FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1901

The latest news from Buffalo is to the effect that President McKinley is now practically out of danger.

The song of the katydid and the chirrup of the cricket indicate that the season for cider making is at hand.

If the newspaper pictures of Emma Goldman the she anarchist are a true likeness of the old gal, she certainly don't make a very attractive leader.

That man Czolgosz is entitled to some sympathy for what could ever be expected of a boy who was compelled to face the world with such a name.

The time is ripe for taking steps for weeding out an element in society that is opposed to our form of government—in fact all forms of government. This step has been delayed too long already.

The "Appeal to Reason" a paper published in a Kansas town and which has several readers about Newberg is not correctly named. It should be christened "An Appeal to Ignorance."

It seems that Billy is himself again for the Topeka Capital says "Mr. Bryan's Labor day speech at Kansas City was pure, old-fashioned calamity, unrelieved by a single ray of hope or good cheer."

Statisticians claim that the use of the vile cigarette is steadily on the decrease; that in the last three years either an equivalent of at least 200,000 smokers have ceased to use paper cigarettes, or a large number are more moderate in their use. A long persecuted public breaths a fervent prayer that in this case figures do not lie.

Question those you meet and nearly every one will tell you that on hearing the news of the attempt on the life of the president their second thought was for the welfare of Mrs. McKinley. As a true and loving wife and as the mistress of the White House Mrs. McKinley has a very strong hold on the affections of the people and the ability she has shown during these trying days to stand up and face the affliction with composure has surprised everyone and the people all over the land are ready to arise and exclaim "Long live the president and Mrs. McKinley."

The approach of the opening of the college year should bring many young people in this vicinity to reflect seriously upon the fact that they are carelessly and heedlessly allowing one of the richest opportunities of their lives to go quickly by, unchallenged. The difficult thing is to get these young people started now to reflecting along this line, as inevitably they will reflect sometime—when it is too late. Of all the expressions of regret made from the realization of "it might have been," the majority are heard from those who at the favorable time in life failed to avail themselves of a good education, an investment than which none other yields safer or better returns. An education is not an actual necessity toward getting on in life—many do well materially without it. Not all can make a success of life however, and no one can make as great a success in the higher sense without it. This fact is becoming a greater fact every day and the young man or woman who fails to observe it and profit thereby will surely pay the penalty. There are cases in which a young person may be justified in not making the effort necessary for a sound education, but what excuse can that young man or woman in good health give, who lives within the very shadow of a most worthy educational institution, and listlessly allows the years to pass, careless of the leverage on life which might be secured with relatively little effort? There are many such young people in this vicinity. Do they realize the situation now confronting them?

Newberg has several hundred dollars invested in plank sidewalks and street crossings taken altogether "good bad and indifferent" and this prompts the Graphic to remark that the time is at hand when some other more durable material than lumber ought to be considered in the make up of walks in our town. A plank walk is very good when it is new but with the soaking of our winter rains and the scorching of the summer's sun it soon gets the "rickets" and the flapety flap of loose boards makes elderly pedestrians nervous and not infrequently renders the aid of a physician necessary. On many of our side streets a light coating of gravel spread on the walks and held in place by a scantling until it packed would soon make an excellent as well as a lasting walk and one that in the end would be much cheaper than a plank walk. In many of the towns throughout the Mississippi valley gravel alone is used for making walks and the streets are neater and make a better appearance than where plank walks are in vogue. Here where we don't have hard freezing weather to bulge the surface of the earth a walk once packed with gravel would be a fixture for years and when compared with plank walks as we usually find them would certainly be preferable.

An all round good harvest of hay and grain has been cut in the Willamette valley this season and the weather for caring for it could hardly have been improved. With fair prices a large amount of money will go into the hands of the farmers. The prune crop is good and although those who own evaporators are getting a little nervous on account of the rather tardy ripening of the crop it looks now like the returns from the sale of the prune crop were going to be very satisfactory. Taken altogether the producer has had things pretty much his way this season so far and consequently he steps with a lighter tread than he has used for several years in the valley.

All patriotic citizens look forward to, and work for, the amelioration of the social conditions of the country. Though all have the same end in view, the desired results are not reached as quickly as might be, because of opposition in methods. The great question before the people is whether the work is to be accomplished by the "former" or by the "re-former;" that is, whether higher citizenship is to be obtained by creating it from the top down. In an address a few weeks ago, Oregon's Grand Old Man, Hon. George H. Williams, in the few words following, gave forcible expression to his convictions on the question at issue. "Reformation should begin at the bottom and work up. I am of the opinion that in our time too much value is attached to the forcible correction of evils through the functions of government and not enough to the improvement of individual citizenship. Legislative enactments that do not embody and represent public opinion are for the most part a delusion and a snare. My faith in legislation to make men good, moral or generous, is a minor quantity. What is most needed is something that will develop and impart controlling power to the individual."

CALL A HALT.

The attempt made upon the life of our President at Buffalo last Friday casts a gloom over the country, not explained alone by the fact of the attempt itself, but perhaps more by the fact that conditions are such that the attempt is the embodiment of the spirit and character of a certain class of people who are generously accorded the privileges of citizenship in our nation. The despicable fanatic who with one hand grasped the hand offered in the spirit of fellowship, while with the other he treacherously laid low the one who extended it, is not of himself worthy of thought or attention, but the spirit abroad of which this dastardly act is the exponent, is worthy of the most careful attention. In fact such attention has been delayed far too long already. Always fearful lest in any way we should curtail the freedom of which our institutions make their boast, the fester of anarchy has been allowed to gather and break, unheeded and unchallenged, until the bullet of an assassin awakes the country to its peril. Freedom of speech does not mean full license of inflaming harangue, and the time has now certainly come, at what possible cost! when the people realize the vital difference and will support the government in discriminating accordingly. A well developed nest of anarchy is an unquestioned mark of a leprous political condition and the treatment should be as heoric and severe as in the case of the loathsome disease itself. What is anarchy any way? And who is an anarchist? Is the brand of Cain stamped only on the man or thing who plots or makes the direct assault upon the life of those in high authority? The one who commits the deed, or the deed itself, is merely a reminder of a condition which is existing all the time in its support. That is the alarming phase of the question. And the question arises is there not an indirect as well as a direct support, though unintentional, to a condition to which a tragic climax is possible? What of the influence of the fierce denunciation which the President has undergone for so long at the hands of supposedly good people? What of the influence of a certain class of literature sown broadcast over the country, some of it so-called reform, the principal mission of which is to disseminate the doctrine of pessimism, and to call in question the motives of those in power? Where lies the difference between such an attitude and that of the out and out anarchist? Only in degree, not in kind. There is plenty of room for a free and open discussion of governmental policies from different political standpoints, without descending to a plane of such rabid personal denunciation and abuse as this country has witnessed for some time past. Such abuse partakes largely of the spirit of anarchy, and is assassin breeding, and whoever stoops to it, be he avowed anarchist, or cheap demagogue of a preacher, reformer or politician lines up with the scum which nests at Patterson, New Jersey. The man who cannot offer a prayer for the stricken President without punctuating it with insinuating innuendoes, has anarchy in his heart, and his supplication tends downward instead of upward, whence its inspiration springs. If there is any divine leading in the tragedy of last Friday, as vaguely intimated, it must be for the purpose of awakening some such well meaning people to a realization of the responsibility of their present course of action, and whither it is leading. If so, the lesson has been dearly purchased, and should be better learned than there has been any immediate warrant for hoping.

Take in the State Fair.

The Oregon State Fair at Salem, September 23rd to 28th, 1901, inclusive, promises to be the best this year that has yet been held. New features for amusement and instruction have been added, and particular attention will be given to the stock exhibit, owing to the great and constantly increasing interest in dairying throughout the state.

For this occasion, the Southern Pacific Company will make a rate of one fare for the round trip, from all its stations in Oregon, to Salem and return, and it is to be hoped that every one who can do so will show his appreciation by taking advantage of this opportunity to pass a few days pleasantly and profitably at our state capital.

She—"What does it require besides patience to make a good fisherman?"

He—"An utter disregard for the truth."

A Healthy Growth.

Acker's Elixer has gained a firm hold among our people and is acknowledged to be the superior to all other preparations. It is a positive cure for all blood and skin diseases. Only fifty cents a bottle and we guarantee it. C. F. Moore & Co. druggists.

Traveler—"Do you think the lynch law you have here decreases the number of murders?"

Native—"Wall, I dunno; but it decreases the number of murderers."

Chamberlain's Pain Balm applied to a cut, bruise, burn, scald or like injury will instantly allay the pain and will heal the parts in less time than any other treatment. Unless the injury is very severe it will not leave a scar. Pain Balm also cures rheumatism, sprains, swellings and lameness. For sale by C. F. Moore & Co., druggists.

He Owes His Life To The Forethought of a Companion.

While on a hunting trip in Webster county, Mr. S. I. Stump, of Normantown, W. Va., had a severe attack of bloody flux. He says, "I firmly believe that I owe my life to the forethought of one of the company who had taken along a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy." Moral—Procure a bottle of this remedy before leaving home. It cannot be obtained when on a hunting, fishing or prospecting trip Neither can it be obtained while on board the cars or steamship, and at such times and places it is most likely to be needed. The safe way is to have it with you. Thousands of travelers never leave home without it. For sale by C. F. Moore & Co., druggists.

A certain young man who detected a small piece of bark in his sausage went to the butcher's shop to know what had become of the rest of the dog. The butcher is reported to have been so affected that he could only give him a part of the tale.

A Night of Terror.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she would die from Pneumonia before morning, writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, which had more than once saved her life, and cured her of Consumption. After taking, she slept all night. Further use entirely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all Throat, Chest and Lung Diseases. Only 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. F. Moore & Co.'s, druggists.

THE POISE

Of a woman in perfect health attracts the eye at once. Such a woman is all too rarely seen. The most of women bear scars of suffering on their faces which no smiles can hide, and often in their very carriage betray the womanly weakness which oppresses them.

There can be no perfect health for the woman who suffers from disease of the delicate womanly organism. Her general health is so intimately related to the local health of the womanly organs that these must be cured before the general health can be established.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It cures womanly disorders and diseases; brightens the dull eye, rounds out the hollow cheek and gives strength for wifely duties and maternal cares.

"My health is the best now that it has been for four years," writes Mrs. Phebe Morris, of Ira, Cayuga Co., N. Y., Box 52. "I have taken but two bottles of your medicine, 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' These medicines have done me more good than all that I have ever taken before. I couldn't do my work only about half the time, and now I can work all the time for a family of four. Before I took your medicines I was sick in bed nearly half the time. My advice to all who are troubled with female weakness is to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery'—the most wonderful medicines in the world."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Stood Death Off.

E. B. Munday, a lawyer of Henrietta, Tex., once fooled a grave digger. He says, "My brother was very low with malarial fever and jaundice. I persuaded him to try Electric Bitters, and he was soon much better, but continued their use until wholly cured. I am sure Electric Bitters saved his life." This remedy expels malaria, kills disease germs and purifies the blood; aids digestion, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, cures constipation, dyspepsia, nervous diseases, kidney troubles, female complaints; gives perfect health. Only 50c at C. F. Moore & Co.'s drugstore.

Notice.

In the County Court for Yamhill county state of Oregon.

In the matter of the guardianship of Leroy Smith, Carl B. Smith, Lena L. Smith and Mabel L. Smith, minor heirs of Charles F. Smith, deceased.

It appearing to the Court from the petition this day presented and filed by Demsy Smith, the guardian of the estate of Leroy Smith, Carl B. Smith, Lena L. Smith and Mabel L. Smith, minor heirs of Chas. F. Smith deceased, praying for an order of sale of certain real estate belonging to said wards that it is necessary and would be for the benefit of said wards to have such real estate sold according to law.

It is hereby ordered that the next of kin of said wards, and all persons interested in the said estate, appear before this court on Saturday the 14th day of September A. D. 1901, at the hour of one o'clock p. m. of said day, at the county court room in the court house in the said county of Yamhill, state of Oregon, then and there to show cause why a license should not be granted for the sale of such real estate, described in said petition as follows:—An undivided four-fifth interest of, in and to the following described real property, lying and being in Yamhill county, state of Oregon, and being bounded and described as follows, viz:—Beginning at a corner stone in the county road 21 rods and 1.6 feet s of the n w corner of land deeded from Samuel Longley and Ellen H. Longley his wife to Elisha Smith; thence e 91 1-5 rods to corner stone; thence s 8 rods and 12.7 feet to corner stone; thence w 91 1-5 rods to corner stone in county road; thence n 8 rods and 12½ feet to the place of beginning containing five acres more or less. Also, an undivided 4-5 interest of, in and to the following described real property, viz:—Beginning at a point 29 rods and 1.47 feet s of the n w corner of the land conveyed by Samuel Longley and wife to Elisha Smith by deed which is duly recorded at page 371 of Book 29 of the records of deeds of Yamhill county, Oregon, and running thence e 91 1-5 rods to the e line of said land; thence s 7 rods and 2.2 feet to Everest's line; thence w 25 1-5 rods to the e line of the O. J. Walker dle; thence s on said Walker's e line to the n line of the O. & C. Railroad's (formerly P. & W. V. R.) right of way; thence s westerly along the n line of said right of way to a point 9 ¾ rods n of the s w corner of land formerly owned by A. T. Blair; thence n to the place of beginning, all in said Yamhill county, saving and excepting therefrom 38 100 of an acre now owned by said O. & C. R. R. and described in a certain decree which is duly recorded at pages 2, 3 & 4 of Vol. 12 of the journal of the circuit court for said Yamhill county, state of Oregon.

It is further ordered that a copy of this order shall be served on said next of kin, and upon all persons interested in said estate, prior to said 14th day of September A. D. 1901, by publication thereof for three consecutive weeks in the Newberg Graphic a weekly newspaper of general circulation, published in Yamhill county, state of Oregon.

Dated this 12th day of August A. D. 1901.
R. P. BIRD, County Judge.

Summons.

In the Circuit Court for Yamhill county, state of Oregon.

James Madson, Plaintiff vs.
Mary L. Hess, Virginia R. Miller, John R. Miller, Elizabeth Berg, John Berg, Nordica Davis, — — — Davis and Eva E. Hess, Defendants

To Virginia R. Miller, John R. Miller, Elizabeth Berg, John Berg, Nordica Davis and — — Davis the above named defendants:—

In the name of the state of Oregon, you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit in the above named court on or before the last day of the time prescribed in the order for the publication of this summons upon you, to wit: on or before the 27th day of September, A. D. 1901, and if you fail so to appear and answer, for want thereof, the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief prayed for in his complaint herein, to wit: A decree requiring said defendants to set forth in their answers to the complaint herein the nature of their claims to the real property described in said complaint, viz:—Beginning at the s. e. corner of the n. ½ of the Joseph and Mary L.
