FRIDAY, MAY 17, 1901.

In President McKinley's tour of the Bourbon South there were no allusions made to traveling through "the citizen's country." Our President does not ever have harbored any such hostile distinction, and right here we find a great element of his political success.

Citizens of Ashland voted their city "dry" a few months ago, and the arrest Wednesday of five saloon keepers who have persisted in conducting business in violation of the town ordinances, indicate that they intend to see that prohibition prohibits in Southern Oregon.

A personal of state exchanges indicates that the glorious Fourth of July is going to be more gloriously celebrated than ever this year in Oregon's towns and cities. Let's see, didn't Mr. Bryan cheerfully assure us that we weren't to have any more Fourth of July if Pres. McKinley was re-elected?

A discussion has been started in some quarters as to whether it is proper to say the United States "are" or the United States "is." We thought this momentous question was settled once for all in favor of the latter, over thirty years ago when the South surrendered to the prowess of General Grant.

Oregon and the Northwest is deeply disappointed in losing the opportunity of extending a hearty hospitality to the President and his party, but regrets more the sad circumstance which prevents the extension of the President's tour. It is the fervent hope of all that the first lady of the land enjoy a speedy return to comparative health.

Young man, if you have no higher ideal in seeking a political career than to receive financial reward for your efforts, keep out of the career, find some honorable business, follow it closely, and in the end you will receive better reward. But if you really want to serve your fellow men at your own cost you may do it in the work of the politician. Chicago Tribune.

The Oregonian as the representative newspaper of the Northwest shows up in a very poor light in devoting over a half column leading editorial to being grumpy and spiteful because President McKinley allowed his wife to interfere with his tour. In times of such trial as our President is now undergoing, silence at least might have been expected, if a word of sympathy could not have been conscientiously given. Oregon has cause to blush for the boorishness of its big daily.

The Indianapolis News gives the following reasons for the desertion of the farm by young men: "The drift of rural population to cities has long been a characteristic of recent times. Every census in recent years both in this country and in Europe has shown the vastly greater growth of cities as compared with rural regions. If there were wider intelligence among farmers in feeding the ambition of the young; if they were to give their children something that they could call their own, a share in ownership that they might improve by industry, something that would stimulate ambition and awaken pride, there would in all likelihood be less discontent with country life and less longing for the untried and unknown life of the city."

THE COMING BREAK IN THE SOUTH. That St. Louis Democrat newspaper, the Chattanooga Times, exclaims, in referring to Tillman, of South Carolina, "What a fall it is from Calhoun, Pickens, Legare, Cheever, Orr, Thompson, the Hamptons, Butler, Rutledge, Johnson and a host of other lights the old North State has given the country, to this bumpkin rowdy." This outburst of righteous democratic indignation is incited by Tillman's recent tirade of vulgarity against his colleague, Senator McLaurin, who has been telling some plain truths to the South about its political stagnation in the past two or three decades.

Southern papers of the better class are nearly all with McLaurin in the new departure which he has proclaimed. "Senator McLaurin has sounded the bugle note and the clans will rally," exclaims the Richmond (Va.) Times. "The Charlotte (N. C.) Observer says that 'McLaurin's speech was an argument for the assertion of Southern manhood, for the extension of Southern trade, for the abandonment of old and settled issues, and for the spread of Democratic ideas over the earth.'" In the same strain the Louisville Evening Post declares that McLaurin "says just what thousands of people are thinking and saying all over the South. The Democratic party, as now organized, is a reactionary party, and has no part in the present and no faith in the future. It is not the party of Jefferson, for it has repudiated or abandoned nearly everything for which Jefferson stood."

This is the sort of talk which is heard from a large proportion of the Southern Democratic papers of standing and ability. Of course, not all of these papers are preparing to come over to the Republican party. Senator McLaurin himself has not said he has become a Republican. This movement which has started against Bourbonism in the South, however, will make Republican voters in that region. It will cause a break in the ranks of the Democracy. The bel-ers will come over to the Republican side. They will be re-enforced by thousands who are saying nothing now, but who have been waiting a favorable opportunity to get out of the organization which still thinks and feels as it did in 1865-75. The Republican vote in the South in 1901 will be many hundreds of thousands larger than it was in 1900.—Globe Democrat.

President McGrew Welcomed Home.

President H. E. McGrew who has been on a trip East for the past four months working in the interests of Pacific College arrived home on Tuesday evening, bringing with him his mother whose home is at LeGrand, Iowa. Mrs. McGrew and little daughter Marion met them in Portland and they all came out on the evening train together, a very happy family. They were met at the station by the students and many of the citizens who gave them a royal welcome. At eight o'clock a public reception was held in the college chapel where an hour was spent in handshaking and having a general good time. Prof. Morrison and Jesse Edwards spoke some cheering words of welcome which were responded to in a happy vein by Pres. McGrew. Others followed with brief remarks which were interspersed with vigorous college yells. The president was so successful in his mission that it only remains for the people of Newberg and adjacent territory to respond liberally to the call for donations to the home subscription list and the debt on Pacific College will be wiped out.

Of the $6,000 necessary to be raised in Oregon in order to put Pacific College out of debt there yet remains to be subscribed about $2,500 and six weeks still remain in which to make the canvass. The whole amount must be forthcoming or all the work is lost as the subscriptions have been taken on the one condition that the whole amount shall be raised. A part of the amount is in sight but those who have the matter in hand realize that it is going to require a vigorous canvass to accomplish the end, but preparations are being made for pushing a canvass to a finish. It will be undertaken however with the full belief that the people will respond liberally and if necessary make some sacrifices in order to make success certain. An invitation is extended to the people to think the matter over seriously and be prepared to meet the solicitors cheerfully and with liberal donations.

Public School Graduating Exercises.

A good looking class of nine students "said their pieces" in the approved manner last Friday evening and received at the hands of their principal, certificates of graduation from the Newberg Public School. The graduates would not make a very high average in years, but made a very creditable showing for the amount of training they have received. So far as an audience could assist, they had all the encouragement they could wish as the house was closely filled with interested friends, all the way from the hoary headed sire who contrasted the scene with his own log cabin school days, to the little tow-heads who looked eagerly forward to the day when their names would thus be known to fame. The class motto, "Leaves of luck lie in the path of pluck," accompanied by an appropriate four leaf clover design, was conspicuously displayed, and was made the theme of a good class address delivered by the principal, Prof. Rollin Kirk.

For having made the best grades, Morris Heacock was awarded a one year scholarship in Pacific College. Chas. Wallace was a close second.

Beware of a Cough. A cough is not a disease but a symptom. Consumption and bronchitis which are the most dangerous and fatal diseases, have for their first indication a persistent cough, and if properly treated as soon as this cough appears are easily cured. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has proven wonderfully successful, and gained its wide reputation and extensive sale by its success in curing the diseases which cause coughing. It is not beneficial it will not cost you a cent. For sale by C. F. Moore & Co., druggists.

Things always seem fairer when we look back at them.—LOWELL.

A Healthy Growth. Acker's Elixer has gained a firm hold among our people and is acknowledged to be the superior to all other preparations. It is a positive cure for all blood and skin diseases. Only fifty cents a bottle and we guarantee it. C. F. Moore & Co. druggists.

An exchange asks: Why is a newspaper like a wife? Because both have to be appreciated. Because both have to have something to run it. Because it changes its dress. The correct answer is: Because every man should have one of his own and not run after his neighbor's.

Acker's English Remedy will stop a cough at any time, and will cure the worst cold in twelve hours, or money refunded 25c and 50c. C. F. Moore & Co. druggists.

A Lady's Lunch

Has been rudely defined by some cynic as "slops and sweets." And after all there's more truth than poetry in the definition. Ice cream and cake may satisfy the palate, but they are far from satisfying to the stomach, which requires that food be nutritious first and nice afterward. By careless eating women pave the way for stomach "trouble" and its kindred miseries. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is confidently commended as a cure for diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. By curing diseases which prevent the assimilation of food it enables the body to be built up and strengthened in the only way known to nature—by food digested and assimilated.

"For twelve long months I suffered untold misery," writes Mrs. Mollie Colgate, of Randolph, Charlotte Co., Va. "No tongue could express the pain that I endured before I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicine. I was not able to do anything at all. Could not eat anything except bread and tea—or if I did the top of my head hurt so it seemed it would kill me; with all that I could do it would burn like fire. But now, since using your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Favorite Prescription,' I can eat a little of almost anything I want, and it's a good day's work as well as anybody can. Am better than I have been for years."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure sick headache.

A man who is wrapped up in himself is his own warmest friend.

Experience is the best teacher. Use Acker's English Remedy in any case of coughs, colds or croup. Should it fail to give immediate relief money refunded. 25c and 50c. C. F. Moore & Co. druggists.

"Dear me," sighed the stray letter as it received another postmark, "I've been on the go until I am nearly dead."

Drink a steeping of Moki Tea at night before retiring, and see how soundly you will sleep, and how joyously you will awake in the morning. It supplies food for the blood while you sleep, produces a clear and beautiful complexion, and cures constipation and sick headache. 25c and 50c. C. F. Moore & Co.

For Malaria, Chills and Fever

THE BEST PRESCRIPTION IS Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic.

The formula is plainly printed on every bottle—hence you know just what you are taking when you take Grove's. Imitators do not advertise their formula knowing that you would not buy their medicine if you knew what it contained. Grove's contains Iron and Quinine put up in correct proportions and is in a Tasteless form. The Iron acts as a tonic while the Quinine drives the malaria out of the system. Any reliable druggist will tell you that Grove's is the Original and that all other so-called Tasteless Chill Tonics are imitations. An analysis of other chill tonics shows that Grove's is superior to all others in every respect. You are not experimenting when you take Grove's—its superiority and excellence having long been established. Grove's is the only Chill Cure sold throughout the entire malarial sections of the United States. No Cure, No Pay. Price, 50c.
