

Eruptions

Dry, moist, scaly, itchy, all forms of eczema or salt rheum, pimples and other cutaneous eruptions proceed from humors, either inherited, or acquired through defective digestion and assimilation.

To treat these eruptions with drying medicines is dangerous.

The thing to do is to help the system discharge the humors, and to strengthen it against their return.

Hood's Sarsaparilla permanently cured J. G. Hines, Franks, Ill., of eczema, from which he had suffered for some time; and Miss Alvina Wolter, Box 212, Algona, Wis., of pimples on her face and back and chafed skin on her body, by which she had been greatly troubled. There are more testimonials in favor of this great medicine than can be published.

CONSUMPTION

ARROGANCE AND SERVLITY.

Attitude of British Officers and Soldiers Toward Each Other.

"The captain and conductor would be kind to you, but they would not be respectful," quotes Mr. Howells in his recent reminiscences of James Russell Lowell, in mentioning the little ways in which Mr. Lowell, on his return from the "comfortably padded environment" of London, found America less comfortable than the country he had left.

No doubt, kindness in deed is more than respectfulness in word. Nevertheless, Mr. Lowell was not the only American who, returning from England, has missed the smoothness, ease and pleasantness in the conduct of the small affairs of life with which English respectfulness has much to do. At its best, it is the good manners of the uneducated; at its worst, it degenerates into servility.

One of the many unexpected discussions arising from the South African war touches this matter in its military aspect. The ready deference of the uneducated English private toward his officers has induced in some of the officers an attitude of kindly but arrogant personal superiority. But the Colonial soldiers, although obedient and well-drilled, and although they fully accept their officers' rights to command them, regard the right as professional only. They do not consider that it implies a superior manhood.

They will not endure bullying or swaggering or slanging, and they resent superciliousness. They are, in short, like our American soldiers, respectful and self-respectful; and the recipient authorities have found that instead of greater independence impairing their usefulness, their greater initiative has made them more valuable than the machine-like, home-trained Tommy Atkins.

As a result, there is a growing opinion that England's semipatriotic, semi-contemptuous attitude toward her private soldiers, which has cheerily tickled them the world over as "absent-minded beggars," plucky but irresponsible, is neither wise nor fair. Tommy himself accepted it, but it was not good for him; nor his spirited Colonial cousins repudiate it entirely, and England agrees that they are right.—Youth's Companion.

Big Log for the Pan-American.

SURE TO FOLLOW

If the Blood is Impoverished Diseases Which Often Puzzle Doctors are Inevitable.

Physicians are often puzzled by an ailment that does not yield to the usual remedies, and expense while experiments are being tried upon them, when in many cases the seat of the disorder is in the blood. If this vital fluid is impoverished disease is sure to follow. Build up the blood, the diseased part is nourished and strengthened, and health results. This is the simple history of what often appears to be a complicated case. Mr. Ezra Edwards, the well-known merchant of Webster City, Iowa, passed through such an experience. He says:

"I have always believed that my trouble was due to the impoverished condition of my blood. About two years ago my ankles began to swell and cause me great pain. I am quite heavy and as I was on my feet constantly I suffered intensely. Finally the swelling became so bad that I could not walk and for a week I was confined to my chair or bed. Three doctors treated me but did not effect a cure.

"I first heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People through an advertisement in a religious paper. About six months ago I began taking the pills and I felt good results from the first box. I continued taking them as directed for nearly five months. I am now 42 years old and am the picture of health. I am willing to tell the world that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured me and I know they will cure others if they are given a thorough trial.

"Hardly a day passes that I do not tell some one of the benefits I have received from Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, for I think that any one suffering from any disorder of the blood or nerves should give them a thorough trial. Signed,

EZRA EDWARDS.

Peruna not only cures the grip but prevents it.

Taken in timethousands of lives will be saved in this present epidemic. Every family should take the precaution to secure a supply of Peruna at once, for the retail and wholesale stock of the remedy may be exhausted by the enormous demand for it.

Miss Frances M. Anderson, of Washington, D. C., daughter of Judge Anderson, of Virginia, says: "I was taken very ill with the grip. I took Peruna and was able to leave my bed in a week."

Mrs. Harriette A. S. Marsh, president of the Women's Benevolent Association, of Chicago, writes: "I suffered with grip seven weeks. Nothing helped me. I tried Peruna and within three weeks was fully restored. Shall never be without it again."

At the appearance of the first symptoms of the grip people should stay indoors and take Peruna in small doses (teaspoonful every hour) until the symptoms disappear. This will prevent a long, disastrous sickness and perhaps a fatal result.
