A trade was made this week by the Newberg Land Co. by which D. W. Cummins and J. L. Aldrich exchange homes. Mr. Aldrich will at once take possession of his new location on South River street and will have a home he should be proud of.

The stockholders of the Bank of Newberg met Monday and elected the following officers: President, B. C. Miles; Vice President, N. E. Britt; Cashier, J. C. Colcord; Directors, B. C. Miles, E. H. Woodward, J. H. Douglas, Jr., C. K. Spaulding and N. E. Britt.

The first basket ball game of the series under the auspices of the College Athletic League will be played this evening between McMinnville and Pacific Colleges, the game to be played at the county seat. The following named players make up the Newberg team: Dwight Coulson, captain, and Clarence Dailey, guards, Owen Maris, center, Roy Heater and Calvin Blair forwards.

The literary societies of the college have re-organized for the winter term by the election of the following officers: Crescent—Calvin Blair, president; Dwight Coulson, vice-president; Edith Pugh, secretary; Agnes Hammer, librarian; Elwood Minchin, editor; Curtis Parker, marshal, Junta—Ann Morse, president; Fred George, vice-president; Anna Terrell, secretary; Wilfred Pemberton, treasurer; Viola Robinson, critic; Orville Johnson, marshal.

The Newberg Prohibition Alliance met in Crater's Hall Thursday, January 2. A large crowd was present and a permanent organization was effected. Rev. Hiram Gould was elected president, Moses Votaw secretary, Rev. F. C. Standard chaplain and Carl Nelson marshal. The regular meetings will be held in Crater's Hall the last Thursday in each month at 8 o'clock, unless otherwise announced. The district convention will be held here at the time for the next regular meeting and the executive committee has changed the date to Friday, January 31, in order to accommodate those who will come from up the river. Great enthusiasm prevailed throughout last Thursday's meeting and the prohibitionists expect a grand rally at the time of the convention.

At the call of the Mayor a citizens caucus was held in Crater's hall Wednesday evening to nominate officers to be elected next Monday. The caucus was organized by the election of R. B. Jones as chairman and Prof. F. K. Linville as secretary. The ticket nominated is as follows: For Mayor, W. C. Kruger; recorder, Clarence Butt; treasurer, J. C. Colcord; councilmen, first ward, J. C. Hodson; second ward, Milt Nicholson; third ward, H. R. Morris for two year term and J. E. Pressnall for one year term. The caucus also voted that two questions of very general interest be brought before the public by being placed on the city ticket for the consideration of voters. These questions are, "Shall cows be allowed to run at large?" and, "Shall bicycles be allowed sidewalk privileges?"

Newberg loses estimable people in the removal of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Seese to McMinnville where Mr. Seese will take charge of the Spaulding Logging Company's lumber yard. W. T. Macy who has been in charge of the yard has resigned to act as freight agent for the steamboat which is to run to McMinnville.

Dr. J. F. Gullette came up from Portland the first of the week, and after looking over the field, decided to take up the practice of medicine here. He comes well recommended, having had five years experience in the Good Samaritan Hospital in Portland and some years of practice at Condon, where he has been located until recently.

Having been strongly advised to try a southern climate for his health, Dr. H. J. Littlefield intends leaving the first of the week on an extended trip into Arizona, New Mexico and possibly Old Mexico. He expects to be gone until some time next spring, and if the climate does for him what he hopes for, he may conclude to locate with his family somewhere South. While they regret his departure, his many friends trust that he will find restoration to health on his trip to the Sunny South.

On last Friday evening at Dayton, occurred the death from consumption of Miss Pearl Hadley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hadley, former residents of this vicinity. Impressive funeral services were held Sunday afternoon in the Methodist church. The hand of affliction is thus laid heavily upon the family, as this death removes the last of Mr. and Mrs. Hadley's daughters, and leaves only three of eight children. Mr. and Mrs. Milton Newlin, Mrs. L. G. Newlin and Mrs. Orange Elliott drove up from here and attended the funeral.

The claims and statements which the Yamhill Coal & Oil Co. have been making from time to time in its reading notices and advertisements, received strong corroboration the other day when a first class quality of oil was struck up at New Whatcom, Washington. Oil experts have been claiming that the oil territory extends on north from California, the quality becoming better up this way. The finding of oil at New Whatcom, is undisputed evidence in support of this theory. The holdings of the Yamhill Coal & Oil Co. are in a direct line with discoveries already made. It is now known positively that there is oil at both ends of the line—why not in between? It now appears a doubly reasonable proposition to send down the drill right here at home. There is no "brighter prospect" for success.

Fresh oysters at the fish market.

Jo Atkinson attended the farmers' congress at Salem this week.

Attend the football game tomorrow afternoon—the last of the season.

Miss Grace Craven arrived home last week from Tillamook where she has been for some months.

Rollin Kirk drove up to McMinnville Saturday and visited until the following evening in that vicinity with a couple of his many lady friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sawyer returned home the first of the week from a two week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Frisell at Oregon City.

Students at the college have enterprisingly raised money enough among themselves to put in electric lights both in the college chapel and in the gymnasium.

Woodard Charles who has been living on the Cooper place north of town, having seen enough of farm life, moved back to town this week and is occupying a house on River street across from Moses Votaw's.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Butterfield and Fred Winniger, of Wells, Minnesota, arrived Monday evening to swell the numbers of the Minnesota contingent in this vicinity. Mr. Butterfield is a teacher and will have charge this winter of the Adventist school in the west part of town. The new arrivals are friends of D. W. Emersons.

Dayton is now assured of having a banking house in a short time. Men with sufficient capital to run a first-class banking business will open a bank early in the spring at the Fishburn corner. There is a probability that there will be as much work to do next summer on the Yamhill locks as there was done the past season. The paving along the north bank is washing out, we are informed, and there is danger of its washing away on the opposite bank. These locks have only cost the government in the neighborhood of $100,000, and yet cannot be relied upon.—Dayton Herald.

Rev. Levi D. Barr shipped his household goods the first of the week and will leave here for Los Angeles, California, the first of next week. During the two and a half years he has served the Friends church as pastor the services have always been well attended and a number of accessions have been made to the church in the meantime. His hearty "good morning" with which he greeted everybody about town, will be missed in his absence, and his many friends hope to see him come this way again. At the business meeting of the church held on Tuesday evening, the following resolutions were adopted:

"Whereas—Our beloved brother Levi D. Barr has, we trust in the providence of God, accepted a call to the pastorate at Los Angeles, California; and, Whereas, we lose our brother as pastor and himself and family from the community. Be it Resolved—that we hereby express our appreciation of his service as a pastor, also his worth as a citizen during two and one-half years; Be it Resolved—that we tender to him and his family our prayers and best wishes as they enter upon their new field of labor."

K. O. T. M. No. 68.

Friday was a red letter day for the Newberg Tent K. O. T. M. No. 68. The visiting Macabees kept coming in during the day until they numbered over thirty, made up from Amity, McMinnville, Butteville and other points. The occasion was the initiation of ten candidates at the evening session and the presence of State Commander J. W. Sherwood and Deputy Supreme Commanders G. A. Graves and J. L. Wright. The degree work was put on by Fidelity Tent of Amity and Yamhill Tent of McMinnville, in the most impressive style, and was very interesting and instructive. Many more candidates are coming in soon and Mr. Graves will stay here for a week or more working in the interests of the work.

The fundamental principles of the Macabees embrace all the good points gained by years of experience and possess some special features that they alone can offer, and are worthy of investigation and confidence.

The evening's entertainment was added to in no small way by a sumptuous repast served by our boys here. It was a royal good time and they stand to do it again soon. Their motto are "Keep On Top Mostly," "Keep Off the Mosquitos," "Kill Out The Moths," "Key of True Mercy," "Keep on the Move." A Knight.

Thousands Sent Into Exile.

Every year a large number of poor sufferers whose lungs are sore and racked with coughs are urged to go to another climate. But this is costly and not always sure. Don't be an exile when Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption will cure you at home. It's the most infallible medicine for Coughs, Colds, and all throat and lung diseases on earth. The first dose brings relief. Astonishing cures result from persistent

THE YAMHILL COAL & OIL COMPANY! Newberg, Oregon. CAPITAL STOCK $50,000 Par Value $1.00 per Share Paid up and NON ASSESSABLE. A. C. Churchill, Pres. Dr. H. J. Littlefield, Vice Pres. A. P. Oliver, Sec'y. J. C. Colcord, Treas. Clarence Butt, Attorney. Bank of Newberg, Depository. DIRECTORS: B. C. Miles, S. M. Calkins, N. E. Britt, C. A. Hodson, H. J. Littlefield, A. P. Oliver, Clarence Butt, J. C. Colcord, A. C. Churchill. We are asked, what about our coal prospect? Our reply is, our coal prospect is all right. Primarily, we are after oil. Incidentally, we will develop coal. Geological and expert knowledge after examination of the stratas of shale, limestone and sandstone on our properties would declare the probability of the existence of a true coal measure. With a possibility of possessing a true coal measure we have no desire to spend our money in tunnel prospecting. A coal measure consists of a thick strata of limestone, shale and sandstone. In Nova Scotia they are 13,000 feet, in South Wales 12,000, Pennsylvania 4000 feet, West Virginia 4500. In addition to these stratas of stone there are interstratified thin seams of coal, and in the richest coal measures known, the proportion of coal to rock is not more than one to fifty. From the nature and origin of coal it follows that the coal seams of considerable depths are the most valuable; in fact the thickest and finest are usually near the middle of the series. Nova Scotia has 81 coal seams, South Wales over 100, Lancashire 75, and so on. Now then, instead of prospecting our coal croppings by tunneling, we propose first, to ascertain by the use of our drill as to the existence of other coal seams deeper down. If our drill finds them, then, it only requires the services of a practical coal miner to put us on the market. We are killing two birds with one stone. We are neglecting neither coal or oil. We promise a full development of each and we trust a profitable conclusion of our work. Today we have over 300 shareholders, so you see they are coming right along, but we know of a great many people who should, but have not. Our drill will arrive before long and then down goes the hole, and if we keep right at it more people must subscribe. We believe our efforts will meet with success but we promise nothing but a square management and strict accounting. Every dollar goes to development. No shareholder need assume a burden. Subscribe to any amount you wish and have an interest in our work.

The January "National." Aside from Senator Hanna's "William McKinley as I Knew Him," the January "National" is a strong and attractive number. A new and most kindly portrait of Senator Hanna adorns the cover and smiles benevolently at the reader from the first page of "Affairs at Washington." This department is as usual a chatty resume of social and political gossip at the national capital, lavishly illustrated with finely engraved portraits of men and women of present prominence. In "Official Society, Past and Present," Mrs. Catherine Frances Cavanaugh reviews brilliantly a century of social functions at Washington, summoning back forgotten but delightful personages whose goings and comings were the great social events of earlier days. The stories are brisk and well illustrated, the articles timely and well written. The first half of a two-part story, a Gulf Coast romance by Henry Rightor, of New Orleans, is illustrated with vivid drawings by W. B. Trezevant. The "Studies of Books" opens with a terse, brief essay on "The Intellectual Palsy of Rudyard Kipling" and the objects treated under other heads range from Dante to modern Japan. John C. Coombs, the eminent attorney of Boston, concludes his two-part article on "Australia, the Subsidy Bill and a Mighty Navy." He presents an array of eloquent and profound arguments for governmental aid in restoring America's merchant marine to its former prosperity. ($1 a year, 10 cents a copy. 60 cents a year when taken with the Graphic.)

Blown to Atoms. The old idea that the body sometimes needs a powerful, drastic, purgative pill has been exploded; for Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are perfectly harmless, gently stimulate liver and bowels to expel poisonous matter, cleanse the system and absolutely cure constipation and sick headache. Only 25c at Moore's drugstore.

For Sale. Nine hundred acres of land within five miles of Newberg, in different tracts. Mostly improved. Amos Nelson.

A Deep Mystery. It is a mystery why women endure headache, headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, fainting and dizzy spells when thousands have proven that Electric Bitters will quickly cure such troubles. "I suffered for years with kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Phoebe Cherley, of Peterson, Ia., "and a lame back pained me so I could not dress myself, but Electric Bitters whooly cured me, and although 73 years old, I now am able to do my housework." It overcomes constipation, improves appetite, gives perfect health. Only 50c at C. F. Moore & Co.'s drugstore.

Dyspepsia can be cured by using Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets. One little tablet will give immediate relief or money refunded. Sold in handsome tin boxes at 25c. C. F. Moore & Co.
