C. J. Leavitt, who owns a mining property near Alamo, Eastern Oregon, has received very flattering reports from the assay of sample rock from his prospect, and is confident of realizing a good thing from his mine. Mark Wolf, who started in at the State University at the opening of the school year, but who discontinued work there to attend business college in Portland, shook hands with old friends in Newberg Sunday. He and his sister Miss Helen are now living at Dundee where the latter has a position as teacher in the public schools, and Mark makes daily trips into the city to pursue his studies.

The Yamhill Coal & Oil Co. have all the conditions that go to prove that oil exists in Yamhill county, and just as soon as the people of the county can see the advantage of a good oil or coal discovery they will be ready to commence operations. The stock of this company will not remain long at 50 cents per share, as they will soon have sufficient funds to put the test drills at work. Are you one of the company? Have you a certificate of stock? They need your co-operation now. They may be a help to you later. Only a few more shares are going at 50 cents per share.

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. J. C. and Mrs. C. A. Hodson gave a thimble party at the home of the latter to a large number of their lady friends. Fancy sewing was the feature of the afternoon's entertainment, punctuated with a literary program and refreshments. The guests were Mesdames C. K. Spaulding, F. A. Morris, L. D. Barry, C. J. Edwards, C. F. Moore, F. K. Jones, C. E. Wilson, Claud Cummings, C. Butt, W. O. Robertson, F. A. Elliott, Van Leavitt, Dr. Davidson, H. Ehret, L. S. Hill, D. H. The Tillamook Headlight gives the following notice of the marriage, mentioned by the Graphic last week, of Mrs. M. E. Myers of this place and W. D. Stillwell: Married, on Saturday evening, at the residence of Mr. Geo. Grayson, Capt. W. D. Stillwell and Mrs. M. E. Myers of Yamhill county, both of whom are well known throughout the state as early settlers in Oregon. The bride is 67 years of age and it was the groom's seventy-seventh birthday on Saturday. They were neighbors in the early days of Oregon in Yamhill county, but later Mr. Stillwell moved to Tillamook and became one of the pioneers of this county. Mr. Stillwell has been married twice before, it being now over 20 years since his last wife died. Mr. Stillwell represented Tillamook in the state legislature in 1891, and participated in the Indian war and was appointed by the governor to go to Washington with a deputation from Oregon in behalf of the Indian war veterans. While Mrs. Myers was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Grayson, in this city, Capt. Stillwell and Mrs. Myers renewed their former acquaintance, which resulted in their marriage on Saturday.

E. S. Craven shipped seventeen corn fed dressed hogs to Portland the first of the week. Hog raising is becoming a factor of diversified farming in this vicinity, which is proving a paying business.

From the amount of meat which is being shipped from this vicinity, a good deal of talk has arisen relative to the need of a packing house. It is prophesied that Newberg will have such an institution inside of five years.

Enos Ellis wishes to inform the public that on Tuesday morning he will open up a fish and poultry market in the Pickett building. Leave orders with him for dressed fowls for Sunday dinners and speak for Xmas supplies in advance.

Hon. J. F. Caples will lecture under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the M. E. church, on the evening of December 12. Subject, "Four Years American Consul in Chili." Admission 20 cents. College students 15 cents. Public school 10 cents.

The Thanksgiving football game between the hook and ladder team and the college boys was a fine contest from start to finish. The game ended a tie, with a score of 11 to 11, the college boys making two touchdowns and one goal in the first half, the town boys following suit in the second.

Strong words of commendation over the Thanksgiving sermon preached by Rev. F. C. Stanard, were heard on all sides. While recalling the blessings of the Nation for which all should be thankful, Rev. Stanard brought to mind the duties and responsibilities yet resting on patriotic citizenship, in a way which left a deep impression upon all his auditors.

An Oklahoma editor, who is a deep thinker, has fixed a table of rates for publishing things, "not as they seem," as follows: For telling the public that a man is a successful citizen when everybody knows he is as lazy as a government mule, $2.75; referring to a deceased citizen as one who is sincerely mourned by the entire community, and when we know he will be missed by the poker circle, $108; referring to some galvanizing female as an estimable lady whom it is a pleasure to meet, when every business man in town would sooner see the devil coming, horns, hoofs and all, than to see her coming toward him, $3.10; calling an ordinary pulpit pounder an eminent divine, 60 cents; sending a tough sinners to heaven with poetry, $5.00.—Newspaperdom.

The test of a new whistle and the busy hum of new machinery is a reminder of the fact that Newberg is becoming more and more a factory town. The new handle factory on the railroad near Churchill's packing house started up full blast the first of the week, everything moved off like clockwork, and the operators are correspondingly well pleased. The factory is well equipped with up-to-date machinery, and can turn out from one hundred and fifty to two hundred handles in a day. For the first few days work has been confined to the manufacture of ax, miner's pick and mattock handles, but other patterns are being perfected, so that in all, attention will be given to something like twenty different kinds of handles. Aside from the hands necessary to cut the timber for the factory, four or five men are required to handle the machinery, those now employed being F. C. Horton, B. F. Heyland, Elmer Hodson and Ed Holt. Everything around the factory smells "business" and it's worth anyone's while to call around and observe operation of Newberg's new industry.

Mrs. J. Crawford from above Dayton visited in town with Clarence Butt and family the first of the week. Just now is the time to have your photo taken and thus avoid the Xmas rush. DOUGLAS STUDIO. Very general interest is being taken in the ladies' rummage sale, and the "proprietors" report a big run in business.

Our fellow townsman Charles F. Moore now sings with the poet, "What is ambition? 'Tis a glorious cheat." A few years ago C. F. got hold of real estate out in the mountain gap east of town, and with much enthusiasm proceeded to lay it out in town lots. Visions of city edifices rose in his mind's eye, and intoxicated with the ambition of perpetuating his name, he worked some kind of a graft and got his prospective town called "Charleston". Now that the municipality has become a fact, being able to boast a little store and postoffice, it has evidently been concluded that it has already outgrown its name, and as a result the classical name of "Rex" now appears as a substitute in the Postal guide. Republics may be ungrateful, but this is a plain case of "ambition o'erleaping itself."

The Woodmen of the World. The Woodmen of the World is only eleven years old and ranks fourth in membership (232,199), being larger than 104 other sister orders in the United States; there being only three other sister orders larger, and one of them is thirty-one years old, another twenty-four and another seventeen years. The youngest of these three is one third older, yet we have taken four place this year. The W. O. W. is one of the four largest benefit orders of its kind in the United States.

It has a representative form of government, every camp being entitled to delegates to its biennial conventions. The non-convertible feature of the certificate backed by the fraternal loyalty of every heart to the dead, making the protection of the W. O. W. sure as death; the non-suspension of a member while ill or insane, upon proper notification, keeping his certificate in force by the fact of his illness, making it ab-

No man has any ground to stand on in making a refusal to purchase a few shares of this company's stock. We have never met the man yet that would black-eye the enterprise. Of course there is a knocker here and there. They don't count; they never do. We do not want their money and we have no desires to see them share in our profits or act with your good sense. Square men, sensible men, fair-play men; men willing to assist in local development for the public good and a possible chance of personal gain, are the men we meet and win. The knocker, we never meet, we only hear of him now and then. Today we have over 200 shareholders. We are after 400. When we secure 400 we will be strictly in business. What we will be able to show at that time will bring these same 400 shareholders to our office for more shares and these same shareholders, the 400, are the people who will have the exclusive rights of purchasing the company's shares. These people, the 400, make it possible to purchase equipment and send down the drill. When the drill by its works proves our claims are well founded, every shareholder will feel a proprietary interest and the few dollars needed to keep the work a going will come easy. Fortune rarely knocks at a man's door and when she does she seldom uses a battering ram. Eliminating the public good of this work we are confident there is going to be big money made by every shareholder of this company. We are sure of it. We believe the result of this company's work will revolutionize the affairs of the many individuals who will hold its stock. Our plan of co-operation gives you practically for a few dollars an option to secure more shares when we find oil and you know the stock is valuable without doubt. When this company finds oil you watch the scramble for stock. Make your position sure; keep out of the scramble. Put yourself on record now.

solutely non-forfeitable on the death bed, the protection of the order thus standing by the stricken man when every form of insurance would forsake him; the monument at the grave of every deceased member, memorial of a time-honored and sacred sentiment. Good as other forms of insurance are, these are the splendid features of protection which make the Woodmen of the World Inimitable. In the eleven years of its existence the W. O. W. has paid in death losses and monuments ten million dollars. These in silver dollars laid edge to edge would reach 236 miles; or if laid on top of each other would make a column 15 1/2 miles high, three times higher than Pike's Peak. It would buy 10,000 homes at $1000 each or it would buy 200,000,000 loaves of bread. It would take a train of 29 cars of ten tons each to transport it. The Woodmen of the World is three times larger than any other similar order of the same age in the United States—a sound conservative business management and a genuine fraternal organization. A CHOPPER.

A Woman's Awful Peril. "There is only one chance to save your life and that is through an operation" were the startling words heard by Mrs. I. B. Hunt of Lime Ridge, Wis., from her doctor after he had vainly tried to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. Gall stones had formed and she constantly grew worse. Then she began to use Electric Bitters which wholly cured her. It's a wonderful stomach, liver and kidney remedy. Cures dyspepsia, loss of appetite. Try it. Only 50c. Guaranteed. C. F. Moore & Co.

Philadelphia Press. Willie—Pa, this paper says: "Beef makes brawn and fish makes brain." Why do fish make brains? Pa—Probably because they travel in schools. Now ran away and play. Sick headache absolutely cured by a permanent herb drink. Cures constipation and indigestion, makes you eat, sleep, work, and happy. Satisfaction guaranteed or money back. 25c and 50c. C. F. Moore & Co.

There is a newspaper in Kansas whose motto is "Lie, steal, drink and swear," and it is thus explained by the editor: "When you lie, let it be down to pleasant dreams; when you steal, let it be away from immoral associates; when you drink let it be pure water; when you swear, let it be that you will patronize your home paper, pay your subscription, and not send your job work away from home."

FINE TAILORING. We have secured a first-class tailor to look after the wants of the dressing public. Those desiring tailor made suits will find a fine line of samples and the right man to fit them to your form. At the old tailor shop one door west of C. F. Moore's drugstore. Cleaning, pressing and repairing. Lookout for our Xmas add. Hodson Bros.

Very Unusual It is very unusual for a regular physician of good reputation to publicly endorse a proprietary remedy. We have often heard of cases where doctors receive the following voluntary letter from C. P. Smith, M. D., the most successful physician of Olean, N. Y.: "Messrs. W. H. Hooker & Co., New York City: I wish to add my professional testimony to the value of your English preparation known as Acker's English Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis and Consumption. In several instances, after I have tried my utmost to give every relief, I have prescribed your remedy, and it has acted almost like a miracle, not only relieving, but permanently curing every one of the patients. I endorse the preparation as one of the most valuable additions to the practice of medicine." Such a frank endorsement as the above is phenomenal. Coming from so distinguished a member of the medical profession, it carries with it an assurance which the public will be sure to avail themselves of. It is recommended like this which makes it possible to give the broad guarantee that is a part of every sale of Acker's English Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis and Consumption. It must either do all that is claimed for it, or your money will be refunded. Do you know of any other medicine sold on those terms? Do you know of any other medicines which prominent doctors regularly prescribe in their own practice as being better than prescriptions they write themselves? These facts are well worth considering. They are of especial interest to those with sore throats and weak lungs.
