Nate Stanley left a few days ago for Montecito, Southern California, for a visit with his parents. He expected to be gone about a month, Eli Evans taking his place in the butcher shop meanwhile.

Wm. McLaughlin, vice president and foreman of the Spaulding Logging Company was in town a few days ago. He says his family is pleasantly located at Albany and is well pleased with their new home.

Mrs. M. A. McGregor, her son Fred and daughter Jennie came down from Salem the latter part of last week and visited friends here a day or two. They were on their way back to their old home in Vancouver, British Columbia, where they will reside in the future.

Miss Ione Hill who for some time has been visiting her friends the Misses Lora and Dora Reice, at Covina, California, writes her folks in Newberg that she will leave there this week for Cincinnati, Ohio, where she will make her home with Dr. and Mrs. E. P. Dixon.

There is strong probability that the vacant block adjoining the court house on the north will be improved soon by the planting of trees and other necessary adornment to make it a pleasant park. This is a matter that has long been neglected, but now is a good time to make a move.—Register.

The W. C. T. U. wishes to ask anyone having clothing, vegetables, dried fruit etc., to donate to the Refuge Home in Portland, to leave same at home of Mr. Kinley Blair, near Friends church, by Nov. 26. All articles thankfully received and sent to the "Home" as a Thanksgiving offering.

The Ministerial Association of Newberg has decided upon holding the union Thanksgiving services in the Methodist church next Thursday, the sermon to be preached by Rev. F. C. Stanard, pastor of the Baptist church. It is requested that the members of the choir of all the churches meet at the M. E. church on Monday and Tuesday evenings for the purpose of practicing some special music for the services.

The party or parties who stole the city bell from the council building, may find their "fun," as they term it, costly business and that they will have to pay dearly for their sport. The city council are right after them and they mean business and no "fun". As will be seen elsewhere in this paper, the city offers a reward of $20 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the party or parties who stole city bell and street lamps. If arrested they will find that the city has a little "light" on the subject.—Herald.

To put an end to a fad that seems to be growing in favor with a certain class of advertisers, the city council should promptly pass a law forbidding the painting of advertisements and advertisements on sidewalks in the city. There are numerous methods of legitimate advertising that will give sufficient publicity to any enterprise, and there is no occasion for anyone to resort to freak schemes that only result in making the town look cheap and shabby. The marking-pot fad should be squelched. People of refined and orderly tastes, when walking along the street, should be spared the annoyance of having these nightmares in coal oil and lamp-black staring them in the face.—Observer. Above indicated legislation should also include some decisive provisions against the flagrantly presumptuous bill posters with their flashy show bills, tobacco and patent medicine signs. The nuisance has become a plague and quarantine measures are in order.

Prof. Kelsey says he is getting the young orators in line over at the college and that he has some good material with which to go after the state medal again next spring. The orations are in, and the drill on delivery will soon be begun.

Read the ad of the Yamhill Coal and Oil Company and consider what you find there a personal appeal to you. What is said there is well said, to the point, and very readable. It's worth your while to read it whether you are going to subscribe oil stock or not.

The Woodburn Independent man, doubtless unable to give a reason for the hope that is within him, says, "Thanksgiving is approaching—Turkeys received at this office on subscription." That editor asks largely. The average country pencil pusher will return thanks with a glad heart if he makes a raise of a good fat hen between now and November 28.

The poet who said "No shade, no shine, no fruit, no flowers, no leaves—November," had never seen this Oregon of ours, where the sun plays hide and seek with shifting cloud, and comes out smiling at the joke when sudden showers or has caught the umbrella-less pedestrian unawares; where November berries and cream are served as dessert, where the luxuriant rose blooms in all its fragrant radiance and where autumn leaves still color vivid landscape. November in Oregon is adjusted to the spirit of the holiday with which it is associated and every November day is Thanksgiving day in Oregon.

It seems that our sister town of Dayton has a curfew ordinance, which many towns have, the thing worthy of note and commendation being that she enforces it. Says the Herald, "There are town boys, along with a few who have outgrown their boyhood days, who have suddenly learned, and now realize that the curfew ordinance is still in force and is a law. Wednesday night Marshal Earl rounded up ten boys who were out in town and away from their homes after the hour named in the curfew ordinance. Recorder Sigler imposed a fine on each one. Those who could not pay served time in the city jail. Boys, wouldn't you feel better at home at an early hour and asleep in your little beds than to sit in a jail or pay out your money in the effort to break the law? You have had fair warning that the law would be enforced. Take heed."

Chicken pie? Yes, tonight!
L. F. Hall is seriously ill with pneumonia.
Hose that is O. K. and reasonable at Storey's.
Air tight heating stoves made and repaired. ALFRED WHEELER, Plumber.
Here we go! Hats away down at cat prices. Next Saturday, at Mrs. Johnson's.

If your subscription to the Graphic has expired come in and make a half dollar by paying for a year in advance.

The offer of the Graphic and the National Magazine for $1.00, particulars found in this column, is well worth considering. Those interested can examine sample copies of the magazine at this office.

O. H. Allen arrived home from Elberton, Washington, Wednesday evening where he has been assisting his father in the prune business. He says the total output of their evaporators at Walla Walla and Elberton will amount to eighteen car loads.

John M. Shaw who came from Minnesota a short time ago, has bought the John Green place situated a mile southwest of town. He laid in a complete outfit of furniture and carpets at Hollingsworth's furniture store and has fitted up for living at home. Glad to see him permanently located.

Mrs. J. B. Mount, who went East to visit her parents at Stuart, Iowa, writes that the health of her mother is improving and she expects to reach home in time for Thanksgiving dinner. J. B. appears to be getting along nicely but he is keeping a pretty close count now of the days that are to drag their weary length between this and the time of her arrival.

The revival meetings in progress at the Friends church under the leadership of evangelists Nathan and Esther Frame were brought to a close Wednesday evening. Though not as many visible results have been attained as during other years, much good work has been accomplished among the membership, and the church is accordingly strengthened. After two or three days rest, Mr. and Mrs. Frame will probably begin a series of meetings in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Evans and daughter Miss Anna of Indianapolis, and Prof. Marianna Brown, of Carmel, Indiana, who were on the way to Long Beach, California, to spend the winter, stopped off at Portland and came up to Newberg Tuesday evening, remaining over until Thursday morning. Miss Brown, until last year, has for many years been professor of Greek in Earlham College, Richmond, Indiana, while Miss Evans is a graduate of Earlham and a schoolmate of Prof. and Mrs. R. W. Kelsey, R. W. Jones and W. C. Woodward, who enjoyed an Earlham reunion at the rooms of Prof. and Mrs. Kelsey at the boarding hall Wednesday evening. The visitors attended chapel Wednesday morning, Miss Brown giving an excellent talk to the students. Mr. and Mrs. Evans, who are prominent people in the Friends church of Indiana, made a short visit in Newberg some twelve years ago.

Of Interest To Graphic Readers.
Along with the home newspaper, a family should take at least one good magazine. Arrangements have been made whereby all new subscribers and all old subscribers who pay up in advance may get the Graphic and the National Magazine at the rate of $1.00 a year, the regular subscription price of the National being $1.00. The Graphic has been receiving this magazine for two years and has no hesitancy in pronouncing it one of the best one dollar magazines published. One feature alone, the vivid, fascinating sketches, "National Affairs at Washington," written by the editor, and profusely illustrated, is well worth the subscription price. The magazine is further replete with well written articles of general interest and wholesome stories. In short, it is an ideal home magazine and you may have it for nearly half the regular price by this clubbing offer.

Over in Malheur county, Oregon, someone stumbled on to indications of oil, such as shells, sandstone and shales. There was a stamped, thousands of acres were located on, companies organized and only last week the Interior Department at Washington, on petition of capitalists, withdrew some thousands of acres from settlement and placed them same as mineral lands. At least four companies organized by monied men have ordered equipments and will go right to work drilling for oil. The conditions in Malheur county for the finding of oil are the same as we have right here in Yamhill county, identically the same in every respect. If the people of Yamhill county would give one-tenth the support to this company's efforts that the people of Eastern Oregon are giving in that locality, our work would be well advanced. We are still selling stock and shall continue to do so, but we work hard to make the sales. A number of people have made application by mail, enclosing money orders and checks, but not to the extent we should expect. In fact, we have received more dollars through the mail from California, right from the oil district where they know the probable value of our prospect, than we have from the people of Yamhill. What do you think of that? And mind you, these people who purchase our stock, living in other sections, have no interest in the matter other than speculative. They expect to make money on the stock they buy. They don't care a rap about the development of our local resources, WHICH YOU SHOULD. They have no interest in the advance values of lands outside of this company's holdings, WHICH YOU SHOULD. It's a single step to them and a double shuffle to you. There are twenty reasons why you should go into this for every one to a non-resident. Still you don't go in. Why? What kind of an argument can you put up? What sensible reason can you give? Is good sense, common sense, to common for you to use? If not, join us; get in the band-wagon and ride.

Great Luck of an Editor.

HOW CHARLES W. BABCOCK

Proprietor Lyceum Shell Oyster Parlor, of Rochester, N. Y. Obtained $2,000 Life Insurance Policy.

"My business as proprietor of the Lyceum Shell Oyster Parlor, 245 Main street, Rochester, N. Y.," writes Mr. Charles W. Babcock, "was so confining that my lungs became affected. My doctor told me I'd have to leave the store and go to work at something outdoors. He said my lungs were in bad shape, and I knew it just as well as he did. The trouble had been growing on me for a long time. Like most other people, I tried to make myself believe the trouble was not in the lungs. I called it stomach trouble or nervous disorder, but I kept coughing, spitting and wasting away right along. I lost in weight, falling from 140 to 115 pounds. Somehow or other, I got hold of Acker's English Remedy for Throat and Lung Troubles, and after taking it according to directions, I was as well as any man in New York State. I was healthier and stronger than before I took the cold which came so near killing me. I now weigh 150 pounds—ten pounds more than ever. After recovering, I applied for a life insurance policy. When the doctor began examining me, I was afraid he would discover that my lungs had once been affected, but he didn't. I passed all right, and was pronounced in a first-class condition. If that isn't proof of the most positive kind that Acker's English Remedy is a great medicine, I don't know what you call proof. I give it my warmest endorsement. My address is given above. Anyone who wishes may write me personally about my case."

Sold at 25c, 50c, and $1 a bottle, throughout the United States and Canada, and in England, at 15, 25, 35, 45, 60. If you are not satisfied after buying, return the bottle to your druggist, and get your money back. We authorize the above guarantee. W. H. HOOKER & CO., Proprietors, New York. For sale by C. F. Moore & Co.
