A second hand wagon for sale. Enquire at this office. You will always find a complete line of fresh vegetables at Wilson's grocery. Go to T. M. Cummings for paints and oils. A full line of undertaking goods kept in stock. W. J. Stater made a trip to Spokane, Washington, this week of business for a Portland home. C. P. Frost went down to Fulton, this side of Portland, this week of the week to look for work. Hon. C. W. Fulton of Astoria, has been secured to deliver addresses here at the celebration on July 1. Mrs. Rob Bell of Portland has been visiting in town with her parents Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Stevens this week. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Nelson visited in Portland this week and attended the annual meeting of the Oregon Pioneer Association. Mrs. Al Cornell and children returned to their home at Grants Pass the first of the week after visiting friends and relatives in Newberg. On Thursday evening of last week Miss May Hall gave a number of her friends a pleasant evening's entertainment at her home out west town. Get ahead of the flies and buy your door and window screens now at Naxberg Sash and Door Factory. W. P. Heacock & Sons. Mrs. A. H. Phelps and children left Wednesday evening for Pelee where they will spend the summer months in the logging camp with Mr. Phelps. D. C. Fletcher, the west end blacksmith, moved his family down from McMinnville Sunday and is occupying the Al Cooper property on River street. On Tuesday evening Mrs. and Mrs. H. E. McGrew gave a reception to the Senior and Junior classes of the college at their new home on Meridian street. Will Clemenson, of Clarkston, Washington, is making his parents a visit here. Will, who signs his name P. M. at Clarkston says he hopes to have his office raised to third class soon. We will pay 18 1/2 or 19 cents per lb. for butter fat during the month of June if butter stays at present prices and it is not likely to go any lower. Newberg Creamery. R. M. McKern moved this week from the Alfred Moore property to the Lyon cottage on Main street. The Sims family which formerly occupied the latter has moved to the Armory hall building. Mr. and Mrs. James Townsend, parents of Mrs. J. C. Hodson, who had been visiting here this spring left for their home near Richmond, Indiana, Tuesday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Hodson accompanied them to Portland. J. G. Hadley is pulling up stakes and moving to Portland. He has rented a house in the city, and may build on his lots yet this season, though the strike has deterred building generally. He has sold his stock of racket goods to R. B. Linnville. Mrs. F. M. Beard of Roseburg who was a delegate to the Eastern Star gathering at Portland last week came up to Newberg and visited a few days with her brother C. H. Eggers until Monday. Mrs. Beard recently returned from a trip back to her old home in Tennessee. The public school exercises of last Friday afternoon were greatly appreciated by the large audience present. The Mother Goose exercise, the dumb bell and rose drills were especially enjoyed as was also the music by the Cook-Obrant girls quartette. In fact all the program was a credit to the school. The writer is in receipt of a unique invitation sent by Leon B. Kenworthy to the graduating exercises of the senior law class of the University of Washington, which took place yesterday morning. Mr. Kenworthy will hang out his shingle at Dayton, Washington. His Newberg friends wish him success. The annual school meeting held Monday afternoon was exceedingly well attended, many being present who had not previously manifested particular interest in the welfare of the public school. The vote on school director resulted in the election of J. C. McGrew, S. M. Calkins retiring. R. B. Linnville was elected clerk. A copy of the Los Angeles California Herald is at hand, containing a picture of Rev. L. D. Barr, pastor of the Friends church, and an account of the Sunday services, June 8, when the last dollar of the church debt was lifted. The labors of Rev. Barr are highly spoken of, the attendance at the services having more than doubled in the last few months. Gottfried Kellers moved up to their new home near Monmouth, more than they expected, the last lot of household goods having been taken Wednesday, when the ladies departed. They moved into an old house temporarily, but begin at once the construction of a new one on their new property. They have rented their Newberg home on Meridian street to C. D. Pol. Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Holten of Minneapolis, Minnesota, who are out on a tour of the West came up to Newberg the latter part of last week and visited over Sunday at Chehalis Center with C. L. Johnsons and other relatives whom they had not seen for many years. Mr. Holten represents large manufacturing interests of Minneapolis, being president of the Bolton Lath and Shingle Machinery Company, which also deals in engines, boilers and all kinds of saw mill machinery. His trip west is partly a business one as he is making a tour of the districts where his machinery is in use, and is introducing it in new territory. He is much pleased with the West and is contemplating moving the manufacturing plant with which he is connected either to Oregon or Washington.

The Douglas Studio for photos. Fresh bread at A. B. Cooper's meat market. Miss Emma Parcell of Portland visiting with N. E. Britts over Sunday. Chas. Hoskins has closed his school at Laurel and is back at Newberg again. A good team of work horses for sale. J. M. & S. W. Atkinson. All kinds of fresh fish may be found at any time at the Newberg Fish and Poultry Market. A family named White of Portland visited in town the latter part of last week with Walter Terrells. Mrs. J. C. Greenman is out from the East visiting her sister Mrs. H. D. Harford out at Chehalis Center. Miss Flora Bell of Portland will show a nice line of trimmed hats every Thursday at Ehret Bros. store. Y. W. McCollum left the first of the week for Grants Pass on a visit, but intends to locate before returning. Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pens are the best pen for good service. C. F. Moore & Co. are the trade agents. Strayed—a yearling, Red Pole heifer, from A. H. Pape's place two miles west of town. Reward for information leading to recovery. 12 The Kodak and Camera season is now here and we have a fine line of them very cheap this year. Also all kinds of supplies. C. F. Moore & Co. Eli Evans and family were over from Washington county the first of the week. Master Herman Woodward returned with them for a short visit with the boys. Miss Etta Howell, of Grinnell, Iowa, who has been making a western trip, visited in Newberg over Sunday with a former schoolmate in the person of Mrs. J. T. Smith. Dr. E. P. Dixon and family arrived home Saturday evening from Gold Hill, Southern Oregon. They are uncertain as to future location but left yesterday morning for LaGrande where they contemplate making their future home. The Misses Mary and Nellie Burrows expect to leave today to join the rest of the family at Seattle, Washington, where they will make their home in the future. They will rent their Newberg residence property, probably to Prof. and Mrs. R. W. Kelsey. Noah Heater, Abner Blair, Enos Ellis and Jim Rees went over to Newport the first of the week and are putting up a large building for Dr. H. J. Minthorn which the latter will use for sanitarium purposes during the heated term when people flock to the seashore. We desire to express our most sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors who so kindly offered their most heart-felt sympathy and service, and for the beautiful flowers which were brought, during this our great bereavement. J. W. Coffin & Family. In company with Sam Terrell Aunt Elizabeth Miles left Tuesday morning for Oskaloosa, Iowa, where she will make a visit indefinite in length with her daughter Mrs. Prof. Morrison and family. The best wishes of many friends go with her for a pleasant visit and safe return. The Evening Telegram has started a thrilling serial story, "None but the Brave"—a tale of love and adventure dated in Revolutionary war times. Ten cents a week will secure you a good evening newspaper and a stirring historical romance equal to a dollar and a half novel. Leave your subscription at the postoffice. The Edwards public sale was fairly well attended Wednesday, visitors being present from Portland and beyond and from various parts of the county. On an average the dairy herd brought a fair price, some of the cows selling very well while some of the younger stock went at low figures. About a half dozen new buggies belonging to Timms, Edwards & Company of Portland, were auctioned off. The favorite pastime at present among the youths is to turn a couple of their number loose and organize the rest into a posse to hunt them down as escaped convicts. From casually overhearing the arrangement of the tactics of one or two such games it seems that the leaders of the pursuers invariably pose, not as sheriffs Durlin or Cooke, but as Oliver and Woods. Who says the age of hero worship is departing? Lester Coffin, fifteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coffin, died last Saturday morning after a severe illness of barely a week's duration. On the previous Saturday he had gone in swimming when he became ill, and in the night was taken with congestion which caused his death. The family, accompanied by many friends, took the remains to Dayton Sunday where interment was made in the afternoon. The sympathy of the neighborhood goes out to the bereaved ones. A few days ago a gentleman who was out from the East taking a look at Oregon with a view of locating came to Newberg and after taking a look at our town and the surrounding country, expressed himself as being highly pleased with what he saw and hurried off for home with a view of returning at an early day with three or four well-to-do families. He wore a Christian Endeavor pin on the lapel of his coat and in speaking of the absence of saloons in Newberg he remarked that he heard about the reputation of our town for temperance and sobriety as far south as Ashland and Eugene, where he stopped off to look at the country. If on his arrival here he had seen on walking down the street a building with frosted windows bearing the sign "Billiard Hall," what conclusion do you suppose he would have reached? It is no time now to take a backward step and thereby lose all the ground we have gained by years of hard work in keeping the reputation of Newberg up so that it will attract the better class of people.

The best line of teas and coffees in the city at Wilson's grocery. The Seniors of the college are gambling in caps and gowns this year. Reuben Everett attended the pioneer reunion in Portland the middle of the week. Prof. R. E. Storey and wife of McMinnville have been visiting in town with the former's brother F. H. Storey. Putnam Fadeless Dyes color more goods, per package, than any other. 10c a package. Sold by C. F. Moore & Co. W. O. Stanard and family of Portland visited in town the first of the week with the former's brother Rev. F. C. Stanard. Bring in your old camera and trade for a new one. We have some second hand ones at less than cost. C. F. Moore & Co. The new engine for the electric light plant was run in on the switch the first of the week and has been put in position in the new building. There will be no services at the Baptist church next Sunday, owing to the regular exercises of Commencement week at the Friends church. E. H. Skinner, of Springbrook, who recently returned from California, is still very sick at the home of his daughter in Portland and his friends fear that he will not recover. The parents of Mrs. Claud Calkins, Mr. and Mrs. George Clark, and her two brothers Lewis and Charles arrived last Friday evening from Northeastern Nebraska for a short visit. Advertisers letters remain in the post-office for Miss Nora G. Williams, Dan M. McDonald, Guy Dickie, J. M. Christenson, John Cox, L. J. Collins. E. H. Woodward, P. M. Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Stanard of Brownsville came last week for a visit with their son Rev. F. C. Stanard and family. They went on to Portland Tuesday to attend the pioneer reunion. Mrs. Ella Holmes and young daughter of South Dakota, who have been seeing something of the Pacific Coast, visited in Newberg over Sunday with the Cooper families with whom they were well acquainted in the East. Strayed—From the Woodward place northwest of town, Sunday, June 14, a bay mare; Weight 900 lbs; right front foot cut next to hoof. Reward given for information that leads to recovery of said animal. Finder please leave at Grames livery barn. Albert Wilkes. T. B. Cummings & Company now have in stock a complete line of household furniture and are ready to meet all demands in that line of trade. They are building a ware room back of their store building and intend soon to build an addition to the west side of the latter in order to make room for their new stock. F. C. Horton went down to Portland on the A. O. U. W. excursion Saturday afternoon and in the evening played in the lodge hall. On Monday he went across the Columbia to Vancouver and witnessed the excitement which that town and vicinity had been thrown into by the approach of Tracy and Merrill the escaped convicts. W. K. Allen has just returned from a trip to Eastern Washington and Idaho where he went to look after the prune crop. At Walla Walla and Elberton he found a pretty fair crop while at Boise, Idaho, the trees are full. He intends to leave in a few days for the latter, named place where he will build some large commercial evaporators. The next meeting of the W. C. T. U. will occur July 2nd, instead of June 25, as previously announced. Flower mission day will be observed at that time. The superintendent has arranged a good program and a cordial invitation is extended to all to be present. Visitors especially welcome. Bring your flowers and hear the children sing and speak. Murray, young son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hunt suffered a severe accident last Friday afternoon. In company with his father he was splitting cord wood, when a sliver from the iron wedge flew off, striking him in the eye and penetrating to the retina. It was found necessary to take him to Portland Saturday where an operation was performed at the St. Vincent's hospital Sunday. If inflammation does not result it is thought that the eye will not lose its sight. Within a week after the tragic death of Lee Smock near Whitson, another of the trainmen on the Sheridan division met a like fate. On Tuesday evening at Sheridan express messenger Arthur Bogart, who formerly was on the train through Newberg, and who had acquaintances here, was looking under the train when he was struck by another car and his neck was broken. As there is said to be a superstition among trainmen that when one man on the road is killed three will suffer death in quick succession, there is probably a nervous query as to who will be the third victim. The unfortunate man was a cousin of Mrs. J. C. Porter. A petition was presented to the city council a short time ago by parties asking for the privilege of opening a billiard hall in town. The time has been when such a petition would have been met with very prompt and very emphatic opposition by a very large majority of our people, but so far there seems to be little if any interest taken in the matter. The fact is it is rather surprising to see some names appear as they do on the petition. A billiard hall to succeed in Newberg would have to be made a "resort" for young men and boys who have neither time nor money to throw away and such a thing ought not to receive the encouragement of the people. Of course if we want to let down the bars and open the way for a saloon in town this will no doubt be a very good way to begin, but the Graphic had not supposed we were ready for this move. What do you think about it?

Mrs. E. C. Masten of Portland came up Wednesday evening and visited friends in town. Mrs. Martin Downs went down to Sherwood and attended the funeral of Lee Smock last Saturday. The Wednesday club held its last meeting for the year at the home of Mrs. B. C. Miles, at which time Mrs. Van Leavitt was unanimously elected president, Mrs. J. T. Smith, vice president, and Mrs. R. W. Kelsey, secretary. The ladies will take up club work again the first week in September. A well-to-do gentleman from Denver, Colorado, named Jayne, accompanied by his wife and young son was here a few days ago looking at the country. Though coming from a state noted for beautiful mountain scenery, when taken up on the hill north of town he declared the panorama stretched before him to be the grandest sight he ever beheld. The Oil Company has completed reaming and casing and is now at regular work of drilling at a depth Wednesday of 650 feet. The casing succeeded in shutting off the water, the necessary amount for drilling purposes now being run into the hole with hose. At each cleaning out, the oil show increases and it is hard for an observer to feel other than perfect confidence that eventually oil in paying quantities will be found. At the meeting of the Fourth of July celebration committees Saturday night it was decided to elect the Goddess of Liberty by ballot, the vote to begin Wednesday, June 18, and close June 23, at 10 p. m. Tickets have been printed and ballot boxes placed in both drug stores, once cent being charged for each vote. The following is the result of the first day's voting: Lucy Gansse 31, Mabel Gardner 18, May Lamb 9, Mabel Edwards 7, Ella Crawford 3, Servia Wright 3, Edna Allen 2, Pearl Cummings 2, Gertrude Lamb 2, Jessie Britt 2, Ella May 2, Mrs. Cummings 1, Jessie Riggs 1, Jas. Vestal 1, Maude Soper 1, Olive Stratton 1, Mrs. McKern 1, Miss Craven 1, Rose Graham 1, Mrs. Mount 1, Millie Hollet 1, Naomi Carter 1, Miss McCollum 1. Public School Graduating Exercises. The graduating class of the public school was small this year, but what it lacked in numbers it no doubt made up in some other way. It was at least an intelligent and bright looking class and good reports are given of the work it has been doing this year. The exercises held in Craters hall last Friday evening were largely attended, which statement, however, is entirely superfluous, for who ever knew or heard of a time when the hall wasn't packed on similar occasions. A good program was rendered to which careful attention was given. It was as follows: Instrumental Duett, Edna Allen, Mabel Edwards. "The Resources of the West Coast State," Beryl Christenson. Oration, "Energy," Carrie Sewitt. Quartette—Mrs. Grace L. Barrie, R. W. Kirk, Agnes Ginn Gould, N. C. Christenson. Oration, "The Practical Advantages of an Education," Everett M. Henslow. Vocal Solo—Mrs. Grace L. Barrie. Presentation of Diplomas. The intellectual race for the year's scholarship offered by Pacific College was a hot one but was awarded by Prof. Kirk to Miss Grace Cook, who won out by a lead of three eighths of one per cent. The address to the class by Prof. L. R. Alderman, superintendent of the McMinnville schools, contained some wholesome and practical advice. He first strongly encouraged the graduates to go to college—their home college which he assured them has an enviable reputation. He emphasized this point as he maintained that college education tends to make one's character broad before it crystallizes, with maturity. In brief, other points of admonition were as follows: Appreciate your parents for all they are doing for you and show them your appreciation. Cultivate a scientific frame of mind, which will aid you to decide vital questions without having to jump at conclusions. Study nature and its beauties. Learn to make good use of your leisure hours, for the way in which they are spent determines one's character. Have a definite ambition and work toward it. Don't be pessimists—be hopeful. Cultivate good habits. What you are is of more importance than what you do. DUNDEE ITEMS. See bills out for ice cream by the ladies circle next week. Wm. Parrett is going to move up on Parrett Mountain for the summer. Thos. Prince and family left for Worcester, Massachusetts, Monday morning. F. H. Storey, the Newberg plumber, is doing some work on R. C. Crosby's residence. Ed Billich is building a fine large barn on his place. Now, when he gets his new house it will look fine. Who said Dundee was a suburb of Newberg? In some small advertising pamphlets gotten up by business men of Newberg, we see they left Dundee out and jumped on up to Dayton. Now that is all right, we don't need it; we are growing so everybody that knows "prunes" knows where Dundee is. Married, Mr. Roy Robertson and Miss Maude Edwards, at McMinnville, June 18, 1902, after which the bridal party returned to the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Edwards, where a fine wedding supper was served. Well, Mr. and Mrs. Robertson we wish you a long life of happiness. Fifty Temples in India. Sacred cows often defile Indian temples, but worse yet is a body that is polluted by constipation. Don't permit it. Cleanse your system with Dr. King's New Life Pills and avoid untold misery. They give lively livers, active bowels, good digestion, fine appetite. Only 25c at F. H. Caldwell & Co.'s Drugstore.
