Empty barrels for sale by C. B. Wilson. We hope to be able to start beet sugar agitation next week.

The Meneley Trio Concert to-night at Craters Hall. Wall paper at reduced prices at Newberg Furniture Store.

N. C. Christenson will buy your mohair and wool, at the grain elevator. Mrs. Herman Schmitt and daughter moved to Portland Wednesday for the present where Mr. Schmitt is working.

That bankrupt stock of shoes at W. H. Morris' store has been going down steadily. A few left at bed rock prices. Photographs cheap, but not cheap photographs—twenty-four stamp pictures for twenty five cents at Smith's photo gallery.

Ed Hodson left Monday morning for Baker City where he has a job of setting brick in the new pressed brick plant lately put in there. School superintendent Littlefield sends notice that there will be no teachers' institute held in LaFayette to-morrow, March 30, as previously advertised.

What Newberg wants is a cannery supported by all the people. If you can't subscribe but one share, subscribe that and then talk cannery to your neighbor. Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Evans entertained Wednesday evening in honor of their brother Wm. Clemenson, of Clarkston, Washington who has been visiting here.

Progressive whist was the principal feature of the evening's entertainment. The stereopticon reproduction of the Passion Play given Tuesday evening, was the last number of the course of lectures, and was the most largely attended of any. We suppose preparations are now general in Newberg for attending the real thing in 1910.

As attorney for Fred Barrel, Ore Price won his first case in circuit court at McMinnville the first of the week. This was a case in which L. F. Hall had sued Mr. Barrel in a dispute over a line dividing their farms. Jack Spencer was the attorney for Mr. Hall.

Springtime is evidently near at hand in Morrow county. The last issue of the Rural Spirit contains some poetry from the pen of N. C. Maris, of Heppner, and friends in Newberg feel sure they had a "shaw" over there that Short Horn ad. was written.

Willard Satchwell is rather small of stature but that is no reason why we should have overlooked his arrival home several days ago from Ashland, where he has been working for over a year in a drugstore. His employer sold out thus letting him out of a job for the present.

A party who recently returned from Gold Hill informs the Graphic that C. E. Hoskins who bought a farm near there some time ago has had an offer for the place of more than double the purchase price, by parties who want to bore for oil, there having been found some very flattering oil prospects on the land. The offer was declined and Mr. Hoskins will bore for oil on his own account some time during the coming year.

The news of the complete exoneration, of our boy Elwood Minchin, at Salem by the colleges in the oratorical association Saturday afternoon, was joyfully received here. The old college bell pealed out the news to the neighborhood, and everybody expressed the sentiment that the victory could not possibly have been more signal and complete, as the vote showed up the situation in just the proper light.

Another rumor comes floating in from our neighbor college that further charges are to be brought against Minchin. They have found a Standard Book on Oratory, in which some of the gestures laid down for instruction of students were used by Minchin. The professor upon these forbids the use of this book by his students, and in order to have them thoroughly original in their orations, requires them to point down when they refer to heaven and to point upward when they refer to the other place.

John Hash received a letter from San Jose, California, recently announcing the death of James Toome which occurred in that city on March 4, his age being seventy years. The deceased was an old soldier who for several years lived on what is now known as the Bell farm two miles east of Newberg. He was a prisoner of war and spent several months in some of the worst prisons of the South. He was badly broken down in health and much discouraged and it is a satisfaction to the writer on hearing of his death to call to mind the fact that in 1866 some little assistance was rendered this worthy soldier in his efforts to secure a pension which soon after proved successful. The deceased was an earnest Christian and a member of the Evangelical church.

Miss Rose Burrows who has been low with heart trouble for several weeks, died early Sunday morning, the funeral services being conducted at the house on the following afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by Rev. Barr. The deceased was born in Minnesota, January 23, 1880, coming with the family to their present home in 1892. Having an ambition for a higher education she entered Pacific College, but never having been strong, her health failed her and she was compelled to give up her cherished hopes, reluctantly yet resignedly and willingly. In her last sickness, she bore all afflictions patiently, furnishing a beautiful example of Christian faith and fortitude. An aged father, two brothers and three sisters remain to mourn their loss, in which they have the heartfelt sympathy of many friends.

Mrs. F. M. Hinds and children moved to Portland the first of the week where Mr. Hinds has been working for some months.

Enos Ellis has been having half of his ten acre tract grubbed out at the foot of Chehalum mountain, and will set it in strawberries.

A little financial encouragement given the cannery project just now, may mean a good deal in the end. Can we afford not to back up the proposed enterprise?

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith have returned from Western Washington where J. W. has been working for some months in the interests of a circulating library association.

Something good awaits our people. The Meneley Quartette, so popular in Eastern cities, has been secured for Newberg. Their entertainments are always of high order. Date March, 29.

John Heaton of Chehalum Mountain boasts of having saved since the first of February thirty-two lambs from sixteen ewes, with the loss of only one. John is evidently preparing for another four years of McKinley prosperity.

It will doubtless be of interest to farmers to know that Hagey & Johnson have made a deal with the Advance Thresher Company of Portland for a brand new threshing outfit with self-feeding and blower attachments. This will be the finest outfit ever brought to this part of the valley.

R. Jacobson & Co., of McMinnville, will take your measure at their tailor shop and make you a suit of clothes or a pair of pants; suits from $15.00 and upwards; pants $4 and upwards and guarantee a fit in every case. The most agents traveling around in the country are taking measures for clothes and do not know the first principle of taking a measure. It will pay you to come and see us first and see our selection and we will do by you just as we tell you.

Semon Madson who some time ago got a patent on a bicycle toe clip trip which he had invented, is preparing to advertise his invention and is getting printed at this office a supply of letter heads, circulars, and toe clip literature in general. Semon believes in "educating the masses" and is proceeding accordingly. He has received bids for the manufacture of his toe clips from different companies over the country and has decided to let the contract to an Indianapolis firm. He intends having his wares on the market at an early date.

Readers of the Graphic may remember that something over a year ago mention was made of a nephew of Clarence Elliott who had suddenly left his Indiana home for the West, all trace of him being lost by his folks. A few days ago word was received here that the prodigal had returned to his home at Knightstown, after several months of hard service in the Philippines. He was in several sharp engagements and narrowly escaped death a number of times. He enlisted up at Vancouver, Washington, as a private and came home a corporal.

The fish cannery proposition upon which F. C. Sepp, of Kake Village, Alaska, has been working in this vicinity and at Salem for some weeks, has assumed definite proportions, a stock company having been organized in the capital city several days ago, under the name of "The Alaska Kuiu Canning Company." A meeting of the officers and directors was held in Newberg Monday afternoon, when plans of procedure were thoroughly discussed. Work will be commenced soon on the building, that the company may be ready for business the coming canning season. The following are the officers and directors of the enterprise: S. R. Moon, Alaska, president; A. B. Mills, Newberg, vice president; W. B. Colp, Alaska, secretary; Moses Yotaw, Newberg, treasurer; F. C. Sepp, Alaska, business manager; J. A. Taylor, Salem, Allen Smith, Newberg.

On Saturday forenoon occurred the death of Uncle Enos Blair, who had been failing slowly for some time, the funeral services being conducted by Rev. Barr at the house, Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. The deceased being an old soldier, members of the G. A. R. acted as pall bearers. Mr. Blair was born in Randolph county North Carolina, March 10, 1812, a birthright member of the Friends church. In early childhood he moved to Indiana, thence to Iowa in 1841, and to Ashland, Oregon in 1888, having moved to Newberg only about a year ago. He leaves an aged widow, one daughter, Mrs. Gallant of Portland and one son who lives in New Providence, Iowa. The deceased, though nearly ninety years old at the time of his death, was always lively and cheerful, with a pleasant word for every one, and presented a striking illustration of the power and beauty of a righteous life ripening into a green old age. His presence was a continual benediction to those with whom he came in contact.

Newberg's fruit cannery proposition has been resting for some weeks, but a fresh impetus has been given in the last few days and it is now thought the matter will rapidly be pressed to a successful conclusion. The business men of Newberg, have, almost without exception given hearty support to the new enterprise and it only remains now for the people at large to do the same, and Newberg will have the long desired cannery. We need it and need it badly, and by all doing their part, small though it may be, the cannery may be secured and a hardship will be done no one.

Shaw, at the corner of 8th and Meridian streets, was the scene of one of the prettiest weddings of the season at 7 o'clock Thursday evening, March 21, 1901, when Elam Karl Shaw and Iva Ernestine Perkins became husband and wife. Had our Newberg artists been on board one of the up river boats last Monday they might have got some valuable pointers on posing. A young couple not unknown in Newberg oiled and rubbed their noses together—and well they were real sweet.

Mrs. Allen Smith's mother, Mrs. Pickering, who came out here a few months ago from Kansas to make her home with her daughter, died suddenly Monday morning, though having long been in feeble health. The funeral exercises were conducted at the Smith home on Wyomooke street Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Larsen who have been living in the lumber districts near Bridal Veil, have moved back to Newberg with the intention of retiring from their busy life and living quietly on their little place southwest of town. The illustrated lecture given in the Friends church Wednesday evening on "Christ in Art" by G. M. Steel of Portland is spoken of on every hand as being one of the most interesting and elevating entertainments ever given here. The admission fee charged was small and the large church was crowded. Over thirty-six dollars was taken in which will be distributed among the Sunday schools in town.

The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. J. M. Wright in the presence of only the members of the families of the high contracting parties. The house was beautifully and tastefully decorated with the native emblem, Oregon wild grape besides ferns and mosses and bouquets of choice flowers.

Following the ceremony a delicious wedding supper was served, and following this was the old "fashioned hog trough dance" by the older sister and the brother of the bride and groom respectively.

The groom is a highly respected young man, the second son of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Shaw of this place and very prominent in business and social circles. The bride is the second daughter of G. A. Perkins, a former well known farmer of Marion county, but now retired and living at their home in Salem, at No. 454 Chemeketa street. She is a very popular and accomplished young lady and during her stay of several months in town, gained a wide circle of warm and admiring friends who will wish her and her many young husband the greatest success and happiness in the relation assumed.

Very Unusual. It is very unusual for a regular physician of good reputation to publicly endorse a proprietary remedy. We have often heard of cases where doctors receive the following voluntary letter from C. F. Smith, M. D., the most successful physician of Olden, N. Y.: "Messrs. W. H. Hooker & Co., New York City: I wish to add my professional testimony to the value of your English preparation known as Acker's English Remedy for Asthma, etc. In several instances, after I have tried my utmost to give even relief, I have prescribed your remedy, and it has acted almost like a miracle, not only relieving, but permanently curing every one of the patients. I endorse the preparation as one of the most valuable additions to the practice of medicine." Such a frank endorsement as the above is phenomenal. Coming from so distinguished a member of the medical profession, it carries with it an assurance which the public will be sure to avail themselves of. It is recommendations like this which make it possible to give the broad guarantee that is a part of every sale of Acker's English Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis and Consumption. It must either do all that is claimed for it, or your money will be refunded. Do you know of any other medicine sold on these terms? Do you know of any other medicines which prominent doctors regularly prescribe in their own practice as being better than prescriptions they write themselves? These facts are well worth considering. They are of special interest to those with sore throats and weak lungs. Sold at 50c, 75c and $1 a bottle, throughout the United States and Canada; and in London, at 2s. 6d., 3s. 6d., and 4s. 6d. If you are not satisfied after buying, return the bottle for a full refund, and get your money back. We authorize the above guarantee. W. H. HOOKER & CO., Proprietors, New York.
