, so they will not have to slight their regular school work. Mrs. Barrie will make it a success.

During vacation, Ada Harris visited in Washington, Stella McCaskey and Ethel Hall at Carlton, Jay Heston at Brownsville, and Eva Smith at Salem.

Brought Good Fortune.

A small item in his own paper lately brought amazing good fortune to editor Chris. Reiter, of the Saginaw (Mich.) Post and Zeitung. He and his family had the Grip in its worst form. Their doctor did them no good. Then he read that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds was a guaranteed cure for La Grippe and all Throat and Lung troubles; tried it and says: "Three bottles cured the whole family. No other medicine on earth equals it." Only 50 cents and $1 at C. F. Moore and Co. Trial bottles free.
