The Pacific College athletes are scheduled to go over to Forest Grove tomorrow and hold a dual track and field meet with Pacific University. They came very near besting the big State Agricultural College at Corvallis last week, and are confident they could do it in another meet, and are correspondingly hopeful over the issue of the meet with the Forest Grove boys. As the latter administered a severe defeat to McMinnville last Saturday, and Corvallis is to meet Albany College tomorrow, a reasonably correct estimate can soon be made of the relative strength of the college teams which compete in the state college meet which takes place at McMinnville June 6.

After having reached a depth of six hundred and fifteen feet, the oil company suspended boring Wednesday for the purpose of casing out the water. The well contains five hundred feet of water and it will take some eight or ten days to case up and "ball" it out, after which it can be discovered how much oil is on tap, how good a quality it is etc. In spite of the water, which is heavier than oil and would keep it down, enough of the latter has already been secured to burn. Two practical oil men from Southern California, one of them a head driller, visited the prospect the first of the week and grew enthusiastic over indications, assuring the officers of the company that they have a sure thing.

Hoskins who recently returned from Gold Hill, Jackson county, thinks there is a great future before the mining districts of Southern Oregon and the reports he brings back are calculated to excite his Newberg friends who are inclined to turn their spare time to the investigation of mining prospects. Bert Heath, Jr., had a very narrow escape from death Monday noon. He was attempting to get on the caboose of the outgoing freight and in some way slipped and caught his foot in the step which held him fast and he was dragged over half the length of the depot platform on his head and shoulders. Had the train been running fast he would have never known what a little bit he was bruised up quite a hurt but was not seriously injured. Jumping on and off of the trains at this place has become quite a pastime for the boys of all sizes and it is hoped that the above narrow escape will be a lesson to others who are following this practice.—McMinnville News. Let some of the Newberg lads take warning.

O. A. C. VS. P. C.

Last Saturday at Corvallis, the track team of Pacific College met its first defeat of the season at the hands of the team of the Agricultural College.

The superiority of the smaller institutions was forebly illustrated by the fact that the O. A. C. with its five hundred husky hay seeds from which to pick a team were only able to defeat us by a score of 69 to 57, which is considered very close. The team arrived in Corvallis about noon on Friday and the meet was to have been held that afternoon but only a few events had taken place when it was necessary to postpone the rest until the next day on account of the rain and bad condition of the track. The next day, however was no door on the track was ankle deep, so the remaining events were finished in the best way possible. Under the circumstances it was impossible to make any good records but it was sufficiently close to make it an interesting meet.

Our team received good treatment at the hands of the Corvallis boys and would be very glad to meet them again under more favorable circumstances. The following is a summary of events:

100 yard dash—Heater, P C 1st; Woodcock, O A C 2nd; Moore, O A C 3rd; time 11 1-5 sec.
