They take possession of the body, and are Lords of Misrule. They are attended by pimples, boils, the itching letter, rash, rheum, and other cutaneous eruptions; by feelings of weakness, languor, general debility and what not. They cause more suffering than anything else.

Health, Strength, Peace and Pleasure require their expulsion, and this is positively effected, according to thousands of grateful testimonials, by

Scrofula

Scrofula is an unwelcome legacy, but one which the children of blood poisoned parentage must accept, with all its humiliating consequences. It is an inheritance that makes one poorer; that brings wretchedness and disease instead of health and riches; for the child whose ancestral blood is tainted with Scrofula or the loathsome virus of Contagious Blood Poison is unguilted for the serious duties of life so long as any of the transmitted poison remains in its veins. Scrofula manifests itself in various forms; swollen glands about the neck and throat, catarrh of the head, weak eyes, hip bone disease, white swelling and offensive sores and abscesses are familiar symptoms, attended usually with loss of strength, poor digestion and pale or bloodless complexion. The skin is sometimes most dreadfully affected, eruptions breaking out on all parts of the body. Scrofula destroys bone, tissue and flesh; no part of the human system escapes its withering, benumbing touch.

When nineteen years old, and about one year after the birth of my first child, the glands on the left side of my neck began to swell. Four of the places were lanced and became open running sores; rising came under my left arm, and the discharge was simply awful. The doctors said I had the worst case of Scrofula they had ever seen. I took iodide of potassium, but this nor the other drugs given for this disease brought relief. When the physician advised me to have the glands removed, I decided to try S. S. S. A few bottles cured me completely; no signs of the terrible disease are left.

MRS. RICHARD WASSON, Golden Corners, Ohio.

Natural causes.

Juryman—Yes, we brought in a verdict of death from natural causes.

The Trust Problem.

To a thoughtful mind, the trust problem is one of serious import. It must be firmly grasped with, for it creeps upon society before you are aware of its existence, in this respect much resembling the various disorders which attack the stomach, such as constipation, indigestion, dyspepsia, acidities, liver and kidney troubles. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the one reliable remedy for all such ailments. Be sure to give it a trial.

FORTUNE'S PHASES.

THE UPS AND DOWNS IN THE LIFE OF A CLERK.

A Tale of Misfortune and Misery With a Happy Ending—The World Seemed All Very Dark for a While.

A clerk's life, ordinarily, is a very humdrum one with but very little variety to the daily routine. But Mr. Fred R. Morton of No. 80 Vesper street, Portland Me., had an experience recently which has made his life now a very happy one. In telling a reporter of what he went through he said:

"I had been suffering with stomach trouble for about two years. Every day about ten o'clock in the morning and three o'clock in the afternoon I became faint and felt so bad that if I did not sit down I would fall. That sensation usually lasted for about an hour and when noon came I had no appetite for lunch.

"I saw Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People advertised in the daily papers about a year ago and decided to try them. I felt relief from the first box and after I had taken six boxes my disease was cured. I do not take them now but always keep them in the house. I have told my friends what these pills have done for me and should I know of any one's being sick as I was I should recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."

Mr. Morton's statement was published in the Portland Express after he had sworn to it before Marshall H. Purrington, a notary public.

The most effective remedy in the world in cases of this kind is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They act directly on the blood and nerves. This makes them invaluable not only for stomach trouble but also for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effects of the grip, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions and all forms of weakness either in male or female. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold by all dealers, or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price, fifty cents a box, or six boxes for two dollars and fifty cents (they are never sold in bulk or by the hundred) by addressing Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

GREATEST AND LEAST

TWO EXTREMES IN SIZE, BULK OR WEIGHT.

Largest Diamond and Smallest, Tallest Man and Shortest, Thickest Mammoth or Diminutive That Represent Extremes in Either Respect.

The biggest diamond in the world is the great Goidin gem, which weighs nearly 450 carats, is as big as an average inkstand, and worth about $450,000.

Three murders and countless intrigues and robberies have had it for their object. It now belongs to the Rajah of Puthpore. The smallest diamond on earth can just be seen with the naked eye. A microscope shows it to be of perfect water and brilliancy, and its actual market value is about a cent as a diamond. As a curiosity, however, it is worth $75.

The biggest man in the world is Breeni, the Swiss giant. There are several Swiss giants, but Breeni overtops them all with his height of 9 feet 7 inches, and he is a big man in proportion. His clothes cost him $75 per suit, and he cannot get into an ordinary railway carriage. His opposite—the smallest man alive—is Metruski, the little Hungarian, who is just under 2 feet high. He can get into the clothes of an ordinary large doll, and feel small in them. He makes more money than his big rival, earning $10,000 a year as a "freak," while the giant Breeni only gets $6,000. He is accomplished, is much stronger in proportion than the giant, and will probably last longer.

The hugest steamship afloat just now is the Celtic. Her coal bunkers alone would hold a regiment, and she makes the Atlantic passage no more than a ferry ride. The tiniest steamship on earth, which will carry a human being, is the Thresher. She is eight feet long, decked in, and just carries one man, provided he sits still. Her engines are smaller than the works of a grandfather's clock, and any part of them can be reached with the hands while sitting at the wheel. Her coal bunkers are about the size of a valise.

Among living things the most vast is a whale called the roqual, who reaches the length of 100 feet when he is grown up, and has teeth longer than a man's leg. He measures 40 feet around the place where his walruscoat would be, if he had one, and he can move through the water at the rate of 40 miles an hour. He gets through about a ton of fish and other food per day when in good health, to say nothing of a seal or two. The littlest thing man has discovered in the world, so far, is a microbe called the texus, of which 100,000 can find standing room on the head of a needle without crowding each other, and as for what the creature eats it is too small for the human brain to grasp.

There is a book called the "Worthy Bible," which is the biggest thing of the book kind in one volume ever yet produced. It is ten feet square and two feet thick, and contains 30,000 pages. One may put alongside this monster the thinnest piece of literature ever published—an edition of "Hamlet"—which is a quarter of an inch square, containing 90 pages, all printed with perfect clearness, and needs an expensive magnifying glass to read it.

He Stopped His Paper.

"Sir!" exclaimed the oldest citizen as he walked into the business office of the daily paper, "I see in your sheet of today, sir, an article to which I take exception, and I want my paper stopped, sir! And when James F. Anderson says stop, sir, he means stop, sir!"

"Phil," wearily murmured the circulation manager, "go out and tell Bob 't' stop 't' press an' 'lock up'; o' man Anderson has quit us!"

Not Cold Blinded.

top, which allows it to fall downward to protect the lower limbs in case of a storm. The inner and outer ends of the garment are provided with slits or eyelets for the insertion of straps or cords for suspending the extended coat after the manner of an ordinary hammock, and the hunter will appreciate this portion of the outfit, as it enables him to add another comfort to his equipment without increasing its bulk to a noticeable degree. It will also be noticed that the warmth of the garment can be considerably increased by buttoning up the outer half, after the best portion has been fastened, the buttons and buttonholes being arranged to that end. The inventor is Joseph Conley of Mound City, Mo.

Pine Forests in the West.

Arizona has a pine forest reserve covering an area of over eight thousand square miles. The total quantity of pine timber suitable for sawing purposes within the boundaries of the territory for suspending to 10,000,000 feet, which is enough to supply the needs of a thickly populated state for more than a century. The principal forest area is in Coconino County, and borders the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, although Gila, Apache and Yavapai counties have considerable timber. In New Mexico there are two enormous forest reserves, one on the Pecos River, in the northern part of the territory, the other on the Gila, in the southwestern section, comprising 3,701,040 acres. This domain is as large as the states of Rhode Island, Delaware and one-half of Connecticut combined.

To Mothers of Large Families

In this workaday world few women are so placed that physical exertion is not constantly demanded of them in their daily life.

We make a special appeal to mothers of large families whose work is never done, and many of whom suffer, and suffer for lack of intelligent aid.

To women, young or old, rich or poor, we extend an invitation to accept free advice. Oh, women! do not let your lives be sacrificed when a word of advice at the first approach of weakness, may fill your future years with healthy joy. Address a letter to Mrs. Pinkham's Laboratory, Lynn, Mass., and you will not be disappointed.

"When I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was not able to do my housework. I suffered terribly at times of menstruation. Several doctors told me they could do nothing for me. Thanks to the Pinkham advice and medicine I am now well, and can do the work for eight in the family."

"O, yes."

"Not much it ain't. There ain't no mustache guard on it."

A Vain Hope.

Flushing—Didn't you join another Don't Worry club last week, Harriet?
Mrs. Flushing—Yes; I hope you don't object to my belonging to two Don't Worry clubs, Henry.
Flushing (objectively)—Oh, no, Harriet, but I had hoped that they would keep you from worrying me somewhat!

Jester—Why, the sleeping members of the congregation snore so loudly that the others can't hear.

The Lee family, which, until the civil war, had always been represented in the army, was until the Spanish war without a single member in the regular service. Now there are two Lees in the army and the third will also probably soon wear his shoulder straps.
