

Humors

They take possession of the body, and are Lords of Misrule.

They are attended by pimples, boils, the itching letter, salt rheum, and other cutaneous eruptions; by feelings of weakness, languor, general debility and what not.

They cause more suffering than anything else.

Health, Strength, Peace and Pleasure require their expulsion, and this is positively effected, according to thousands of grateful testimonials, by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Which radically and permanently drives them out and builds up the whole system.

A Story of the Prairie.

The Century magazine is about to print a serial which will have an especial interest to people who are at home on the prairies.

It is called "The Biography of a Prairie Girl," and the author is Eleanor Gates, a young woman who spent her childhood in Dakota and who thus writes from the closest personal observation.

The time of Miss Gates' story is about 25 years ago; it is put in the form of a personal narrative of the life of a little girl, and there is hardly a phase or event of prairie life which is not touched upon in these pages.

The old-fashioned, breaking colts, horse stealing by Indians, school days on the frontier, fighting gophers and badgers, cattle raising and other typical phases of hardship or prosperity.

It is not a novel, but the same characters appear and reappear in the story with a reality which impresses the reader with confidence in the truth of the narrative.

"The Biography of a Prairie Girl" will begin in the August number of the Century and it will be illustrated.

He Never Worked and Never Will.

There is a New York farmer who has lived 70 years and is sound as a dollar, and yet he has never done a stroke of work since he reached the years of discretion.

What a shocking example for the hired man!

It does seem, however, as if he ought to be willing to let them put a ragged coat and a bad hat on him, and then seat him on a high seat in the middle of the cornfield.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Hair Splits

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for thirty years. It is elegant for a hair dressing and for keeping the hair from splitting at the ends."—J. A. Gruenfelder, Grantfork, Ill.

Hair-splitting splits friendships. If the hair-splitting is done on your own head, it loses friends for you, for every hair of your head is a friend.

Ayer's Hair Vigor in advance will prevent the splitting. If the splitting has begun, it will stop it.

Send your druggist cannot supply you, send us one dollar and we will express you a bottle. Be sure and give the name of your nearest express office. Address, J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

DANGER IN CHEAP PERFUMES.

They Are Said to Have a Bad Effect on the Nostrils.

According to a local perfumery dealer, cheap perfumes are gradually destroying the nostrils of those who come in contact with them, says the Chicago Inter Ocean.

"The perfumes that were popular a few years ago you wouldn't notice now," he said. "Before long they will have to make violets and roses as strong as onions or pennyroyal before you can smell them."

Making due allowance for the hyperbole of an older generation, there may be something in this theory.

Violet is by all odds the most popular perfume of this year. "Clover," according to some, would stand second. Rose, of course, is perennially popular.

"Clover," by the way, is not made from clover blossoms at all. The ordinary white and red clover has very little odor, and what it has would not be particularly agreeable if detached from a landscape and a waving field. So the perfumer makes a combination of essence resembling remotely the scene of a landscape and a waving field.

The orange gives four different perfumes, obtained from different parts of the flower and plant. Each of the four has been imitated synthetically, making eight in all. The odors of lilac and the carnation have also been produced with some success by chemical means.

Ten years ago the idea of imitating the strange and penetrating odor of musk was laughed at, yet now the artificial musk is a regular article of commerce.

Sachet powders are again waning in popularity. After their extraordinary vogue about fifteen years ago they were almost forgotten, and a second revival in the demand for them three years ago has now passed.

A novelty from Paris this year is intended to take the place of the old sachet bag. It goes by the name of "anulet," and consists of a little fillgree box of metal containing a compressed scented tablet. These are made in a variety of floral odors and can be carried in a watch chain or chateleine, carried in the pocket, or laid in a closet or bureau drawer.

"I think a good deal of that cane," remarked Senator Lottome, exhibiting the walking stick with pardonable pride.

"What are you giving me?" asked Senator Sweetner.

"It's a fact. There was $50,000 appropriated for the improvement of one of the rivers in my state last year. One snag was pulled out of the river and this cane was made from that snag."

"Emerald," asked her father with some sternness, "what was that young congressman's business here last night?"

"We were merely holding a caucus, papa," she replied.

Rheumatism

Rheumatic pains are the cries of protest and distress from tortured muscles, aching joints and excited nerves. The blood has been poisoned by the accumulation of waste matter in the system, and can no longer supply the pure and health sustaining food they require.

The whole system feels the effect of this acid poison; and not until the blood has been purified and brought back to a healthy condition will the aches and pains cease.

Mrs. James Keil, of 707 Ninth street, N. E., Washington, D. C., writes as follows: "A few months ago I had an attack of chronic rheumatism in its worst form. The pain was so intense that I became completely prostrated. The attack was an unusually severe one, and my condition was regarded as being very dangerous. I was attended by one of the most able doctors in Washington, who also a member of the faculty of a leading medical college here. He told me to continue his prescriptions and I suffered for twelve times without receiving the slightest benefit. I declined to continue his treatment any longer. Having heard of S. S. S. (Swift's Specific) recommended for Rheumatism, I decided, almost in despair however, to give the medicine a trial, and after I had taken a few bottles I was able to get around on crutches, and in a few days had no use for them at all. S. S. S. having cured me sound and well. All the distressing pains have left me, and a perfect health has been restored to me. I am happy to be again restored to perfect health."

S. S. S. is the great vegetable purifier and tonic, is the ideal remedy in all rheumatic troubles.

There are no opiates or minerals in it to disturb the digestion and lead to ruinous habits.

VERVOUS PROSTRATION

CURED BY PE-RU-NA.

Hal P. Denton, Chief Department of National Export Exposition, writes, Philadelphia, Dec. 20, 1899.

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O. Gentlemen:—"Toward the latter part of August I found myself in a very much run-down condition. I suffered particularly from catarrh of the stomach, aggravated no doubt by the responsibilities and worry incident to the exhibition of a great international exposition."

What I ate distressed me and I would lie awake at night 'threshing over,' if I may use that expression, the affairs of the previous day.

"My family physician said I had nervous prostration and recommended a sea voyage. I gradually grew worse. A kind friend whom I had known in Ohio recommended Peruna. Though skeptical, I finally yielded to his advice."

After using one bottle I was much improved and with the fifth bottle came complete recovery. I am in perfect health today and owe everything to Peruna."

Almost Universally Used.

The tomato has a curious history. After the revolution of San Domingo, many French families came from there to Philadelphia, where they introduced their favorite pomme d' amour. Although introduced as early as 1590 from South America into England, it was looked upon with suspicion, and its specific name, "Lycopersicon," derived from lykos, "wolf," and persikon, "peachy," referring to the beautiful but deceptive appearance of its fruit, intimates pretty clearly the kind of estimation in which it was held. It is now, however, all but universally used.

Value of Wolf Scalps.

A hunter and trapper who has been operating in North Park this past winter, has brought in the pelts of four gray wolves. The stockmen of North Park are paying a bounty of $50 for each wolf scalp. The necessity for exterminating the animal is growing greater every year, as the loss to owners of cattle by their depredations is a serious matter, as it is generally estimated that each wolf destroys $500 worth of cattle during his life time.—Ranch and Range.

Col. Abraham Gruber entered a restaurant recently, and after waiting half an hour to be served, called the waiter, and inquired how long he had been there.

Happy Homes of Poor.

Some of the happiest and most ideal homes where peace, contentment and harmony dwell have been the abodes of poor people. No rich carpets covered the floors, no costly paintings were on the walls, and there were no pianos, no works of art; but there were contented minds and unselfish and devoted lives. Each member of the family contributed as much as possible to the happiness of all, endeavoring to compensate by kindness and intelligence for the poverty of their surroundings.
