N. E. Britt left Monday morning for Northern California where with a crew he is doing some work in the timber lands of the Southern Pacific Company.

Mrs. W. H. Whitten of San Francisco, California, arrived with her little girl Wednesday evening and will make an extended visit here with her parents Rev. and Mrs. Brouillette.

Mrs. J. B. Mount, her father David Coyle, and sisters Mrs. Norman Keller and Miss Myrtle Coyle, Miss May Lamb, C. F. Moore and A. C. Pool joined the pleasure seekers at Newport the first of the week.

The Newberg Land Company has made the sale of sixty acres of the Edmund Robinson place in the Springbrook neighborhood to S. C. Harnden who recently purchased the Watson place at Springbrook.

Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Bennett and the latter's mother Mrs. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Morris, and Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Shaw spent Sunday picnicking on the Chehalis mountain north-west of town.

Van Leavitt, Luther Charles, Jim Farr and Eli Haworth drove over to Hillsboro Sunday where Van pitched for the Diamond W team in a game of base ball with the Sunnyside nine. The former team won the game with a score of 9-3.

Walter Terrell and Terrell Stedman, with their families, and Matthew Terrell and daughter Miss Anna started for the coast Wednesday. The ladies were saved the hot day's ride through the valley by taking the train for Sheridan in the evening.

Allen Rhoten, who with his sister was out here from Kansas a year ago, arrived again from the sun flower state Monday evening and will once more try Oregon. He laughs at Oregonians who deplore the hot weather and says they don't know what they are talking about.

Ralph Winslow, who made a trip to Southern Oregon a few weeks ago, has decided to locate at Roseburg in the jewelry business, and intends to make the move the first of the week. There is said to be a good opening for him at Roseburg, where his friends wish him much success.

Glenn Winslow, who for the past several months has been taking by mail a course in optics in the American Optical College at Detroit, Michigan, has received a certificate of graduation from that institution. He has supplemented his course of study with practical work here at home in the meantime and feels that he is now thoroughly competent to handle work in this line.

H. B. Gearin of Champeog was in the city Tuesday circulating a petition to the county court for a free ferry across the Willamette at Champeog, Marion and Yamhill counties each to appropriate $500 yearly toward such ferry. Mr. Gearin finds no opposition to the movement, and says all he has seen are hearty in favor of a free ferry at that point.—Woodburn Independent.

The first of the week when Claude Mendenhall, Dave Campbell and Lyle Feddell were deer hunting at the Barnes' mountain near Hebo, they run across a grizzly bear and took a shot at his bearship but failed to kill it. The boys say the bear was nearly as large as a yearling colt and was a rosin coat. It has been generally thought that grizzly bear did not exist in the coast range mountains but it is reported they have been seen several times before by Indians and hunters, but so far as we have been able to learn none have ever been killed.—Sun.

H. A. Graf, who fell a distance of fifteen feet and broke a leg, while working on the mill last week is getting along nicely, fully as well as could be expected for a man of his years. A strange fatality seems to be following those employed in the carpenter work on the addition to the Newberg Flouring Mill. In the first place Walter Cook took a tumble of nearly twenty feet, lighting on his neck and shoulders and barely escaping serious injury. In a few days after E. S. Quimby met with the sad accident which came so near taking his life, and may yet result fatally. A little over a week later, Mr. Graf made the third victim and it is hoped broke the fatal chain.

Alber Blair is working in the Eastern Oregon harvest fields in the vicinity of Pendleton.

Bert Terry is building an addition to the house which he purchased recently of Jo Emmerson.

Nelson Sykes made a trip to the county seat Sunday afternoon, returning the following morning.

What do you think of those new samples at Smith's Gallery? He will have other new things too—they are being developed now.

Clarence Butt, J. C. Hodson and Geo. Carl drove up to McMinnville Thursday to labor with the county court in behalf of the free ferry project.

Mrs. F. A. Kinney returned to her home at Astoria the middle of the week after an extended visit here with her parents Mr. and Mrs. A. Bowman.

Mrs. James Hammett and daughter Mrs. Gip Leavitt took the train for Troutdale Wednesday to visit the former's daughter Mrs. G. O. Worden and family.

Baylie Wickersham and son Will B. and Asa Kelsey of Western Springs, Illinois, have been taking in the beautiful scenery up and down the Columbia river this week.

Three sisters, Mrs. Pearl Fenton and the Misses Myrtle and Arline Ohms arrived Tuesday from Chico, California, and are visiting with their uncle Jay Cook and family.

George Hash made the first run of the season with his threshing outfit on his own crop Thursday. A. M. Hoskins has charge of the engine which has been thoroughly worked over in the Portland shops.

Thomas E. Miles, a merchant of Scotts Mills, and father of Walter Miles who attended college here last year, has been in town this week looking for a location in this vicinity, being drawn by our educational advantages.

Jo Carr who was married recently was in town a few days ago introducing his bride to his friends, some of whom asked how he chanced to capture a girl so good looking, and Jo expressed some surprise at his success himself.

It is reported that F. H. Storey and Eous Ellis who are sojourning at Newport spent the greater part of a night on a rock, recently, where the tide caught them. "Time and tide wait for no man" though the fish may be biting first class.

Mrs. Almira Cummins, of Portland, has been in town during the past week visiting with her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Nelson. Although she is eighty-two years of age she made the trip alone from New York City a short time ago where she had been visiting a son.

J. C. Cooper and V. L. Grinnold were down to Dundee Tuesday, to secure a photograph of the prune orchards of Thos. Princes. There are over 600 acres in the tract, and it is the largest Italian prune orchard in the world. The picture is to be used in the new county pamphlet.—Reporter.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cottle, once residents of Newberg, the former having built the house on Wynoski street now occupied by M. McDonald, passed through town in a covered wagon the first of the week on their way to their old home at Carlton. For the past two years they have been up in the Big Bend country of Washington.

Water Consumers Take Notice—Sec. 22 of the "Rules and Regulations of the Newberg Water Works" reads as follows: "Consumers will only be allowed to use water for irrigation or lawn sprinkling between the hours of 6 and 7 a. m. and 7 and 8 p. m. and for street sprinkling from 7 to 8 a. m. and 12 m. to 1 p. m. and from one hydrant only." Notice is served that if the above regulations are not respected, violators thereof will be deprived of water without notice. The authorities also warn consumers against needless waste of water. 13

McMinnville suffered quite a loss by fire late Saturday night. Fire broke out in the rear room of the McMinnville News office and McMinnville Fence Works about 11:30 and consumed the building. Much of the newspaper plant was rescued, but the $1200 Cottrell press was badly damaged. The office was insured for $2500. The fencing material was the property of E. Estes, general agent of the Page Company, and was mostly saved. The building, a frame, was owned by J. G. Wiscarver, and was insured for $300. Adjoining buildings were injured to the amount of over $500. The origin of the fire is thought to be incendiary.

Miss Alice Mendenhall, the new pastor of the Friends church, entered upon her work here last Sunday morning by preaching an inspiring and masterful sermon from the text, "And they shall call his name Emmanuel, which is, being interpreted, God with us." Many were the words of commendation heard and the church feels that the right selection has been made for the work at Newberg. Miss Mendenhall has taken up her residence in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Smith. On Wednesday a large attended reception was tendered Miss Mendenhall on the lawn east of the church, which was a source of benefit and enjoyment to all present. The yard was lighted for the occasion with different colored electric lights which gave a very pleasing effect. Pres. McGrew had charge of the short program. Jay Cook spoke some very practical words of welcome to the pastor on behalf of the Friends church and Rev. T. Brouillette did likewise on behalf of the other churches of the town, to which cordial welcome Miss Mendenhall fittingly responded. After the program, ice cream and cake were served, and a social evening enjoyed.

J. B. Forsyth, while working at the saw mill Wednesday morning was prostrated by the heat and taken home in a carriage, but was able to be up the next day. Mr. Forsyth, who has long since attained the scriptural limitation in years, does more work than many men half his age.

The sale of Rev. L. D. Barry's property shows that a little improvement upon a place will do as an investment. Rev. Barry paid $500 dollars for his home and by the judicious expenditure of two hundred dollars or more upon the house made a new looking place of it, with the result that he doubled his money in its sale.

A new law firm to be composed of C. C. Linden and E. V. Littlefield, to be known as Linden & Littlefield, will open for business about August 1st, in the room now occupied by Dr. Cable, whose furniture the new firm has bought. Dr. Cable expects to move to Portland as soon as Dr. Cook returns from his vacation.—Reporter.

The funeral of John Huntley took place from the house last Saturday afternoon, the sermon being preached by Rev. T. Brouillette, pastor of the Presbyterian church. The exercises were in charge of the local G. A. R. post of which the deceased was a member. The pall bearers were J. W. Nevitt, John McCleery, Noah Lapp, B. B. Cornell, F. C. Mills and K. C. Hollingsworth.

Little business was transacted by the city fathers Monday evening. The street graving question was pretty thoroughly discussed, and it was decided not to re-gravel the streets this season, though the sum of one hundred dollars was voted with which to patch up the bad places. J. J. Woods and Clarence Butt were allowed $35 and $15 respectively as salary, and C. J. Edwards $42.92 for city lights. Before adjournment, the following resolution was adopted: "Whereas a proposition is pending to establish a free ferry on the Willamette river at a point below the town of Newberg, known as Gearin's Ferry; and believing the establishment of the same will conduce to the welfare of the citizens of both Yamhill and Marion counties; Resolved that it is the sense of the city council of the town of Newberg, that the county court of Yamhill county, will conserve the interest of the people of Yamhill and Marion counties by granting said petition, and appropriating the amount therein asked for."

H. H. Coleman of Vancouver, Washington, son-in-law of M. Ellis, visited in town with his wife the first of the week.

Jacob Evans and wife of Pennsylvania, who have been visiting here for a few weeks with the former's brother E. W., left the first of the week. The latter and wife accompanied them to Portland.

The Chas. K. Spaulding logging crew passed through Salem Tuesday with its annual log drive of 10,000,000 feet of balsam and white fir logs for the Oregon City paper mills. The logs are cut in the Luckiamute and Santiam district. The crew includes five teams and about thirty men.

While chopping in the timber Wednesday James Kelly, who lives on the Tom Belcher place two miles northwest of town, made a deep cut in his right leg, cutting into the bone and severing an artery. His presence of mind in taking a shoe string and tightly binding his leg above the wound saved him from bleeding to death. His young son rushed to town for Dr. Davidson who drove out and dressed the severe wound.

W. V. Culver of Oklahoma, purchased last week, through J. M. Wright, the property of Rev. L. D. Barry in the east part of town, and will probably arrive to take possession by the first of September. Other families will probably accompany him, and they will bring two carloads of goods and live stock. Mr. Culver is the gentleman alluded to in the Graphic some time ago who expressed a wish to live in a town of no saloons.

Mr. E. B. Watt, who had just moved to the Barry property, has rented the John Wright cottage.

Dr. H. J. Littlefield No More.

Though such a sad event was not altogether unexpected, the town was shocked and saddened last Sunday morning when it became known that a little after seven o'clock, Dr. H. J. Littlefield, who had been lying low for several days with what the doctors finally determined Spinal Meningitis, had passed away. For the most part he had been unconscious for days, arousing only now and then to answer a question or recognize loved ones, and was unconscious when the hand of death was gently laid upon him. The people of this vicinity have long watched with mingled pity and admiration the brave fight the doctor has so long made with his grim enemy, which seemed to attack him in so many directions, and a wave of pity swept over the community when it was learned that he had at last succumbed; that he who had saved others, himself he could not save. In his death Newberg loses an efficient physician and one of its most popular citizens.

The funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Friends church and were probably more widely attended than any ever before held in this part of the county. There are few homes in this neighborhood which Dr. Littlefield had not some time visited in times of trouble and distress, when his visits seemed more than professional calls, and when ties of relationship were knit, which largely explained the tribute expressed in the large audience which attended his funeral. As the funeral party entered the church, an organ voluntary was played by Miss Eleanor Satchwell. The following named prominent citizens served as pall bearers: S. M. Calkins, Jesse Edwards, B. C. Miles, N. C. Christenson, Clarence Butt and J. C. McCrea. Following the family and relatives came the Masons, who had charge of the exercises at the cemetery.

Rev. J. F. Day of Carlton, formerly pastor of the Baptist church here, had charge of the services, assisted by Pres. H. E. McGrew. Music was furnished by a quartet composed of Mrs. J. W. Barrie, Mrs. H. Gould, and Messrs. I. E. Holt and W. C. Woodward. Selections rendered were "Walking by Faith," "Lead Kindly Light," an especial favorite of the deceased, and the sacred anthem "Abide With Me." Following a prayer by Pres. McGrew, eloquent with tenderness and sympathy, the funeral sermon was preached by Rev. Day from the text, "And the last enemy which shall be conquered is death." At the close of the services, the audience viewed the remains, it taking the better part of a half hour for the people to pass the bier, and the crowd was handled with pleasing dispatch.

Among those in attendance from a distance were, from McMinnville, Judge R. P. Bird and son Guy, D. I. Asbury, editor of the Yamhill Reporter, Deputy Sheriff W. C. Hagerty, School Superintendent E. V. Littlefield and wife, Rev. and Mrs. Jos. Hoberg, Geo. Henderson and Eli Branson; from LaFayette, Pete Olds, Mrs. Vede Olds, Clabe Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Al Fletcher, Jo Huston, Jas. Derby, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Vickrey, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bryant and Dag Nelson; from Dayton, Dr. A. J. Rossiter, John Nichols and Adam Rossiter; from Carlton, Rev. Day and family and Mr. and Mrs. Wash Laughlin; from Butteville, G. H. Cone and John Vaughan; from Portland, Dr. H. R. Littlefield, father of the deceased, and wife, and Tom Belcher, proprietor of the St. Charles hotel; from Dallas, Mrs. D. M. Metzger; from The Dalles, Judge Bradshaw, brother-in-law of the deceased.

Horace J. Littlefield was born in Mackinaw, Tazewell county, Illinois, October 2, 1855. He came to Oregon in 1871 with his parents who settled in this county at LaFayette, in the public schools of which place he received his early education. In June 1888 he was graduated from the Monmouth State Normal, and on December 7th of the same year he was united in marriage with Maggie L. Nelson, of West Chehalis. In the years 1889 and 1890 he attended Rush Medical College at Chicago, and the next two years he spent at St. Louis in Missouri Medical College, where he was graduated with high honors. He has since resided continuously in Newberg where he has always had a very extensive practice. Within the last two years he has twice received the appointment of Surgeon on the United States Revenue Cutter Perry, twice making an extended cruise in Alaskan waters.

C. E. SPENCER, Attorney for the Plaintiff.

In the Circuit Court for Yamhill County, State of Oregon.

L. F. Hall vs. Plaintiff

John Wm. Christ Wessel and Ida Wessel his wife, Lewis E. Little, Eunice E. Little, Frederick E. Little, and their guardian, and Alf Smith, Defendants.

To John Wm. Christ Wessel and Ida Wessel the above named defendants:—In the name of the State of Oregon, you and each of you are hereby notified and required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit, in the above named court on or before the last day of the time prescribed in the order for the publication of this summons upon you, to-wit: on or before the 8th day of August A. D. 1902, and if you fail to so appear and answer for want thereof the Plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief prayed for in the complaint herein, viz:—A judgment against John Wm. Christ Wessel and Ida Wessel for the sum of $25,000 together with such special attorney's fees, together with the costs and disbursements of said suit, and a decree foreclosing the mortgage described in said complaint, and that said defendants and each of them, and all persons claiming by, through or under them or either of them be forever barred of all equity of redemption in or claim to said premises and every part thereof.

This summons is served by publication for consecutive weeks in the Newberg Graphic, a weekly newspaper of general circulation published in said Yamhill county, by order of Hon. R. P. Bird, County Judge of said Yamhill county, made at Chambers in McMinnville, Oregon, on the 18th day of June A. D. 1902; the first publication thereof being June 27th, A. D. 1902.

C. E. SPENCER, Attorney for the Plaintiff.
