Local Events.
Empty barrels for sale by C. B. Wilson.
W. C. Kruger and wife went to Salem on Wednesday.
Call in and see that large new stock of picture mountings at T. B. Cummings'.
Miss Florence Parks returned to Portland last Tuesday morning after visiting for several days with J. M. Wrights.
FOR SALE—One J. I. Case Triumph Sulky plow. Been used but little. Cost $50 and will take $35. J. A. Jones.
Miss Jennie Clark of Corvallis returned home the first of the week after visiting a few days in the family of H. H. Winslow.
Don't forget the meeting of the Oregon Fire Relief Association in McMinnville, Tuesday February 12, at 10 a. m. All members invited.
Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Hill and daughter Alice of LaGrande returned home the first of the week after a several days visit here with friends and relatives.
Jimmie Barrie is continuing the candy and cigar business formerly run by W. A. Warren and is preparing to move into the building opposite the postoffice.
Farmers I want your eggs. I will give cash for them. Egg packers furnished free to those wishing them. C. B. Wilson.
Rollin Kirk, Frank Deach, and the Misses, Essie, Evland and Gertrude Lamb drove up to McMinnville Saturday and attended the county teachers institute.
N. F. Myers left for Hood River Tuesday morning to take his old job again as sawyer in a lumber mill. Mrs. Myers will probably remain here for a month yet before following him.
Mrs. Gertrude Happersat of Corvallis visited in town the first of the week with Howard Williams and sisters. She is a daughter of Rev. Mark Noble and wife, well known to Newberg people.
A very pleasant surprise party was given out at Chehalis Center last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Paulsen in honor of the birthday anniversary of their daughter Miss Mabel.
Dedicator services of the new Friends church at Springbrook, will be held next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, the dedication sermon being preached by Rev. H. T. Cash. The public generally is cordially invited to be present.
Moses Whitacre, who has been working for some months in the Chehalis Valley Bank with his uncle Moses Votaw left here Monday morning. He will probably engage with his father in the drug business either in Nevada or Arizona.
The highest achievements of art are those which most faithfully portray nature. Through every face is not beautiful, every face has its picturesque pose. Call at the new Douglas studio and see what the camera, in the hands of an artist, will show you.
An adjourned meeting of the members of the Oregon Fire Relief Association is to be held in McMinnville on Tuesday February 12, at 10 a. m. This meeting is to consider important changes in the constitution and by-laws and all members have a right to vote if present.
Lewis Jones and H. C. Barclay started Tuesday morning back to their old home at Mapleton, Minnesota, taking with them a carload of Oregon's choicest dried prunes which they intend to sell out near there before returning. The boys emphasized the fact that there would be no California label on this fruit and that credit would go where credit is due.
Walter Terrell writes from Oskaloosa, Iowa, where they are visiting that twenty three deaths from La Grip occurred in that city in two days, which is a pretty high death rate even for a town of that size. From the present ravages of the dread disease all over the country, the conception of the cartoonist is strikingly true who represented the black monster Grip as the half brother of death.
William Gregg, an old pioneer who has been about Newberg for several months, left Monday morning for Roseburg, to become an inmate of the state soldiers home, he being an Indian war veteran. The local G. A. R. post acted for him in getting his transportation arranged. Shame on Uncle Sam that the Indian war veterans are not pensioned the same as other veterans, for of all the defenders of the nation, none are more deserving of help in their lonely declining years.
A good degree of interest was manifested in the health meeting held last week, about forty people gathering to hear the program which Mrs. Stanton had arranged with skill. Dr. Davidson was unable to take her place on the program to the disappointment of the guests. The question, "Which has the greater influence upon character, heredity or environment?" was debated with enthusiasm by Rev. F. W. Lutzer and Mesdames Votaw and Stanton. The other debater was not present. Some points of interest were brought out in a health lecture given by a member. The next meeting to be held Feb. 27 will be a press meeting at the home of Mrs. M. E. Allen.

C. B. Wilson is still paying cash for produce.
Air-tight Stoves now on hand at reduced prices. A. Wheeler, Plumber.
Mrs. W. H. Galland is visiting in Eugene this week with a married daughter.
Go to T. L. Cummings for paints and oils. A full line of undertaking goods kept in stock.
Miss Pearl Cummings is assisting Mr. Douglas in his new Fotografierie, first door east of the postoffice.
Photographs cheap, but not cheap photographs—twenty-four stamp pictures for twenty five cents at Smith's photo gallery.
Mrs. F. D. Wheeler and daughter of Cottage Grove are visiting out north of town with their cousin E. S. Craven and family.
Mr. and Mrs. Sargeant of Ferrydale came down Saturday and visited until the next evening with Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Edwards.
W. J. Stater made a sale of the H. K. Cobb fruit farm west of town this week to J. E. Vanorsdal, of Pendleton, the consideration being $2000.
The best of fresh and salt meats the market affords will be found at the Newberg Meat Market. The highest prices paid for butchers' stock.
A game of basket ball is billed to be played in Armory hall to-night, between the Pacific College and Sherwood teams. The contest is expected to be close and gingery.
Silas Comer and family wish to express their gratitude to the many friends who showed such kindness during the sickness and at the death of their wife and mother.
The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Satton who has been down with diphtheria, is now convalescing nicely and the quarantine was lifted from the Satton home last Monday.
Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Whitacre, recently from Winlock, Washington, came last week for a short visit with near relatives, Mrs. Whitacre being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Votaw.
Jim Everest and family came out from their ranch in Tillamook county a few days ago and are visiting their folks about Newberg. Jim will probably return in a few days, but will leave his wife here for a more extended visit.
I wish to say to the ladies of Newberg that I have opened dressmaking parlors, one door east of the furniture store on First street. Thanking them for past favors I solicit a share of their patronage in the future. FLORENCE LASHINE.
Judging from the testimony given by Prof. Meakin Tuesday evening, Sherwood audiences must be a little slow in seeing the point. Our friends down the line should brush up and learn how to appreciate a good thing when they hear it.
Rev. Lindley Jackson of Eugene, father of Fred and Ernest Jackson visited in town on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Mills, who are old friends of his. He was on his way home from Portland where he had been holding a very successful series of meetings in the Friends church.
Everybody connected with Spaulding's logging camps knows of old Dave, the faithful ox with the big horns. The old fellow went the way of all good oxen some time ago, and the boys sent his horns down here to headquarters last week. The horns measured thirty eight inches from tip to tip.
We have heard complaint against a harness grease peddler who was in town last week and imposed upon some of our farmers. The man displayed a sample of good grease by which he panned off an article which would have suffered in comparison with dish water, for its greasy qualities. Moral—Always buy your harness grease of our home merchants.
John Wilkes, of Forest, Idaho, who was called to the bedside of his dying father over at Trask, made a short visit here last week with his sister Mrs. H. L. Christenson and his brother Charles Wilkes and other relatives in and near Newberg, and left for his home on Monday morning's train. Albert Wilkes who brought him over from Trask, also left for home the same day.
On last Monday evening the passenger train was delayed a half hour a little west of Charleston by a couple of stray horses that got badly scared at the engine and lost their heads. They ran down the track ahead of the train and out on a trestle over a canyon. One of them jumped a distance of about twenty feet and escaped without serious injury but the other followed the trestle until it fell through and broke a leg. The crew tied its legs together and rolled it off into the canyon a distance of fifty feet and then knocked it in the head. The horses were recently bought somewhere up the valley by a man at Tualatin and they had strayed from the pasture and were wandering back.
Newberg was rarely treated this week with a visit from Prof. John P. Meakin, head lecturer of the W. O. W. Tuesday evening he addressed a large audience in Craters hall and held it spell bound with his eloquence, supported by a rare supply of both humor and pathos. Wednesday afternoon he generously devoted his time to the college and public school in giving inspiring talks, while in the evening a social was given in his honor in Masonic hall, attended by the Woodmen, the Circle and invited guests. He gave an address on the true spirit of fraternity in general and woodcraft in particular and after refreshments had been served he recited a few of his choicest selections. His rendering of that old classic "Roger and I" was masterly. Prof. Meakin's philosophy is "Look up and lift up," of which he is certainly a consistent advocate.

Fresh vegetables at Wilson's grocery. Bargains in all goods in stock at the Fair Store.
Leave orders at Wilson's Grocery for expressing or light hauling.
E. K. Shaw went to Salem the first of the week to look on the scene of the senatorial poll wov.
Orange Elliott's little daughter Hazel is very sick with pleural pneumonia. At last report it was thought she was a little better.
Mr. Douglas announces that he will be in his new quarters by Feb. 1. Come and see him, whether you want to get your "fortigra tuk," or not.
The ladies of the Friends church were well patronized last Friday evening in the oyster supper which they served in the Oliver building across the street from the postoffice. They took in about twenty six dollars.
There is one thing which Newberg audiences should set down on, and set down hard, and that is the nuisance of shrill whistling on public occasions. It's a continual disgrace to the good name of Newberg, and always brings a blush of shame to our best citizens, especially when carried on before strangers. Such riotous and indecent behavior, some of it on the part of boys of good families, ought not to be tolerated longer, and if no other means are suggested, a few ejections from public halls by the owners might have the desired result.
Prof. Falt, the hypnotist gave entertainments in Craters hall Friday and Monday nights which the public found very satisfactory. His ledgerism work, exposing the methods of "spiritualistic mediums" was very interesting and his explanation of the same lucid and convincing. The exhibition of hypnotism, practiced upon a class of six or eight boys whom he had on the stage picking strawberries, dancing, diving and swimming, riding chairs for bicycles, fighting bumble bees and etc., was as entertaining as was convincing to the audience. Prof. Falt is a gentleman and gives an entertainment worth the attending.
Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Newhouse and daughter, and Mrs. Newhouse's mother, were driving home from Springbrook Wednesday afternoon, and when coming down the short but steep hill this side of John Rees' place, one horse stumbled in a wagon rut, pushing its mate out of the road and precipitated wagon and all down the embankment into the canyon. In the fall Mr. Newhouse suffered the breakage of two or three ribs, while the ladies were pretty badly scratched and bruised. The back was nearly ruined. Friends quickly arrived on the scene and assisted the unfortunate family in getting home.

Prepare to Hear This.
What promises to be the prettiest contest for closeness, ever held in Newberg, will take place on Friday, Feb. 8, at Craters hall. The winners of the class oratorical contests have been in close training for five weeks and the result will determine who shall represent P. C. in the inter-collegiate contest to be held soon at Corvallis.
Craters hall has been secured because the college building has been found too small to hold the crowds who wish to be present at this final test in oratory. Good music has been secured and will be interspersed throughout the program. The admission charged will be 25c for reserved seats and the general admission. The play will be open at the postoffice Saturday, Feb. 2, and those especially interested would do well to secure seats at an early date.
The following is the program to be rendered:
Invocation..... Clara Newby
The Evolution of Democracy..... Emma Newby
Individuality..... Emma Newby
The Truths of Government..... Mark Wolfe
Vocal Solo..... E. E. Holt
The Potential Future..... B. E. Coulson
Wendell Phillips, The Agitator..... Elwood Munch
Violin Solo..... Glen Winslow
America's Longevity..... Nervia Wright
Greatest Adolphus..... Leroy Gassen
Music..... College Glee
Decision of the Judges.

Obituary.
Mr. William Wilkes died at his home near Trask, Tillamook county Or., Jan. 18, 1901. He was born in England and at the age of seven years, came with his parents to America and settled in Steuben county, N. Y. When a young man he came to Elkland, Tioga county Pennsylvania, where he was married to Miss Harriet Robbins. Fourteen children were born to them, nine of whom with their aged mother still survive the departed father.
The living children are, Mrs. H. L. Christenson and Charles Wilkes, of Newberg, Ore.; Mrs. Olive Raymond, of Michigan; Mrs. Ella Crane, of Shawam county, Wis.; John Wilkes, of Forest, Idaho; Wm. Wilkes, of Fullerton, Neb.; Mrs. Lillian Carman, Hans and Alberta Wilkes, of Trask; the last named three of whom were with their father during his illness. His son John Wilkes arrived at his bedside seven hours before death claimed him.
Their many friends in Newberg extend heartfelt sympathy to the wife and family in this hour of bereavement.

Will Boom His Business.
S. Laval, a merchant of Dallas, Texas, writes: "I thought I would have to give up business, after two years of suffering from general debility brought on by overwork and long hours, but four bottles of Electric Bitters gave me new life. I can now eat anything, sleep well and feel like working all the time. It's the best medicine on earth."
It's a wonderful tonic and health builder for tired, weak, sickly and run down people. Try it. Satisfaction guaranteed. Only 50c at C. F. Moore & Co's drugstore.

Notice.
Those who have not settled their accounts up to Jan. 1, 1901, will confer a favor by giving notes for same if they cannot pay cash. Immediate attention is expected.
1-18-4 W. C. KARGER.

Public School Notes.
County Commissioner J. C. McCrea and wife visited the school the 24 inst. The next local teachers institute will be held in Newberg on the last Saturday in February.
When our faithful janitor sounds the fire alarm the house is emptied very quickly. Last Friday everyone was outside in a minute and a half.
Some of the boys are forming the bad habit of using tobacco in some form or other. The teachers seem to be very anxious about them, and well they might be.

It seemed to be a very severe nervous strain on some of the scholars to remain in school Tuesday afternoon instead of going to see the man put to sleep by East, the hypnotist. Mr. Falt entertained the teachers and a few scholars with some simple experiments after school.
Prof. John P. Meakin, head lecturer of the W. O. W., visited school Wednesday afternoon. By invitation Mrs. Martin's pupils were seated in Prof. Kirk's room and for three quarters of an hour listened with rapt attention to his excellent advice and oratory. Passing into Miss Lamb's room the children were delighted with his talk of ten minutes.

Resolutions.
Whereas, It has pleased the Supreme Ruler of the universe to remove from the White Ribbons our beloved leader and worker Mrs. Narcissa Kinney, who as a leader faithfully performed the arduous duties of her office for which her qualifications of mind and heart eminently fitted her; also from our local union our dear sister Mrs. Naomi Comer, also our faithful and esteemed brother Wm. M. McCollum,
Resolved, That while God in His infinite wisdom has taken them Home, that we appreciate the high Christian standard attained in these workers and the influence of their faithful lives will remain with us.
Resolved, That we extend to the sorrowing relatives our sympathy in their bereavement trusting they may find solace in Him who is a never failing friend.
On behalf of the Newberg Union,
MRS. STANTON,
MRS. ETHEL VOTAW.

Word is received from Mr. Townsend, who is at Tillamook at present, that he will soon have the cheese factory in operation at this place. The change of countenance is quite noticeable on the face of the farmers the last few days which is attributable to the sunshine and warm weather, and the ground is being prepared for the reception of the little kernel of wheat which is the backbone and sinew of the whole commonwealth. A. S. Bible went out on his ranch a few days this week and took along his gun and fishing tackle to do some hunting and fishing. He made a large pond on his place which he fed with fish about three years ago and it affords him much pleasure in fishing. Mr. Bible's ranch is situated on Bible creek, which creek empties into Testament creek, and that empties into Muletail creek, and Muletail creek flows through Stump county and empties into the Big Nestucca.—Sheridan San.

Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Hodson and daughter Edna will leave for Indiana next month for quite an extended visit to their old home at Muscille and vicinity. Recorder J. L. Hoskins has been kept at home a number of days from sickness, akin to ague, but probably it might as well be popularized with the term "grip." We are pleased to report that improvement is noticeable. The city of Newberg is preparing to petition the legislature to leave out certain shoe string strips of roadway having thereon long bridges from the city limits, and will offer to trade a few acres of plow land to the county in exchange. She seems to have learned a trick from her larger neighbor up this way. W. C. Miller has purchased the Meadow lake tract of land for $4000. During the late snow and high water, the dam at the foot lake broke, and let all the water and fish out. Knowing ones estimate that there must have been a carload of fish started seaward. Fortunately it will be an easy matter to again rebuild the dam.—Reporter.

The claim of other cough medicines to be as good as Chamberlain's are effectually set at rest in the following testimonial of Mr. C. D. Glass, an employee of Bartlett & Dennis Co. Gardiner, Me. He says: "I had kept adding to a cold and cough in the winter of 1897, trying every cough medicine I heard of without permanent help, until one day I was in the drugstore of Mr. Holman, and he advised me to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and offered to pay back my money if I was not cured. My lungs and bronchial tubes were very sore at that time, but I was completely cured by this remedy, and have since always turned to it when I got a cold, and soon find relief. I also recommend it to my friends and am glad to say it is the best of all cough medicines." For sale by C. F. Moore & Co. druggists.

An Astonishing But True Story
"My home is in Sidney, Ohio. I have been nearer death with consumption than any other living person in the world, and I want you to read this, so you can tell others. I took a severe cold and neglected it. I grew worse all the time, and at the end of two years I had run into consumption. I coughed terribly, lost flesh, could not sleep, and became so dreadfully weak that I had to take to bed. In the following eighteen months I gradually reached the last stages of consumption. No less than seven physicians treated me and all gave me up saying I was incurable. I was absolutely helpless. The whole family wore themselves out caring for me. One day mother and sister came to my bedside, and said I had but a day or two more to live. Tears rolled down their cheeks as they sobbed the news. The doctors had declared I was in the last stage, and no human being could save me. I was willing to die, but before going to the cruel grave, I wanted to go out and see my dearly beloved town of Sidney once more. They told me such a thing was impossible—that I would surely die before I got back. But I insisted, and to gratify my dying wish, a carriage was fitted up with a bed of pillows, and to this I was carried and slowly driven around Court House Square. I got home more dead than alive. Through the mercy of Providence, someone brought a trial bottle of medicine said to be a consumption cure. No one imagined for an instant it was worth trying. But as a drowning person grasps at a straw, so I tried this medicine. I was better after taking two doses. Mother got more of the medicine and I took it, improving all the time. Today I am as well as any reader of this paper, and the medicine that cured me was Acker's English Remedy for Consumption. I declare before God and man that every word here printed is true."
This remarkable testimonial, on file in the office of Messrs. W. H. Hooker & Co., New York, proprietors of Dr. Acker's Celebrated English Remedy, is vouchered for by them, as well as by prominent druggists of Sidney, Ohio.
Acker's English Remedy is sold by all druggists, and a positive guarantee that your money will be refunded in case of failure. 25¢, 50¢ and $1 a bottle in U. S. and Canada. It is prepared by Dr. J. C. Acker, and is sold by W. H. Hooker & Co., New York.
