Pres. H. E. McGrew drove up to Rose-dale last Saturday and on the following evening officiated in a wedding ceremony in which Miss Flora Pemberton, who taught the Springbrook school last year, was married to a young gentleman of Portland.

Don't fail to read from week to week the display of the Yamhill Coal and Oil Company. It is written for a purpose—not to run a bluff on anybody—but to give you something to do some tall thinking over in the hope that you will wake up and act for the best interests of yourself and community. It won't hurt you to read it anyway. Try it and see.

Newberg was represented at the state W. C. T. U. convention at Astoria this week by the following ladies: Mrs. H. D. Harford, state president, Mrs. Nathan White, Mrs. Jonathan Votaw, Mrs. G. W. Curtis and Mrs. N. L. Wiley. Mrs. Jennie Larsen-Bright who is visiting her mother here, also attended as a delegate from Sherman county.

A talk with people in other parts of Yamhill soon develops the fact that the citizens of Newberg have a reputation for being pushers when it comes to developing new enterprises. Help keep up our good name in this respect by doing everything possible to help and foster every progressive and legitimate industry which is presented for public cooperation. Incidentally this may be taken to mean—a little stock in the Yamhill Coal and Oil Company and help the work along.

Mr. F. C. Austin, state agent for the Bankers' Life Insurance Co. of Des Moines, Iowa, was in Newberg Monday, and paid to W. C. Kruger, administrator of the estate of Canby Heston, deceased, $2383. Mr. Heston having carried a policy with his company. Proof of death was mailed September 26, filed in the office of the company September 30, and draft issued October 1. The promptness made in settlement of this claim certainly speaks well for the company.

The coal and oil interests of this county were well represented at the McMinnville fair last week. The Yamhill Coal and Oil Company had a good exhibit of formations of diverse kinds, taken from its prospect west of town, furnishing strong indications of oil. A large chart was also exhibited which gave an interesting study of the geological eras of the earth's history. Near this company's exhibit was also one by the Portland company which has a prospective coal mine over near North Yamhill, from which some fine specimens of coal were exhibited.

All things worked together for good to the McMinnville street fair and carnival last week and combined to help make a success of it. The weather was ideal, the crowd in attendance large, the department displays good and the side shows numerous and varied. The "crowning" event of the carnival took place on the first day, when stately and charming "Good Queen Bess" was crowned with impressive ceremony as the queen of the realm of old Yamhill. The program for the succeeding two days was rather informal, but the people met, visited and had a good time generally. On Saturday Pres. H. L. Boardman delivered an inspiring address on "The Realm of Queen Bess," which warmed with pride the heart of every loyal Yamhiller.

The college boys are out every evening for football practice in their new suits. The material for making a team this season is mostly raw, some of it decidedly so, but it is of good weight and with hard work a good team can be turned out.

When you cannot sleep for coughing, it is hardly necessary that any one should tell you that you need a few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to allay the irritation of the throat, and make sleep possible. It is good. Try it. For sale by C. F. Moore & Co. druggists.

Prof. H. G. Rosenberger received notification a few days ago that he had been granted a full year's scholarship in Cornell University. Although it came too late to be used, it means very much, for no better testimony could be desired as to one's merits and ability than to be worthy of a scholarship from Cornell.

To get an idea of the amount of dried prunes one fruit evaporator represents, it will pay one to go down and look in to the old feed store building and shed across from the creamery. The floors of three large rooms are covered with prunes to an average depth of two or three feet, the output of the Allen drier here in town. Multiply this output forty or fifty times, the number of driers in this neighborhood, and one begins to realize what the prune industry amounts to in this end of Yamhill.

S. M. Calkins has sold his interest in the firm of Sutton, Calkins & Co. to C. D. Pool, of Portland, and will retire from the firm the first of next month. In the new firm L. M. Parker takes a two-thirds interest and Mr. Pool one third. Mr. Pool has been traveling for a Minneapolis house but has had an eye out for a business proposition in Newberg for several months. He has rented the Mrs. Townsend property on River Street and will move there the last of the month. Mr. Calkins has not indicated to the public what he intends to engage in but it is safe to say that no large amount of grass will grow under his feet while he is "resting."

It Happened in a Drug Store.

"One day last winter a lady came to my drug store and asked for a brand of cough medicine that I did not have in stock," says Mr. C. R. Grandin, the popular druggist of Ontario, N. Y. "She was disappointed and wanted to know what cough preparation I could recommend. I said to her that I could freely recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and that she could take a bottle of the remedy and after giving it a fair trial if she did not find it worth the money to bring back the bottle and I would refund the price paid. In the course of a day or two the lady came back in company of a friend in need of a cough medicine and advised her to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I consider that a very good recommendation for the remedy." The remedy owes its great popularity and extensive sale in a large measure to the personal recommendations of people who have been cured by its use. It is for sale by C. F. Moore & Co. druggists.

THE YAMHILL COAL & OIL COMPANY!

Consult any standard work on geology and you will find that theoretically conditions are of like nature both in Oregon and California. Before the discovery of oil in California no more was known as to its presence in that state than we in Yamhill county, Oregon, know of its presence here. The same reasons that prompted the first development in California suggested the work of this company. The discovery of oil indications in California are duplicated in every particular right here in Yamhill county. California produced the men and money to send a drill down. Theoretically they worked—when the drill at a depth of 1000 feet produced oil, theory was knocked into a cocked hat. It was then a practical proposition. You know the result of that find. The hundreds of fortunes made, and the magnitude of subsequent development. Now then, some of the largest owners and drillers of oil fields in California, have been working on the same old theory used in California, right here in Oregon for the past year. Messrs. Gudenheim & Mack, the people referred to, have purchased for cash over 15,000 acres of land in southern Oregon. These purchases were based on the finding of the same conditions that exist in California where oil is now in evidence, and as exist on the lands of this company in Yamhill county. You may rest assured that these California people know what and where they are at. Only last week the drill at 400 feet depth in southern Oregon struck oil seepages. It is a foregone conclusion that at a proper depth, oil will be found. Now then, you who read, how close to Yamhill county, and how near to the lands of this company, do you require this theory of the presence of oil to be demonstrated to secure your confidence, your good will and your support to the efforts of this company in going ahead on the same lines, identically the same evidence and prospects in every particular as exist in all proven oil fields of the world. How can you, as a landholder or business man stand out? Is it not worth even $10 or $20 to you to have some one prove this section a true coal and oil field? The stock of this company which you will receive for your money will be worth hundreds for every dollar invested; its par value is $1; you can purchase it now for 50c per share. It is paid up and cannot be assessed. We have 2500 acres capitalized at only $50,000. Every dollar received will go to direct work of development. There are no salaries paid to officers. Its management can be relied upon as practical and progressive. Write to the secretary or to the Bank of Newberg.

Came Near Dying.

"For three days and nights I suffered agony untold from an attack of cholera morbus brought on by eating cucumbers," says M. E. Lowther, clerk of the district court, Centerville, Iowa. "I thought I should surely die, and tried a dozen different medicines but to no purpose. I sent for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and three doses relieved me entirely. I went to sleep and did not awake for eight hours. On awakening a few hours ago I felt so gratified that the first work I do on going to the office is to write to the manufacturers of this remedy and offer them my grateful thanks and say, 'God bless you and the splendid medicine you make.'" This remedy is for sale by C. F. Moore & Co. druggists.

An Astonishing But True Story

"My home is in Sidney, Ohio. I have been nearer death with consumption than any other living person in the world, and I want you to read this, so you can tell others. I took a severe cold and neglected it. I grew worse all the time, and at the end of two years I had run into consumption. I coughed terribly, lost flesh, could not sleep, and became so dreadfully weak that I had to take to bed. In the following eighteen months I gradually reached the last stages of consumption. No less than seven physicians treated me and all gave me up saying I was incurable. I was absolutely helpless. The whole family wore themselves out caring for me. One day mother and sister came to my bedside, and said I had but a day or two more to live. Tears rolled down their cheeks as they sobbed the news. The doctors had declared I was in the last stage, and no human being could save me. I was willing to die, but before going to the cruel grave, I wanted to go out and see my dearly beloved town of Sidney once more. They told me such a thing was impossible—that I would surely die before I got back. But I insisted, and to gratify my dying wish, a carriage was fitted up with a bed of pillows, and to this I was carried and slowly driven around Court House Square. I got home more dead than alive. Through the mercy of Providence, someone brought a trial bottle of medicine said to be a consumption cure. No one imagined for an instant it was worth trying. But as a drowning person grasps at a straw, so I tried this medicine. I was better after taking two doses. Mother got more of the medicine and I took it, improving all the time. Today I am as well as any reader of this paper, and the medicine that cured me was Acker's English Remedy for Consumption. I declare before God and man that every word here printed is true."

This remarkable testimonial, on file in the office of Messrs. W. H. Hooker & Co., New York, proprietors of Dr. Acker's Celebrated English Remedy, is vouched for by them, as well as by prominent druggists of Sidney, Ohio. Acker's English Remedy is sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee that your money will be refunded in case of failure. 25c, 50c, and $1 a bottle in U. S. and Canada. * In England 12d, 6d, 3d, and 1d.
