

All Humors

Are impure matters which the skin, liver, kidneys and other organs can not take care of without help, there is such an accumulation of them. They litter the whole system. Pimples, boils, eczema and other eruptions, loss of appetite, that tired feeling, bilious turns, fits of indigestion, dull headaches and many other troubles are due to them.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Remove all humors, overcome all their effects, strengthen, tone and invigorate the whole system.

"I had suit them on my hands so that I could not work. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and it drove out the humor. I continued its use till the sores disappeared. Mrs. I. G. Brown, Rumford Falls, Me.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keep the pimples.

Hard Luck. May Woodly—Oh! pshaw! that's just my luck! My new coat's black, and here my uncle's gone and died! Sue Giddy—Goodness! What are you complaining about? May Woodly—Why, if I'd only gotten a light coat, I could wear one of those swell mourning bands on the sleeve.—Philadelphia Press.

CATARH CAN NOT BE CURED

With local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a medicine, but a natural remedy prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and its regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics. Known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Coal. "You don't get such poetry as was written in days gone by," said the grateful person. "Of course, on don't," answered the smug modernist. "There is so much days gone by poetry already on the market that there is no further demand for it."—Washington Star.

Hamilin's Wizard Oil knocks the spots off your throat when it is sore, and prevents diphtheria, quinsy, etc.

Rude. "When the lecturer made a grammatical error, it brought down the house," said Miss Gurley. "I don't think the house had been well brought up," commented Mrs. Gurley, gravely.—Detroit Free Press.

Mothers will find Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup the best remedy to use for their children during the teething period. "Mercy, see the dog drink! Why, he's almost emptied that pail of water. What's the matter with him?" "Please, ma'am, I think he ate the moostard plaster you left lyin' on the kitchen table."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

I do not believe Pina's Cure for Consumption has an equal for coughs and colds.—John F. Boyer, Trinity Springs, Ind., Feb. 15, 1900.

Boston Brownings. Mrs. Gush—How do you do, Manda? How did you like the reading of Browning at the club last night? Mrs. Bluff—Oh, pretty well. But I didn't like the way her dress hung. Mrs. Gush—Nor I, either. And it seemed to me she might have held her book more gracefully.—Boston Transcript.

She Knew It. "George Goslin declares that he wouldn't marry the best woman alive," remarked Mr. Spatts. "Well, he won't," assented Miss Frocks, "for I have refused him."—Philadelphia North American.

Polison Oak Poison Ivy are among the best known of the many dangerous wild plants and shrubs. To touch or handle them quickly produces swelling and inflammation with intense itching and burning of the skin. The eruption soon disappears, the sufferer hopes forever; but almost as soon as the little blisters and pustules appeared the poison had reached the blood, and will break out at regular intervals and each time in a more aggravated form. This poison will enter in the system for years, and every atom of it must be forced out of the blood before you can expect a perfect, permanent cure.

SSS Nature's Antidote FOR Nature's Poisons, is the only cure for Poison Oak, Poison Ivy, and all noxious plants. It is composed exclusively of roots and herbs. Now is the time to get the poison out of your system, as they make your condition worse. Don't experiment longer with salves, washes and ointments which never cure.

Mr. S. M. Marshall, bookkeeper of the Atlanta Gas Light Co., was poisoned with Poison Oak. He took Sulpher, Arsenic and various other drugs, and applied externally numerous lotions and ointments with no result. At times the swelling and inflammation was so severe he could not walk. For eight weeks the poison would break out every second. His condition was much improved after taking one bottle of S. S. S., and a few bottles cleared his blood of the poison, and all evidences of the disease disappeared.

People are often poisoned without knowing when or how. Explain your case fully to our physicians, and they will cheerfully give such information and advice as you require, without charge, and we will send at the same time an interesting book on Poison Oak and Skin Diseases.

CONSUMPTION

FOR WINTER AND SUMMER USE.

In many parts of the country there are variations in the temperature sufficient to produce good sleighing or remove the snow entirely in a few hours' time. As a consequence the driver is often at a loss to decide whether to hitch up his sleigh or carriage. A partial relief from the dilemma is afforded by the runners designed with hubs to slip on the axles in place of the wheels after the latter have been removed; but then the problem for the wheels arises, it being difficult to dispose of them in the wagon. George Glascock, of Veederburg, Ind., seems to have solved the question very satisfactorily with his new runner, an illustration of which is here presented. As will be seen, each runner is provided with forked ends, which slip over the rim of the wheels and are held in place by bolts. When not in use these runners are easily stored in the carriage, being perfectly flat and occupying little space. This device will be found especially advantageous on long journeys, or when the owner of the vehicle intends to stay away from home for several days at seasons where there may be a freeze or thaw, as the driver may happen to be sensitive about running a sleigh on bare ground, or a wheeled vehicle when the sleighing is good.

SUPERSTITIONS DYING OUT.

No. 13 and Haunted House Vagaries Are Fading Away.

"Real estate men are gradually getting most of the old-time superstitions which used to cause us much trouble," said a dealer the other day to a reporter. "The number of houses which cannot be rented or sold on account of being haunted or because some promise is rapidly decreasing. We run across only a few people who balk at living in house No. 13. Even elderly men who have made big fortunes are beginning to believe that there is nothing in the old saying that the aged rich man builds a mansion to die in it. New Yorkers are entirely too practical to hold to old superstitions; besides, the big apartment houses which we are building all over town are blotting out the old houses, which may have had histories."

"Tell me something about the haunted houses which are still standing in this city," the agent was requested.

"Now you are getting on dangerous ground. In these days of well-defined libel laws you can't talk about a man's property in a way that will depreciate its value without paying well for your fun. Circulating ghost stories about particular houses is not calculated to improve their renting value, and the owners might be able to show that we had done them real damage. There is one house in West Eleventh street that is never more than half filled, because years ago some one thought the house was haunted, and the story of terrible ghosts that walk about the halls at night has been handed down from tenant to tenant. There are other haunted houses, but we are trying to forget where they are, hoping that the stories will be forgotten. It is generally difficult to rent or dispose of houses in which sensational crimes have been committed. Long murder trials in which the houses figured prominently usually cause them to remain vacant for a long time."—New York Tribune.

The Origin of "Buck-Board." "There are few persons," says a soldier who, long since returned to civil ranks, "who know how the name of buck-board came to be applied to a vehicle. It was way back in the '20s, when the transportation of goods, wares and merchandise was principally all by wagons. Dr. Buck, who for long years after was the military storekeeper or here, was then in charge of stores on route to army posts in the South-west. In east Tennessee difficulty was experienced by reason of the rough roads, and there were frequent mishaps, mostly from the wagons overturning. Dr. Buck overhauled the outfit, and abandoning the wagon bodies, long boards were set directly on the axles or hung below, and the stores were reloaded in such a manner that there were no further delays from breakdowns, and the stores safely reached their destination. The idea doubtless was not new, but Dr. Buck's example was followed, especially when roads were rough, and soon much hauling was done by the use of wheel, axle and boards only. Now the fashionable buck-board recalls the old gentleman to some of us."—Washington Star.

Slow Traveling. Some Florentine experts in snailology, finding time hang heavy on their hands, conceived the idea of accurately calculating the traveling speed of snails, and, with this end in view, it was decided to make a series of more or less elaborate experiments. Half a dozen of the molluscs were permitted to crawl between two points ten feet apart. Exact time was kept from the start to the finish, and thus the average "pace" was ascertained. The experimenters reduced their figures into tables of feet, and thus found that it would take a snail exactly fourteen days to travel a mile.

Telephones in San Francisco. San Francisco leads the American cities in the matter of telephones, there being an instrument to every sixteen persons. In greater New York there is one to every forty-eight persons.

Vetted Sarcasm. Mrs. Weddler—I wonder why it is that single men are always the most anxious to go to war? Weddler—I suppose it's because they don't know what war really is.

A girl's love for pickles doesn't necessarily sour her disposition.

The Duty of Mothers.

What suffering frequently results from a mother's ignorance; or more frequently from a mother's neglect to properly instruct her daughter? Tradition says "woman must suffer," and young women are so taught. There is a little truth and a great deal of exaggeration in this. If a young woman suffers severely she needs treatment, and her mother should see that she gets it. Many mothers hesitate to take their daughters to a physician for examination; but no mother need hesitate to write to Mrs. Pinkham's Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., and secure from a woman the most efficient advice without charge.

Mrs. August Pfalzgraf, of South Byron, Wis., mother of the young lady whose portrait we here publish, wrote in January, 1900, saying her daughter had suffered for two years with irregular menstruation—had headache all the time, and pain in her side, feet swelled, and was generally miserable. She received an answer promptly with advice, and under date of March, 1899, the mother writes again that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured her daughter of all pains and irregularity. Nothing in the world equals Lydia E. Pinkham's great medicine for regulating women's peculiar monthly troubles.

As Explained. De Swell—How is it, every time I order a pair of trousers you make them just a little short? Tailor—Whenever I send a statement of my account, you are absent; I measure you accordingly.—Chicago News.

Got Them All at Once. Sue Brettle—I see it stated that if the eggs were equally divided among the inhabitants of the country, each human being would get 141.

Foot Lights—Gracious me! I got that many one night while on our tour out West.—Yonkers Statesman.

WELL LIGHTED STORES. The M. & M. Arcs are causing quite a stir. Nothing is more annoying than a poorly lighted store. From the time of old tallow dips millions of people have been bothered by insufficient light when the evening comes. But now it seems the whole question is settled by the beautiful, brilliant, economical "M. & M." Arc Lamps that are becoming so popular. They are cheap, too. Write to Q. W. Lord, Portland, Oregon, for a circular telling you all about them. You'll be glad you wrote. Agents are wanted in every town.

The Literal Mind. Little 5-year-old Margie was out walking with her mother recently, and finding it difficult to keep up, she said: "Mamma, are you a stepmother?" "No, dear," was the reply. "But what made you think I was?" "Because you take such awful long steps," replied Margie.—Chicago News.

Multiplication and Division. Rodrick—This is a wonderful country for arithmetic. Van Albert—Think so? "Yes. They make two one at Niagara and one two in South Dakota."—Chicago Daily News.

A Pertinent Query. Magistrate—It has been proven that you struck your wife, and— Defendant—Well, judge, I stood her bossin' as long as I could.

Magistrate—That doesn't excuse you. She is the weaker vessel, and you should— Defendant—Weaker vessel, eh? Then why does she carry so blame much sail?—Philadelphia Press.

SERMONS OF THE WEEK

Love—Love is life's key of gold.—Rev. Dr. Lowry, Baptist, Kansas City, Mo.

Your Soul Blind.—Keep your soul shut long enough and your soul will go blind.—Rev. Dr. Van Dyke, Presbyterian, New York City.

Cultivate Belief.—The Christian should cultivate belief, or go out of the business of being a Christian.—Rev. Dr. Meeser, Baptist, Worcester, Mass.

Organized Hypocrisy.—Legislation without religion is organized hypocrisy. The wealthy should look to their own conditions.—Rev. D. S. Mackay, New York City.

Discretion and Zeal.—Discretion without zeal is slow-paced, and zeal without discretion is strong-headed; let zeal go on discretion.—Rev. W. J. Holtzclaw, Baptist, Atlanta, Ga.

As Little Children.—To enter the kingdom of heaven we must be as little children. The child completely and thoroughly trusts God.—Rev. S. Bryant, Methodist, Washington, D. C.

A Moral Truth.—No man can know a moral truth until he feels it. He must think and know before he can realize his full obligation.—Rev. I. W. Joyce, Methodist Bishop, Pittsburg, Pa.

A Book of Moral Laws.—Man will always believe in the Bible as a great literature, a history, a health book and a book of moral laws.—Rev. H. W. Thomas, People's Church, Chicago, Ill.

Christian Conscience.—The Christian conscience should be a guide. There are certain methods in legitimate business that a Christian cannot practice.—Rev. W. G. Partridge, Baptist, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Friendship.—Friendship delivers us from selfishness, strengthens us in the hour of temptation. It is a shield in the days of success, a help in the hour of trial.—Rev. Dr. Levy, Hebrew, Pittsburg, Pa.

Two Strongest Passions.—The two strongest passions of human nature—love and hate—are both appealed to in the name of religion. Although opposite, both are claimed in the service of religion.—Rev. A. S. Garver, Unitarian, Worcester, Mass.

The Divine Man.—It is possible to make Jesus Christ too much a God and not enough the divine man who lived his divinity among men as an evidence that God can dwell and work among men.—Rev. J. A. Rondthaler, Presbyterian, Indianapolis, Ind.

Test of Church Membership.—The church hasn't yet reached up to the full doctrine of Jesus Christ, but the day is coming when the test of church membership shall be whether a man loves his fellow-man.—Rev. Dr. Rainsford, Episcopalian, New York City.

Best Wisdom.—The best men of each age have regarded the fear of the Lord as the best wisdom, but there have been different sects, each fulfilling the needs and ideals of its age, laying stress on the different points of religion.—Rev. Dr. Hadley, New Haven, Conn.

Never Outgrown.—Christ can never be outgrown or lost to us. Forever adequate and changeless in himself, he is the prophecy and pledge of a perfected character and an immutable destiny to all who will behold and follow him.—Rev. J. R. Boyle, Methodist, Philadelphia, Pa.

Christians.—If we are not Christians in the enlightenment of to-day God will hold us responsible according to our light. If we are not "forgiven," we are hence and the forgiving spirit, we are self-men, not Christians; Christ men.—Rev. A. J. Stone, Presbyterian, Baltimore, Md.

Immortality.—Immortality has no conditions, and the thoughts and the acts of the individual can in no way affect it. Immortality has nothing whatever to do with good or evil. Good or evil merely determine the future state of the consciousness of the individual.—Rev. F. F. Mason, Spiritualist, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Restore Our Judaism.—By arousing ourselves from a sleep that may result in death, by throwing off for a while all present interests, by looking at conditions not only as they affect single individuals, but as they are destined to affect the great body of Israel, we shall yet be able to restore our Judaism to its ancient glory, so that it shall continue to do its great and noble work for humanity.—Rev. J. H. Greenstone, Hebrew, Philadelphia, Pa.

Selfishness.—It is selfishness in every instance that makes the hard-hearted man. He comes to regard himself in a class by himself, and by his reasoning, things not allowable for others are permissible for him. It is perfectly possible for a nation to become kind-hearted, as well as it is for an individual to become so. Argument and sophistry can harden our national heart.—Rev. F. Burgess, bishop Long Island, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Distribution of the Beautiful.—The distribution of the beautiful in daily life unconsciously is an incitement to ward beautiful thoughts and a beautiful character, and a barrier against ugliness of mind and deformity of morals. Immeasurable, indeed, the influence of this modern art movement upon the morals of society. And because the moral background of our world is whiter and purer than ever before, the lines of corruption are now assuming unwonted lines of ugliness.—Rev. Dr. Hills, Congregationalist, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Snow a Nonconductor.—According to experiments conducted by H. Janssen on Mont Blanc it is not necessary to erect poles for string telephone and telegraph wires in snow-covered countries. If the snow is several inches thick it serves as a good insulator; the wires can simply be laid down and be ready for transmission of messages.

The desire that every town man has to some day live on a farm is really due to a longing to get away from the neighbors.

Asthma

"One of my daughters had a terrible case of asthma. We tried almost everything, but without relief. We then tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and three and one-half bottles cured her."—Emma Jane Entsminger, Langsville, O.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral certainly cures many cases of asthma.

And it cures bronchitis, hoarseness, weak lungs, whooping-cough, croup, winter coughs, night coughs, and all hard colds.
