The Atkinson boys are having the front room of their creamery building cleaned up and newly papered and will use it as an ice cream parlor during the summer months.

A Mr. Clegg, an old railroadman from Minnesota, arrived a few days ago and is looking at our country which he likes very much. He says it reminds him strongly of his old home in England.

At the meeting of the Willamette Presbytery at Salem last week Rev. T. Brouillette of this place was elected as a delegate to the General Presbyterial Assembly which meets in New York, May 17. Rev. Brouillette is expecting to attend the assembly accompanied by his wife who will probably go as a delegate from the women's board.

From general republican comment over the county it seems to be taken for granted that Recorder J. L. Hoskins, who will be re-nominated by acclamation, will lead the ticket in the coming election.

Yamhill county is learning to know "Lew" as Newberg has known him for a long time. There will be no expiring to be done on the recorder's books when J. L. is through with them.

Last week W. H. Williams advertised in these columns for his cow which had been missing for several days. Last Friday the cow was found and in a sore strait she was. The poor beast was found wedged in between a couple of ricks of slab wood down at the sawmill, where she had been "held up" literally, for twelve days, without food or water. When released she was too weak to stand, but gradually recuperated and is now as good as new.

On April 25, at 8 p. m. will occur in Crater's hall, the State Oratorical Contest of the Intercollegiate Prohibition League of Oregon. Pacific College will "line up" against six other colleges of the state. This contest will be one of the best and hardest fought contests in the history of college oratory in Oregon. The winning orator will represent this state in the national contest at Lincoln, Nebraska. Admission 15 and 25 cents. Reserved seats 35c. Tickets for sale at Moore's drugstore.

The David boys on the mountain made a rather inauspicious beginning in their selection of a dairy herd. As a starter some time ago they purchased of Charley Hodson a fine fallblooded Jersey heifer which he brought with his herd from the East. Not long after the purchase the cow began to show symptoms of disease, and gradually became worse. The State Veterinary on examination recently declared that she was the subject of tuberculosis and condemned her. The animal was shot last Friday.

Dr. W. Rose, of Portland, was in town the first of the week representing the Pacific Coast Floating Exposition. The enterprise which he is backing is unique. Briefly, the plan is to fit out a large steamship, which will probably be constructed on the Columbia river, with exhibits showing the diversified industries and resources of the Pacific Coast, and sail it around the world advertising our coast country. The exhibits will be supplemented by a series of illustrated lectures, and descriptive printed matter translated in various languages. The ship, in addition to her crew, will carry lecturers, musicians and a corps of attendants to explain exhibits and answer questions. Dr. Rose, who is general manager, hopes to be ready to start out on the expedition in a year.

The Douglas Studio for fotos.

G. P. Skelton of Pilotrock, Umatilla county, arrived the latter part of last week and has been looking after his place on the hill north of town. He is a brother of C. W. Skelton.

Colon Eberhard, one of the attendants at the State Insane Asylum, attended the funeral of a relative at Butteville Friday and on his way up to his former McMinnville home stopped off at Newberg and made the Graphic a social call.

A reception was given by the W. C. T. U. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Votaw Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. L. L. Votaw, president of the local union, who with her children starts soon to join her husband in the mining regions of the Northwest Territory, near Dawson.

Mr. and Mrs. John Erickson of Hancock, Minnesota, who have been taking a trip out west for health and pleasure, came up to Newberg from Portland Monday evening and visited over night with former Minnesota friends in the persons of H. A. Grafe and G. F. Taplin and their families. Mr. Erickson is a prosperous hardware merchant of Hancock.

Mrs. Mattie Shearer, a widowed sister of W. H. Galland whom he had not seen for nearly twenty-five years, arrived here with her three children Tuesday evening from Denver, Colorado. They were accompanied by Mrs. Shearer's and Mr. Galland's nephew, W. R. Galland, and if they like the location they will make their home here. Mrs. Shearer's husband, who has been dead three or four years, was a brother of J. D. Shearer of this place.

The city fire bell sounded an alarm a little after six a. m. Monday, fire having broken out in Henry Clemens' house. The paper on the wall in an upstairs room caught from a defective line, and the result was a lively little blaze, which however, was quenched before the arrival of the hose company. When the hose cart was being taken from its room, Lee Grames stumbled and fell in front of it, was run over, and his legs so severely crippled that he has scarcely been able to get around since.

The college athletes have been taking advantage of what good weather we have had by going in to regular training and getting in good shape for work. John Stratton, who is general manager, has had the old track newly worked and a straight away track prepared. Besides the final college field meet at McMinnville, in which the boys will participate, dual meets will in all probability be held with Pacific University, Oregon Agricultural College and possibly Willamette University. A challenge has been issued to the Multnomah athletic club of Portland which has been declined.

Wanted—200 second hand stoves; will pay cash. Brunson.

Mrs. Martha Young has been visiting in Salem for several days.

The best line of teas and coffees in the city at Wilson's grocery.

You can buy your wool sacks and sell your wool and mohair at C. V. Mills.

Wanted—A young girl 15 years old wants a place in some respectable family, where she can attend school and pay for board by working night and morning. Address, Mrs. C. W. Hanford, Newberg, Or., care C. G. Cady. 13

The friends of Geo. W. Jones, the pioneer sawmill man, are urging him to come out as a candidate for county clerk on the republican ticket. Mr. Jones' party loyalty, his well-known ability as an accountant, and his rapid and legible chirography are all counted in his favor.—Reporter.

W. S. Kirks has moved from the farm east of town into the Ab Hoskins house on River street. At the public sale held at the farm by Kirk Bros. last Friday most things sold well and the boys express themselves as satisfied with results of the sale. A. A. Walker of McMinnville served as auctioneer.

One of Spaulding's logging crew named Russell, was killed while at work in the timber up on the Luckiamute the latter part of last week. The usual shout of warning was given when the tree was ready to fall, but while all the rest got out of the way, for some reason he paid no attention and was crushed to the ground and died a few hours afterward.

An athletic association is being organized among the public schools of Yamhill county which it is believed is a very proper move. The teachers have decided to hold a county public school meet at McMinnville, May 10, open to all students. The young athletes will be divided into two classes, the first class including the seventh and all lower grades and the second, all higher grades, including high school students. A general admission fee of fifteen cents will be charged, school children to be admitted for ten cents. The events to be contested have been decided upon as follows: Pole vault, standing and running broad jump, standing high jump, 120 yard hurdle, 50 and 100 yard dashes, quarter mile run, putting 12 pound shot and throwing base ball. School boys will be a great deal better off training for athletic contests than idling around the streets, wholesome enthusiasm will be raised, and a successful contest should result.

Last Friday while Henry Benton was searching for a certain piece of timber in a canyon joining his father's place, he came upon a rendezvous supposed to be that of the man who terrorized the country recently with his numerous articles were found, including an old mackintosh, a pair of black socks, a gunny sack, some pieces of straw matting, an old bucket used for cooking, some newspapers and a shirt. The shirt proved to be the one taken from the residence of U. Tawney to wrap up a piece of beef that he had taken from the kitchen larder. From the appearance of this strange camp the man must have camped there about two weeks. Henry says while surveying the scene before him, even the twittering of the birds in the trees seemed to say "hands up, hands up." Though everybody thinks this man has left this part of the country, the stealing still continues to go on, as some of the neighbors report quite a heavy loss of canned goods, lately.—Sheridan Sun.

Twenty acres of good potato land for rent. M. Votaw.

O. K. Edwards made a business trip to Sheridan and Willamina the first of the week.

The two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alpheus Mills is dangerously afflicted with heart trouble.

R. J. Cooper has bought an interest in Hollingsworth's furniture business. The Pickett building is being prepared and fitted up and the second hand stock with some new furniture will be on sale here in a few days, with Rob in charge. The latter has also purchased Moses Votaw's interest in the undertaking business.

A petition was circulated among the business men of Dallas this week asking the Southern Pacific Company to make a change in the local passenger train service so as to run the Dallas train through to the Union depot in Portland, instead of to the Jefferson street depot as at present. In order to do this, it will be necessary to run the Dallas train over the West Side track from Whitson to Portland. If this change is made, the Sheridan train will probably go into Portland via Newberg and Oswego. The petition was largely signed, but as yet the Company has not intimated what action it will take in the matter.—Observer.

Although Wednesday, the day of the old prof. opened up cloudy and rainy, the weather turned off nice about noon and a good crowd of people gathered at the prospective oil field of the Yamhill Coal & Oil Company. After leaving the road at the Sidney Root place the way led up the hills over a heart-breaking road, and doubtless many a pilgrim would have turned back in despair had it not been for cheerful sign boards put up at intervals by President Churchhill. For instance at an especially sticky piece of road on a sharp incline, a glaring sign board said, "Cheer up, this is easy," and a little further up "This mud will be dry next summer," rather doubtful encouragement under the circumstances. Arrived at the scene of operations, the drill was found to be pounding away at a depth of between sixty and seventy feet. The machinery was working in fine shape and everything moving smoothly under the direction of driller Travis assisted by Abner Cook, lately from Carthage, Missouri. The sight of an oil derrick at work was a new one to the spectators who viewed proceedings with much interest. Music by the Union Cornet Band served as an accompaniment to the whir of the engine. Some candidates and county officers were present, among them loomed the tall form of Sheriff Sitton, who smiled affably upon all comers and stooped to bestow the fond caress upon the little ones with a grace that was touching. All present seemed to enjoy themselves, and came home wiser for the trip.

Newberg is to have two more rural mail delivery routes as a result of Inspector Clement's visit here the latter part of last week. These, with the one already in operation and with possibly another yet to come, will pretty thoroughly cover the territory tributary to our burg. Friday morning, Mr. Clement, accompanied by Ervin Scott inspected the lower of the proposed routes, which starts out down Wynoski street and out east of town and down the river to the vicinity of Butteville, then over Parrott mountain and over to the Portland road and return. After about a half hour's intermission the inspector started out over the north route accompanied by C. W. Skelton, who worked up the route. It leads out through Springbrook and up the mountain and back along the summit towards West Chehalis and return. With hard driving it took something over four hours to make the first trip and three hours and a half to make the second. One hundred and twenty seven homes were counted which would be accommodated by the first route and one hundred and eight by the second. Saturday morning Mr. Clement conducted a short examination of the candidates for the positions of mail carrier which consisted of the filling out of blanks and reading addressed cards. Those who took the examination were L. B. and L. W. Charles, J. J. Cook, Ervin Scott, C. W. Skelton, W. B. Corey, Will Thomas, John Bristow, A. E. Weener, Isaac Vinson and C. E. Rittenhouse. Mr. Clement said that on an average they passed a good examination. It will probably be some weeks yet before advices are received from the department, reporting the names of the carriers and ordering the establishment of the routes.

SWELL SOCIAL FUNCTION.

The "Jolly Bachelor Maids" Consider Themselves Royally Entertained By the "Many Sorrowful Bachelors."

The social event of the season occurred on Thursday evening, April 10th at the Masonic hall, when the young gentlemen of the M. S. B. (the young "Many Sorrowful Bachelors") entertained their lady friends at a flower party.

The color scheme of the decorations was in pink and white throughout, and before entering the reception room each lady was presented with a bouquet of carnations in these colors, mingled with smilax.

The reception room was most tastefully decorated in palms, smilax and ivy, which with the subdued light gave a most pleasing effect.

After the guests had all arrived each couple was presented with a "seed catalogue" for 1902 which proved to be a very unique feature of the entertainment.

This was followed by a lively game of "bean bags" in which a good deal of skill was manifested, and by other games which were greatly enjoyed by all.

At ten o'clock the curtains which had divided the reception room from the banquet hall, were drawn, disclosing a most artistically arranged table, in which the color scheme of the evening was beautifully carried out. Streamers were hung from the chandelier to the table ending in a basket of carnations.

Hand painted menu cards were placed for each guest, and the following menu was most perfectly served in minute detail.

MENU: Oyster Patties, Parker House Rolls, Potatoes Au Gratin, Fullman Bread & Butter, Jelly, Sliced Pineapple, Almond Breads, Kisses, Cakes, Cocoa with Whipped Cream.

At the end of the first course, one of the gentlemen arose, and as an item of news in current events, announced that the identity of "W. H. R. Box 380" who had advertised in the daily Oregonian for "correspondence with intention of matrimony" was disclosed, and calling for the noted personage to appear, five prominent gentlemen arose answering to the summons, confessing their guilt and producing a few of their many communications they had received in answer to the advertisement, the reading of which caused much merriment, not to say surprise and astonishment. And the "ninety days wonder" was at an end.

The repeat continued to a successful close, which, however goes without saying—with Mrs. Grace Barrie as caterer, who fairly outdid herself in the elegance of the spread; and with the Misses Sibyl and Bernice Woodward, Miss Lucy Gause and Miss Nora Parker who, attired in white and pink, most gracefully served, assisted by Messrs. Curtis Parker, Orville Johnson, Fred George and Herbert Coffin. Those present were the Misses Jessie Britt, Ella Crawford, Pearl Cummings, Mabel Edwards, Mande Soper, Edna Allen, Olive Stratton, Nerva Wright, Gertrude and May Lamb and Mrs. H. F. Allen. And the Messrs. W. C. Woodward, W. S. Parker, R. W. Jones, N. J. Sykes, H. G. Rosenberg, R. W. Kirk, G. E. Metcalf, A. C. Martin, L. B. Ferguson, A. C. Pool and A. C. Seeley.

The gentlemen proved themselves to be most royal entertainers, and the verdict of the ladies is that the world is happier because the "Many Sorrowful Bachelors" live in it.

What Kind

Of Perfume are you using—is it so nice?

Why it is Extrait de Violette de Parme, manufactured by Roger & Gallet, Paris.

And where did you get it? At F. H. CALDWELL & CO.'S The Prescription Druggists.

And the price—only 75 cents per ounce. Well I guess I will go and get an ounce.

Well you will have to hurry as there is only a limited amount imported each year.

Well if you do not get the Violette de Parme, they have lots of others at 25 to 50 cents per ounce, which are very nice.
