Wool and mohair bought at Chehalis Valley Mills.

Henry Morris was down sick the first of the week but is up again.

You will always find a complete line of fresh vegetables at Wilson's grocery.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim McPoland of Middleton visited relatives in town over Sunday.

Go to T. B. Cummings for paints and oils. A full line of undertaking goods kept in stock.

Mr. Campbell, host at Cottage Hotel reports business good with capacity taxed to utmost to accommodate his patrons.

FOR SALE—3 miles east of Newberg, 40 acres of fine timber land. Inquire of John Kirkley, 974 Macadam St., Portland, Or.

C. D. Pool, who has been ill with pneumonia for several weeks is able to be up and about his business a part of the time.

S. C. Harnden, who lately moved here from Oklahoma, is making extensive improvements to his home on south Meridian street.

Pres. H. E. McGrew took the boat for Portland Saturday and on Sunday afternoon delivered an address before the Portland Y.M.C.A.

N. S. Jones has purchased the dwelling on the east side of the canyon formerly owned by Wright & Cooper and will move in at once.

Mr. Ellison Shaw and Miss Edna L. Perkins of Salem have been visiting in town this week with the former's parents Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Shaw on south Meridian street.

Abner Blair, son of J. K. Blair, arrived here last Saturday evening with his family consisting of wife and four children, from New Providence, Iowa.

F. M. York was over from Carlton on business Wednesday. He stated to a representative of the Graphic that the report published some time ago, placing him in the list of candidates for county judge was entirely unfounded, as he was not a candidate for any other office.

Wilfred Pemberton of Rosedale, who has been attending college here was called home last week by the serious illness of his eighteen-year old brother Ross. The latter who was stricken with appendicitis was taken to the Salem hospital where he died Sunday morning.

The Dayton Evaporator Company last week received an order from the government for evaporated onions. They started up their evaporator the latter part of the week, and it is now in operation turning out a good quality of that excellent and wholesome vegetable.—Herald.

The attention of the fruit growers of this vicinity, present and prospective, is called to the meeting which will be held at the city council rooms tomorrow evening for the purpose of adopting a constitution and electing permanent officers. The meeting will be one of importance.

The stock of the McMinnville Grange and Farmer's store was sold last Saturday to R. Jacobson, who has opened up the store and will close out the stock at the old stand. The price paid was about 70 per cent of the inventory value, which seems to be quite satisfactory to the interested parties.

Chehalis Valley Bank has secured the services of Mr. S. M. Calkins as cashier. He succeeds M. Votaw who will sever his connection with the bank as cashier soon. Mr. Calkins has secured a large block of stock in the bank thus identifying himself in a financial way with its best interests and in assuming the executive management of its affairs that institution has secured a reliable and able man to conduct the business.

The Dayton Herald man, who always has the best interests of his constituents at heart, shows commendable enterprise in a new direction in his last issue by lining up separately face to face in cold type the names of his town's widows, widowers and bachelors—they don't have any old maids in Dayton. This is a little hard on matrimonial bureaus, but tends to show how country journalism is allying itself with the crying needs of co-operation.

At the Friends church on Monday evening next, there will be an exhibition of stereopticon views of Alaskan scenery given by Mr. Harry Pilgson, museum collector, in the interest of the Friends mission in Alaska. Mr. William Hornaday, director of the New York Zoological Society pronounces his pictures of bergs etc., to be the most beautiful he ever saw. The lecture and views will be of an educational character and very entertaining. Admission 15 cents. At the close of the lecture the audience is invited to spend a social half hour in the basement of the church where Alaskan refreshments will be served by little Indian maidens. Refreshments 5 cents.

On Saturday evening of last week a very enjoyable social affair was given by Miss Ella Crawford at the college boarding hall. The parlor and hall were prettily decorated, effecting a general gala appearance. The main feature of the evening's entertainment was a new one known as "progressive pentons," and was supplemented by music, fortune telling and light refreshments. Those present were the Misses Jessie Britt, Edna Allen, Mabel Edwards, Pearl Cummings, Gertrude and May Lamb, Olive Stratton, Ada Perry, Ella Macy, Julia Minchin, Gussie Crawford, Viola Patton, Myrtle McDaniel and the Messrs. A. C. Martin, A. C. Seeley, A. C. Pool, E. A. Newby, W. S. Parker, H. C. Rosenberger, L. B. Ferguson, W. C. Woodward, R. W. Kirk and G. E. Metcalf.

The Douglas Studio for photos. Herbert Coffin visited at Dayton over Sunday.

Call at Chehalis Valley Mills for your wool sacks.

The band boys are cleaning up the band stand where they will meet for practice.

All kinds of fresh fish may be found at any time at the Newberg Fish and Poultry Market.

H. A. Foreht who spent the winter at Francis, Washington, is in town looking after his property.

Miss Flora Bell of Portland will show a nice line of trimmed hats every Thursday at Ebert Bros. store.

What do you think of those new samples at Smith's Gallery? He will have other new things too—they are being developed now.

Mrs. M. J. Jessup of Whittier, California, who has been visiting here for several months intends to start home again next week.

Mrs. E. K. Shaw takes this means of expressing her appreciation of the assistance of all who aided her in making the L. T. L. contest a success.

Michael Terrell, a brother of Matthew Terrell, arrived here with his wife from Oskaloosa, Iowa, Monday and will remain for some time visiting and seeing Oregon.

If nine tenths of the dogs that lodge in Newberg were sent to the soap factory and the other tenth kept at the homes of their owners it would be a measure of relief to a long suffering public.

The little two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Mills, of Springbrook, who had been sick for several days of heart trouble died at an early hour last Monday morning. The burial took place on Tuesday in the forenoon.

Allen Smith is working at carpentering at Long Beach, California, where he went on a prospecting tour recently, but at no better wages than is being paid in Newberg. The family thinks he will return at an early date.

Rose bushes are already showing a great many good sized buds and if that Kansas and Nebraska zephyr the dispatches tell us about would only blow its breath against that snow bank out in the Coast Range for an hour or two, we would soon have an abundance of roses, the flower of flowers.

It seems rather remarkable that some people will become so absorbed with a sermon that on leaving the church they will pick up a first class umbrella from a corner where they put a shabby one as they entered the church and never notice the difference. The ability to thus concentrate one's thoughts is generally considered a great faculty.

Tuesday's dispatches told of an unprecedented hot wave which was passing over Nebraska and Kansas and named Concordia, Kansas, as the hottest place heard from, the mercury standing at 100 in the shade. This is the town where O. C. Emery, formerly of Newberg, is located. He is manager and local editor of the Concordia Empire, a very good, newsy, republican paper. The senior editor holds the position of postmaster.

Lee Grames and Rob McKern leased the oak grove east of town on the Portland road belonging to Mrs. Irene Everett a few days ago, with a view of fixing it up for picnic grounds. Mr. McKern soon found he had no time to devote to the work and he has dropped out and others have taken his place. The plan is to clean up the grove, build a speakers stand and lay out a ball ground. A celebration will probably be arranged for Independence day.

The publishers of the Pacific Farmer say in a letter to the Graphic: "The Portland Board of Trade has decided to issue an 100,000 edition of the Northwest Pacific Farmer which will be made up altogether of reliable agricultural and kindred information to be sent to the thousands of Eastern people who are inquiring along that line with expectations of settling in the Northwest. We hope that you will bring this matter before your readers asking them to send us information so that in getting up this large edition the resources of all sections of the Northwest will be before us for incorporation in our articles."

The attention of all residents of Newberg is called to a communication which appears in this issue entitled "Beauty and Tidiness for Profit." The writer has seen a good deal of the world and in this article he points out where Newberg might be improved in appearance very materially without any great outlay of money. In the matter of rubbish alone there is enough stuff in the way of old boxes, broken pieces of sidewalk and street crossings scattered about the streets and vacant blocks to furnish fuel for several families for a year. A wagon load of fire-wood makes an ugly looking mess when scattered over a half block, but it shows up all right when put up into a neat rack. It is a real good time just now to turn over a new leaf and every man sweep in the rear as well as in front of his own door.

J. M. Wright the real estate man closed the largest deal last Wednesday ever made in this immediate vicinity in one single sale. This was the sale of the S. Brutscher half section, situated a mile east of Newberg on the Portland road, to Dan J. Gilbert, recently from Henry county, Indiana. This has been Mr. Brutscher's home for the past fifty years and it was no little trial to him to sign the deed and turn the place over to strangers, although on account of his declining years he has been wanting to sell for some time in order to lessen his responsibilities. Mr. Gilbert will move his family and household effects down from Salem at once and take immediate possession and begin spring work. Dan is an all round good fellow and has a nice family and his friends are glad to see him locate on this farm which is one of the best in the community.

J. C. Sawyer is arranging to move to Oregon City.

A. H. Partridge of Portland visited in Newberg the first of the week.

The best line of teas and coffees in the city at Wilson's grocery.

You can buy your wool sacks and sell your wool and mohair at C. V. Mills.

C. K. Spaulding moved into their fine new residence the latter part of last week.

H. S. Britt came up from Portland Saturday evening and visited at home over Sunday.

G. W. Cutts of Shedd's made a flying trip to Newberg Tuesday returning the following day.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Blair and children of Portland spent Sunday in Newberg with L. F. Halls.

James Scott and family of Salem visited here Sunday with Ervin Scotts. Mr. Scott is an uncle of Ervin.

Theodore Cook, of Idaho, has been here several days visiting with his cousins, Abe Cook and Mrs. H. A. Graf.

Chopping ten cents per hundred or $1.50 in ton lots at Chehalis Valley Mills. Also nice white seed oats for sale.

Save your coppers, children, and bring them to the Y.W.C.A. candy sale where you will get your "sweet tooth" filled.

T. B. Cummings & Co. have just received a fine new stock of wall paper. It will be worth your while to call and examine it.

Mrs. W. G. Allen and Mrs. H. F. Allen went down to Sherwood Saturday for a visit with the former's parents, Rev. and Mrs. Martin Cook.

Mrs. Susana Scott, the mother of Mrs. John Hodson, arrived here from Marion, Indiana, last Friday. She will remain with her daughter a year or more.

The fisherman who returns from the river with two or three mud heads strung on a stick will be put down by every kid he meets as a tenderfoot.

Get ahead of the flies and buy your door and window screens now, at Newberg Sash and Door Factory.

W. P. Heacock & Sons.

Rosecoe Cahill, of Amboy, Washington, who left school some weeks ago, after his severe attack of pneumonia, returned again Wednesday, accompanied by his mother.

F. A. Hayes was up from Vancouver, Washington, the middle of the week looking after his place out north of town. He intends to move back here with his family later on.

What is the use in employing some one to do your dyeing for you. If you use Putnam Fadeless Dyes you can do it just as well as a professional. Sold by C. F. Moore & Co. 10c per package.

H. Crane, an old lumberman of Caruthersville, Missouri, arrived last week to try Oregon. He is a friend of J. C. Matteson, formerly of this place but now of Caruthersville, and says that he is figuring on returning to Newberg.

Moses Votaw will spend some time in getting the new cashier of the bank properly initiated, after which he will join his family at Ashland for the present. He says he has not fully determined just what his future work will be.

Wanted—A young girl 15 years old wants a place in some respectable family, where she can attend school and pay for board by working night and morning. Address, Mrs. C. W. Hanford, Newberg, Or., care C. C. Cady.

Lee Smith and family are back from Grants Pass where they have been during the winter. Lee has not just decided what he will do, but the chances are about even that he will drop down on some business in Newberg after he swings around the circle as he has done at divers times in the past.

The Misses Lucy Gause, Carrie Turner, Gertrude Minthorn, Frankie Hollingsworth, Cora Dunham and Nora Parker attended the state Y.W.C.A. convention at Forest Grove, which began last Friday evening and closed Sunday. They gave a report of the convention in chapel at the college Tuesday morning.

W. J. Stater who made a business trip to Pullman, Washington, last week says wheat that was sown last fall is not yet up and the whole face of the earth appears to be as dry as a bone, and yet the farmers don't appear to be alarmed about the crop. Will says the green fields of the Willamette valley are much more pleasing to the eye than a landscape view of the sage brush country.

S. Brutscher, who sold his old donation land claim this week, which has been his home for half a century or more, has in the past served Yamhill county a number of terms as commissioner, in which official capacity he made a record for strict economy in expenditure of the people's money and in looking after the details of the office which few, if any, who have followed him have equaled. Since he will now retire from active business the Graphic hopes to see him locate in a comfortable home in Newberg where he may spend his remaining years as a near neighbor and friend.

Pony wanted, cheap. Apply A. J. Hutchins, Newberg.

If you want pure, fresh candy buy it of the Y.W.C.A. girls.

Twenty acres of good potato land for rent. M. Votaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Winslow are on a fortnight's visit with the latter's mother at Corvallis.

Dr. H. J. Littlefield and family are expected home from Arizona early in next month.

Nelson Sykes left last week to look after a claim of his in Linn county. He said it was a land claim.

Mrs. Mary E. Teats, National Parity evangelist of the W. C. T. U. will be in Newberg at an early day.

Jersey calves at one dollar apiece at R. Pettyjohn's. Call early or after six in the evening. No Sunday traffic.

Curt Parker and John Stratton were in Portland last Saturday in the business interests of the college Crescent.

After being in school all day a glass of cool lemonade will be refreshing. Call at Miss Edwards' studio.

W. P. Melhorns who have been living with H. C. Paulsons out at Chehalis Center, moved to Portland Monday.

Claude Clark came down from Corvallis with the O. A. C. delegation yesterday to attend the prohibition oratorical contest this evening.

W. D. Comer who has been in the East for some months, stopped off at Newberg over Sunday for a short visit, on his way back to Seattle.

The "C. V. M. Excellent" flour given in exchange for wheat—40 lbs. to the bushel, at Chehalis Valley Mills, Main street, near depot, Newberg, Or.

Mrs. Knowles and daughter who recently arrived from the East have bought the Cook twenty acre tract on Wynookski street of Lon Hadley.

B. S. Cooks came up from Portland Saturday evening and visited relatives here for a few days. Mrs. Cook's father, uncle John Hanson, returned with them for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley O. Warren left the first of the week for their home at Bagley, Minnesota. The Graphic will follow them and keep them posted on Newberg happenings.

Mrs. M. E. Satchwell drove over to Forest Grove Wednesday with the friends from the East who had been visiting her for several days and left them there for a visit.

Ex-County Commissioner D. B. Kingery has yielded to the persuasion of many friends to allow his name to be used in connection with the office of county judge, subject to the republican county convention.

D. C. Atkins, an old time reader of the Graphic, was over from Laurel Thursday on business. He says the outlook for a big fruit crop in his section is excellent although trees are ten days later in blooming than in the valley.

Amos Nelson, of West Chehalis, who has had several years experience in the management of county affairs in the capacity of county commissioner has announced himself as a candidate for the republican nomination for county judge.

Mrs. Walter Overlander of Condon, Gilliam County, letter known in Newberg as Myrtle Davis, brought a young daughter afflicted with paralysis down to Portland for treatment the latter part of last week. Leaving the child there in the care of physicians she came on up to her former Newberg home and has been visiting with J. T. Smiths.

The Y.W.C.A. girls of the college will sell candy and lemonade at Miss Mabel Edwards' studio, beginning at 4 p. m. this afternoon, and lasting till after the oratorical contest tonight; also Saturday afternoon and evening. Everybody is invited to call and get some fresh penoche and other canies.

D. H. Turner, J. C. Porter, George C. Sears and F. H. Storey, represented the Newberg stockholders at a meeting of the Skookum Oil Company of California, held in Portland Thursday. John Larkin who has been in charge of the works at the well during the winter sends very encouraging reports of the progress made and they are expecting definite results at an early day.

Charles K. Spaulding and Jesse Edwards have spent considerable time the past few days in an effort to get a Portland furniture manufacturing company, which is arranging to change the location of its plant, to consider a proposition to move to Newberg, and it is quite likely that representatives of the company will visit our town, before this reaches the public, to size up the situation. The company gives employment to nearly two hundred men.

The L. T. L. silver medal contest held last Friday evening, and participated in by Lela Hevland, Effie Pinney, Mary Duncan, Anna Bashaw, Nellie Terrell, Amy Graf and Nolla Tate, was won by Anna Bashaw with Amy Graf a close second. The judges were Miss Edna Perkins and Elton Shaw of Salem, Moses Votaw, W. C. Woodward and S. M. Calkins. Aside from the contest a very interesting program was rendered consisting of vocal and instrumental solos, quartettes and recitations.

ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENT. A gentleman who spent Sunday in Newberg made the remark at the depot Monday morning that he would not dare last the insurance company, in which he held a policy, know that he was riding on this branch of the Southern Pacific as no chances would be taken on such a hazardous risk. Hon. E. L. Smith of Hood River, who spoke here last week at the fruit growers' meeting, on alighting from the train in the evening began at once to inquire if it would be possible for him to return to Portland by box in the early morning. "Why," said he "I never took such chances on any road in all my life." One of the officials of the road is said to have started on a tour of inspection over the road from Portland recently and on his arrival at Dumble left the train and footed it across the country to a point on the West Side rather than take any further chances, remembering that he left a dependent family behind him. Joseph Wilson, the agent for the river steamers, says travel by their lines is rapidly on the increase, and a reason for this is easily to be figured out. The S. P. company has simply neglected this branch of its lines until it is "away down at the heel" and it is becoming the laughing stock of the traveling public, and passengers who have been accustomed to smoother lines of travel take to the river steamers, although a little more time may be consumed in making a trip. Newberg is furnishing a large volume of business for the S. P. in the face of these adverse conditions but it is fortunate for us that we have an open river and a good line of steamboats to fall back on in times of stress, such as we are now passing through. The Graphic dislikes to publish such conditions to the world but we have waited patiently and long for better things and yet the past winter has only seen them wax worse and worse and the people are beginning to cry out: "How long, Mr. Koehler, Oh how long?"

There is room for improvement the company will certainly concede and any changes for the better that may be contemplated the Graphic will gladly give to a long suffering public.

DUNDEE ITEMS.

G. W. Byers, Sr., has the roof on his new house now.

All report a good time at the surprise party on Joe Hess Monday eve.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Albert Liven-good April 18, a boy. All doing well.

Mrs. Flavin from Portland spent Monday and Tuesday with Mrs. Comstock.

Pressnell the laundry man was up and established an agency here with G. W. Byers Jr. as agent.

Geo. Ryan fed well a few of his many friends Wednesday eve, this being the anniversary of his birth.

Say! Just take a look at those Dundee hills. Are they not lovely? With such a view anybody ought to be content to stay in Dundee.

It seems that Newberg is not the only place afflicted with boys that persist in smoking "coffin nails" as we see boys of all ages smoking these vile things here. And not only this but they have not respect enough for themselves not to smoke in the presence of ladies.

Obituary.

How true, the old must die and the young may die. "Therefore be ye also ready for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh."

Once more the white winged angel of death has visited Springbrook neighborhood and plucked that sweet little boy who was beloved by all; to see him was to love him. Son of Alpheus and Matilda Mills, little Cloyd died April 21, 1902. While we realize that his departure is a great loss to father, mother, brothers and sisters, we must bow in humble submission to the will of Him who is too wise to err and too good to be unkind for we feel assured that the little jewel has changed the sorrows and sufferings of earth for the repose and happiness of Heaven. We extend to the bereaved family our deepest sympathy, and pray God's goodness and mercy may sustain them in their great affliction. M.

Some Don'ts.

Do not allow food to remain in the sickroom.

Do not waken the invalids in order to feed them.

Do not overload the tray with food, or overcover with dishes.

Do not let the odors of any cooking penetrate to the sickroom.

Do not use coarse, heavy china or cracked or nicked dishes or discolored silverware.

Do not ask them what they would like to have, or even hint as to what you intend to give them.

Do not have flowers in the sickroom that have rich, heavy odors, but place a dainty bud or blossom on the tray so that the eye of the invalid will be attracted and interest aroused by its freshness.

Do not cook more than is needed for one feeding, or reheat any foods, except broths and clear soups, which must be made in considerable quantity; reheat these over boiling water, so as not to reach the boiling point.

Helen Keller's First Earnings.

There is a pretty story in connection with the series of articles which Helen Keller, the wonderful blind girl, has written for the Ladies' Home Journal, telling about her own life from infancy to the present day. She always has shrunk from the publicity which follows successful literary work, and it was with great difficulty that she was persuaded to take up the task of preparing her autobiography. She had, however, set her heart on owning an island in Halifax harbor for a summer home, and in a spirit of fun the editor of the Journal offered to buy it for her, or to provide the means to buy it. When the work of writing appeared especially irksome Miss Keller was reminded of her desire to become a land-holder, and it spurred her on. Just before Christmas she completed the first chapter of her marvelous story and on Christmas morning she received from her publishers a check for a good round sum. Her delight may be imagined, for this was the first money of any account which she had ever earned. "It is a fairy tale come true," she said. Whether or she will ever carry out her plan to buy the island remains to be seen.—Ladies' Home Journal.
