Mrs. Sam Terrell and children are visiting this week at Rosedale with Clarkson Pemberton's, having accompanied the latter home at the close of Yearly Meeting.

Harlon and Herman Smith who are working in Portland, were at home over Sunday and visited with their father's brother Isiah Smith and family who are here from the East making a visit.

A party of deer hunters left for the Coast Range mountains Monday morning, consisting of E. K. Shaw, Will Bond, Sam Linton and Isaac Vinson. They expect to be gone about ten days.

Two of the men working at the saw mill met with accidents the latter part of last week which laid them off for a time. Isaac Ellis got his foot crushed while Will Heston mashed his thumb severely.

W. H. Tamplin and family of Kansas who are out west looking at the country visited here last week with relatives, the former being an uncle of Mrs. S. L. Hanson. They were very well pleased with this part of the valley and may return later and locate.

J. W. Hobbs went to Eugene Monday morning to spy out the land with a view of moving there sometime during the summer. His son Harry desires to enter the state university this fall, which together with some other considerations, induce the move.—Register.

Van Leavitt went over to St. Paul Sunday to play ball, the opposing teams lining up about as they played here July 4, except that the St. Paul nine was considerably strengthened. The game was hotly contested, resulting in a tie score of 5-5. Van twirled the ball the whole nine innings.

Lewis Saunders, Aubrey Kramien, Clyde Morris, Asa Morse, Ray Newby, Charles Carey and Lewis Mills left Friday morning for the harvest fields of Gilliam county, in the vicinity of Olex to begin work at wages of two dollars a day and board. They will probably remain until time for college to open in the fall.

W. E. Coman, general passenger and freight agent, and H. E. Lounsbury, traveling freight agent, of the Southern Pacific Company, were in town last Friday interviewing local shippers and merchants, and looking up business for the road. They report a steady increase in the volume of freight and passenger traffic from this city. Messrs. Coman and Lounsbury are courteous and obliging officials, and are held in high regard by the patrons of the road.

D. D. Keeler of Salem lost a valuable driving animal while down here attending Yearly Meeting last week. The horse was running loose on Dr. Minthorn's property, and sometime on Sunday it attempted to cross a large ditch on a foot bridge when the latter broke, causing the animal to fall in on its back in a helpless position, where it died from its struggles to extricate itself. It was not found until the following day.

J. C. Nelson and L. F. Hall went up to Carlton last Saturday to attend the funeral of the old Yamhill pioneer, N. K. Sifton, familiarly known as "Uncle Doc" Sifton. The deceased, aged seventy-seven years, came to Oregon as a free lance when about nineteen years old, settling near Carlton where he has resided ever since. Always generous and hospitable, in the early days his home was considered as a sort of rendezvous for the settlers, when they wished to collect for a social time. Mr. Sifton was highly respected all over the county and the funeral services were very largely attended. Interment was made in the old McBride cemetery.

It was an unusual gale which swept over this part of the country Monday afternoon and night, many "oldest inhabitants" averring that the like was never before known in Oregon, especially at this time of the year. Some fruit was lost in this vicinity, some trees even being badly mutilated, hay shocks were blown over and tossed about and the report comes from across the river that the hops were blown over badly. One or two buildings in town which had not been constructed from a cyclonic standpoint were propped to make their equilibrium more stable. But after all it was a merry little frolic of a breeze, in comparison with those atmospheric convulsions to the east of the Rockies which make the black headlines in the newspapers.

The Douglas Studio for fotos. Fresh bread at A. B. Cooper's meat market.

Elder Geo. C. Carl will preach Sunday evening in the Presbyterian church at eight o'clock.

Wm. Manning made a trip to Sheridan the first of the week to make preparations for holding some tent meetings.

Mrs. H. J. Minthorn and daughter Miss Mary left the first of the week for Newport to join the doctor for the summer.

A. L. Cook of Iowa who has been visiting here some weeks with his brother-in-law E. S. Craven, started home Monday.

Dr. Robert C. Yenny of Portland came up Monday evening to consult with Dr. Littlefield on the condition of G. C. Sears.

Prof. and Mrs. Eli Hadley of Portland passed through town on the train Saturday evening on their way to the beach for an outing.

What do you think of those new samples at Smith's Gallery? He will have other new things too—they are being developed now.

Miss Josie Cimino of Tualatin came up the latter part of last week and visited with her cousin Miss Hallie Remington, returning home Monday.

Miss Viola Patton who has attended college here for three years left yesterday morning for her home at Tomales, California. She does not intend to return.

R. W. Kelsey is expecting a visit from his father, Asa Kelsey of Western Springs, Illinois. A letter received from him a few days ago stated that he intended to start about July 22.

A rural mail route inspector dropped in from the train Monday morning, and followed carrier Martin out over route number one. He reported that he found everything up in good condition.

The oil company's drill is now down to a depth of about one thousand feet. Oil has been found in considerable quantity and there is some evidence of gas. Look out for the fire works most any time.

The Dunks have bargained for some vacant lots across the street from the C. B. Frissell house upon which they intend to begin the erection of a church building soon. This will make the eighth church building for Newberg.

A gentleman named Munson came up from Portland and spent Sunday with Adrian Bowman out north of town. He and Mr. Bowman were fellow adventurers together when the latter made his last trip to the Alaska gold fields.

Mrs. H. E. Hadley, wife of Judge Hadley of the Supreme bench of Washington, is expected to arrive from Olympia tomorrow evening, accompanied by two young daughters, to make a visit with E. H. Woodward and family.

The annual meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held next Wednesday July 23, at 2:30 p. m., at the Baptist church. The general officers and superintendents will give their reports for the past year and officers will be elected for the coming year.

On Thursday afternoon of last week A. T. McNay's youngest daughter, three or four years of age, tumbled into a well, but by clinging to a pipe made a narrow escape from drowning. She was rescued none the worse for the accident aside from the severe fright.

Last year the hoppers made little more than their salt and pickers were scarce. Hop growers will have a better thing of it than ever this year, and pickers have reason to expect at least 45 cents. It is learned that a few yards may pay 50 cents.—Woodburn Independent.

Dayton against the world for wild blackberries. Some were found in a yard in this city a few days since, that for size or quality are hard to beat. The largest one measured 1 1/2 inches in length and 2 inches in circumference. This along with the freak rose, and a few other freaks in this place, makes Dayton quite a freak town.—Herald.

The Misses Charlotte and May Carter who have been out from their Eastern home for some weeks visiting their cousin Miss Maude Soper, are preparing to start on their return trip the first of the week. Miss E. M. Gill, who came out with them will remain here longer, having accepted a position as teacher in a school down in Klamath county.

The county convention of the W. C. T. U. will be held at Dayton Thursday and Friday July 24th and 25th, commencing at ten o'clock the morning of the 24th. A gold medal contest will be held Thursday evening participated in by four contestants from Newberg, viz: Minerva Brouillette, Anna Bashaw, Beulah Spaulding and the one who wins the medal in the contest Saturday night.

When in town the other day, horticultural commissioner W. K. Newell handed us a copy of "Spray Bulletin" compiled by E. L. Smith, president of the state board, which gives fourteen spray formulas, requisites for successful spraying. It also contains a table of information, telling which formulas to use for various diseases affecting the trees. The bulletin should be in the hands of every fruit grower and can be obtained by mailing a request to Mr. Newell at Dilley.

FOUND—A part of a tender little missive was picked up on a side street the other morning reading as follows: "My Dear Girl: I received your kind little note this eve and very pleased I was to get it. I suppose you think me very cheeky in calling you my dear girl. But I want you for my girl and hope we will be the very best of friends. I destroyed your notes soon as received and shall be very careful always." Owner of above can have same by calling and proving property and presenting for our perusal the rest of the missive.

Mrs. E. S. Craven is reported as being in poor health again.

The best line of teas and coffees in the city at Wilson's grocery.

Two extra good fresh cows for sale. David Martin.

If you are a public spirited citizen put in a good word for a city park when opportunity offers.

Miss Ollie Metcalf of Salem has been visiting out north of town with her friend Miss Anna Craven the past week.

Putnam Fadeless Dyes color more goods, per package, than any other. 10c a package. Sold by C. F. Moore & Co.

The families of C. F. Moore and C. B. Wilson are getting ready to depart the first of the week for a summer outing at Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Jarrett came up on the boat from Oregon City Wednesday to make a visit with Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Linnville.

Robert Jones has a position as fire warden with the Southern Pacific Company and is stationed near Deer Island down in Columbia county.

Mrs. F. A. Elliott and son John left Wednesday morning for LaGrande where they expect to spend two months visiting with A. T. Hill's.

S. M. Calkins has bought the sleek black horse which has been driven about by B. A. Town and will use him for a family driving animal.

Miss Cora Comer, who has been teaching this year in the public schools of Seattle, came down Tuesday to make a visit with relatives in Newberg.

Mrs. D. R. Jackson is preparing to leave the first of the week for her old home at Sauk Center, Minnesota, where she intends to reside in the future.

Mrs. A. E. Bowman who has been in poor health for some time was taken down to Portland by her husband Wednesday morning for treatment at the hospital.

Jim Everest left yesterday morning for Eastern Oregon to look for a location as a barber. If he doesn't find what he is after he said he would go to work in the harvest fields.

Mrs. H. D. Harford and her sister from Kansas City, Mrs. J. C. Greenman, who is visiting her, have been in attendance at the Chautauqua assembly at Gladstone Park this week.

Miss Alice A. Mendenhall, of Bloomington, Indiana, has accepted the call to the pastorate of the Friends church of this place. She will be here soon to take charge of the work, possibly by the latter part of next week.

While hops are soaring around the twenty cent figure, Reuben Everest is forced to the painful reflection that he contracted his hops for eleven cents some time ago. One of the hard propositions of hop raising is to know when to let go.

Mrs. Shaw will hold her fifth contest tomorrow night at Craters hall. Following are the names of contestants: Marion Tallman, Blanch Cooper, Effie Pressnall, Elsie Young, Alverta Meats, Ruby Rogoway and Lora Blair. Admission ten cents.

C. J. Clemenson was in town Wednesday showing some spring wheat stalks which had been eaten off close to the ground by some kind of a bug. The wind has brought the wheat thus affected to the ground and Charlie says about one fourth of his crop has already been blown over.

Hon. E. L. Smith of Hood River, president of the state board of horticulture, and W. K. Newell, horticultural commissioner for the first district, were examining the orchards in this vicinity the middle of the week. Fruit growers of Hood River are preparing to set out a good many cherry trees and Mr. Smith was here especially to study the different varieties and decide upon those best adapted to the Hood River Valley.

Ward & Barclay have taken in Lewis Jones as a partner in the feed store business, the latter taking a third interest. The new firm is arranging to begin at once the erection of a warehouse, 40x120 feet, on the railroad, across the street east of Heacock's lumber yard, the building to cost about fifteen hundred dollars. The contract for erection was let Wednesday to T. B. Cummings. With two ware rooms for use the company will be prepared for the policy of business expansion.

A certain cow and bell were persistently annoying throughout the sessions of last week's meetings at the Friends church, for "she wouldn't stay away."

The combination of bell and cow became such a nuisance that the one of the caretakers reports that the bell finally "dropped off."—By reporting at this office the owner may be put on track of said caretaker on the sole condition that he never again attached to the bovine. It's a good deal to allow the cows to run at large at all, and then fitting them up with a jangling bell is adding insult to injury.

There are about 15 applicants for the position of court house janitor, which is soon to be let. The appointee will have additional work in caring for the new park. Green cucumbers are nesting beside ripe tomatoes in the market places, and the doctors are oiling up their buggies and replenishing their medicine cases. The county tax rolls for this year will be four feet in length when opened. Following a line through the pages is like plowing across a field a mile long—not safe to start on another round after 11 a. m. County business is becoming more and more complicated each year. Another case in point is the fact that the county court before it can allow pay for registering voters must go through the books and ascertain who voted, and allow pay only for the registration of those who actually voted afterwards. There is good chance for reform in simplifying the manner of conducting county business.

Emmor Hall, sub city mail carrier was called to Portland for service the first of the week but returned home Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. and Frank Duncan left a few days ago for a trip into Southern Oregon. Mrs. Duncan will make a visit of some length at Grants Pass with a cousin while the boys are farther on south looking for a business location.

List of letters remaining unclaimed in the Newberg postoffice for week ending July 15, 1902: Edward Auerhich, Miss Eda Townsend, Mrs. Finetta Wood, Mrs. Mary Sharp, Miss Ruby Groat, Mrs. Homer Elly, Mrs. Jennie Chilcott.

Geo. C. Sears, after an illness of two weeks, at the age of sixty years died at his home out west of town Tuesday morning at 8:30 o'clock of fatty degeneration of the heart aided by an attack of acute indigestion. The body was taken to Portland Wednesday where the funeral was conducted from his late city home Thursday. Mr. Sears was born in Vermont, and when a young man came west in an early day to seek his fortune, first locating in California. He moved to Portland in 1871, where he has since been prominent in political circles, having served three terms as county assessor and two as sheriff. After his retirement from politics Mr. Sears purchased a large farm two and a half miles west of town upon which he has since spent most of his time. The deceased leaves three daughters, two of whom are married, and one son.

Card of Thanks.

It is said that the full effects of good deeds as well as bad ones will only be known at the consummation of all things. Heroin is the wisdom of God in appointing a day in which He will judge the world in righteousness and give every man according as his work shall be. But we dare not care to wait until that time to offer a word of praise, and in this way extend our heart felt thanks, first, to the fire company and all who aided in any way, for their quick and energetic work in quenching those angry flames, Friday night three weeks ago, that did their awful work, but which would have soon swept every vestige of our little home and no doubt would have cremated us also as we were sleeping so soundly; and to all those who have so generously given of their means and sympathy in this hour of trial and need. Remember beloveds that a bunch of roses will be better appreciated now, than to have them laid upon our cold graves. May God's richest blessings rest upon you all.

R. and L. A. Pettijohn.
